Pastor Announces

St. James Planning 1,200-Seat Church

St. James Catholic Church is planning to build a new 1,200-seat church on the northwest corner of its building complex on North Arlington Heights Road.

Plans for the new church building were announced this week by Rev. Edward J. Laramie, St. James pastor.

Father Laramie received permission for the new church building project from Archbishop John T. Cody in late January.

Architect Joseph Bennett, a member of the parish, has been selected as architect.

HIS PRELIMINARY sketch of the proposed floor plan calls for a wedge-shaped sanctuary facing southwest.

Entrance to the new church, proposed for space now used for a playground by St. James parochial school pupils, will be at the corner of Pine and Frederick.

The sanctuary will seat 800 persons on the ground floor and another 400 in the balcony. A "crying room" for mothers with babies, and smaller rooms for ushers and bridal parties, would flank the narthex.

At the west, the new church building would be attached to the parish rectory by a covered ramp. At the south, it would connect with the present 650-seat church building.

When the new church is completed, Father Laramie said, the present church would be converted for parish meeting use—as a gymnasium and auditorium.

IT COULD provide space for youth group recreation, for St. James Players dramatic productions, and other congregation activities as well as Mass.

The two most popular hours for Sunday worship—10:30 and 11:45 a.m.—draw 1,600 persons each.

Father Laramie says he does not yet have a timetable or a cost estimate for the new project.

Bennett is preparing further sketches now and expects to have an elevation drawing available in a couple weeks.

ESTIMATES OF building cost must await further approval of the building plans by archdiocesan officials.

Variations will have to be sought from village officials as well before construction can be started.

The new sanctuary will further reduce parking space at the parish center, where cars already overflow the area available.

Money for the new building will be loaned from funds raised in Project Renewal, the archdiocesan-wide capital building fund drive announced recently by Bishop Cody.

Plans for the Project Renewal drive are being made by northwest suburban parishes now.

Construction Board Appointments Told

A lay board that will oversee construction of a proposed new St. James Catholic Church building is one of three to be named soon.

Rev. Edward J. Laramie says the parish also plans to establish a parish advisory committee and a Project Renewal board, to oversee St. James' share in the archdiocesan-wide building fund drive.

The parish advisory board will include two nuns, two laywomen and five laymen in the parish. It has not yet been appointed.

THE PROJECT Renewal board will be headed by Richard White.

Already named to that board are Al Rose and James Kelly, who will head plans for two phases of the fund drive, and Bill Schnell, who will serve as Kelly's associate chairman.

The New Church Board that will oversee construction of the proposed 1,200-seat new sanctuary, includes James Hahn, Gerald M. Orgler, Don Nicholson, William Bolash, William Flynn, Charles V. Locascio, Charles Mueller, John Bosshart and William Shaw.

Four members of the board are contractors.

"WE GET LOTS OF LETTERS" . . . could be the theme song of students at Ivy Hill School. A full-scale mail system—complete with mailboxes, zip codes, carriers, and sorters—went into effect last week. Above, Ricky Kneisel and Robin Keeton, both second graders, take their turn in emptying the mailbox. The project began as a community helpers unit in Mrs. Sarah Bissler's second grade class. "But it's really multiplied" she said, referring to participation by the entire school and special emphasis on mailing Valentine cards.

Screening by Caucus Given

Five of 11 candidates interviewed for school board posts have received top ratings from the District 25 School Caucus' screening committee, the Herald learned this week.

Caucus delegates tonight (Thursday) will select four candidates for board posts from the slate of 11.

The meeting begins at 8 p.m. at Miner Junior High School.

Receiving top ratings are (in alphabetical order):

Robert Bukowski, 1005 N. Arlington Heights Road; Mrs. Beth Hamilton, 303 N. Haddow Ave.; H. Robert Powell, 110 S. Kennicott Ave.; Clayton Sauers, 610 E. Fairview St.; and Howard Sjogren, 1802 N. Walnut Ave.

Bukowski and Sjogren are both incumbents. They have served as school board members for one term.

POWELL LAST year received top ratings from the screening committee but withdrew his name because of failure to meet the one-year residence requirement.

Other nominees rated include Vincent Beuder, 1525 N. Ridge Ave.; William Carson, 1164 N. Hickory Ave.; Bernard T. Clark, 1105 N. Mitchell Ave.; Mrs. Eloise Psota, 5 S. Donald Ave.; William Stueber, 414 N. Beverly Lane; and Joseph Wanner, 404 Larkdale Lane.

Caucus chairman Neil D'Argo told the Herald he expects additional nominations from the floor tonight. He cited William Bridwell, 724 W. Gettysburg St. Bridwell made an unsuccessful bid last year for caucus endorsement.

The delegates will use the screening committee's ratings as guidelines in choosing four candidates tonight.

At tonight's meeting, delegates will ballot until they have selected one candidate for each of the four vacancies. To get the Caucus' nod, each delegate must receive a majority vote. Only the lowest ranking nominee is dropped each round.

Prior to balloting, the 11 delegates will have a chance to speak for three minutes on the question, "In what way do you feel your experience in your field and your community activities will contribute to school board membership?"

Candidates were interviewed by the screening committee, headed by Dr. Ernest Lidge. The committee evaluated candidates on the basis of 10 questions. Ratings varied from qualified, well qualified to exceptionally well qualified.

THE SCREENING group appraised candidates according to their school experience, community activity, occupation, and over-all job experience and how it will contribute to the Board of Education.

Candidates were questioned as to their goals in education, opinions of the policy making function of the board, interest in board membership, and awareness of current problems confronting the board.

The final ratings were compiled and mailed to all caucus delegates early this week.

In previous years caucus endorsement virtually has meant election. School board elections will be held Saturday, April 8.

Choose Candidates Monday

Chairman Expects Democratic Caucus

Arlington Heights Caucus members look forward to a truly democratic meeting Monday night, according to Caucus chairman Paul Knott.

Addressing the six candidates who have received the Caucus recommendation committee's endorsement Tuesday, Knott remarked, "I think that after Monday's meeting people are going to see that the Caucus is a truly great way of getting people into office."

The public meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. in the boys gymnasium at Arlington High School, will produce the final Caucus slate of candidates for the three village trustees positions that will be filled in the April election.

Knott said he hopes to have from 1,000 to 1,500 voters at the meeting, with 100 workers handling the mechanics of the balloting.

"I WANT the biggest vote we've ever had in the Caucus," he said, adding later, "I want a truly representative meeting."

Knott said the meeting will probably be a long one. The Herald has learned from reliable sources that nominations from the floor are highly probable.

Complying with the Caucus' by-laws, the recommendations committee balloted Saturday and recommended incumbent Jack Walsh, 404 E. Marshall St.; Charles O. Bennett, 111 S. Drury Lane; Kenneth E. Dougan, 1103 E. Euclid St.; John F. Gillen, 331 S. Windsor Drive; Richard L. Jandl, 610 W. Maple St.; and James T. Ryan, 2006 Rosehill Drive, as possible trustee candidates.

Incumbent Trustee Thomas Hanlon, who was interviewed by the recommendations committee, was not among the six recommended candidates.

The recommendations committee report was made public Monday although original Caucus plans had called for holding the candidates' names until today.

Recommendations committee chairman Scott Ball said the late release date had been set, in part, to prohibit any general electioneering.

Commenting on the committee's recommendations, Knott said, "I think we've got a fine slate—in fact, I think it's one of the finest I've seen in the Caucus."

BALL SAID that, while the recommendations committee's actions are strictly confidential, he felt that the candidate selection procedure had been "cleanly handled."

Three Caucus men, who Ball pointed out "pretty much cover the political waterfront," have been selected to make certain that there are no violations of the Caucus' Article VII which prohibits candidates from electioneering for positions on the Caucus slate. Dwight Walton, 1612 N. Douglas Ave.; Gene Barnes, 120 S. Reuter Ave.; and Bill Griffin, 1521 N. Oakton Ave., make up this committee.

The six candidates named by the recommendation committee were chosen from a total of 26 interviewees. Each of these candidates will make a five-minute speech at Monday's meeting.

Charles O. Bennett, 43, has been a village resident for 16 years and has worked for the Audit Bureau of Circulations during that time. He currently is manager of public relations and education for the bureau.

A UNIVERSITY of Wisconsin journalism graduate, Bennett is presently serving on the Arlington Heights Plan Commission and on the District 25 school board. He is married and has two children and has been active in Little League and Boy Scouts.

Kenneth E. Dougan, 50, has lived in Arlington Heights for 16 years. He has been employed with Time Inc., where he is now assistant general manager of the subscription service division, for 21 years.

Dougan, who is married and has three children, holds two

Teachers Seek New Pay Hike

A militant group of teachers will ask for a $600 hike in wages from the Arlington Heights Elementary District 25 Board of Education March 6.

About 200 members of the Arlington Teachers Association (ATA) Monday afternoon approved five recommendations which they will submit to the administration.

Heading the list was a recommendation for a "minimum salary of $6,000 with the present salary index." Teachers' base salary now is $5400.

The increase would cost the district more than half a million dollars.

OTHER recommendations passed by the teachers' group are:

—Attend the March 6 meeting of the board as "a demonstration that teachers are dissatisfied with continued low salaries and that now is the time for the Board and the community to take action."

—Endorsement of an increase in state aid to $600 per pupil as recommended by the Illinois Task Force on Education and support for the necessary tax increases to achieve it. Teachers were urged to write letters to the General Assembly and IEA.

—Urge the board to plan another referendum immediately.

—Urge ATA members who leave District 25 schools to get a higher salary to inform the school board and the ATA salary committee.

The group vetoed a sixth recommendation. That asked the board to delay its action on a final salary schedule until it had a clearer estimate of revenue.

SHOUTED ONE teacher from the audience, "We're not concerned with the availability of money. We're concerned with teachers' salaries."

James Hall, a member of the ATA salary committee, chided, "It's professional to be considerate? Hogwash! I'm no longer comfortable with a sub-basement pay."

The ATA officially became the professional representative of teachers in negotiations with the school board this year. A

Erickson Will Seek Dist. 214 Election

So far, just one High School District 214 board member has said he will be a candidate for election this spring.

Raymond A. Erickson of Arlington Heights, appointed to the board in November, told Paddock Publications this week he will be a candidate for election in his own right this spring.

Next Wednesday is the first day for filing candidates' petitions for the three District 214 board seats up in April.

CANDIDATES' petitions may be picked up at the office of the Cook County superintendent of schools or at any school administrative office.

Candidates for the District 214 board must file their petitions at Slichenmyer Administration Center, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect. Last day for accepting petitions is March 17.

Erickson, a resident of 601 S. Burton Place, Arlington Heights, currently is filling a post vacated by William F. Griffith, also of Arlington Heights.

Griffith cited press of his insurance business when he resigned last year.

Board Pres. Hal Armstrong has not yet said whether he will seek another term.

BOARD SECY. T. Earl Thompson said last week he will not be a candidate.

Erickson, president of the Arlington High School's Teacher-Parent Council, served on the citizens committee for Hersey High School. He also was co-chairman of the unsuccessful drive two summers ago for approval of a swimming pool referendum.

Computerized Water System Is Sought

A $1 million water and sewer budget, and a hefty public works budget which includes plans for computerizing the water system, is slated for presentation to the finance committee of the Arlington Heights Board of Trustees.

The $300,000 plus public works budget calls for computer control of village water demands.

Village officials explain that this will allow the village to better meet the water needs of individual sections of the village as well as planning for future wells and pumping stations.

THE COMPUTER program will be one of the major items of additional expense to the public works budget.

The water and sewer budget, which Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson estimates at near the $1 million mark will not substantially exceed last year's appropriation.

Also due for consideration is the health department requests. Hanson says his budget calls for the addition of a part-time nurse to the staff of the health department.

"Thank you for your wonderful service. The response to the ad to rent a 3-bedroom house was very good."

Thus spoke Mildred Ward of Bensenville.

STUDENTS MEET REGULARLY in District 25's library to become acquainted with its facilities. Westgate School's library is one of the better stocked libraries in the district's 17 schools. However, all are in the lowest phase of library standards as set up by the state—with less than six books per students. The district's goal is to obtain more than 10 library books per student. (Staff Photo)

Schools' Trend: Materials Centers

The concept of a school library is undergoing a slow but definite change.

According to Steven Stravakas, Arlington Heights District 25 director of special services, the trend is toward instructional materials centers.

Such a center is equipped with more than books, Stravakas explained. It includes filmstrips, records, picture files, transparencies, magazines and pamphlets.

As head of special services, he coordinates the efforts of the district's nine librarians. Three work full time in junior high school libraries. The other six divide their time between two lower grade school libraries.

Mrs. Norma Reeves, Dunton and Westgate school librarian, said in an ideal resource center, "all the materials would be used by the student or teacher at the center."

AT THE present time, however, some library facilities are too small to provide such use. Though most of the new buildings were constructed with library facilities, older schools have converted rooms into a library.

Librarians work closely with teachers in providing classroom material. "We save them time by pulling needed books and materials," Mrs. Reeves said.

In addition, librarians meet regularly with each fourth and fifth grade class — in the library — to acquaint them with the facility.

Ordering new books and materials is also a responsibility of the librarian. "We rely a lot on teachers' judgment and recommendations for new books," Mrs. Reeves explained. Book exhibits and publisher lists provide another source. (A3,4,5

Given Honor

Ernest Buehler, father of E. Marvin Buehler, 615 N. Haddow Ave., Arlington Heights, was named a "distinguished" alumni by John Marshall Law School in Chicago.

Buehler, a 1910 graduate of the law school, was one of 20 alumni honored last week at an awards dinner at the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

This was the second year the school made the awards presentation.

BUEHLER IS an assistant corporation counsel for Chicago. A past president of the American-Swiss Chamber of Commerce, he is presently vice president of the organization.

He has been a member of the Chicago Board of Education, president of the Swiss Benevolent Society, Swiss counsel in Chicago and a former assistant in the state attorney's office.

A resident of Chicago, Buehler is presently residing with his son in Arlington Heights.

His son, E. Marvin, also is a lawyer. He is with the firm, Taylor, Miller, Magner, Spowl, and Hutchings in Chicago.

INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS, such as these art reproductions, are now included in school libraries. Mrs. Norma Reeves, librarian at Dunton and Westgate schools, is in charge of ordering these supplemental materials as well as books. (Staff Photo) (A

'Skeleton' Library Shelves Nourished by Federal Grant

Federal funds are bringing nourishment to "skeleton" library shelves in Arlington Heights public and parochial schools.

Elementary District 25 will receive a $23,561 grant to purchase library books and resources this year, according to William Fritsche, curriculum director. The grant is based on a $1.10 stipend per student.

Last year local school libraries obtained $22,116 in aid under Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA).

AND THE lean libraries can well use the assistance.

According to state rankings, local elementary schools are limping along with minimum standards.

Fifteen District 25 schools rank in the lowest category—Phase I—with less than six books per student. Dunton and Ivy Hill schools and three parochial schools fail to meet even this standard.

Fritsche explained the goal is to reach Phase II (seven to nine library books per student) and finally Phase III (more than 10 books per student).

To receive the federal grant, the local district itself must budget funds for library books and resources.

DISTRICT 25 now allots $1.50 per student in kindergarten through fifth grades and $1 per student in junior high for "sustaining" library facilities. Higher allotments are made for a school with a new addition or a new building.

About $3,500 of the grant will go to stock libraries at St. James, Our-Lady-Of-The Wayside, and St. Peter's Lutheran schools.

"Parochial schools tell us what books or visual aid materials they need, and District 25 orders them and loans them out," Fritsche said.

THIS YEAR non-public schools have followed a trend toward requesting audio-visual materials, Fritsche noted. Last year these schools asked for only library and supplemental textbooks with their allotments.

Likewise, District 25 is submitting requests for a mixture of library materials—library books, supplemental texts, magazine subscriptions, filmstrips, and supplemental materials.

"The primary restriction is against ordering religious books," Fritsche explained. "Otherwise, Title II grants aim for a broad selection of library materials."

District 25 employs nine librarians for its 17 school libraries. Each junior high has its own full-time librarian. The other six devote their time to two or three elementary school libraries.

Teachers work as part-time librarians in each of the three non-public schools. (A

Dr. Cox Will Lead Discussion

The Arlington Heights Congregational United Church of Christ, 1001 W. Kirchoff Road, will hold the first session Lenten discussions Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Richard Cox, a clinical psychologist and an ordained clergyman, will lecture and lead discussions on "Emotional Conflicts of Christian Parenthood." Dr. Cox will be speaking at three sessions. His talks will follow the general theme of "Family Life and Inter-personal Relationships."

Dr. Cox is currently on the staff of Forest Hospital, Des Plaines, and Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. (A

Summer Recreation Fees to Be Studied

Arlington Heights Park Commissioners will hold an early bird 8 a.m. session Saturday to consider changes in fee charges for next summer's recreation programs.

A schedule of proposed charges, submitted to the board by Park Supt. Thomas Thronton Tuesday, would boost last year's rates considerably.

Thornton told the board last month that many special park activities were not paying for themselves and that fees might have to be adjusted to meet costs.

INCLUDED IN Thornton's recommendations are hikes in season passes. Should his recommendations be adopted by the board, the family activity pass would be raised from $25 to $30; the family pass, from $15 to $18; the adult pass, from $8 to $10; the child pass, from $6 to $8; and the wader pass from $3 to $4.

Thornton recommends that resident daily swimming admissions remain the same as last year but that non-resident daily admissions be raised to $1 for adults, 75 cents for children and 50 cents for waders — 25 cents more in each category than the rates charged residents.

Thornton has also recommended that fees for many instructional programs be raised by $1. Swim, water ballet, diving, tennis, tumbling and trampoline, handicraft, dramatics, modern dance and baton and cheerleading lessons are all included in the group being considered for $1 hikes. Even with the raise in fee, none of these programs would cost more than $5.

Thornton has also recommended that the park district eliminate charm instructions, junior golf instructions, and wrestling. (A

Disaster Workshop Scheduled

The north Cook regional office of the Red Cross has scheduled a disaster workshop for registered nurses on Feb. 28 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. All registered nurses in the north Cook region are welcome. This is a free workshop offered to acquaint nurses with what actually happens during a disaster.

To register call the north Cook regional office, UN 4-9000 (1700 Central St., Evanston).

For those registered nurses unable to attend in the daytime, the Red Cross will arrange an evening time.

Workshops for others — licensed practical nurses, nurses aides, housewives, etc., all are in the process of being scheduled. (B10

Museum Funds Bill Under Consideration

Help may be in sight for Arlington Heights museum fund raisers.

A bill which would enable the township board of auditors to grant up to $10,000 in surplus funds to museums is under consideration by the state legislature.

The bill, sponsored by State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R-Arlington Heights), was introduced to the House's County and Township Affairs Committee two weeks ago.

According to Schlickman, the bill has been approved by that committee.

IF PASSED, the bill would allow the museum — i.e., the Historical Society of Arlington Heights — to compete with schools, the Over 50 Club, community mental health agencies and the township general assistance fund for Wheeling Township's surplus funds.

Last year's $200,000 township surplus was broken down so that $140,000 went to school district, $40,000 to mental health agencies, $10,000 to the Over 50 Club and $10,000 to the township general assistance fund.

According to museum chairman Virgil Horath, the museum still needs funds.

"Now is the time we really need money," he told the historical society board Monday. "The real job is ahead."

SOCIETY treasurer, Melvin Kurtz, 805 S. Mitchell Ave., reported $17,035.11 in donations has been collected. An additional $1,775 has been pledged.

$10,000 of the money raised has been used on the new museum building, 500 N. Vail Ave. Final transactions for the purchase of the $32,500 building were completed last Thursday.

The village of Arlington Heights has agreed to pick up the remaining $22,500 of the purchase price of the building. However, the deed to the property is presently in the name of the historical society.

ACCORDING to historical society Atty. Stephen Jurco, the deed will probably be transferred to the village within a month. The historical society holds the deed now so that certain legal mechanics can be taken care of, Jurco said.

Horath said that the historical society had entered into an agreement with the village to make certain that the building would always be maintained.

According to the Jan. 16 village-historical society agreement, the village will maintain the exterior of the building while the historical society will have responsibility for the interior.

Work is well under way to convert the 85-year-old home into a museum. The building has been inspected and, with the addition of one post jack under the kitchen, has been approved by Arlington Heights Building Comr. Harold Best.

FIRE CODE requirements are being met through the installation of three fire extinguishers, a new fire door in the basement, some new drywall construction and new fuses.

The historical society board is also investigating the cost of a fire alarm system. One alarm system offered is available at an initial cost of $420 plus $55.50 quarterly and the cost of a telephone wire to the village police headquarters.

Second-floor rooms are being wallpapered and all second floor woodwork and floors are being refinished. Wallpaper will be provided at cost by the Webber Paint Co. The Paice Decorating Service will provide all materials for refinishing the floors and woodwork at cost also.

HISTORICAL society board members are also considering converting the garage area of the museum into a meeting room. Lido Lucchesi, 408 S. Forest Ave., pointed out that this was the only suitable room in the building to hold meetings in.

Lucchesi, an employe of the Field Museum of Natural History, said he did not feel that the society should plan to use rooms with exhibits in them for meetings and lectures. He felt that the upstairs rooms of the building were pretty well spoken for with the room over the garage to be used by the museum curator, two rooms to be used for storage and one room to be developed as a display.

Historical society treasurer, Melvin Kurtz, 805 S. Mitchell Ave., said that he would be able to get a desk and some filing cabinets for the curator at no cost other than transportation costs from downtown Chicago.

'I Protest' Is Theme At Latest BOLI Meet

Failure to muster a quorum prevented the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) hearing on Lillian Street but an informal hearing on the Central-Kirchoff area brought out the pent-up grievences of homeowners in the section.

BOLI plans call for the improvement of the triangle formed by Kirchoff and Central Roads, including Mitchell, Highland and Vail avenues.

According to BOLI member Russell Colvin, it appears that Walnut Avenue will have to be paved by special assessment because BOLI can't reach agreement with homeowners in that area.

The homeowners from Mitchell, Highland and Vail were present, expressing their opinions vehemently.

Mrs. Mildred Tolar, Berwyn, the owner of several lots on Mitchell Avenue, said that she, for one, was glad to hear of BOLI's plans because she felt responsibility for the unsightly conditions on Mitchell. She said she had contemplated a private improvement plan before personal business caused her to leave town for some time.

"THE VILLAGE put up 'No Dumping' signs in the past," said Mrs. Tolar, "but the people stole them. The people in Arlington Heights just don't abide by signs."

"We've been mowing the weeds on your lots," snapped Mrs. Lawrence Schwartz, owner of a lot on 908 E. Mitchell. "The area should be cleaned up. It's a dumping ground for garbage and a dog-walk."

Colvin noted that in BOLI's experience, when land is improved it becomes more valuable.

Mrs. Schwartz wanted to know if the septic tank on her lot would have to be abandoned. When Colvin told her that a pipe would be put in across the front of her property, running into the sanitary sewer, and that the cost of a hook-in would be paid by her, Mrs. Schwartz challenged him to show her a law requiring it.

COLVIN ADMITTED that the law did not require the abandonment of the septic tank; it merely prohibits the construction of a new one.

"I want to protest," said Mrs. Schwartz.

It was duly noted in BOLI's records that Mrs. Schwartz protested. When asked what she protested, she said she protested everything.

Engineer Charles McBride said the improvements, which would have to be paid for by assessment, would include street surfacing, curbings, and would provide storm water drainage.

Homeowner Erwin Selof, 934 Highland, said that there was already a 12-inch sewer along Central, draining Vail.

McBride said that the law prohibited a combination storm and sanitary sewer. Selof insisted that the combination sewer had existed for 20 years and had worked efficiently as long as he knew of it.

Mrs. Clarence Malone, owner of a lot on Vail and Kirchoff, questioned BOLI's intention of paving "the stub" of Vail which she said was an unused short lot behind a triangle of land owned by the village.

SHE FELT IT would be a waste of money because no one used the street "except dogs."

Colvin promised to check the street.

BOLI Atty. Kenneth Stonesifer explained the legal steps that will be taken by BOLI to assess the improvements and get the job done.

He pointed out that if the homeowners have the work done by private contract, 20 to 30 per cent can be saved. However, he said that private contract required the homeowners to put up all the money immediately.

Assessment through the village can be paid over a 10-year period. A rough estimate was given a $20-$21 per foot.

"We want you to know we're not picking on you," board president Sam Rudder told Mrs. Schwartz at the conclusion of the meeting.

"I still protest," said Mrs. Schwartz. (A

Stonegate's Annual Fete Is Saturday

The Stonegate Association will hold its eleventh annual dinner dance Saturday at the Rolling Green Country Club.

According to John Gillen, association president, reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Rosanne Sexton at CL 9-3047.

Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 8 p.m. and dancing at 9 p.m. The Dick Carlton orchestra from the Ambassador West Hotel will be featured.

HIGHLIGHTING the evening will be the awarding of prizes for the best Christmas decorations in the subdivision. Past association presidents Al Wilcox, 210 S. Brighton Place; Reuben Cordova, 213 S. Strafford Road; and Tom Cashion, 325 S. Windsor Drive, have acted as judges in the contest.

The association expects a turnout of 100 couples.

Mrs. Jack Meyerhoff, 326 S. Stratford Road, (392-3321) is in charge of tickets and Mrs. John Lanzillo, 1101 Mayfair Road, heads the decorations committee. (A

Police Communications Face a Remodeling

by MARY SCHLOTT
Staff Writer

Arlington Heights police are planning to remodel their radio communications center to meet the needs of a 90,000-population municipality.

First payments for the new equipment—costing $29,000—are included in the proposed budget submitted to the village board finance committee Monday.

Police Chief L. W. Calderwood and other village officials got an in-operations look at their equipment Wednesday.

They toured the communications center setup by O. W. Wilson, Chicago police chief.

A similar setup — on a smaller scale — is proposed for the Arlington Heights force.

IT WILL include two complete radio dispatchers' stations, to be used now only at peak times but soon to be needed on a 24-hour basis.

Chief Calderwood cited the pressing need for more dispatch equipment to trustees Monday.

During January's record snowstorm, he said, the police dispatcher on duty was also "snowed" — by calls.

Equipment limitations made it impossible to give him an assist.

The $29,000 price has been quoted to the village by the Motorola Corporation, which requires a nine-month delivery period. Another company, based in California, can supply similar consoles, trustees were told.

VILLAGE MGR. L. A. Hanson has proposed that the communications center be paid for on an installment basis—$600 a month for seven years.

Only the first three payments are included in the police budget proposed for village board adoption.

A sketch shown trustees pictured the communications center as being installed in the present dispatcher's room, with major console cases placed out from the south wall. The offset placement would make it easier to repair or adjust.

A feature of the room will be a large lighted area map which will spotlight location of every village squad car as it moves.

THE PATROL CAR pinpointing arrangement will aid the dispatcher in sending the nearest car to the scene of a village call.

The equipment in the new center will include a recorder on which all incoming calls—radio and telephone—can be taped for later transcribing.

Expected to save valuable man-hours is a new colored card file system to replace the present laboriously-written log.

The Motorola proposal included equipment for closed circuit television, but the police department does not plan to order it at this time.

The reason, Calderwood told village finance committee meetings, is that infra-red television cameras are still too expensive.

He said that the police have experimented with use of television cameras atop the Municipal Building to provide surveillance of the downtown area.

The trial has been successful —but only in the daylight.

Infra-red cameras would provide similar success at night.

The standard closed-circuit television equipment proposed by Motorola would have cost $9,000. (A

$110,000 Hike Proposed For Police

Committee Irons Out New Budget

Two smooth sessions have marked preliminary consideration of the 1967-68 village budget by the finance committee of the Arlington Heights village board.

Police and engineering department budget requests took up most of the committee meeting time Monday.

Trustees Carl Mees, Jack Walsh, Frank Palmatier and Roy Bressler heard Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson and Police Chief L. W. Calderwood propose a $110,000 increase in the police department budget.

Much of it will go for raises for the 47-man police force.

Some $460,000 of the proposed $523,761 police department fund request will go for salaries.

CALDERWOOD is asking increases of $600 apiece for his five sergeants and five lieutenants.

Under questioning, he told the board that the officers themselves thought they should get $200 more.

Patrolmen's scale, under the new budget is proposed as $6,700 to $8,100 with an interim step of $7,400.

This year patrolmen's pay was $6,100 to $7,600, on a six step basis.

THIS TOO, Calderwood told trustees, should be "sweetened" by provision for a $300 incentive boost for hard workers or men with special training. He estimated that up to 20 patrolmen might be eligible for the $300 bonus.

The police equipment budget provides $14,900 for autos — most of it to replace the seven patrolcars that must be traded off this year.

Trustees had fewer questions Monday about village engineer Charles Towner's department budget.

Towner is asking funds for an additional vehicle, a van-bus to carry field equipment.

During its first meeting Thursday night, the committee gave its general approval to Hanson's recommendations on the fire department budget plus the financial plans of several other departments.

FIRE CHIEF Harvey Carothers told the trustees that his greatest need is more money to attract and keep firemen for the village.

The chief said that he would like the basic wage for fire fighters boosted from $6,100 per year to $6,500, with the top wage scaled to $8,000 from $7,600.

Pay for fire department lieutenants should be boosted from $8,000 to a base of $8,250 with a top pay of $8,650 according to Carothers.

Carothers is currently operating with 21 men, two short of the number allocated in last year's budget.

PART OF HIS problems in recruiting are caused by the low pay, he said. The chief is allotted an additional five men in this year's operations. He could thus bring his force to 29.

Walsh wondered if an increase in pay would actually do Carothers much good in recruiting. Walsh declared that all businesses hiring high school graduates were having a great deal of trouble obtaining manpower.

The total fire department budget came to $255,820, the lion's share of which ($213,235) was slated for salaries.

The only real capital improvement of any magnitude was a south side fire station, the cost of which Hanson estimates at $25,000.

THE MANAGER told the committee that he proposes to house the fire equipment in a building to be built beneath — and enclosed by framing of — a two-million gallon water tank.

The new station will be located south of Golf Road on Arlington Heights Road.

The major increase in the building and zoning department budget of $64,615 was caused by the addition of a building inspector.

BUILDING commissioner Harold Best told trustees that his department was thin especially during vacation time and the one additional man would allow him to keep closer tabs on subdivisions now under construction.

The finance department presented a budget of $90,815, up approximately $18,000 from last year's figure. Major items of increase here included the addition of a clerk typist and hikes in equipment rental and maintenance of office equipment.

Finance director Stewart Grant said the increases in machine rental and maintenance costs were due to the leasing of a computer to handle payroll and water billing work.

Other budgets presented included $19,155 for boards and commissions; $11,300 for the office of the village clerk; $7,850 for the village board; and $38,785 for the office of the village manager.

In the last two categories major items are the salaries of the village president ($2,000) and trustees ($4,000) and the pay of the village manager, the top salaried official in the village at $20,000.

PTAs to Highlight Physical Fitness

Physical fitness programs in Arlington Heights public schools will highlight February programs for two PTAs Tuesday.

North School PTA members can observe a demonstration of games and exercises at 2:15 p.m. in the North multi-purpose room.

Two physical education teachers, Miss Janet Baker and James McAlpin, will lead children in showing various levels of skills and abilities developed within the school program.

Windsor School PTA will feature "Information Please, Our Physical Fitness Plight and Plan" at 7:30 p.m. in the Miner Junior High gymnasium. Physical education instructor Thomas Toman will direct students in demonstrating gymnastics, relays, square dancing, stick dancing, and scooter skills.

A SHORT business meeting — and election of new PTA officers — will precede the program. 1967-68 PTA candidates are: Mrs. Ross Scherer, president; Mrs. Charles Wesorick, vice president; Mrs. Floyd Pierson, secretary, and Mrs. Edward Spacapan, treasurer.

Westgate - Dwyer PTA program will spotlight Mis Helen Appeldoorn, director of special education for the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization, as guest speaker. Meeting begins at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the multi-purpose room.

For ten years Miss Appeldoorn was director of special education for Springfield, Illinois. As assistant professor for the Bureau of Special Education at Ohio State University, she has also worked as research associate for the Institute for Research for Exceptional Children at the University of Illinois.

Kensington PTA members will hold an annual exhibit night and bake sale Tuesday from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Parents may view students' work during the evening.

Dryden PTA will feature "Science Night" Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Students may accompany their parents in viewing various science projects in classrooms.

There Is An Art To Compounding Medicines

It is true that the majority of prescriptions are prepared and just require careful selection, checking of dosage and prevention of dispensing errors. But we still have physicians who prefer us to compound their prescriptions to their exact individual formulas.

We keep up with the progress of Pharmacy by studying all about new products. We still compound everyday prescriptions for capsules, ointments and eye or skin preparations. We are called on less frequently to compound pills or suppositories. We love this art and welcome these more difficult prescriptions.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Design Book To Attract Industry

A booklet designed to attract industry to Arlington Heights is near completion, the board of Arlington Heights Progress, Inc. was told Tuesday.

Lester H. Ploetz, 1004 N. Mitchell Ave., who is writing the pamphlet, told the group he should finish the first draft within two weeks.

The booklet will contain about 24 pages of copy and art work "presenting the community from all aspects an industrial company might want to know about," Ploetz said.

Additional detailed fact sheets would be available upon request.

Progress, Inc., a not-for-profit organization, plans to send the booklet to companies interested in moving into the village.

Ploetz said the original title for the pamphlet "Where in the World is Arlington Heights?" has been dropped. Other names are under consideration.

Ploetz, who has written numerous booklets for village groups, was recruited by Progress Inc. last year. (A

Legion Opposes Navy Housing At Nike Site

The Arlington Heights American Legion Post has added its voice to that of the Chamber of Commerce, park board and village officials in opposing Navy housing at the Nike Site.

The Merle Guild Post No. 208 sent letters to Senators Everett Dirkson, and Charles Percy, as well as to U. S. Rep. Donald Rumsfeld and Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

The Legionnaires declared that Arlington Heights has grown too rapidly in the past few years and that the land at the Nike Site should remain as open space to be used for recreation. (A

BOLI Member Reports On Church Meeting

Russell Colvin, member of the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements, (BOLI) reported Thursday night on his meeting with the church council of St. Peter Lutheran Church, 111 W .Olive St.

According to Colvin, the council was primarily interested in learning BOLI's intentions so that the complete North Highland Avenue improvement plan can be presented to the church's assembly of voters.

He said the church council doesn't expect a decision until after their Feb. 22 meeting and that they expect controversy because funds will not be available this year.

Special commissioner Robert Bishop explained to the St. Peter's council the benefits of putting in the Highland Avenue paving by private contract agreements.

St. Peter's owns about half the land involved in the $43,000 project.

COLVIN SAID the council seemed convinced that the project should go through, but questioned whether the work should be done in 1967 since a sewer is also planned in the area. Since the sewer will have to come before the street, council members felt that all the work should be postponed until 1968 if it can't be completed in 1967.

Village Atty. Jack Siegel also reported on the Lutheran home's dedication of land for Thomas Street and Kennicott and Ridge Avenues. Siegel said the plat of dedication had been made and it was now up to BOLI to "accept their acceptance."

When money is put in escrow, the village will proceed to pave a half street on the east side of Ridge, a half-street on the west side of Kennicott and the remainder of Thomas Street. Work on the pavement will have to await installation of sewers on these streets. (A Troop is sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

Grant Permit for Harper Classrooms

A temporary special use permit to allow William Rainey Harper Junior College District 512 to put mobile classrooms at Elk Grove High School was granted Tuesday.

The hearing on the junior college's request to put not more than 13 structures west of the high school was held before the Elk Grove Village board of trustees.

Frank Hines, attorney for the college, represented the petitioner. The village board suggested possible problems of inadequate public facilities and location on a floodplain be examined before attorneys drew up the ordinance.

Tom Rettenbacher, building inspector, said it does not offend building codes not to have plumbing in the mobile classrooms.

HINES SAID a considerable amount of site preparation must be done and the junior college would like to begin as soon as possible.

He said probably eight but not more than 13 units, 26 by 56 feet, would be located in a grove west of the school's west parking lot and east of Salt Creek.

The portable, relocatable classrooms will be used for administrative offices, a book store and storage. They will be moved to the college building site no later than August 1969, Hines said.

The junior college plans to hold its first year of classes in Elk Grove High School on a 4 to 10 p.m. schedule. The lease has been approved by both District 512 and 214. (B10

Investigate Burglaries

A rash of apartment burglaries are under investigation by Arlington Heights police.

Cash and other items were reported missing last week by apartment dwellers at 2210 Goebbert Road in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Antony Vasta told police thieves took $70 in cash, two cocktail rings, a credit card, and a man's watch from the bedroom sometime last week.

William Murray reported about $100 in cash missing from his apartment.

Spencer Phillips told police $17 and a gold pocket watch were taken from his apartment sometime between Tuesday and Friday.

Police found pry marks on the front doors of apartments entered. (A

FROM RIDGE PARK

A surprise ending to a birthday treat made JoAnne Entwisone. Her husband, Gary, had obtained tickets to "The Sound of Music" for Jan. 26 and not wanting to disappoint her, they went despite the weather. The only hitch was that instead of arriving at 928 N. Ridge after seeing it they got as far as Holy Family Hospital and spent the night there, in the emergency room, lending a hand. They finally arrived home the next afternoon via ambulance, train and car.

Paul Cryer, the son of the Newman Cryers, 1007 N. Kennicott, is now attending Pierce College in Los Angeles.

The John Slezaks of 923 N. Ridge spent the Feb. 4 weekend in Champaign attending the Elks National Round-Up.

A LUNCHEON AND games highlighted Kathy Dolan's fifth birthday on Jan. 23. Guests for tle's birthday a memorable the occasion were Tommy Gniot, Kristie Forker, Chris and Terri Lyn Carlson of Ridge Park, and from Chippewa Falls, Wis., her cousin, Michael LeCleir, his mother, Mrs. David LeCleir, and Kathy's grandmother, Mrs. David Wilson. Kathy is the daughter of the James Dolans, 906 N. Patton.

The George Wojtkiewiczs of 920 N. Ridge and the Norman Walls of 936 N. Ridge went to the local K of C Clubhouse on Feb. 11 to attend their Las Vegas Night.

Other Ridge Parkers present were the Al Kleins, 1003 N. Kennicott, and the Bill Muhrs, 1019 N. Kennicott.

823 N. Salem was the scene of a party in honor of the Donald Holmes' daughter, Dawn, on her fourth birthday Feb. 2. Celebrating the occasion with her were Kathleen O'Brien, Lisa Langenfeld, her cousins, Denny and Kimberly Gembutis of Mount Prospect, and her brothers and sister, Donnie, Doris and Daniel.

FROM SHERWOOD

Miss Bonnie Colvin of 1139 N. Patton is enjoying the warm weather in Port Charlotte, Fla., where she is visiting her sister, Edith Colvin. She is keeping her brother informed as to the weather and chuckles about it, knowing she doesn't have to face our problems. But come Feb. 21 she will be sharing them with us.

After spending the month of January with her parents, the Ronald Ehrkes, at 1106 N. Patton, Mary went on to New York City for a six day visit with her roommate. Leaving there they returned to Waterville, Maine, where they attend Colby College. Mary was here doing independent study on a research project.

A welcome home to James Johnson, who returned to 1014 Burgoyne Road after a six week stay in Wesley Memorial Hospital.

A double birthday celebration was held Feb. 9 at the James Poole home, 1106 N. Princeton, to honor Jim and son, Bill. Dinner guests for the occasion were the House, Carlsen and Poole families.

Friends were scheduled to help Jeff Palmer celebrate his 12th birthday on Jan. 28 but the snow took care of that so the party took place on Feb. 4. After lunch at 1023 Burgoyne Road the group took in a movie. Jeff is the son of Doris and Carl Palmer. (A

Medicare Skilled Nursing Provision Is Explained

The skilled nursing provision of Medicare is now in effect, and will pay for the nursing of elderly people following their discharge from the hospital, the Social Security Administration announces.

Medicare will pick up the tab for up to 100 days of skilled nursing care in an "Extended Care Facility" following a hospital stay of three or more days.

An extended care facility can be a nursing home or a separate but distinct part of an institution such as a ward or wing of a hospital.

CARE IN SUCH A facility is intended to combine the quality of medical treatment ordinarily given in a hospital environment with the opportunity for the patient's increased activity and self reliance during the period of recuperation.

To be eligible the person must first have been in the hospital for three or more days and then enter the nursing home for a period of not less than 14 days for treatment of the same illness.

Medicare will pay the full bill for the first 20 days of care and all but $5 for the remaining 80 days. Social security officers emphasize that Medicare will not pay for long-term care in a custodial nursing home.

MOST EXISTING nursing homes will have to upgrade their facilities and the care they provide to meet the standards demanded by the Medicare act.

Questions about the skilled nursing care should be directed to the Social Security District office at 1930 N. Harlem Avenue, Elmwood Park, Ill. The phone number there is 456-4900. Office hours are 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. (A

New Township Youth Committee Studied

A citizens committee from Wheeling Township will meet Tuesday to study the feasibility of establishing a township committee on youth.

Lloyd Meyer, Arlington Heights, chairman of the study committee, told the Herald Tuesday that Mary Christie, a counselor from Wheeling High School; Eugene Fricker, chairman of the Mount Prospect Youth Council; Anthony Bohorfoush, chairman of the Arlington Heights Youth Council; Steve Caruso, principal of Lincoln Junior High School in Mount Prospect; Mrs. Jerry A. Hansen, Lynnwood (an unincorporated subdivision near Arlington Heights) will be working with him on the study committee.

Meyer said he hopes to have someone from Buffalo Grove on the committee also.

TUESDAY'S MEETING, to be held at the Township Hall at 7:30 p.m., will give the study committee members an opportunity to discuss five points suggested by Township Atty. Richard A. Cowen.

In a letter to Township Supervisor Albert C. Peters, Cowen outlined possible subjects for the committee to consider as follows:

—the function or services that such a township youth committee would perform.

—how such a committee would function with established youth councils or commissions in various communities within the township.

—what facilities, if any, would be required in connection with such a committee's activities.

—what appropriations, if any would be required by the township.

—if appropriations are required, could funds be raised from sources other than the township.

MEYER SAID that his committee will make its recommendations to the township board of auditors by Mar. 15. The board of auditors will then have until April 1 to decide whether or not it wishes to set up a township youth committee.

Should the township board decide a committee is needed, an 11-man committee will be named, Meyer said. (ACM

All Have Stake In Project '67

It hasn't got a name yet, this committee to clean up and plant the railroad right-of-way through the village, but it merits our support because of what it intends to do.

There is little enough that can be done to make Arlington Heights a nicer place to live. Carl Klehm says the Chicago and North Western property can be made a conversation piece and tourist attraction if the planting and landscaping are done tastefully.

Well-informed sources say the village will give the project some financial help, but this is something that could so much better be supported by the civic groups and private homeowners of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. William Pailey says she will help raise funds, and she's good at it. She needs 40 helpers just as good.

Gilbert Krohn is the head of the beautification group, but he shouldn't have to shoulder the headaches alone.

If there was ever an effort that cried out for wholehearted support by a community—call it "Project '67"—it is this one begun by the Arlington Heights Woman's Club.

It was started by a bright, scrappy woman, Mrs. Rex Hart, whose impetus and energy set the ball rolling.

Through her efforts, a lease was obtained from the railroad to improve the property. Because she kept after officials of the Chicago and North Western, the railroad has promised to clean up discarded cross ties which lay scattered by the track.

It will take more than efforts of the Harts, the Krohns, the Tobins, the Paileys, the Behrenses, the Curriers, and other community-doers associated with them to get the job done.

The right-of-way is three miles long and wider than you think.

By Friday the committee will have a name and a little better idea how to tackle its mammoth task. In time, you may be asked to help out. Please do.

Odes have been written to the glory of shining tresses, and the knights of old carried a lock of his maiden's hair into battle. Today well-groomed hair is a must and it helps to know the scientific facts about that highly complicated part of the human structure. Try out your own knowledge with the following statements. TRUE? or FALSE?

		TRUE	FALSE
1.	A great fright or illness can cause hair to turn white overnight.	( )	( )
2.	Hair is a living part of the body.	( )	( )
3.	White hair is caused by the absence of pigment in the hair shaft.	( )	( )
4.	Children have more oil in their hair than adults.	( )	( )
5.	The average age of a hair is about a year.	( )	( )
6.	The average head has about 50,000 hairs.	( )	( )
7.	Hair has only two basic pigments: red and brown.	( )	( )
8.	About 12% of the population has naturally red hair.	( )	( )
9.	Careful brushings speed up the hair's normal growth rate.	( )	( )
10.	No matter how slight, any loss of hair is a danger signal.	( )	( )

ANSWERS:

1. False. Shock or illness may cause the hair roots to cease to produce pigment, but it takes months for colorless hair to cover the head.
2. False. Like nails and the uppermost layer of skin, hair is not a living tissue.
3. True.
4. False. Children have less oil in their hair than adults. Oil secretion increases during adolescence and falls off as a person ages. The oil secretion comes from one to six glands at the root of each hair shaft.
5. False. A single hair usually remains in the scalp from two to five years.
6. False. The average number of hairs on a head is 100,000 to 120,000. Natural blonds usually have finer and more hair. Redheads have courser and fewer.
7. True. The combination of red and brown pigments result in the many shades of hair. Chinese have the only true black hair.
8. True. Natural red-heads are rare and pay for this uniqueness by its fading more rapidly than other colors.
9. False. Hair growth is determined by the hormone glands, general nutrition and condition of the scalp. There is no way to speed up growth which is normally about a half inch per month. Children's hair grows faster than adults; women's, usually more rapidly than men's and all hair usually grows more rapidly during the summer months.
10. False. Everyone has periods when they normally lose between 50 and 100 hairs per day.

degrees, an AB from Washington University and an MA from the University of Cincinnati. He has served as school board president of both District 214 and District 59 and has served on the Governor's Steering Committee on Unemployment, the Community Fund of Chicago and the Chicago Industrial Relations Assn.

JOHN F. GILLEN, 36, an Arlington Heights resident of six years, has been division sales manager for the Kimberly Clark Corporation for the past 12 years. He attended Wilson Junior College and Loyola, majoring in marketing.

Gillen, who is married and has five children, is currently president of the Stonegate Civic Assn. and has been active in the United Fund for the past three years, serving as president of the Arlington Heights United Fund last year. He has also been a Republican deputy committeeman in Wheeling Township.

Richard L. Jandl, 42, has lived in Arlington Heights for five years and is employed with the Vulcan Materials Co. as vice president-marketing.

Jandl, who received his bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin, attended the Advanced Management Program of Harvard University. He has also been active in YMCA work. Jandl is married and has three children.

James T. Ryan, 32, has been an Arlington Heights resident for one and one-half years, and is a member of the School District 23 Citizens Committee and Caucus Nominating Committee. He is a director of the Arlington Heights Jaycees and is vice president of the Arlington Vista Homeowners Assn.

HOLDING A B.S. degree in engineering from Lafayette College and an LLB Degree from the University of Wisconsin, Ryan is presently employed as an attorney for Morgan, Halligan, Lanoff and Cook.

He is married and has three children. Ryan has also served as a Republican deputy committeeman in Wheeling Township.

John J. Walsh, 39, incumbent trustee, has been an Arlington Heights resident for 10 years. Walsh is a past member of the Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals. He has also been active in the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club.

Walsh graduated cum laude from the University of Notre Dame with a BSC Degree and is owner of the Northwest Firestone Store in Arlington Heights.

He is married and has six children.

'Enjoyable' Caucus Eyed By Hanlon

THOMAS H. HANLON

Thomas H. Hanlon, incumbent village trustee, told the Herald Tuesday that he plans to "appear at and attend" Monday's Caucus meeting and "have an enjoyable time there."

Hanlon, whose name failed to appear among the six endorsed by the Caucus recommendations committee for the trustee position, said that whether or not his name is submitted from the floor at Monday's meeting "depends entirely on the good people of Arlington Heights."

"I DO NOT intend to put together any attempt or reach for this position," he said, adding that he did not want to make a political football of the issue.

Hanlon admitted that he was "substantially hurt, dismayed, displeased by the selection committee's decision," but said "I'm sure they made their decision in good faith."

He said that at present he has no plans to run in opposition to the Caucus slate.

Dist. 25 Teachers—

five-member ATA salary committee has been bargaining with the board salary committee during the past weeks.

The ATA represents about 90 per cent of the district's 373 teachers.

ATA president James Montgomery relayed the pessimism of those meetings. "They (the board salary committee) tell us the same story — that there is just no money available for such increases."

"WE HAVE not been able to convince the board nor the citizens that our salaries are too low," he said.

With this, he urged the teachers to attend the March 6 board meeting and support the ATA stand.

Members of the ATA salary committee are Montgomery, Hall, John Bennett, Glen Elms, and Judy Peterson. Negotiating for the school board are Robert Bukowski, Ted Seiler, Harold Sortor and Supt. Ralph Clabaugh from the administration.

Reasons cited by Elms for the increase were:

—Higher cost of living. He said that to hold salaries level with the increased cost of living would call for at least a $172 hike this year.

—Keep elementary teacher wages on a level with those of high school teachers. Arlington Heights District 214 teachers will have a starting salary of $5,900. Maine Township High School District 207 teachers will get $6,000.

ELMS SAID, "A District 25 teacher at the present top salary ($9,395 for a master's degree and 15 years experience) is still well below the 1960 medium income of Arlington Heights residents."

"These recommendations will put us on the road to a good salary schedule," he said. "It's not ideal but a step in the right direction."

District 25 teachers have been unsuccessful in their bid for higher wages in previous years. Last year they requested a $150 across-the-board raise. They got $100.

This year's demands would add some $550,000 to the school budget, Montgomery estimated.

However, 1967-68 estimated receipts for the district show only a $382,806 increase in the budget — and this is with higher borrowing through tax anticipation warrants.

Teachers' salaries comprise the major part of the education budget—about 75 to 80 per cent.

The Arlington Heights Plan Commission will hold a continued hearing on the throughfare plan at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Municipal Hall.

During the past year the plan has been evaluated — and rewritten — by the thoroughfare subcommittee headed by Fred Ainslie.

The plan is considered to be near completion. Commission recommendations will accompany the plan when it goes before the village board.

Area News Roundup

MOUNT PROSPECT—Polls open Saturday for District 57's $950,000 school bond referendum, with a second ballot asking for raises in the legal limit of the building and educational fund taxes. The bond referendum was defeated Dec. 11 by 11 votes.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—The Elk Grove Park District last week refused to give information on the purchase of a $29,200 home in residential Elk Grove Village. The home occupied by Jack Claes, director of parks and recreation, is a deviation from other park districts' policy of providing homes only on park sites.

WHEELING—Two local political party slates were revealed in Wheeling this week. The Better Village Party, headed by incumbent Trustee Ira A. Bird. The Best Representative Party was formed by former District 21 Board Pres. Harry Tyler. Both slates will be vying for four posts on the Wheeling village Board in the April 18 election.

ROLLING MEADOWS—A board of fire commissioners has been appointed by the Rolling Meadows Fire Protection District trustees. The new board will prepare an eligibility list for the city's first full time paid firemen.

HOFFMAN ESTATES—A Florida-based restaurant chain has requested a license to sell beer at a restaurant they are planning on Golf Road, just east of Roselle Road. The restaurant would specialize in sandwiches and beer, with no hard liquor served.

SCHAUMBURG TOWNSHIP—Both Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg will turn their village governments over to Conant High School students next Thursday on "Youth in Government" day.

HANOVER TOWNSHIP—Bartlett, Hanover Park and Streamwood residents living in Junior College District 509 will vote Saturday on a $5 million bond referendum to finance the district's share of construction costs for a $20 million campus for Elgin Community College. If approved, state funds will pay the remaining $15 million.

PALATINE—Board members of Palatine-Rolling Meadows School District 15 voted approval of a new salary schedule that will add $200 to the "base" or starting, pay of teachers and remove annual increment ceiling. It will add more than a quarter-million dollars to annual salary costs.

MEDINAH—The Medinah Park District last week authorized Park Atty. Craig Larson to begin selling bonds to finance its planned purchase of 30-acres of open land from the Medinah Country Club for $84,500. The property straddles Thorndale Road west of Medinah Road. The park district plans to develop it for ball park and skating pond use.

WOOD DALE—The Wood Dale Village Council this week received word that a federal grant has been approved for improvement and expansion of the village sewage treatment plant.

Charge Men With Theft Of Licenses

Two Arlington Heights men were charged with theft by Mount Prospect police last Thursday after reportedly taking license plates from a car at the Bruning Co. plant on W. Central Road.

Arrested less than 20 minutes after the theft was reported were Bryant Neilson, 19, of 619 S. Grove, and John Miller, 18, of 915 Fernandez, both Arlington Heights.

Neilson reportedly took the license plates from the front seat of a Bruning Co. car parked near the plant. After he and Miller opened the envelope the plates were in and discovered they were company licenses, Neilson went to put them back in the car but found the vehicle gone. He then threw them into the snow, police said he told them.

NEILSON and Miller and two companions were at Bruning to see another man who was applying for a job, police reported.

William T. Moore of Chicago, driver of the Bruning car, reported the loss of the license plates and furnished police with a description of Miller's car.

Patrolman Richard Pascoe stopped the car less than 20 minutes after the initial complaint and brought the quartet to police headquarters. Neilson and Miller were released on $300 bond and ordered to appear in court Feb. 23.

Eye on Arlington

A Snap Course

by DAVID HOYT
News Editor

"Good morning, ladies and gentlemen. This is 'Youth and the Big Picture,'" narrated by the Rev. Larry Cartford, and brought to you for the paltry fee of $500,000,

The Rev. Mr. Cartford is proposing that a vast youth center be constructed to take our young people out of what? Are there any sin dens in town? Randhurst?

Pressing on regardless, Pastor Cartford wants land at Dundee and Arlington Heights Road for a sort of youth shelter complete with bowling alleys, billiard room, study area and cafeteria.

The land belongs to District 214 and the Rev. Mr. Cartford says the district doesn't need it all.

The good man says a campaign to raise funds for the center may begin in May. He describes the proposed building as teen-operated, adult-guided and supported.

Letters requesting have been sent out and letters supporting have been received.

Before moving on to praise the project's inner worth, I can only hope that the halls of Pastor Cartford's dreamhouse are papered with that long, strong, green stuff.

In taking the needs of youth out of the hands of the small thinkers, the Rev. Mr. Cartford has innocently paved the way for a blossoming of intellectual grandeur.

When you move out of the realm of sock hops and converted warehouses and begin to talk in the six-figure bracket you are inviting the attentions of the grant-hungry educator.

Most especially are you attracting the educator who has majored in education at one of those wastelands of the mind, the teachers college.

These people, with their doctorates in dormitory management, are going to take one look at the Rev. Mr. Cartford's youth center and leap for joy.

Here is a new Ph.D. program! In fact, here is a whole new field of study: JUVENOLOGY!

Youth curricula will be established all across the country, as educators expand their collegiate empires. Sociologists and psychologists will also leap for the fast-rolling bandwagon.

New courses will appear in the bulging university catalogs.

Picture them. "Juvenology 203: Adolescent Clothing—Choice and conformity as parameters in the clothing selection of post pubescent youth, with a brief review of their psychological implications. Prerequisites: Skin Problems 101 and consent of instructor."

Knowledge will mushroom in the new field, with computer languages being designed to handle the programming needs of the specialty.

Dissertations will appear: "Mathematical Models of Youth Interaction in a Structured Primary Group Setting: An Investigation."

Eventually a large foundation will seize leadership of the new field and institute an institute.

The Advanced Center for the Study of Youth will sprawl across the hills of the fast-disappearing Leland Stanford Jr. Farm, and from its gates in an ever-increasing stream will flow qualified juvenologists.

It will be these brave pioneers who will take the helms of youth centers around the nation. It will be they who finally remove the adolescent from the damaging environment of the home.

In triumph, the juvenologist and the educator will lead our youth to a sinless, sexless, parentless Nirvana of understanding and acceptance.

Ah yes, it is truly only the false limitations of selfimposed reality that keep us from the ultimate truth.

Had any more good dreams lately, Rev. Cartford?

Station Robbed Of $100 in Cash

Sneak thieves escaped with $100 in currency from Earl's Sunoco service station at Rand Road and Henry Street, Mount Prospect, Friday night.

Bob E. Angellotti told police four men drove into the station and asked him to fix a window on their car. While he was working on the vehicle two of the men were in the station.

After they left, Angellotti found the cash and a $53.25 check missing from the office.

A hearing for a proposed office facility on North Arlington Heights Road was continued to March 1 by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission last Wednesday.

Petitioner Lyman Lloyd is asking for rezoning of an acre lot from residential (R-3) to limited business (B-2). The lot is located just north of the Commonwealth Edison property on Oakton Street and North Arlington Heights Road.

ACCORDING TO his attorney, William Moore, Lloyd wants to build a 15,600-square-foot office building with space for 10 to 15 offices.

Possible tenants would be insurance, sales and advertising firms, Moore said.

Commissioners indicated they would like to see the property rezoned to office and research district (O-R) — to continue the zoning of the nearby Northwestern Mutual Insurance property.

College Dean Tells Rotary Of Plans

Dr. James Harvey, dean of students at William Rainey Harper college, provided Arlington Heights Rotarians with an updated report of the newly formed college at the club's Feb. 9 meeting at Arlington Carousel restaurant.

Harvey reported authorities are nearly ready to break ground for the first $12 million construction at Algonquin and Roselle roads.

It will cost a local student about $260 per year to attend the college, either for its transfer program leading to a four-year baccalaureate degree at one of many recognized institutions or for one of the two-year associate degree career programs.

NEARLY ALL full-time teaching positions have been filled, averaging 10 years experience with a master's degree plus 20 hours. Harvey indicated a potential enrollment of 15,000 by 1980, plus possible addition of Barrington and Maine Townships.

Present state law requires high school districts without junior college facilities to pay out-of-district costs for students wishing to attend a neighboring college. This would amount to about $700 per student attending Harper from other high school districts. (A EXPANSION FOR Robert Nelson Realtors is planned behind the present facility at the corner of Northwest Highway and Pine Street. Construction is slated to start June 1.

Nelson Realtors Plan Building Expansion

The firm of Robert Nelson Realtors plans to expand its present building at the corner of Northwest Highway and Pine Street in Arlington Heights.

The company has purchased land directly to the rear of its offices on Pine Street.

The planned addition will add 4,800 square feet to the building and provide 20 additional parking spaces.

The real estate company plans to occupy only a portion of the expanded building, with the rest devoted to leased office space.

COMPANY spokesmen declare that the new addition will make the Nelson offices the largest in the Northwest suburbs.

Architects for the project are McCarthy-Hundrieser and Associates, Arlington Heights.

Providing that rezoning and building plans are approved construction is to begin June 1.

Illinois Bell, IBEW Agree on Contract

Illinois Bell Telephone and Local 811, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, have reached agreement on a 36-month general contract, providing wage increases and benefit improvements for 1,600 employees in the controller and the secretary's department, and in a mail service unit.

PRINCIPAL ITEMS of the agreement:

Weekly wage increases range from $3.50 to $8. Provision is made for reopening of the agreement on wages after an initial period of 18 months.

Reclassification of offices at Arlington Heights and Harvey results in an additional weekly increase of $1 for some employees at maximum wage scales. Reclassification of employees at Joliet and West Chicago provides for a similar increase of $1.50.

Starting rates for several types of clerical and other assignments in Chicago are increased by $4 per week. Working hours in the Chicago headquarters office are reduced from 8 to 7½ hours a day.

The agreement also provides substantial improvements in vacation, pension, medical expense, group insurance and death benefits at varying times during the period of the contract.

THE WAGE COST to the company over the first 18 months of the agreement is $396,000. The new contract will become effective Sunday, Feb. 5 if ratified by the union membership by Feb. 15.

About 1,000 members of the union are employed in Chicago offices. The remainder are at Arlington Heights, Joliet, Harvey, Springfield and West Chicago. (A

Dinner on Saturday

The Rifle Squad of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 981 of Arlington Heights will hold a dinner and dance at the post clubhouse Saturday.

Food will be served from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Dancing will start at 8 p.m. Price of the meal and dance is $1.25 for children under 12 and $2.50 for adults. The public is invited.

The clubhouse is located at the corner of Yale and Northwest Highway. (A

'Footlights to Future' On Stage This Weekend

"Footlight to the Future" will be presented Friday and Saturday in Wheeling High School auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m. The community variety show is sponsored by the Wheeling High School Community Scholarship Foundation.

More than 20 acts from local orginizations have been rehearsing for the show, proceeds from which will go toward post-high school scholarship assistance to deserving Wheeling High School graduates.

According to Mrs. Marjilou Olson, member of the foundation's coordinating committee, "Footlights to the Future" has an exciting array of local talent. A church choir, music ensembles, hula dancers, a piano duo, men's fashion show, Charleston revue, vocalists, comedy acts, a ballet and minstrel act will be included.

DIRECTING the production is Louis Pintacurra, Wheeling resident and long-time theatrical personality. Working with him as stage manager and coordinator of the show is Mrs. Rae Swanson, a dance instructor with the Wheeling park program.

The master of ceremonies will be Glenn Oaks, vice president of the Scholarship Foundation and one of its original members.

Some of the organizations contributing acts are Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, the Wheeling Junior Woman's Club Auxiliary, Royal Neighbors of America, Prospect Heights Woman's Club, Wheeling Youth Commission, Knights of Columbus, Meadowbrook Woman's Club, Cameo Players, River Trails Park District, Wheeling Athletic Association Auxiliary, Wheeling Village Clerk's office, Buffalo Grove Woman's Club and Joyce Kilmer PTA.

OTHER performing groups from Wheeling include the Public Relations Commission, Northwest Homeowners' Association, the Rotary Club, Park District and Junior Woman's Club.

Tickets to "Footlights to the Future" will be available at the door. (A

Bake Sale Is Planned

A bake sale plus a science program by teachers will highlight the next meeting of the Forest View Elementary Parents Club next Tuesday, Feb. 21.

Home-baked goods will be on sale for a half hour before the meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., as well as afterward. Business on the agenda for the meeting includes selection of a nominating committee.

Third grade mothers will be hostesses for the evening.

Cuban Exile To Address Men's Club

Dr. Flavio Galban of Evanston will discuss Castro's Cuba with the Mens Club of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights Monday evening...

Galban, former head of virology for the Cuban Public Health Bureau, is a licensed pediatrician and serves on the staffs of St. Francis and Children's Memorial hospitals in Evanston.

Mens Club president Lou Ritzman, 641 S. Chestnut Ave., Arlington Heights, urges all Presbyterian men to attend the dinner meeting. Reservations can be made by calling the church office at CL 3-0492.

World War II Loan

The largest single loan to war-time allies made by the U.S. during World War II was to Great Britain in 1946. It totaled $3.7 billion.

Lunch Plan at Hersey On Dist. 214 Agenda

Student lunches at the new Hersey High School will be discussed again by the High School District 214 board members Monday.

At the 7:30 p.m. committee meeting in Slichenmyer Administration center, board members will consider:

—Whether equipment savings are enough to justify trial of a "satellite" food service for Hersey at Wheeling High School.

—If food for Hersey is trucked in, should a minimum or full-time menu be provided.

ANNEXATION to Buffalo Grove of a still-unused high school site at Arlington Heights and Dundee Roads will also be considered by the school board committee Monday.

Dr. Edward H. Gilbert. superintendent, has recommended testing the satellite food service operation, at the full-menu level.

Cafeteria supervisors on Feb. 6 asked board consideration of limited menu service for both Hersey and Wheeling.

The cost of equipping Hersey High School's kitchen would be less if a limited menu were provided. Such a menu would include one standard main dish and one hot sandwich lunch offering, but with few choices of salads and dessert.

Currently cafeterias at District 214 high schools provide several main dishes, and four or five choices each of salads and desserts, for student meals. In addition, they operate an a la carte line.

THE HERSEY High School citizens committee that considered food service last year recommended full lunch room service for Hersey High School.

Annexation of the 40-acre school site to Buffalo Grove has been asked both by that village's officials and by attorney A. Howard Borde.

Borde said annexation of the school site would enable Levitt and Co., which he represents, to annex an adjoining 22-acre parcel west of Arlington Heights Road to Buffalo Grove.

He said Levitt, which plans to start another large single family development in Buffalo Grove's Glen Grove area this spring, wants to use part of the 22-acre parcel for model homes.

He called annexation to Buffalo Grove more "logical" than annexation to Arlington Heights, whose boundaries are also not far away. (ACME

Sullivan to Head 22,000 in Shrine

G. William Sullivan, 415 S. Windsor Drive, Arlington Heights, been elected potentate of the Medinah Temple.

Sullivan, who has been prominent for many years in Chicago area legal, fraternal and civic circles, has been a member of the Medinah Temple for almost 30 years. He along with Gov. Otto Kerner and four others from the Chicago area, has been elected to receive Masonry's highest honor, the 33rd degree, this fall.

In his new post, Sullivan will head the 22,000-member local shrinedom. (A Sidelights

Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Mary O'Leary

Lately there's been little social activity in the Sidelights area. At least this reporter hasn't heard of much. All of the grammar school, high school and college students are back in the swing of studying, parties hit a bit of a low point during the Lenten season.

One hardy couple, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wenner, 505 Mayfair, were determined to set out on their trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands in spite of the snowstorm which had begun on Thursday, three days before their departure on Sunday. Although they had originally planned the usual commercial flight, the storm almost banished their hopes of ever arriving at their destination.

EVENTUALLY, after assorted trips aboard a small commuter plane, a bus and a commercial plane with stops in Detroit, Des Moines, Newark, New York and Cape Kennedy, the Wenners arrived in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

After three days in San Juan, they went on to the Virgin Islands for four days and then home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nabel, 203 Kennicot, are thrilled at the latest accomplishments of their daughter in her college career. Dawneen, a junior at Simpson College in Iowa, has recently made the dean's list and has been elected social chairman of her sorority, Pi Beta Phi. A music major, she plans to teach voice and plans to study in Europe this summer. (A

One of ACLD Founders Will Address COULD

A founder of the Assoc. for Children with Learning Difficulties (ACLD) will be the speaker Wednesday at the first meeting of COULD, a new northwest suburban group for parents of the perceptually handicapped.

Mrs. Gordon Hallstrom of Evanston will be the speaker at the meeting, set for 8 p.m. in Prospect High School, 801 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

A blanket invitation to all persons interested in problems of children with learning disabilities has been issued by COULD's steering committee.

MRS. WILLIAM Kuivinen of Mount Prospect, a co-founder of COULD, said organizers of the parents' group have chosen that name to testify to their assertion that children with learning difficulties can do well in school with proper help.

The ACLD, with which COULD plans to affiliate, was formed under Mrs. Hallstrom's guidance at local, state and national levels.

She also organized the Northern Illinois Fund for the Perceptually Handicapped — the first Illinois group interested in the problem.

A national organization was formed before a state organization of ACLD was. Organization of state-level ACLD groups came when Mrs. Hallstrom and other persons interested in the percepually handicapped realized they needed to be able to influence state legislation.

Mrs. Hallstrom helped lobby for H. B. 1407, the law which will require in 1969 that every school district provide for needs of all its children—including the handicapped.

NOW SHE IS chairman of the advisory committee that will oversee implementation of the law.

Information about COULD can be obtained from Mrs. Kuivinen at CL 5-6818 or Mrs. Gregory Meore of Des Plaines at 824-7985.

First public announcement of organizing of COULD came in Paddock Publications two weeks ago.

Since then, Mrs. Kuivinen says, she has had dozens of inquiries from interested persons.

They have come from many parents, a college professor who trains special education teachers, and a seminary student who has come across Puerto Rican perceptually handicapped youngsters while working in a city mission.

THE FOUR-township Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization (NSSEO) provides in-school resource rooms for 175 children with learning abilities. Another eight with perceptual handicaps are on waiting lists.

Miss Helen Appeldoorn, NSSEO coordinator, says she is confident there are others still unidentified.

The Des Plaines elementary schools represented on COULD'S steering committee by several parents, provides no extra help now for the perceptually handicapped.

Otherwise bright children with learning disabilities are often identified by their hyperactivity. They shuffle their feet, tap pencils, twist and squirm.

BUT CHILDREN with learning disabilities may also show one or more of the following characteristics:

Short attention span, distractibility, poor visual-motor coordination, poor sense of balance, poor large muscle coordination, rapid and excessive changes of mood, difficulty with abstract thinking, excessive repetition of thought or action, inconsistent behavior and poor auditory or visual retention.

Municipal Conference Meets NIPC

The Northwest Municipal Conference will hold its February meeting Wednesday at the office of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC), Chicago.

Members of the NIPC staff will report on "Factors which Influence Judgments on Annexations." Chicago Bar Transportation Study representatives John Orzeske and Andrew Plummer III will present a proposal in connection with "Accident Statistics and the Computer."

The entire membership of the conference will be asked to give suggestions on pending legislation to the conference's legislative committee. (B10

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort, FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates, holds them firmer so they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline. Doesn't sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Revoke 5 Licenses For Intoxication

Licenses of five area drivers have been revoked following convictions on a charge of driving while intoxicated, according to last week's report from the office of Secretary of State Paul Powell.

Those named are Gary L. Britt, 7500 Elmhurst Road, Bensenville; Harvey K. Atchison, 548 Isa Drive, Wheeling; John D. Patterson, 601 Ma-Na-Wa Trail, and Dennis C. Sydow, 14 N. School, both of Mount Prospect; and Antonio Yebra Jr., Box 188, Rand Road, Palatine.

The license of James R. Burley, 238 E. Maple, Roselle, was revoked for giving incorrect information on his license application.

MOST OF those listed as having driving privileges suspended for three violations are residents of Arlington Heights. Included are Pamela A. Ashworth, 945 N. Arlington Heights Road; Raymond C. Chappell, 440 S. Forrest Ave.; Roger E. Dykstra, 2206 Goebbert Road; Richard M. Fink Jr., 404 W. Olive; Harold J. Hanson, 132 S. Belmont; John C. Helmer, 716 N. Gibbons; William C. Kroepil Jr., 2907 Linneman Road; James P. MacGregor, 1622 S. Chesterfield; and Francis W. Morris, 22 S. Phelps.

Mount Prospect residents Frank J. Grady, 513 S. Owen; Helen J. Kisselburg, 413 Hi-Lusi; David P. Margraf, 1419 E. Lowden Lane; Eugene H. Miglore, 212 N. Louis; and Pravin C. Patel, 1216A Boxwood Drive, also had licenses suspended according to Secretary Powell's report.

Others with suspensions for three violations are Dale W. Allen, 34 8N. Central, Wood Dale; Vivian B. Bilhorn, 4N164 Fischer; Glenn L. Miller, 1010 Hillside Drive; and Lester E. Stefanis, 28 O'Hare Court—all of Bensenville; John D. DeCosta, 254 Park View Drive, and George O. MacFarlane, 104 W. Natoma, both of Addison; James B. Meehan, 241 S. Rush St., Itasca; Karl Ruzicka, 400 E. Montana Ave., Glendale Heights; Frederick C. Stone, 24W484 Woodworth, Roselle; Larry C. Barefoot, 119 E. Dundee Road, and Joseph Meinike, 348 Wille Ave., Wheeling; Joseph V. Benedetto, 1084 Maple Lane; Carl A. Hall, 6 Ridgewood; and Joy B. LeCompte, 1329 Cumberland—all from Elk Grove Village; and Kenneth T. Matson, 906 E. Pratt Drive, and Victor W. Selsky, 703 E. Chicago Ave., Palatine.

BARRY J. Bugbee, 181 Maricopa, Hoffman Estates, has had a suspension or revocation reentered for driving while his license was suspended or revoked; while Joseph J. Jackson, 154 S. Judson, Bensenville, suffered suspension for violating a restriction on his license or permit.

Probationary permits were issued to William A. Irons, 433 S. Home, Itasca; Richard A. Jordan, 17 E. Maple Ave., Roselle; Anthony J. Andrise, 410 S. Can-Dota; Frank J. Lowe, 1710 Martha Lane; and Patrick J. Phillips, 420 S. Pine—all of Mount Prospect; Ernest M. Larkin, 3918 Wren Court, Rolling Meadows; and Brian A. Pate, 182 Bradley Lane, Hoffman Estates. (A15

'Yes' and 'No' Answers Given to Fund Requests

Local school districts so far have gotten "Yes," "No," and "no action taken" responses to their requests for Illinois gifted children funds.

Herbert A. Baker, director of gifted child programs for the state superintendent of public instruction, has told officials here that:

—High School District 214's request for support of Arlington High's Talented Underachiever program as a demonstration project has been rejected.

—THE STATE may be able to provide $150,000 — about a third of that originally sought—for Elk Grove District 59's multi-faceted gifted child program.

—The state advisory committee for gifted child programs has not yet gone over District 214's request for funds to develop economic curriculum materials for use by junior high students in Mount Prospect District 57.

Okaying of all state funding of gifted children program is only tentative. The General Assembly has not yet voted funds for the gifted children program for the next two years.

David Whiteside, director of research for District 214, told Paddock Publications this week that Baker suggested the high school district rewrite its Talented Underachiever program and resubmit it.

The new request, asking support for the Talented Underachiever program on an experimental basis for a third year—rather than as a demonstration project, could be acted upon in April.

The other District 214 request, involving cooperation with Mount Prospect elementary schools, will also be given consideration at the April meeting of the advisory committee.

WHITESIDE said he plans to take Baker's advice. The new request, he said, will ask funding of the Talented Underachiever program at freshman, sophomore and junior levels.

For the past two years state school funds have supported the Talented Underachiever program on the freshman level only.

Though Elk Grove District 59 originally asked $400,000 for its gifted child program, Supt. Donald Thomas says he is not disappointed at the $150,000 negotiated.

It will be enough, he said, to maintain most of the district's gifted child programs at an operating level.

DROPPED, because of the tighter budget, will be operation of the minimax program on a demonstration basis.

The funds will still provide for exchange programs next year with teachers from both Forest View and Elk Grove High Schools, he said.

Forest View News

The Henry Hansens, W. Golf Road, had as Friday guests Mr. and Mrs. James Pease of Barrington; Thursday they spent the evening at the Paul Brummels' in Naperville and Sunday the Burt Hansen family of Rolling Meadows were dinner guests of the Hansens.

Get well wishes go to Mrs. Mary Pryble who underwent surgery in Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

Birthday greetings this week go to Bernadine Storhaug, Ruth Grismer, Marion Kloske, Joseph Andronaco, Rosemarie Leuzzi, Rosalie Vercelli, Joey Trznadel, Mary Hilgeman, Jayme Loeschen, Kathy Trznadel, Clifford Potter and Jeffery Lowe.

Happy anniversaries are wished for Robert and Mildred Campbell, Feb. 16, and to Sam and Audrey Bass, Feb. 18.

MR. AND MRS. Benjamin Vinikour, Meyer Road, celebrated their wedding anniversary Feb. 7. Ben recently attended the dental convention in Chicago.

On Feb. 20, at 9:15 a.m., the Forest View Elementary School Parent's Club board will meet at the home of Mrs. Maureen Long, Martha Lane.

A Lutheran Church of the Cross Luther League weekend retreat found many area teenagers at Long Lake Bible Cam at Long Lake. Joel Ellefson, Barbara Teske, Steven Schmid, Bill Werner, Seri Swenson, Joy Erickson and Charles and Tom Browne Jr. were there as well as Mrs. Sheryl Turner, S. Busse Road, who was one of the sponsors. The outing included a hay ride, tobogganing, wiener roast and devotional periods.

Lani Duffill, Glenn Lane, had a belated birthday dessert luncheon Saturday followed by an afternoon of bowling.

Feb. 9 was a fun day for students at Forst View Elementary School when Walter Ross of the Northwest Obedience Club gave a dog obedience program.

COLONIAL HEIGHTS

The junior Carl M. Baardsen family were Sunday dinner guests of the senior Baardsens in Chicago.

On Saturday, Ronnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schlatter, Robbie Lane, celebrated his 13th birthday with eight friends. After having lunch they went bowling at Striking Lanes, returning to the Schlatters' to run the road races.

Joey Trznadel celebrated his fifth birthday Wednesday with a party for Phillip Menard, Angie Rosiak, Pamela Kingsborough, Lynda, Leslie, Joyce and Heidi Hill and Albert Morey.

Thursday the David Andersons, Kim Avenue, attended a birthday celebration for Virginia's brother, Paul Czarnik, in Chicago.

SATURDAY evening found the Andersons at a party in Arlington Heights to celebrate the seventh birthday of Mary Ellen, ninth birthday of Michael and the wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wojtal.

Sympathy is extended to the Ronald Wilhelm family, on the death of his grandmother in Chicago on Thursday; to the Arthur Howerton family on the death of Mrs. Howerton's mother over the weekend, and the George Menard family on the death of Mr. Menard's father, Mr. John Menard of Chicago, on Feb. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Condrevo, Kim Avenue, and their son, Joe, left Dec. 17 on a flight to California, where they were met in San Francisco by another son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Peluso of Oakland.

The busy days then began, with an evening at the Circle Star Theatre, where they enjoyed seeing Allen Rossi, afternoons spent Christmas shopping and sightseeing, which included a ride over the Golden Gate Bridge, a tour of Kaiser Center, a trip to the Redwood Wine Country and seeing the world famous tree house north of Laytonville on the Redwood Highway.

ON CHRISTMAS EVE the Condrevos visited friends, Jack and Gloria Winlerstein in Oakland, and Christmas Day in Sacramento, having dinner with relatives at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Kussiroun. An evening was also spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Clare in Alameda. The days flew as they tried to visit all their friends. They enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Thelma Earll in Richmond and then to the R. Jones residence in Oakland.

Their son lives across from the Lake Merritt Museum, so Frank and Josephine spent many pleasant hours in the park and waterfowl sanctuary. They also enjoyed "The Sound of Music" and an evening at the Circle Star Theatre, where they saw Liberace.

Mrs. Condrevo played hostess at her son's home on New Year's Day, when she made a Ravioli dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nichols.

At Treasure Island, they dined and went sightseeing as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nichols. They also dined at such places as Fishermans Wharf in San Francisco and at a smorgasbord at the Fjords Smorg-ette in Sacramento.

The Condrevos arrived in snowbound Chicago on Jan. 21.

THE KENNETH Kazmars, Lonnquist Boulevard, entertained the Charles Freeze family of River Grove on Saturday. On Sunday, Ken and Gloria visited Ken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kazmar in Chicago.

A get well wish is extended to Mrs. Robert McCulloch who is hospitalized in Montana.

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. George Menard, Rusty Drive, on the arrival of their eighth grandchild, a girl born to their daughter, Sandra and husband, Gary Hansen of Chicago.

On Sunday, the Menard family had another daughter and family, the James Youngs of Chicago, over for the day.

ELK RIDGE VILLA

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Connie Kondrat, Robert Drive, celebrated his birthday with a dinner at Lander's Hyatt House in Elk Grove Village with Mr. and Mrs. Jiro Simizu of Chicago. (AME

Open Housing Chief Scheduled To Speak

Edward Holmgren, executive director of the Leadership Council for Metropolitan Open Communities spoke at last night's (Wednesday) joint meeting of the Mount Prospect-Prospect Heights and Arlington Heights Human Relations committees held in South Church Community - Baptist, Mount Prospect. will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Holmgren recently returned to Chicago to take up his new duties with the open communities council after nearly six years in Baltimore, Md., doing neighborhood organizational work.

He is a native Chicagoan and attended the University of Chicago and University of Illinois. Past experience has been with the Chicago Housing Authority and the Urban League.

After last summer's marches and demonstrations against housing discrimination in Chicago, a "summit meeting" between religious groups, businessmen, and civil rights leaders was held. The Leadership Council for Metropolitan Open Communities was the result with James Cook, president of Illinois Bell Telephone Co., agreeing to act as chairman.

3 Library Trustees To Seek Re-election

GEORGE C. BEACHAM

MRS. NATHALIE WALLACE

NORVAL STEPHENS

Three of Arlington Heights' library trustees whose terms expire this year plan to put their names on the April municipal ballot.

Planning to file candidates papers are:

—Mrs. Nathalie Wallace, elected to the library board for her first term in 1961.

—Norval Stephens, former village trustee appointed in February when James E. Wood resigned.

—George C. Beacham, another former village trustee named to the library board in April, 1966, to Mrs. Elsie Hubbard's term.

Charles Oestmann, whose term also expires in April, does not plan to seek re-election, Mrs. Florence Hendrickson told fellow board members Tuesday.

OESTMANN has missed board meetings frequently because of out-of-town travel.

So far, no other Arlington Heights residents have filed candidates' petitions as library trustees.

Last date for filing petitions for municipal offices—including the library trustees' seats—is Feb. 27.

Candidates petitions are available from both the village clerk and the head librarian.

Persons filing for the library post must submit petitions signed by 50 or more registered voters of Arlington Heights. They must also file a certificate of candidacy and sign a loyalty oath. (A

Public Sauna OKd At Pioneer Park

Arlington Heights is to have a public sauna.

Park commissioners voted Tuesday to spend $1,100 to build a sauna in the men's shower room at Pioneer Park.

The sauna, which Park Supt. Thomas Thornton estimates should take about a month to construct, will be open to men and women at different times.

A TENTATIVE program, prepared by Demmarree Sunkel of the park district, calls for an admission fee of $1.50 to persons who are not enrolled in a park activity and $1 to those who are taking part in a program. There would be no limit to the length of time a person could spend in the sauna.

Thornton said that power for the sauna should cost about $1.80 for an eight-hour day. He said that the sauna should pay for itself and may turn out to be a revenue-producing activity.

SHOULD THERE be a demand for a second sauna, Thornton said, the facility could be duplicated in the women's shower area. (A

Two Pedestrians Injured by Auto

Two pedestrians were injured when they were hit by a car while walking along Dryden Avenue in Arlington Heights early Sunday morning.

The two men were taken to Northwest Community Hospital. Jack Pickering, 318 N. Dryden Ave., was reported in "good" condition Tuesday with a fractured ankle. Jesse Rodriguez of Des Plaines was treated and released.

The driver of the car, Raymond E. Wegner, 40, of 310 Winston Drive, Palatine, told police he failed to see the pedestrians because of high snowbanks along the street. No arrests were made. (A

Include New Lights In Fuel Tax Budget

Replacement of the often ill-timed signal lights at Euclid and Northwest Highway is proposed in the village's motor fuel tax budget for 1967-68.

The present system is held together with "wire and chewing gum," village engineer Charles Tower told trustees at a budget committee meeting Monday.

The new signals will be hooked in with those needed for an extension of Davis Street to Euclid.

IMPROVEMENT OF that street is being considered for next year by the Board of Local Improvements.

The Euclid-Northwest Highway traffic light proposal was one of 17 included in the motor fuel tax budget of $622,000.

As proposed it would have a deficit of $32,000 by year's end—with a current unspent balance from 1966-67 of $290,000.

Double spending—to cover next year's and that incompleted from last year, when contractors' strikes delayed road work—is provided in the budget, trustees were told.

They urged Tower to get projects under contract as soon as possible.

The state highway department may have designs on the MFT money—particularly if the General Assembly shorts them on appropriations, trustees pointed out.

Trustee Jack Walsh said Cook County municipal heads have had a commitment from Director of Public Works Francis Lorenz not to raid the city motor fuel tax funds until the legislature ends.

"You ought to have as much as possible under contract by the end of the legislative session," Walsh declared.

THE PUBLIC benefit and MFT funds include money for the delayed Northwest Highlands project—held up, trustees intimated, because of need to negotiate with the abutting Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged.

Also included is funding for the Stonegate street lighting project and for highway and arterial street lighting between that residential area and Arlington Heights Road.

An extensive lighting project for Northwest Highway, Kensington and Dryden is now being given preliminary consideration by the Board of Local Improvements.

That must be followed, Tower said, by similar lighting improvements along Northwest Highway from Highland Avenue to the village's western edge.

Voters Must Register March 1-3

Voter registration days are March 1-3 for persons living in unincorporated areas of Elk Grove Township.

Persons must be registered by these days to vote in April 18 elections.

Registration will be held between 9 a.m. and noon, 1 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. at township offices at 2400 S. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights. (ACME

Scouts Win Awards

Seven Arlington Heights boys were among the 650 Chicago area Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers presented religious awards by Chicago Roman Catholic Archbishop John P. Cody.

Those receiving awards at the Holy Name Cathedral, Chicago, were Boy Scouts James Talaber, Patrick Beam, Terry Schmidt and William Mann of Troop 66 from St. James Catholic Church who received the "Ad Altare Dei" award.

Cub Scouts Peter Eberhardy and Gregory Pindras of Pack 161 from Our Lady of the Wayside Church who were given the "Parvuli Die" award; and Boy Scout John Cavers of Troop 159, also from Our Lady of the Wayside Church, who received the "Ad Altare Dei" award.

Archbishop Cody reminded the boys of their responsibilities to God and country and cited Abraham Lincoln as an example of patriotism. He urged the boys to follow that example. (A

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Jimmy Gibbons, son of the Bill Gibbonses, 1448 N. Yale, underwent ear surgery in Skokie Valley Hospital Feb. 7. He was allowed to come home the day of the operation and returned to school this week.

Feb. 13 was Jimmy's eighth birthday, and a family party was given in his honor Monday night. Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sadlicki, aunt, Donna Sadlicki, and uncle, Steve Sadlicki, joined Jimmy, his parents, brother, Billy, and sisters, Tammy, Janice, and Jody, to celebrate the occasion.

Two occasions in the Jim Allen family, 1330 N. Chicago, was feted when the Allens hosted a party in the Rambling Rose recreation hall on Feb. 4. Scott Allen celebrated his eighth birthday, and the family welcomed Jim's cousin, Rudy Allen, home on leave after being stationed in Taiwan for 15 months. Rudy will be stationed in Texas now. About 40 relatives gathered to celebrate the two occasions.

TO CELEBRATE their wedding anniversary, Jim and Ruth Stevens, 1333 N. Illinois, went out to dinner and a play at Old Orchard Country Club Saturday night. They saw "Ready When You Are, C. B." Later the couple stopped at the Bramble Bush.

As of last Friday night, the Terrace can boast a state district champion wrestler in the 180 pound class. Mike Jones, son of Mrs. Colleen Boland, 1426 N. Race, won the honor for Arlington High School at a meet Friday night at Wheeling High.

A Chinese New Year's party was hosted by Paul and Judy Hanus, 1337 N. Race, last Saturday night. Among the 20 people attending the party were Ed and Carole Hicks and Les and Charlene Bang.

Attending a wedding in Des Plaines Saturday were Bill and Ginny Karavatos, 1240 N. Yale. The groom was Bill's brother, Steve. Bill was best man at the ceremony held at St. John's Greek Orthodox Church. The Karavatoses attended the reception for the newly married couple in Chicago.

PAUL KREWER, 1256 N. Illinois, attended the 21st annual banquet of the Pitch and Hit Club of Chicago Feb. 9. He was accompanied by his brothers-in-law, Arne and Earle Carlson of Skokie. The affair was held in the grand ballroom of the Sherman House. One of the guests of honor was Leo Durocher. Paul also saw Gabby Hartnett, a long-time acquaintance of his.

Returning home Feb. 7 after spending five days in Michigan with her mother was Joan Blackburn, 1326 N. Race. Joan helped her mother, Mrs. Eleanore Krafft, move from Lansing to Jackson. Joan didn't escape our latest snow storm as she reported that Michigan had similar weather.

Combining a weekend outing with participation in a dog show in Muncie, Ind., on Feb. 4 and 5 were Bill and Freya Jones, 1227 N. Illinois. Mara and Matthew Jones accompanied their parents. They stayed at the Holiday Inn in Muncie and Sunday showed their Afghan hound at the Muncie Kennel Club show. They enjoyed meeting friends at the show and had dinner out with them.

This week Bill Jones is enjoying a vacation won through his sales efforts at his shoe store in Oak Park. Bill won the Chicago area contest for selling accessories during the Christmas season. He will be at a Randhurst store after his vacation.

THE WERNER Beckers' son and daughter-in-law, the Ron Beckers of Joliet, came to Arlington last Thursday with their children, Ronnie and Kathy. Marlene Becker Malone and daughter, Debbie, of Mount Prospect joined the group at 1440 N. Race, and the families celebrated Kathy Becker's first birthday.

Barbara Smith, daughter of the Dave Smiths, 1259 N. Chicago, was 10 Feb. 2. She celebrated with a party Saturday. Partygoers were Linda and Donna Kenney, Cathy Galloway, Kathy Wilkins, Sue Smith, and Barbara's sister, "Dede." The young ladies enjoyed eating out at Scott's Restaurant.

Bonnie Misch, 1329 N. Wilke, was honored at a baby shower given Feb. 5 by four members of Bill's family. Co-hostesses were Bonnie's mother-in-law, Mrs. Vernon Misch, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Clayton Bebber, aunt, Mrs. Violet Cahill, and cousin, Mrs. James Cahill. About 15 gathered on the snowy Sunday in the home of the James Cahills in Rolling Meadows. Bonnie received many nice gifts for her twin sons, born Jan. 17.

Thomas Misch was brought home from Holy Family Hospital last Friday. Brother, Timothy, remained behind for awhile longer. The babies were born prematurely.

PAUL AND JAN Krewer, 1256 N. Illinois, enjoyed a belated celebration of their wedding anniversary when they went out Saturday night with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Scheuers. The two couples went to the Morton House in Morton Grove for dinner. Paul and Ron served as best man at each other's weddings.

Larry and Jane Lincoln, 1322 N. Illinois, enjoyed an evening out Saturday. With two of Jane's sisters and their husbands, they went to Willow Brook, where they had dinner and went dancing.

Sunday Bill and Kay Platte and sons, Paul and Jimmy, 1318 N. Race, attended the Sports Show in the Chicago Amphitheatre.

A belated birthday celebration was given for Nancy Pollard, 1400 N. Yale, Saturday night when three couples had dinner at Chateau Louise in Dundee. Jerry and Nancy were joined by Jerry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pollard, and friends, the Bill Davidsons.

Sunday Bernard and Dorothy Roser and children, Denise and Craig, 1447 N. Race, visited Dorothy's brother and family, the Roger Colliers, in Calumet City. They stayed for dinner and ended up driving home in our latest snow. Bernard is helping his brother-in-law ready his new home for occupancy in the near future.

ON FEB. 5, Eugene and Mary Ellen Van de Merkt and sons, John and Larry, 1231 N. Wilke, drove to Evanston for a bon voyage party for Mary Ellen's parents, the A. C. Pattersons. On Monday, the Pattersons flew to New York for a two-week stay.

Saturday night, John and Joan Klussmann, 1301 N. Chicago, visited friends, the Stan Wilsons, in Palatine.

Attending the baptism of their niece Sunday were Ron and Mary Ann Landry, 1418 N. Race. The Landry children, Michelle, Timothy, Jeannine, and Terese, also went to Des Plaines for the christening of Sheila Koch. The family attended a baptismal party at the Richard Kochs' after the ceremonies. Mary Ann baked and decorated cake for the party.

A joint birthday party was given Saturday for Bill and June Ziegler, children of the Bill Zieglers, 1243 N. Chicago. Bill was 10 on Jan. 26; June was 9 on Feb. 6. Partygoers included Pam Cooley, "Dede" Smith, Karen Peterson, Kevin Kroll, Robert Barna, plus the brothers and sister of the celebrants, Frank, John, Donald, and Jane. A Valentine theme was used for the party. The guests played Bingo and enjoyed refreshments. (A

A Helping Hand

One out of every 12 American households employed some type of domestic help at least once every two weeks in 1965.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Dennis Curtin, 420 S. Forrest, buried his shovel in a snowdrift and took off with his close friend, Jim Laug of Milwaukee, for New Orleans in Mardi Gras time. It became a matter of exchanging snow for rain, but the boys enjoyed a few days of fair weather in between. Parades went on as planned and the carnival atmosphere survived the downpours. Dennis and Jim left New Orleans a week ago Tuesday and stopped in Nashville to see an uncle who persuaded them to stay overnight before continuing home.

Another area resident fed up with the snow and doing something about it is Catherine O'Donnell, 405 S. Gibbons, who with her friend, Helen Cashion, boarded a plane for parts west a week ago Saturday. First stop was San Francisco, where they did the usual tourist bit of Chinatown and Fisherman's Wharf with a side trip to Sausalito. Sunday sightseeing started with mass at Old St. Mary's. On Monday the travelers left for Los Angeles and headquarters in the Hollywood Roosevelt across from Graumann's Chinese Theatre. Sightseeing here took them to Disneyland, on a tour of Universal City, a motor trip to San Diego and on Wednesday they drove to Tijuana and were at the Cathedral of Tijuana for the distribution of ashes.

The last stop on the trip was Las Vegas, where the night life was enhanced by taking in the Folies Bergere and the Tony Martin and Louis Armstrong shows.

A HOUSEGUEST of the Robert Smiths, 517 S. Prindle, for a week was Mrs. James Ross of Cass Lake, Mich. Mrs. Ross, a close friend, returned home last Monday.

Valentine's Day is looked forward to in the Ken Knutsen home, 432 S. Prindle, because it is also their wedding anniversary. Their daughters, Margi, Kristi, Kari and Konni have been saving allowances and baby sitting money all year and last Tuesday evening carried out their plans to take their parents out to dinner in honor of the event.

Congratulations and best wishes also went to Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Wilkes, 536 S. Phelps, married 3 years Feb. 8, and to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barlow, 424 S. Phelps, 24 years Feb. 11.

Becki Ann Shure's fourth birthday Feb. 12 was cause for two parties. The first, held Friday, was for neighborhood playmates and was a cake and ice cream affair with party games. Guests were Deryn Robinson, Carol Waxlax, Gayle Wolkey and Patty Thorstad.

BRINGING greetings to the second party Sunday were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shure of Broadview and Mr. and Mrs. Sulo Hokkanen of Wildwood.

Becki is the daughter of the John Shures, 413 S. Prindle.

Nine-year-old Julie Dombrow, 428 S. Prindle, was feted by her parents, the Bud Dombrows, and her brother, Mike, at a birthday dinner Feb. 8 at home.

The following Friday Julie's long-time plans for a slumber party were carried out and bed roll and blanket-laden friends, Alison Hagerup, Ellen Rose, Lynne Price and Cathy Hanson arrived before the dinner hour, prepared to stay awake all night, if possible, doing all the things dear to the hearts of slumber party devotees. A few hours of sleep eventually overtook the girls and they woke up Saturday morning with appetites to do justice to the lavish breakfast served as a finale to a unanimously acclaimed successful party.

Best wishes on their Feb. 10 birthday went to Diane and Denise Roy, 15-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Roy, 425 S. Prindle. Denise invited a friend to spend the night with her, but otherwise the celebration was quiet and confined to the immediate family.

Happy birthday wishes were also extended to Mrs. Fran Conway, 513 S. Prindle, on Feb. 9. (A Sure, it takes a bit of money to buy your favorite Paddock newspaper each week, though we hate to see you make Junior pay for it.

Many types of media are flooding the northwest suburbs at present, most of them free of charge.

You have to pay for ours, because we believe in the old adage, you get only what you pay for. Both advertisers and subscribers know Paddock Publications is a paid circulation newspaper, and that they like the paper because it IS worth money.

So, if you like the free ones, help yourself.

But if you appreciate the value of the complete, full coverage newspaper, where the emphasis is on professionally trained editors and advertising representatives, break that piggy bank if necessary.

After all, it's only money.

Annual Auto Show Has 65 New Cars

by MAGGIE IRWIN

Have you time on your hands . . . tired of television . . . want to get out of the house and feel you have no place to go? Come on now, come to Randhurst and see what's goint on!

Randhurst's automobile show is outstanding, the biggest and best we have ever presented, over 65 beautiful, new, shiny cars. You won't even think of the weather once you're inside Randhurst. One thing it will do, it will start you thinking of lovely spring and warm summer days when you and your family can get into that beautiful new car and take a trip to the country or lakes.

Buick, Cadillac, Chrysler, Dodge, Ford, Plymouth, Lincoln, Mercury, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Chevrolet, Rambler, take your choice, representatives are on the mall to answer any questions you may have.

IF YOU are "Avant garde" and go in for the unusual, don't fail to see the creations of Tom Strobel noted Chicago artist.

Mel Wolff, the Chrysler-Plymouth dealer conceived the idea and commissioned Strobel to create new designs that would cover the outer surface of the cars. These works of art are hand-painted and are designed to reflect the owner's personality and needs. For further information stop by the Chrysler-Plymouth dealership; they will be pleased to assist you.

After you have picked out your car, we invite you to visit the Town Hall level where many interesting shops as well as Randhurst's Town Hall is located. Our Town Hall is a large auditorium where many social and business activities take place. A group of people gather to play bridge three times a week, one Sunday a month there is a Coin Show. Civil Defense courses, Organ recitals, Britannica reading sessions, wedding receptions, stock investment courses also are given there. Proof positive that there is always something going on at Randhurst.

THE AUTO show will be here up through Sunday; 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday; 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Where else can you see so many cars at one time in such pleasant surroundings? Plan to attend.

You should have by now received your Randhurst Shopper. Feb. 16, 17, and 18, are extra value dollar days at Randhurst. Your Randhurst Shopper will visually show you the many, many values that can be had at Randhurst. Circle those items of interest to you, forget the housework, come early to Randhurst, and enjoy yourself.

Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove

Camp Fire girls from Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove are holding their annual father-daughter dinners this week and next at the Old Orchard Country Club. This week's dinners started Tuesday with a second dinner tonight at 6:30. Dinners are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Feb. 22 and 23 also.

The Bo-Wi-Cans South Junior High Camp Fire group under the leadership of Mrs. Lorena Conway and Mrs. Virginia Martin are working on their Fire Makers luncheons and dinners. The girls will plan the menus, do the shopping, serve the meal, and clean up afterwards. The dinners are one of the highlights of the Fire Makers rank requirements.

Mount Prospect

Mount Prospect Camp Fire leaders got helpful first aid hints last week from fireman Harold Barra of the Mount Prospect Fire Department.

Barra showed the women the proper positioning of the head and jaw for mouth to mouth resuscitation. To do this he used a visual aid "Mr. Air-Way."

Then, with the use of an inflatable rubber and plastic mannequin, "Resusci-Anne," he showed the leaders a method which has been found to start a person breathing again quickly. Barra also answered the women's questions on the treatment of burns and cuts.

Most Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups are preparing entertainment for the birthday dinners they will give for their parents in March.

Mrs. Donald Dalton's Trail Seeker group recently learned Camp Fire and folk songs from two junior high girls from Mrs. William Machela's group. Barbara Deisenroth and Jane Johnson led the girls in songs like "I Like the Mountains," "Merry-Go-Round," "Camp Fire Girl," and "The Cuckoo Song." This group has been invited to join Mrs. James Nebel's group in a Ceremonial.

The girls from Mrs. Charles Walmsley's Wood Gatherer group learned the proper handling of the American flag from Eagle Scout Gregory Glade, brother of one of the Wood Gatherers. Gregory explained the meaning of the stars and stripes, how to present the colors and the proper way to fold the flag. He watched as each girl went through the folding procedure. These girls will soon have a visitor who took a trip to the Orient last summer show them slides of China and Japan. They may follow this up with an authentic Chinese meal.

Among other things the Junior High Cabinet will discuss at its Feb. 18 meeting at Mount Prospect Country Club will be the United Christian Fund "Sponsor-A-Child-Plan." This is one of the Cabinet's continuing projects and through it, the girls send a certain amount of money monthly to pay for the care of a less fortunate child in a foreign country.

Horizon Club members will have a boy-girl party at Mount Prospect Country Club on Feb. 25 from 7:30-11 p.m. There will be a treasure hunt, dancing and refreshments.

Rolling Meadows

The E-Ha-Wee-Ki-Ya Camp Fire group of Rolling Meadows earned their Outdoor Honors by sculpting an alligator from snow. The girls are working on puppets and hope to present a show in the near future. (A15

A Complete Guide to the finest selection of New and Used Car Values in the great Northwest Suburban Area

PRESENTING THE 1967

Cadillac Eldorado

Highlighting the Cadillac line-up of 1967 models is all new styling, unexcelled safety, comfort and convenience features and a completely new luxury personal car — the front-wheel-drive Fleetwood Eldorado.

The new Eldorado is distinguished as the only car in the world offering the mutually complementary features of front-wheel-drive, variable ratio steering and automatic level control as standard equipment. This model is being built on its own special assembly line at Cadillac's Detroit plant.

While the dimensions are unchanged, the new silhouette gives the car a longer appearance. A powerful horizontal design sweeps the entire length of the car . . . emphasizing length and a sculptured look. A distinctive new roof structure is exclusive to the two and four-door hardtop models. The more formal style of the coupe upper structures was influenced by Cadillac's Florentine show car at the World's Fair in New York.

Highlighting the rear view is a completely new bumper and taillight configuration. All lighting functions are housed in the vertical bumper outers which provide positive nighttime Cadillac identification.

Crisp, tailored lines dominate the styling theme of Cadillac's five-passenger Eldorado. The design is fresh, individual, yet unmistakably Cadillac inspired.

A long hood, distinctive roof, and short rear deck set the character for Cadillac's new luxury personal car. Its appearance is dignified, but youthful, with a roof design reminiscent of a formal opera coupe and full-wheel openings that give a sporty flair.

'Main Street' Show Features Variety

The Patch and Scar variety show of Palatine High School will present "Main Street," Feb. 24 and 25 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 26 at 2 p.m.

The show has been grouped into three acts. The first act is titled "Lower Main Street," Act II is "Downtown," and Act III is "Upper Main Street."

Each of the three acts will have its own set. The sets are abstractly designed to suggest the over-all idea of the acts. Minor additions will be added to fit the sets to individual numbers.

Bob Carter will be the narrator-policeman who connects and introduces the numbers. Wandering on and off the stage will be Tom Tobin, who plays the town drunk. Pop, folk, classical and jazz music will be sung, played and danced to in the show.

LOUISE SUTTON will sing her interpretation of "Free Again," a Barbra Streisand hit. A combo of Dan Mainwaring, Pete Berne, and Rob Johnson will play.

Free-lance singing groups act out excerpts from Broadway hits; they sing "Officer Krupke," from West Side Story and "The Telephone Hour" from Bye Bye Birdie. Larry MacDonald will sing "Hurry Down, Sundown."

Larry and Barb Lethem, Bruce Wackelin and Marybeth Lindblom perform in duets. Gary Hubbard will perform a magic act.

The production also includes an all-girl barbershop quartet and a Chopin piano solo. Madrigals will sing "Peter Gunn" and a medley of tunes from a popular musical. An Orchesis highlight will close Act II. It is a modern dance choreographed to the tune of "Downtown."

CATHY WHITE, Madeline DeViney, Diane Culpepper, Janice Van Boxtaele and Deborah Lemke aid chairmen Bruce Wackelin and Pam Conklin on the sets committee. Gale McDonald, art teacher, is adviser on the artistic aspects of the production.

Posters are being duplicated using the silk screen method. Carol Moncek and Cathy White are collaborating on the program cover.

Lawrence Peterson is supervising the script writers, Candy Johnson, John Varde, Nadine Penkava, and Charlotte Wilson. Laura Goebel is head of the make-up committee, John Varde is in charge of lights and sound, and Laura Mundsinger is rounding up props.

Other crew members are Cheryl Yerger, Joyce Maycan, Barb Dixon, Mary Salzer, Dan Sutton, Anne Berne, Ed Starkeson, Bill Kimble, Judy Henning and Lyn Cromwell. (16Y

70 Schools May Take Part In Sectional Speech Contest

Forest View High School will host the Northeast Illinois Sectional Speech Contest Feb. 25.

Competing in ten individual speech areas will be students from a possible 70 high schools who earned first, second and third place ratings Saturday in district contests at Carpentersville, DeKalb, West Leyden, and Waukegan.

The top two winners in each category in the sectional contests will participate in the State Speech Contest March 31 and April 1 at Illinois State University, Normal, according to Mrs. Margaret Cadle, Forest View speech coach and sectional contest manager.

At the Waukegan District Speech Contest Saturday, Forest View's contest play "Antigone" won a first place trophy in the drama division and will compete in the sectional contest March 4 at Wheeling High School.

"ANTIGONE" is a story of ancient Greece which involves the burial of two brothers who are killed in a civil war. Antigone, their sister, defies the edict that Creon, the king, has ordained for the burial. Senior Rick Stines plays the role of Creon, while senior Dolores Longo plays Antigone. Creon and Antigone hold different views on the burial of her brothers.

Other cast members include senior Paulette Felice as Ismene, senior Bob Klopp as the Guard, sophomore Mike Knapp as the Messenger and senior Bob Farber as the Chorus. Director is Harold Petersen with Robert Stelk as technical director and Charles Wilde, lighting and Charles Adams are sponsors of individual speech contestants at Forest View.

DIRECTOR HAROLD PETERSEN'S Forest View High School contest play cast of "Antigone" rehearse a scene from the play in preparation for the sectional drama contest March 4 at Wheeling High School. The play won a first place trophy in the drama division Saturday at the Waukegan district speech contest. Students pictured are (l. to r.) Mike Knapp (Messenger), Paulette Felice (Ismene), Rick Stines (Creon), Dolores Longo (Antigone) and Bob Farber (Chorus). (16Y

Also, Forest View will have two individual events contestants in the sectional contest Feb. 25: senior Bob Farber of Des Plaines, comedy play reading; and senior Cheryl Nelson, also of Des Plaines, after-dinner speaking.

Since both of these contestants placed in the top three of their respective divisions, they are eligible for the coming sectional contest.

SENIOR LARRY Green, 200 Walnut Lane, Elk Grove Village, placed fifth in radio speaking in the district contest Saturday.

Other Forest View individual events contestants were senior Dolores Longo, serious play reading; senior Terrie Hysell, verse reading; senior Adrienne Hamparian, prose reading; junior Jim Gagnon, oratorical declamation; sophomore Pat Flanigan, original oration; senior Richard Blane, extemporaneous speaking, and junior Charles Heath, original monologue.

Mrs. Cadle and Mrs. Sherry Adams are sponsors of individual speech contestants at Forest View.

Seventeen high schools participated in the Waukegan district contest Saturday. They are Forest View, Antioch, Arlington, St. Viator, Deerfield, Elk Grove, Glenbrook North, Glenbrook South, Gurnee, Highland Park, Lake Forest, Prospect, North Chicago, New Trier West, New Trier East, Waukegan and Wheeling.

The sectional debate contest will be March 4 at Prospect High School. (16Y

Sue Chodera Named DAR Award Winner

by PEGGY KERR

Sue Chodera, Arlington High School senior, added another accomplishment to her list of high school activities by being awarded the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) award.

Nominated by senior homerooms, Sue was later chosen the winner by school faculty. She was chosen on the basis of merit, service, dependability and patriotism.

Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Chodera, 1216 Marion Road, Arlington Heights, has played an active role in student government. A member of Student Council for two years, she now serves as recording secretary.

"Student Council is usually thought of as a service organization, but that's not its only function," Sue said. "It teaches and develops leadership in its members."

SUE HAS ALSO been a class board member for two years. "Class board also develops leadership. Through it one gets to know his classmates by working together."

"I think the activity I've enjoyed most is cheerleading. For some reason, everybody likes to talk to a cheerleader!" Sue added. "I've met so many different kinds of people as a result of cheerleading." She has been a cheerleader for four years.

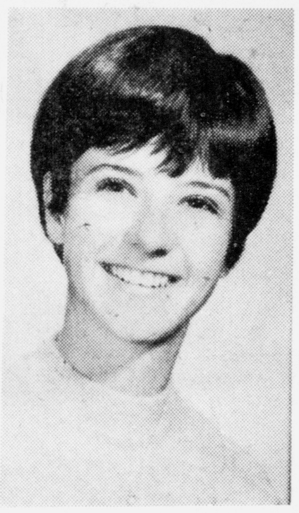
Besides her activities, Sue is going to receive a seven-semester honor pin this spring. "Extra - curricular activities must be put into perspective with academics," Sue said.

"It is important for everyone to feel involved, to be a part of the high school," she continued. "With my activities I've not only been given responsibility, but I've also felt a great deal of satisfaction in what I'm doing."

WHAT DOES Sue consider the most important year in high school? "I think freshman year is most important because in that year one has to adjust to the new routine and new things that are expected of him."

And what does she consider the highlight of her high school years? "Oh, Homecoming!" smiled the petite and pretty AHS Homecoming Queen of 1966.

Her plans for the future are attending the University of Illinois and entering some field of medicine.



SUE CHODERA

"Everybody tries to tell me that I won't make it because I'm a girl, but that only makes me want to do it more. There are so many opportunities waiting in the field of medicine, and I think women are just as capable as men in taking advantage of them." (16Y

College Nights Slated

Feb. 21 and March 6 are big nights for college-bound juniors and undecided seniors at Forest View High School.

On Feb. 21, Mrs. Virginia Kercheval, college counselor, will sponsor a college night for the parents of college-bound juniors. It will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the school.

AT THAT TIME, Mrs. Kercheval will tell about financing various colleges and admission will be a question-and-answer period.

On March 6 at Elk Grove High School, all parents and junior students of both Elk Grove and Forest View high schools are invited to attend a college night for juniors and undecided seniors and their parents.

About 300 college representatives will be present at this time to talk with students and parents. (16Y

'Discover,' 'Share' Program's Key Words

by KATHY SIMONS

This semester at Sacred Heart of Mary High School a new approach to social studies is being attempted.

Thirty-four juniors and seniors are participating in a humanities seminar organized by Sister Lalemant, RSHM, of the history department faculty.

"To understand contemporary society" and to discover "why it is and what it is" are the topics.

The key words in the program are "discover," and "share." Each student is required to read several books, essays, and articles on the topic being discussed and then present her ideas to the rest of her seminar group.

Practically every aspect of the American society will be reviewed: poverty and minority group problems, the war in Viet Nam, the changes in America since 1900 and future society.

A few of the books to be read are The Status Seekers, by Vance Packard; The Other America, by Harrington; The Aspirin Age, by Leighton; The Secular City, by Cox, and Building the Earth by De Chardin.

Since this is an elective course, those involved are truly interested in "discovering" new insights into our society, and "sharing" her insights with others. (16Y

All in Fun For Frosh Of EGHS

by SHIRLEY SERINI

What is a fun night? It's a time to have fun and enjoy yourself in a casual atmosphere with your friends.

The Elk Grove High School freshman class recently held the school's first fun night, resulting in a tremendous success and a night to be remembered.

A variety of activities combined to make the evening a success. Beginning at 7 p.m., and lasting for four hours, a program of "free-for-all" basketball, volleyball and pingpong was offered to all those not wishing to join those dancing to the music of the Druids.

Highlighting the evening was an auction. Articles to be auctioned off were volunteered by the EGHS faculty and students.

FRESHMAN SUE Swanson paid $7 for the privilege of hitting her class president, Lane Johnson, in the face with a pie. Another brave soul paid $1.04 for a Charleston lesson with English department head Richard Calisch.

Student activities director Charles Aldrich, volunteered his service to carry lunch trays for one week. One student paid $5.50 to have his picture on the front page of The Guardian, the EGHS school newspaper. (16Y

Surprises Abound For Peruvian Girl

Americans take many things for granted. Everyday little things come our way and we accept them as fact of the matter. But to a foreigner, the case isn't always the same.

Rosa Sanchez of Lima, Peru, an exchange student at Conant High School, has been startled more than once at new concepts of ordinary America.

On her first trip to Chicago, Rosa sat silently and stared at the elevated trains making their runs over the Loop. "In Peru," she said, "the trains are on the ground!" After the shock, Rosa settled back to witness some of the sights of the Windy City. But sights she didn't notice. "Why do you stop the car when no one else is around!" she asked, as her driver pulled to a halt at a stop sign. "In Peru, if a car is not near, we don't stop."

OTHER SURPRISES have included soft drink machines which present the product in paper cups, and push button phones. Of the latter, Rosa explained, "I like! When you call, you play a song! But why so many numbers to call just one person?"

The roles of the sexes also brought comment from Rosa. "The girls here talk very much. They talk loud - and the boys are quiet. Not in my country. The boys make jokes and the girls are quiet."

Attend Workshop

Five faculty members from Sacred Heart of Mary High School attended a Workshop for Secondary Teachers of the Archdiocese in Human Relations Education at Fenwick High School in Oak Park Saturday.

The workshop, sponsored in cooperation with the National Conference for Interracial Justice, was set up by Archbishop John P. Cody of Chicago for better interracial understanding.

Several of the speakers were Sister Maura Coughlan, CSJ, associate director of educational services, NCCIJ, on Vatican II Perspectives; Sister Mary Audrey Kopp, SNJM, chairman, sociology department, Maryhurst, Oregon; Sister Mary Peter Traxler, SSND, director of educational services, NCCIJ, on Minority Group Participation in the American Heritage; and Michael Lawson, assistant executive director, Chicago Interracial Council on A Negro Views Society Today.

The welcome address was given by Eugene Mainelli, O.P., and the closing by Patrick C. Rooney, O. P., human relation coordinator for Fenwick High School.

Those attending from SHM were Sr. Bernadine, Sr. Gabrielle, Sr. Geraldine, Sr. Patricia Anne and Sr. Bernice, RSHM. (16Y

Forest View To Present 'Mr. Roberts'

"Mr. Roberts," written by Thomas Heggen and Henry Garson, will be the second winter play presented by Forest View High School's drama department.

It will be presented March 9, 10, and 11 at 8 p.m. in the school theater.

Mike Bodozian of Elk Grove Village is cast as Mr. Roberts; Bob Farber of Des Plaines as Doc; Dave Cook of Elk Grove Village as the Captain, and Bart Tarman of Mount Prospect as Ensign Pulver.

Other roles are played by Chuck Heath, Steve Schumacher, Bob Klopp, Tom Longo, Steve Golden, Jim Dale, Keith Brown and Frank Lowe.

ALSO IN THE CAST are Bruce Lee, Rick Gary, Larry Green, Joe Parsetich, Stan Rohner, George Mells, Pat Corrado, Mike Knapp, Jim Wantland, Bill Benson, Bob Dorosh, Tom Cappelon, Tom Byrd and Rich Blane.

Kathy Washburn and Cindy Bertrand were chosen to act as the nurse. They will perform on different nights.

In the action of the play, a group of American sailors are aboard a Navy cargo vessel. The play shows their problems and their suffering, both of which are a routine part of war.

Tickets are $1 per person. Director is Harold Petersen. (16Y

SUNDAY'S SERMON

PRAY FOR PEACE

On November 11, 1918, an Armistice was signed, putting an end to the First World War — the war to end wars. Three years later, America paid tribute to the thousands who fought and died in this conflict when the "Unknown Soldier" was buried in Arlington Cemetery.

There has been no end to war. The United States has called upon citizen-soldiers for service in World War II, Korea, and in Vietnam.

The observance of Armistice Day, or Veterans Day, on November 11, will be a day filled with memories for Americans of all races and creeds . . . men who served their country in Africa, Italy, France, on Pacific Islands, in Korea, and in Vietnam.

America owes these men a great debt of thanks. To those who now serve, the gift of a prayer for peace is a small but highly appropriate moment of recognition.

FOREST VIEW GIRLS Drill Team's newly appointed commanders, Linda Hart and Lynn Cwynar, practice a maneuver in preparation for their debut at the Feb. 18 basketball game with Arlington High School. (16Y

Exchange Student

Cathy's Adventure: Toboggan Accident

A fractured left leg and a six-week stay at Northwest Community Hospital were the results of a tobogganing party Jan. 30 for Cathy Kaloudi, Arlington High School's foreign exchange student.

Now, after a few days in the hospital, Cathy can give a riotous account of the experience with traces of a smile.

Cathy explains that she went tobogganing that afternoon at Deer Grove with several of her friends. They went down the hill 15 to 20 times. They were about to leave when they decided to go once more.

"This time," Cathy explains, "I insisted on being in front on the toboggan. Everyone had been in front except me. The kids seemed to think they had to protect me from the cold since I am the exchange student. I decided that that was unfair."

CATHY WENT on to relate how everyone was congratulating her on her straight steering just before they hit the fatal bump.

"Everyone landed on top of me," she sighs. "Then they all rolled in the snow laughing. I knew my leg was broken so I said, 'Hey, wait a minute, everybody.' My friends thought I was joking. I'm afraid I gave them quite a scare."

In spite of the accident Cathy firmly states that she is still glad she went tobogganing because she had so much fun.

Cathy is in Room 405 at the hospital. Her room overflows with books, flowers, candy, and stuffed animals. The phone is ringing constantly. She says she is very grateful for the kindness and generosity of the people at Arlington. "I don't know how I'm ever going to thank everyone." (16Y

Five High School Students Named Home Ec Semifinalists

Five area high school students and two area junior high school students were named semifinalists last week in the regional contest of the Penny Flame Home Economics Awards Program sponsored by the Northern Illinois Gas Company.

These girls will receive Penny Flame achievement certificates, sterling silver charm bracelets and a blue ribbon.

The five contestants on the senior level are as follows:

Diana Kay Barbey, 14, freshman at Forest View High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barbey, 204 W. Orchard Place, Mount Prospect. Her teacher is Mrs. Aili J. Combs.

Janet Marie Brereton, 15, sophomore at Prospect High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Brereton, 217 Fairview, Mount Prospect. Her teacher is Mrs. Marilyn Breiding.

Barbara Ann Broscovak, 17, senior at Arlington High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Broscovak, 1440 N. Hickory Avenue, Arlington Heights. Her teacher is Mrs. Barbara Ingram Baker.

Patricia Ann Dunn, 15, sophomore at Palatine High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dunn, 1335 Dorothy Drive, Palatine. Her teacher is Mrs. Elvine Thompson.

Vicki Lois Neveu, 16, junior at William Fremd High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Neveu, 220 W. Slade Street, Palatine. Her teacher is Mrs. Karen L. Crook.

The two contestants on the junior level are as follows:

Sue Joy Dean, 13, eighth grade student at Grove Junior High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duance F. Dean, 213 Wildwood Road, Elk Grove Village. Her teacher is Mrs. Shirley N. Grasche.

Barbara Ann Krysh, 14, eighth grade student at South Junior High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Krysh, 422 W. Sigwalt, Arlington Heights. Her tacher is Miss Barbara D. Givens.

Each contestant entered in the program is sponsored by her school home economics teacher. They were selected on the basis of home economics proficiency and academic accomplishment, as well as a food preparation project—baking a two-crust pie.

In addition, all contestants were required to write an essay and take a 20-minute "Home Economics Quiz" to test their knowledge of general home economics principles.

For the past nine years, NI Gas has been sponsoring this home economics awards program to give recognition to outstanding high school students and to encourage more young women and men to major in this field.

This program is conducted under the supervision of the Illinois High School Association and the Illinois Elementary School Association. (16Y

Wheeling Orientation Set Tonight

Wheeling High School's annual orientation meeting for eighth grade students will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday in the gymnasium. A similar meeting was held Tuesday.

Students from the following schools took part in the Tuesday orientation: Jack London, St. Joseph the Worker, and Oliver Wendell Holmes, all of Wheeling; St. Paul Lutheran, Mount Prospect, and St. Mary Catholic, Buffalo Grove.

Tonight's orientation will include eighth grade students from Douglas MacArthur and St. Alphonsus Catholic of Prospect Heights; St. Emily Catholic and River Trails, Mount Prospect; Thomas and St. Peter Lutheran of Arlington Heights, and St. John Catholic of Northbrook.

Registration materials have been sent to the schools and students are encouraged to acquaint themselves with the Wheeling High School curriculum.

"The future Class of '71 and parents were encouraged to attend these very important meetings," said Roland R. Goins, assistant principal in charge of instructional services.

Approximately 950 freshmen are expected to attend WHS

Sacred Heart Students To Study in Europe

Sister Marie Teresita Fay, English and literature teacher at Rolling Meadows' Sacred Heart of Mary School, will accompany a group of eight students from Sacred Heart and act as their chaperon-counselor while they spend six weeks this summer studying history in France and England.

The students will be among 5,000 American high school students from throughout the United States who will study on 31 different European campuses as part of the Foreign Language League Schools, a nonprofit, non-denominational, international high school system.

THE STUDENTS going to Europe from this area include Beverly Balkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Regis A. Balkey; Debbie Berdelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Berdelle; Christie L. Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Dawson; Rosemary Dowd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Dowd; Elizabeth Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Griffin; Judith Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Paul Hughes; Kathryn Pepio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pepio and Debora Threedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Threedy.

The group will leave New York City on July 12 and will fly by jet directly to the host country.

Sister Fay said she is still accepting additional applications from other students wishing to make this trip.

While the American students are on the European campuses, they spend about three to four hours a day in classroom work. The remainder of the day and evening is spent in varied programs, including lectures, hikes, films, visits in local homes, and generally becoming acquainted with the customs and people of the host country. On weekends programs of guided tours to nearby cities and countries are included in the plans. (16Y

Conant Band Concert Set For Feb. 19

Sunday, Feb. 19 is the date for Conant High School's annual winter band concert. The cadet, concert and stage bands will perform in the Conant gym at 2 p.m.

The cadet band, which numbers 44, will play "The Shepherd King" by Mozart, "Bequine for Young Moderns" by Chechtam, "Ballet Pariseen" by Offenback and two numbers by Leo Delibes.

The 61-member concert band will perform works by Ward, Jacob, Schuman and Holst. The selections will include "Jubilation," "William Byrd Suite," "Chester," and "Moorside Marca."

The Conant stage band, which has 18 members selected from the concert band for their talents, will perform three selections: "D Jango" by Lewis, "Play it Cool" by Dick Lieb, and "Theme Variations" by Bill Holman.

The concert festival is open to members of the community. It had originally been planned for Feb. 5 but the weather forced the date to be changed.

Snowed-Out Mass Reset For Sunday

It is a determined group of teens who, even though snowed out Jan. 29, will present the special Teen Mass this Sunday at Elk Grove High School.

The Mass, aimed at the teen, encourages teen participation through the use of guitars and almost continuous folk songs, such as "Today" and "Blowin' in the Wind," during the service.

Although open to all, the Mass fulfills the obligation of Catholics.

Therese Harris, Chris Wubbleding and Shirley Serini, accompanied by Larry Diermer, Joe Bosslet and Fran Wargin on the guitars, will lead the congregation in song.

Immediately following the Mass, there will be a party for high school teens attending the service. "The Moment," formerly known as "The Chosen Few," will provide the entertainment.

The party will last until 10 p.m. and there is no charge.

Palatine Wins Speech Contest

by CHRISTI EBERT

"Winner, 1967" it said on the trophy. The first district speech contest is over, and Palatine High School has another plaque to display in its awards case.

The Drama Club took first prize in the competition at Crown High School in Carpentersville with their performance of a one-act play by Edna St. Vincent Millay entitled "Aria da Capo."

This play, along with other contestants placing first, second, or third, will compete in the sectional eliminations at Forest View High School Feb. 25.

Peggy Zajonc, a junior, won first place in the verse reading category; Ross Parker, senior, took second place in serious reading with excerpts from "Macbeth"; and Christi Ebert, sophomore, placed fourth in oratorical declamation.

OTHER STUDENTS who entered were June Harrison, senior, with an original monologue; Ed Starkeson, senior, with a comic reading of Falstaff from the play Henry IV, and Bob Carter, radio speaking.

Fremd students met their friends from Palatine at 8 a.m. Saturday for the bus ride to Crown High.

JoAnne Piro, junior, won third place in prose reading. Colleen McGrath, junior, entered serious reading, Jim Lawrence won fourth place in radio speaking, and Gail Wettstein entered humorous reading.

"Aria da Capo," the title of the winning play, means the drama begins as it ends, from a term used in music.

THE CURTAIN opens on two harlequins engaged in a ridiculous conversation. They are played by Jan Maycan and Doug Davidson. They are interrupted by the Mask of Tragedy, played by Peggy Zajonc.

The Mask claims the stage as her own and chases off the harlequins in order to present a play. Then, a play within a play begins with Ross Parker and Ed Starkeson acting as two shepherds who are bored with sheepherding and so invent a game.

Drawing a line between themselves, each agrees to remain on his side of the line. However, as each begins to need what is within the other's boundaries, the game becomes vicious, leading to death for both. The play ends with a repetition of the opening scene.

Entrants for the contest were coached by Earl Swenson and Richard Christensen. The play was guided by Swenson and Mrs. Adelheid Gieske.

The costumes were assembled and designed by Mary Salzer. John Varde was stage manager.

Mid-Winter Concert Set March 4

by BECKY ANDERSON

Prospect High School's instrumental music department will present its annual mid-winter concert on March 4 at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Featured on the concert will be the symphonic band, under the direction of Howard Sandlund. This is the group that will be playing at Expo 67, in Montreal, Canada next summer.

Their program will include the following selections: Overture to "Russlan and Ludmilla" by Glinka; Valdres March—A Norwegian March by Hanssen; Symphonic Suite by C. Williams; Themes from "Dr. Zhivago" by Jarre and Whitcomb, and George Washington Bi-Centennial by John Phillip Sousa.

ALSO FEATURED with the symphonic band will be senior Bill Doolan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Doolan, 521 Prospect Manor, Mount Prospect, who will play a french horn solo with band accompaniment. He will perform two movements of "Concerto No. 2," by Mozart.

The concert band will play the following selections under the direction of Gordon A. Palmer: "Overture for Winds" by Charles Carter, "Red's White and Blue March" by Red Skelton and "The Hebrides Suite" by Grundman.

Selections to be performed by the stage band, also under the direction of Palmer will be "Lullaby of Birdland" by George Shearing, "Lil' Darlin'" by Neal Hefti and "Take Five" by Dave Brubeck.

Making their first public performance at the concert will be the string orchestra, to be directed by Sandlund. They will play three selections.

Cost of admission has been set at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Tickets for the concert may be purchased from members of the instrumental music department or the box office the night of the program.

65 Submit Entries To Arts Contest

Sixty-five Arlington High School students have submitted entries to the 1967 Scholastic Art Awards regional exhibition contest at Wieboldt's store in Randhurst Shopping Center.

This year is the fortieth anniversary of the National Scholastic Art Awards program to encourage student participation and achievement in creative art.

The awards program is conducted by Scholastic Magazines, Inc., with the cooperation of public-spirited sponsors. The contest has grown to become an institution in the high school world.

REGIONAL exhibitions give students the opportunity for recognition. National honors include scholarships, gold medals, special cash awards, and the honor of displaying their works at the National High School Art Exhibition held in New York City.

Freshman students entered their works in Group I, which includes grades 7, 8, and 9. Grades 10, 11, and 12 are in Group II. The distribution of both regional and national honors in these two groups of entrants is approximately in proportion to the students' participation.

Gold achievement keys and certificates of merit are the awards in the sponsored regional exhibitions. Judges will select "Blue-ribbon" finalists from the key-winning art pieces. These "blue-ribbon" works will be forwarded to the national headquarters in New York to be judged for national awards.

IN THE National High School Art Exhibition, the awards are gold medals which are mounted on a plaque bearing the winner's name. Awards are given in each of the 18 classifications.

Hallmark Cards, Inc. will present a $100 award for the best painting or drawing from each region.

Arlington High School students have submitted pieces in 11 areas including ink drawing, pastels and crayons, printmaking, graphic design, sculpture and jewelry. (11Y

FOREST VIEW HIGH SCHOOL
Quill and Scroll

"We really admire you Americans. You follow all the rules. We in Argentina always want to, but we tnd up doing what we feel like doing."

These were sentiments of Forest View High School AFS student Elva Boglione in an informal talk to the school's chapter of Quill and Scroll journalistic honor society last week.

In her talk she dwelt upon social life in Argentina. The most humorous thing she mentioned was a four-day festival in the summer.

On the last day, the "Ugliest Boy" and "Ugliest Girl" are elected and usually someone gets thrown into the pool, Elva said.

Council Project

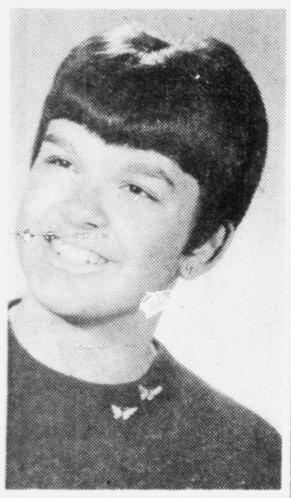
The valentine mailing service at Forest View last week was a project meant to be "something different and fun."

The valentines were sold by the Student Council at 3 cents apiece or two for 5 cents.

They will be distributed on Valentine's Day.

Two Finalists

Diane Spillios and Mark Thompson, both seniors at Forest View High School, are finalists in the William Fletcher



DIANE SPILLIOS

King Scholarship Competition at Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa.

They were invited to the Cornell campus Feb. 11 to take part in the final competition for awards.

During the day they had in-

MARK THOMPSON

terviews with members of the faculty, took a scholarship examination, took part in discussions, and met Cornell students who are honor scholars.

In addition to this schedule, Diane and Mark attended a basketball game Saturday night with Cornell playing against Grinnell College.

PROSPECT HIGH SCHOOL
Music Festival

More than half of the students in Prospect High School's vocal and instrumental music department have been chosen to perform in the District 214 Music Festival to be held at Elk Grove High School.

Representing the instrumental department will be 32 band students for the district-wide band, 14 orchestra members for the district orchestra, and five students for the district brass ensemble.

The vocal music department will send 100 members to the district-wide mixed chorus and 35 students to the district girls' chorus.

New Play Dates

New dates and times have been announced for Prospect High School's winter play "Romeo and Juliet."

The production will be presented in the Little Theatre on Feb. 24 at 4 p.m., Feb. 25 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for the Feb. 24 performance are available for 50 cents at the door.

Reserved seats for the other two nights are $1 and can be obtained at Prospect High School.

Fashion Show

Prospect's Future Homemakers of America will present a Fashion Show Feb. 20 in the theater during activity period. "Art In Fashion" is the name of the Simplicity Pattern Company's show.

Miss Donna Miller of Simplicity's educational staff will present this fashion exhibition. Prospect students will model the 20 ensembles designed for teenage tastes. These garments range from sportswear to evening apparel.

The purpose of the show is to inspire teens to create their own fashion compositions. The show will illustrate to every girl who sews how she can become a critic and pattern her own clothes.

ELK GROVE HIGH SCHOOL Council Workshop

A workshop for the Midwest Suburban Association for student councils was held Feb. 14 at Elk Grove High School.

A general session began at 8:30 a.m., at which time foreign exchange students from the various schools presented short talks.

Sixty of the approximately 200 representatives from 13 local high schools went on one of two field trips.

Thirty of these students spent the day visiting religious institutions in the Chicago area. The tour included the Mormon Stehle Church, the Baha'i Temple, a congregational, Catholic and Buddhist church.

The remaining students toured the Japanese and Chinese areas of Chicago.

Those remaining in Elk Grove listened to a talk by John Harwell of the executive board of the Chicago Urban League, who addressed the students on the racial program during lunch.

Winter Play

A genuine six-foot invisible rabbit will star in Elk Grove High School's winter play "Harvey," to be presented on Feb. 23, 24 and 25.

"Harvey," a Pulitzer prize winning drama by Mary Chase, concerns the adventures of Elwood P. Dowd and his invisible companion, an overgrown rabbit.

Scheduling

Last week the guidance department began the chore of preparing next year's schedules by holding conferences with the freshman, sophomore and junior classes during their P. E. periods in the little theater.

Graduation requirements and possible electives were discussed.

TPC Meeting

On Feb. 16, the Parent—Teacher Council of Elk Grove High School will present a program, "Meet Your Students" at 7:45 p.m.

The evening will include selections by the Elk Grove Band, a demonstration of the wrestling and gymastics programs, an Orchesis program and short excerpts of the winter play "Harvey."

The speech program will be discussed by speech director Tom Hermann.

Space Program

Thursday evening of last week, the Elk Grove High School JETS (Junior Electronic Technicians) sponsored a space program in the Little Theater.

The program, presented by the Air University Aerospace Presentations Team, emphasized the national space efforts through lecture, sound film clips and color slides.

The presentation covered such topics as the problems incurred by man and machine in aerospace operations, a review of selected space projects and systems and operations and current and future aerospace developments.

Computer Dance

How would you like a computer to pick out your ideal date? Elk Grove and Fremd High students will soon have their chance.

The two schools are combining for a computer dance to be held in the Elk Grove field house from 8 to 11 p.m. on March 10.

Entertainment will be provided by the "Huns." Another band will play during intermission.

The cost of the dance is $1 per person. Each student is assigned a computer number written on his answer card and on his ticket. The computer number is used in place of the student's name.

At the dance, the number is to be exchanged for a list of the computer numbers of the student's "ideal dates."

PALATINE HIGH SCHOOL
Council Activities

Monday, Palatine sent four Student Council executive board members to Niles East High School in exchange for four Niles East council members. Palatine sent Doug Spruance, first vice president; Jim Ebert, second vice president, Mark Powell, senior representative; and Cathy McCartney, sophomore representative.

The visitors from Niles East visited Palatine classes and council meeting.

Ten Palatine students attended a subdivision workshop at Elk Grove High School February 4. Beata Abbs attended the executive board meeting, Carolyn Pierce and Rita DeMarco went as discussion leaders, and Inge Bremer and Jorge Castano attended as foreign exchange students.

Bob and Doug were also at the meeting, and Art Zajonc, Jorge, and Larry Mueller went on an all-day religious tour, while Cathy and Diane DeWitt went on a similar Japanese-Chinese tour.

Foreign Exchange Visitors

Tommorow Palatine High School will be host to 16 foreign and eight American students from 15 area high schools. The committee for the welfare of foreign exchange students, headed by Rita DeMarco, is in charge of the program.

The schools involved are Conant, Deerfield, Glenbrook North and South, Sacred Heart, Barrington, Wheeling, Elk Grove, Forest View, Mount Prospect, Arlington, Maine West and South and Niles East and West.

The students will arrive between 8 and 8:30 a.m. They will be met by Palatine's three foreign students and 16 Palatine students, who will act as guides. Each of the exchange students will follow his guide's schedule for the day.

The visitors will be the guests of the Student Council for lunch. After school, they will go home with their guides for supper, and will then attend the basketball game between Palatine and Mount Prospect as guests of the athletic department. They will be guests of council at a coke dance.

Palatine guides working with Rita will be Karen Edwards, Beata Abbs, Carolyn Pierce, Val Naples, Larry McDonald, Karen Kreye, Barb Lethem, Art Zajonc, Doug Spruance, John Mocella, Anne Berne, Bob Hoffman, Anne Chalfant, Caryne Anderson, and Barb Arras.

Palatine's foreign guests are Inge Bremer from Germany, Jorge Castano from Chile, and Rodrigo Lara from Ecuador.

TV Winners

Palatine High School, with a team consisting of Ross Parker, John Jensen, and Bob Browning, won a landslide victory on "It's Academic" Jan. 22.

Palatine's opponents, Crown Senior of Carpentersville and Warren of Gurnee received 115 and 135 points respectively while Palatine received 390 points. The tape will be televised Mar. 25.

The team will face a more difficult challenge Feb. 25, when it meets Niles East and Rich East.

Team members have been studying individually. Ross Parker is especially good in English and literature. John Jensen is strong in sports, math, and world history. Bob Browning's strong points are world history as well as obscure facts.

Debaters Active

Palatine's debate club will attend the Niles North Debate tournament Saturday. Palatine will enter two teams in the varsity section: Carl Johnson and Sue Schrickel, and Al Walcher and Larry Mueller.

They will compete in four rounds of cross-examination debate. Both teams will debate both negative and affirmative, debating each for two rounds.

Natalie DeViney and Dave Kirz will enter the novice division. They will also debate both negative and affirmative.

In the Wheeling tournament Jan. 21, Palatine took five out of eight rounds. The affirmative team took two rounds and the negative won three.

English Programs

In order to alleviate the inevitable "February-March student slump," English students at Sacred Heart of Mary High School are planning to attend many of the plays and films being shown in Chicago and nearby universities.

Several of the programs are "Touch of the Poet," by Eugene O'Neill; the Broadway play, "Fiddler on the Roof" playing at the McVickers theater; "A Man for All Seasons," which depicts the life of Saint Thomas More, playing at the Esquire Theater; and Oscar Wilde's "Importance of Being Earnest" at Northwestern University.

School Photo Contest Entries Being Taken

A statewide search is under way for the top high school photographer in Illinois.

Details of 1967 High School Photo Contest were announced this week by the Illinois Press Photographers Association, sponsors of the annual competition.

In addition to honoring the high school photographer of the year, the IPPA will also make an award to the Illinois high school newspaper exhibiting the best use of photographic material and to the student entering the best print of the show.

A NEW CHAMPION photographer will be assured this year with the winner of the 1965 and 1966 crowns now in college. Bruce Ashley of Lyons Township High School, LaGrange, not only was named top all-around photographer both years, but he also won the Best Print of the Show award in 1966. Presently, Ashley is a student in the journalism department of Southern Illinois University.

The student named High School Photographer of the Year will receive a trophy, expenses to the IPPA photo short course, a year's honorary membership in IPPA, a subscription to the National Press Photographer magazine, and other prizes.

The winning newspaper will receive an engraved plaque, and the student submitting the best print of the show will receive a trophy. The awards will be presented at the IPPA photojournalism short course during late spring.

High school newspapers entering the contest must submit three separate and complete issues published between September 1966 and March 31, 1967.

High School Highlights

Judging will take into account the display and number of pictures, originality of picture ideas, and technical excellence.

The entries are to be mailed to Jan Wiseman, Glenbrook North High School, 2300 Shermer Road, Northbrook, Ill., by March 31.

Additional information may be obtained by writing to Wiseman. (15Y

WEEKEND FUN

Don't stay home and look bored this weekend; there are plenty of things to do, and the teen clubs in the area offer a wide variety of entertainers for your enjoyment.

At the Cellar, you can see The Huns on Friday and The Ravens will be back for Saturday night. Admission will be $1 both nights.

At the Hut on Friday you can see The Chosen Few and The Present Day; Saturday will feature The Woodsmen.

The Deep End club will present The Riddles on Friday and The Profets on Saturday. Sunday will bring three groups, The Laymen, The Coachmen, and The Ravens.

Friday at the New Place, you can see The Cryan Shames. The Malibus and The Conspirators will appear on Saturday and The Flock will be featured on Sunday.

The Pink Panther will present The Squires on Friday and The Del-Vetts with The Outspoken Blues on Saturday. The Pink Panther is not open on Sunday.

The Green Gorilla will feature Saturday's Children and The Mauds (that's a switch!) on Friday. The club will not be open Saturday or Sunday.

The line up for The Crimson Cougar this week is The Esquires on Friday, The Squires on Saturday and The Riddles on Sunday.

MAMAS AND PAPAS

The Mamas and Papas' second album is even better than their first. On the Dunhill label, it is well coordinated and has lots of "come-back-to-itiveness."

Like the first album, it is a blend of the many different faces of the versatile group. Each cut has something different to say and each uses a different style.

Mama Cass throws herself into "Word of Love" and adds to the song with her own loud and colorful personality.

"Dancing in the Streets" is a blend of vitality and optimism and the movement of the song makes you feel as though you really wanted to follow its admonition.

Perhaps one of the most important things on the album is a cut called "Once Was a Time I Thought." Its racing words and challenging idea proclaims effectively that love can not be sold nor bought.

The entire Mamas and Papas album is a mixture of planned professionalism and relaxed spontaneity. If you liked the first album, of if you enjoyed any of the group's single efforts, you will like Mamas and Papas' Second Album.

SINGLES

There are a lot of new releases in Chicago this week, some of them are great and some, of course, not so great.

The Flock has a brand new one called "Are You the Kind," which is not getting an overabundance of air time but will probably be a good followup to their recent hit, "Can't You See."

The Shadows of Knight have come up with an ideal record to follow the success of "Gloria," "Oh Yeah" and their other singles and albums. It's called "Willie Jean," and it's performed by drummer Tom Schiffour.

If you'll recall, Tom wrote the flip side of "Bad Little Woman," a little thing called, "Gospel Zone," but this is his first attempt at singing. It won't be his last because, as anyone who has heard it can tell you, it's really good. Even The Shadows' lead singer, Jim Sohns, said, "As for voices, a music teacher will tell you that Tom probably has a better voice for singing nice things than the rest of us . . ."

SENATOR BOBBY and the Hardly Worth It Singers have done it again. This time the group is called Senator Bobby and Senator McKinley and the Hardly Worth It Singers, and the record is a spoof on Donovan's "Mellow Yellow."

The whole idea is a bipartisan effort at pleasing the public, and the record is hysterically funny. If you thought their first attempt at satire was bad news, it is still safe to say that you'll like this one, because perfection comes with experience.

Another group back with a second attempt at recording is The Royal Guardsman of "Snoopy vs. the Red Baron" fame.

This time the record is called "The Return of Snoopy and the Baron" and it's a failure.

If you loved Snoopy the first time, you might like this second attempt. If you merely like the first, this second record will do nothing for you as it is simply the same tune with different lyrics.

The Guardsmen had a hit the first time around but originality will have to be the key for the next big one.

Also keep an eye out for the new record by Saturday's Children. It's coming soon and it has to be the big hit for them; they deserve it.

In the near future, Highlights will have a special feature story of an on-the-spot account of a Saturday's Children recording session.

"THE STRANGER"

"The Stranger" by Albert Camus is a very short novel that takes place in only a few days. But the impact that it gives to the reader is extremely great.

Camus, usually known as an existentialistic writer, puts his main character in an impossible position where only fate guides him and causes his death. It is Camus's belief that man cannot control the hand of fate upon him and must yield to its every move.

Written in first person, the man tells the reader his story. He lives a very quiet life in modern Algeria and is vaguely in love with his girl Marie.

But through his mother's death and through aiding his friend of undesirable character, he commits an accidental murder and is eventually unfairly sentenced to death. All evidence against him is very inconsequential and yet it is still considered.

Camus is very forceful in "The Stranger" as he is in all his books and plays. The reader is left feeling grief and loneliness and very small in his rule of his life.

"The Stranger" is fast reading but contains the philosophy of existentialism and much thought. It is a profitable little book well worth one's time.

"LOOK AWAY, LOOK AWAY"

With the ever-present undercurrent of civil rights activity, "Look Away, Look Away" by Ben Haas is a timely book. It is an intensely exciting novel about the south and about two men who have been friends since boyhood and now reach a turning point in their lives.

Cary Bradham is wealthy and white, the son of a powerful politician. Houston Whitley is Negro, from the poorer section of the community.

Having grown up together, the men feel a deep friendship for each other in the innocent alliance that has been permitted between Negro and white children since the Civil War.

The separation of the two as they enter World War II marks a point of decision. The world and the community outlook on the friendship has changed.

But there is no way to separate the alliance with a complete and sudden fence. As Cary moves toward the governorship, he becomes more and more involved with segregation and Houston unwillingly becomes one of the most avid integrationists.

Ben Haas' novel explodes as the two men face each other in numerous flammable encounters. Once side by side, they must now be enemies.

"Look Away, Look Away" is well written and readable. It convincingly portrays one of the most violent and important problems of our time. If you are at all concerned with human affairs, you will find it one of the most moving of modern works.

DRAMA REVIEW

"Annie Get Your Gun," being St. Viator High School's first Broadway musical, required a tremendous amount of effort — and a tremendous amount of money.

At the outset of the musical, a publicity and advertising committee was formed among students of St. Viator and Sacred Heart of Mary high schools. Its purpose was to plan, design, and fill the musical's program booklet with the necessary advertising.

Organized and run by Ed Brown, advertising president of Bruning Inc., the committee sold more than $4,000 in ads during the last few months of 1966.

Cited as a few of the outstanding salesmen were Norm Bruns, Bill Broeren, Bill Baumer, Ray Ostler, and Frank Patzke of St. Viator, and Mary Mahoney of Sacred Heart of Mary.

The group's efforts were explained by Ray Ostler, a junior at St. Viator. "As in just about any venture of this kind," he said, "a rather large number of enthusiasts started out, but in the end it boiled down to about ten who actually did most of the work, and the credit lies primarily with these few."

The success of a school's first Broadway musical is invaluable to the tradition which follows, and "Annie" proved to be a huge success on opening night. Its success was brought about by the players and directors, and also by the behind the scenes workers.

Seniors Cast Eye to Future

(The High School Highlights Senior Spotlight for this issue shines upon two Wheeling High School students, Maureen True and Gerry Lemke.)

When active students are named at Wheeling High School, Maureen True's name goes high on the list.

Maureen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. True, 728 N. Green, Wheeling, has been a member of the Girls Recreation Association for three years. She was a member of the special events committee in her junior year and this year is president of GRA.

She was also vice president of the Future Teachers of America club in her junior year. In addition, Maureen has been a member of the National Honors Society both her junior and senior years.

MAUREEN HAS three hobbies. First comes her dog. Indirectly, her dog is the mascot of the Wheeling football team and is present at all games.

She has fitted the dog out with a blue coat with gold trim and lettering on both sides. On one side the lettering is "WHS" and on the other it reads "GRA."

The dog's coat leads to Maureen's second hobby, sewing. "I really enjoy sewing and I've made most of my own clothes," she said. In addition, she plans on making her entire wardrobe for college.

Her third hobby is reading. Although she has no favorite writers, she likes to keep up with the current bestsellers. It should also be mentioned that Maureen loves tobogganing and for that matter, all sports. She would rather participate than be a spectator, but, nevertheless, she is an avid supporter of all the Wildcat teams.

LOOKING TO THE future, Maureen plans to attend Eastern Illinois University, Charleston. She hopes to become a physical education teacher. If she does, she would like to come back to this area to teach.

She has applied for a physical education scholarship to the E. R. Moore Company of Niles. She also is an Illinois State Scholarship finalist.

Maureen says she has been inspired by her teachers at Wheeling. She thinks Wheeling is a great school and in general, she likes everyone. She feels the school has an excellent program of accelerated classes.

However, she does not agree with all rules in the Student Code and she feels that attitude towards behavior in the cafeteria could be improved. She thinks most students approach school work in a good frame of mind.

WHEN ASKED if she had any desires in life, Maureen replied, "I would like to travel and see the world." She would most like to see the Soviet Union because she has heard so much about it and would like to know if what she has heard is true.

Her plans for travel would begin in the United States, however, as she has not traveled extensively except in the midwest.

Although she is looking forward to college, she feels she is going to miss all her friends. For Maureen, high school years have been the happiest of her life.

Another of Wheeling High School's outstanding seniors is Gerry Lemke. Gerry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin C. Lemke, 1003 S. Wheeling Road, Wheeling, has been a member of the National Honor Society in his junior and senior years.

HE POSSESSES a four-semester honor pin and is eligible for a seven-semester pin. He has played baseball and football for four years and holds a varsity letter in each. As a sophomore he was an alternate to his class board. He also has participated in intramural sports.

Gerry has no real hobbies but enjoys all sports. He especially favors baseball, football, hockey and tennis.

He is very impressed with the competitive spirit that is a part of all the Wheeling teams.

"I like the way our teams always go out to win and never quit trying," he said. "Our boys always give a good effort and that's what really counts."

AS FOR FUTURE plans, Gerry's center around his nomination to the Air Force Academy. He is in a group of six boys being considered.

If he isn't selected, he plans to take a ROTC program at whatever college he attends.

Gerry likes Wheeling's honor program but feels that it's hard to find students who are willing to strive as hard when they know their courses are accelerated.

He also thinks the Student Code is good because it has helped straighten out a few problems the school faced. However, he feels it could be improved.

"THE PROBLEMS we've had at Wheeling are those that every new school goes through," he said. "I think we've handled them very well."

One of Gerry's few dislikes is laziness. He doesn't like students who come to school and never accomplish anything. He thinks everyone should have definite goals in life and work to the best of his abilities to meet them.

Gerry's formula for a good life is having certain ideals and living by them. "No one should just live from day to day," he said. "One should always look to the future."

FIRST PLACE HONORS brought Forest View High School's novice debate home with the trophy shown above. The team won the trophy Jan. 18 at Wheeling High School. Standing are freshmen Janet Schultz and Joyce Scheller. Seated are sophomores Tom Reid and Scott Marshall. They won 7 and lost one round. Their sponsors were Mrs. Joyce Lindmark, Mrs. Nancy Irvan, and Dale Genz.

Private Study Program A Challenge to Worthy

by KATHY TRZNADEL

An Independent Study Program is under way at Forest View High School.

Although this program is not entirely new to Forest View students, this will be the first time such a program has been offered to so many students and with such a wide scope of topic choices.

To apply for the program, a student must obtain an application form from Galin Berrier, program director and social science department head at Forest View; must talk to the teacher who will sponsor him; work out the proposal with that teacher, and then obtain the approval from his counselor for the proposal.

Before approval is given by Berrier, approval must also be obtained from the sponsoring teacher and notification must be sent to all other teachers the student has for other academic subjects.

NO LIST OF qualifications for the program has been assigned as yet, but it is expected that the student will be outstanding in the field or topic he has chosen to pursue and possibly superior in other general school-work as well.

"So far, few students have applied yet who seemed unqualified," Berrier said.

He added that students who undertake the program seem to know that they are qualified to do so.

As it is stated on the notification slip to the student's teachers, "The acceptance of this proposal, while it implies that the student involved will be permitted to miss a major share of the classes of the sponsoring teacher, also implies permission for the student to make arrangements with his or her other teachers to miss their classes should sufficient reason present itself," Berrier said.

STUDENTS MUST also keep up with the regular academic work they miss as a consequence of their absence from class because of independent study.

This program will eventually be for students in all four classes, but the majority of the participants will be seniors.

Child psychology, physiology, calculus, Chinese and Japanese languages, journalism and Marine biology are just a few examples of the research topics chosen.

There are also many other topics being pursued with studies in the social sciences being the most sought after.

Some students taking independent study are working towards a major goal: advanced placement in their freshman year of college.

TO THE independent study student, a wallet-sized identification card will be issued and the majority of the students will be working on projects where credit will be awarded, according to Forest View's principal, L. S. Jenness.

Jenness perceived two major advantages in this type of a program: "In giving students an opportunity to have a different kind of educational experience—where they're not spoon-fed, checked on every day, and not have all decisions made for them—they will learn to organize their time, establish priorities and discipline themselves."

"Independent study will give the students an experience that will help them meet some of the problems that will confront them in college," he added.

The other major advantage is in "challenging the student to work up to his maximum," Jenness said.

Jenness and Berrier both foresee broad and everwidening opportunities for students to pursue their extracurricular interests on a voluntary basis and to gain vastly from their endeavors. (16Y

Fremd's Tindell

'People Shots' Key To Lensman's Success

(High School Highlights continues its series of articles spotlighting the student photographers of our area high schools. Featured in this issue is John Tindell of William Fremd High School.)

by CAROLYN JOHNSON

John Tindell, sophomore and one of William Fremd High School's newspaper and all round photographers, finds this interest one of the many ways to express personal feelings and emotions.

John, who handles camera equipment with facility and ease, likes to find what he calls candid "people" shots. He finds individuals and expressions of their moods in the captured pose one of the highest forms of art.

"For me," John explains, "photography is a way of getting around to knowing everybody and through my camera I meet some very interesting people."

John's latest project is what he calls his "cheerleader shots." He arranges some poses but the pictures he really must work for are closeups of the girls leading cheers. From past photos it seems that he will come up with some splendid shots.

BUT GOING OUT and getting his subjects into his camera is not all of John's work. His real skill is demonstrated in his dark room where he develops and prints his own pictures.

Here, he claims, he can "make or ruin" a picture. By his knowledge and hands, he may control the effectiveness of anything he has taken.

The taking and developing of his pictures gives John a true sense of accomplishment. It has not been easy to master the skills and give a lot of concentrated time to his interest.

"Being one of the school photographers, I get to understand what a newspaper photographer goes through in order to get pictures in on time," he says. His job is not so easy in that he must take and develop them as well. This means he must work quickly and accurately to meet his deadline.

John plans to continue with his vocation that has become more than just a hobby, but does not plan to become a professional. (16Y

Shaw Comedy At Arlington

George Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple" was announced this week as Arlington High School's spring dramatic production. The 3-act comedy-adventure will be presented April 13, 14, 15 in the school's Bristol Theatre.

Preceded by "Man and Superman" in 1960 and "Major Barbara" last spring, "The Devil's Disciple" becomes the third Shaw play to be produced by the high school.

Douglas K. Murphy, director, stated that the play differs from other Shavian fare in the American locale and characters. "General Burgoyne is English and 'Shaw' as they come," stated Murphy, "but the central character, Dick Dudgeon, is American." The Revolutionary War is the setting; the year is 1777.

In the recent motion picture, Kirk Douglas played the rebel Dick Dudgeon, Burt Lancaster was Anthony Anderson, a minister, and Sir Lawrence Olivier was General Burgoyne.

The title refers to Dick Dudgeon, considered by his family as an evil, godless man. Shaw, however, saw Dudgeon as a Puritan, "a man who cares not so much for the world and the flesh as for the ideal and the spirit. He is one who has truly religious feelings that drive him to act, not in worldly, but in moral and humanitarian ways."

The play's climax develops as Dudgeon, who is mistaken for the minister, is put on trial and sentenced to be hanged by the British. "Bernard Shaw crowded the play with excitement," stated Murphy, "but kept his tone light enough to let the ideas through."

Tryouts for the play will be held at the high school February 23 and 24.

Linda Nash To Attend Music Camp

by JOY ANDRUP

Linda Nash, junior at Prospect High School, has been accepted as a member of the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Michigan for the summer of 1967.

The National Music Camp is internationally known and designed specifically for America's talented youth. Acceptance into the camp is very competitive. Linda will spend an eight-week period of intensive study at Interlochen.

Linda has been the first chair in the Prospect High symphonic band since her freshman year. She is a student of Ray Still, principal oboist of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

She has also studied privately with Robert Henry and Miss Betty Garrett of the Mount Prospect elementary school system.

Linda attended the Midwestern Music Camp at the University of Kansas last summer. She will leave for Interlochen on June 24, the day after she returns from Expo 67 with the Prospect High School symphonic band.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Nash, 211 Russell, Mount Prospect. (11Y

'Bells Are Ringing'

MOS Musical Lead To Linda Holbrook

With Linda Holbrook of Mount Prospect as the switchboard operator who can't break a good-deed-every-day habit, the musical hit, "Bells Are Ringing," will be presented by Music On Stage Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 10, 11 and 12, at Prospect High School.

Miss Holbrook will be seen as a contributor of generous doses of sisterhood to the brotherhood of man via her job as the answering service operator who is unable to control her benevolence toward her subscribers.

HER MAJOR FEAT of interference in the fate of her customers is in the case of a frustrated playwright, played by Ted Weiss of Elk Grove Village, who has lost his confidence and can't even start work. She takes and relays his messages and falls head over heels in love with him, although, as she wryly sings, "I'll never meet him and he'll never meet me."

LINDA HOLBROOK

The hero and heroine do meet, however, without his knowing she is the "Mom" of the answering service to whom he has confided all his troubles.

BEFORE THEIR romance is fulfilled, the show takes them through 15 hit songs; gets them tangled with police detectives, racetrack bookmakers and mobsters; involves them in trysts in parks and subway stations and entangles them in the romantic crisis of a German dialect comedian, played by Hank Vandenboom of Wheeling. Lou Lindemann of Arlington Heights is the girl friend.

Tickets to "Bells Are Ringing" may be obtained by calling Mrs. Barbara Kurp, 259-5925, or from MOS members.

Dinner Play Cast Announced by M&S

The cast for the 3-act comedy, "Ready When You Are, C.B.!" Elk Grove Village Masque and Staff's dinner-theater production, was announced this week by the director, Mrs. Shirley Johnson.

The lead role of Annie, the kookie young actress, has been given to Bonnie Casey. Wally Meyer is cast in the role of the male movie idol, Jonas. Annie's friend, Fran, will be played by Diane Keesling; the tipsy actress, Felicia, will be acted by Ro Dunning, and Jonas' mother, Sadie, will be portrayed by Patt Gersdorf.

Lois McKelvey and Carol Kasnick will co-produce the play.

"READY WHEN You Are, C.B.!" written by Susan Slade, originally starred Julie Harris on Broadway. It concerns a would-be actress who makes a living subletting her New York apartment to traveling actors. Her pinch-penny tendencies and a self-imposed habit of defeatism in regard to her theatrical ambitions are put to a severe test when into town comes a movie idol who has skipped the set of a multi-million-dollar movie and wants a hideaway.

The comedy will be presented on three consecutive weekends, March 3, 4 and 5, 10, 11 and 12 and 17, 18 and 19, at the Green Tree Inn in Bensenville.

Following the format established several years ago by Masque and Staff, guests will pay a single admission price, which entitles them to a full-course dinner and the play. Those persons who hold season passes will pay only for the dinner.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. McKelvey at HE 7-0042. (Bill

Engineers Meeting Is Next Week

In observance of National Engineers Week Feb. 19-25, the Northwest Suburban Chapter of Illinois Society of Professional Engineers will meet with the North Shore Chapter at Old Orchard Country Club next Thursday at 7 p.m. Northwest Suburban Chapter represents approximately 300 Registered Professional Engineers in Northwest Cook County.

Engineers Week is sponsored by the National Society of Professional Engineers during the week of Washington's Birthday each year since our first President was himself a notable engineer.

The theme for the 1967 Week is "Engineering . . . for the Human Environment." Encompassing nearly all aspects of our environment, such as air and water pollution, human safety, transportation and solid waste disposal practices, the theme places engineering and modern technology face-to-face with these problems.

THE PROGRAM for the local meeting will feature Robert F. Crowel, who heads labor relations for the International Harvester Co. Crowel will be speaking about labor relations with the many unions and his experience on the Presidents Industrial Advisory Committee. Guests will be the mayors of the northwest and north shore chapters. (B10

Current Guild Play 'Most Difficult'

In the opinion of its director, "A Man for All Seasons," the current play in production by Guild Players, is the most difficult the Hoffman Estates area theater group has undertaken.

Vic Simone, who has directed the Guild Players in a number of their past plays, thinks that "A Man for All Seasons" will be a rewarding experience for the audience.

"Although it has strong moral tone," he says, "it has its humorous areas and is also highly dramatic.

While it takes place in Elizabethan England, the play's message is timely," Simone adds.

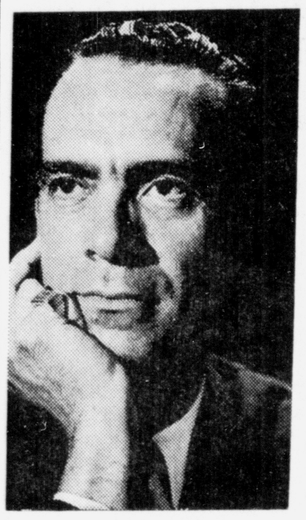
THE CAST, he feels, is as fine as any Guild Players ever has assembled. Four "Hammy" winners, those given special awards for their performance by their fellow actors, are in the cast—Howard Risberg, Al Bolin, Jerry Healy and Joe MacAuliffe.

Among past plays he has directed for the Guild, Simone recalls as favorites, "The Curcible," "The Silver Whistle", and "The Great Sebastians."

Production dates for "A Man for All Seasons" are March 10 and 11 at Lake Park High School, Medinah. (Bill

Stage Part of Director's Life Since His Childhood

Village Theatre, Inc. chose Robert Glauber to direct its forthcoming production of "Look Homeward, Angel" because it is a demanding play, and Robin, as he is called, is a demanding man.



ROBIN GLAUBER

Reared and educated in New York, Glauber grew up surrounded by the charm and mystery of the stage. His grand-uncle was manager of the famed Palace Theatre.

As a child Glauber says, he found acting to be challenge, and he delighted especially in character roles. He seemed, when young, he says, always to land parts for older men, and as he grew older, his parts were those of youths. At 17, he notes, he portrayed an 80-year-old man in one drama.

GLAUBER IS associated with the Illinois Bell Telephone Company as a professional director of commercial films. "Chicago Crossroads" won him a coveted Indy, the industrial film industry's answer to Hollywood's Oscar. He has made numerous other experimental industrial movies for which he has received awards.

VT members first met Robin Glauber in 1963 when they asked him to direct "A Majority of One," a success both at the box office and with the cast.

With rehearsals for "Look Homeward, Angel" well along, the director commented recently. "The group has bitten off quite a lump and I am anxious to see what happens.

"I AM QUITE surprised at some of the performances already turned in," he added optimistically.

Glauber also announced some cast changes. In the role of Mrs. Snowden will be Betty Randolph, and her husband, Robert, will take the part of Hugh Barton. Florry Mangle is now Wilma McGrath, Dave Breitsprecher will portray Mr. Farrell, and Dave Dove will be seen as Tarkinton.

"Look Homeward, Angel" will be presented at Elk Grove High School on March 3 and 4, 10 and 11. Information may be obtained by calling CL 9-3200. (Bill

Sunday New Date for Palatine Band Concert

The Palatine Village Band Second Winter Concert will be played Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Forest View High School Auditorium in Arlington Heights.

Like many other social events, the concert, originally scheduled for Feb. 5, was sabotaged by Father Winter.

Included in the program will be all types of music varying from "March Militaire Francaise" from the "Algerian Suite" by Saint-Saens, to "Holiday for Flutes" by David Rose. Marches to be played are Sousa's "Hands Across the Sea" and "Valdres-Norwegian March" by Johannes Hanssen. Numbers by Rodgers and Hart, Lerner and Lowe, Richard Arlen and Johnnie Mercer also will be featured.

PAUL SIEGERT, president of the organization, explained, "This will be the first opportunity for us to play in the Forest View Auditorium, and we're anxious to have our audience hear us in this splendid hall."

The band is staffed by 50 adult volunteer musicians from Palatine and the Palatine Park District and has been organized for almost nine years. It maintains a regular concert and rehearsal program all year.

Since the band wishes to present programs with appeal to all tastes, Dir. Fred O. Elliot of Mount Prospect urges the listeners to send in requests for their favorite number.

New members are welcome, and interested adult musicians should call Albert Isaacs at CL 5-9432. (Bill

STILL LIFE of three fish by Ukrainian-born artist Anatol Kolomayets is among the work of several painters in the exhibit of still life paintings that opened recently at Countryside Gallery, 10 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights. The show, which runs to March 12, also features Herbert Davidson, Martyl, Janine Collier, Rachel Burgess and Mae Williams.

BOB Talent Bank Has Busy February

Best Off Broadway Players Talent Bank's calendar for February is a full one.

Bank members will accompany the Republican Women's Club of Palatine and provide entertainment at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital today (Thursday).

Natalie Fergusen, 301 Baxter Lane, Hoffman Estates, is the pianist and those singing are Patricia Broeske, Barrington; Laurnell Martin, 1609 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, and Diane Scherer, 802 W. Milburn, and Jeanette Tomiello, 403 S. Main, both of Mount Prospect.

"BRIGADOON" was the capsule Broadway show presented Feb. 7 at the Transfiguration Church meeting in Wauconda and Feb. 9 for the members of Village Theatre of Arlington Heights. Jerry Butz, 2401 S. Rohlwing, Palatine, as Lundie the narrator of this tale of fantasy, donned plaid kilts and carried a smoking pipe.

Talent Bank members will take part in the Rolling Meadows Band Concert Sunday, Feb. 26, with "South Pacific" the mini-show to be presented.

The public is invited to BOB Players meeting Tuesday at Pioneer Park, Arlington Heights, at 8 p.m. Highlight of the evening will be the entertainment provided by Village Theatre.

Tryout dates for BOB's spring show, "Anything Goes" by Cole Porter, will be announced at that time. (Bill

Countryside Shows Still Life Paintings

A new exhibit of still life paintings is being shown at Countryside Gallery, 10 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights, and will continue through March 12.

On view are the works of Anatol Kolomayets, Herbert Davidson, Martyl, Janine Collier, Rachel Burgess and Mae Williams.

A native of the Ukraine, Anatole Kolomayets was graduated with honors from the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Liege, Belgium. He came to the United States in 1953 and is among founders of the Monolithic Art Group in Chicago.

HE HAS exhibited drawings, watercolors and oil paintings in Chicago, New York and Detroit.

Associated with the Oehlschlaeger Gallery in Chicago, Herbert Davidson studied at the Art Institute of Chicago and the Academia de Belli Arts in Florence.

His work has been exhibited widely, including shows at Butler Institute in Ohio, the Sioux City, Iowa, Art Center, the Illinois State Museum in Springifeld and at the Ravinia and Old Orchard Art Festivals. He has received several awards and fellowships in Chicago and New York.

MARTYL, A native of St. Louis, Mo., where she was graduated from Washington University, has had numerous one-woman shows in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Colorado Springs, San Francisco and Los Angeles. For several years she has been instructor in art at the University of Chicago.

Wife of nuclear physicist Alexander Langsdorf Jr., Martyl has won many awards, including two first prizes from the City Art Museum in St. Louis and the William H. Bartels and the Frank Armstrong Awards from the Chicago Art Institute.

French-born Janine Collier was educated in Paris and studied privately with French painters before coming to the United States.

SHE HAS HAD three one-woman shows in the Chicago area and currently is represented at Sibyl Gallery in Chicago as well as at Countryside. She has exhibited widely, and her work is in collections in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

Rachel Burgess, a graduate of the University of Syracuse, did two years of graduate work at the Chicago Art Institute.

She has exhibited at the Old Orchard Art Festival, McCormick Place and Mundelein College. Her list of one-woman shows includes one in Sakura, Osaka, Japan.

A GRADUATE of Raleigh College in North Carolina, Mae Williams also studied at the Chicago Art Institute, the Positano Art Workshop in Italy and the Instituto Allende, San Miguel, Mexico.

Her medium is acrylics, and she has had four one-woman shows. (Bill

Henrici's Finds Customers Like Old Favorites

The old Henrici's favorites from downtown on Randolph Street are also the tops with the new Henrici's out at O'Hare Inn, reports manager Bob Bihari.

Customers still ask for Henrici's crock of French onion soup and coffee mit schlag—or whipped cream.

The original Philip Henrici sign from Randolph Street is still preserved and displayed at O'Hare Henrici's.

The restaurant will mark its 100th year in 1968. (Bill

Extra Golf Mill Matinee Feb. 22

An extra showing of "The Sound of Music" has been scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 22, at the Golf Mill Theatre.

To observe the birth date of George Washington, when schools are closed, the show times will be the same as on Saturday and Sunday: 1:30, 5 and 8:30 p.m.

The theatre management suggests that tickets be purchased in advance. The box office is open from 1 to 10 p.m. (Bill

At Michigan State

Michigan State University, Lansing, Mich., honored 500 students recently for achieving an all A record during the fall term. Juliet Brand, daughter of Mr. nd Mrs. Marvin S. Brand, 1002 N. Juliet is a junior majoring in elementary and special education; Howard is a senior majoring in social science.

Lyric Announces Four '67 Operas

Four of the operas to be presented by Lyric Opera of Chicago during its 1967 season have been announced. The rest of the schedule will be announced later, said Carol Fox, Lyric general manager.

Those operas selected are "Salome," with Felicia Weathers in the title role; "Norma," with Elena Suliotis; "Falstaff," with Geraint Evans in the lead role, and "Manon," with Montserrat Caballe singing the title role.

"Salome," absent from the Lyric's schedule for the past decade, will open the 1967 season Sept. 29 at the Opera House. (Bill

Symphony Concert Features Violinist

Zino Francescatti, with guest conductor Charles Munch directing the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, will perform Lalo's "Spanish Symphony" for Violin and Orchestra at concerts today (Thursday) and tomorrow (Friday).

Honegger's Symphony No. 2 for Strings and Roussel's Symphony No. 3 also will be included in the programs at Orchestra Hall.

Mr. Munch also will conduct a Saturday concert at 8:30 p.m. at Orchestra Hall in a revised program which will substitute Debussy's "La Mer" (The Sea) for the Lalo Symphony.

ARTUR RUBINSTEIN and Carlo Maria Giulini will appear together as guest artists with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at a special concert to benefit the Musicians Pension Fund at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday, March 7, in Orchestra Hall.

Mr. Rubinstein will perform the Schumann Concerto for Piano, A minor. The orchestra, under Mr. Giulini, will present two works by Mozart: the Overture to Don Giovanni (K.527) and Symphony No. 39, E flat major (K.543).

Tickets for these concerts are on sale at the Orchestra Hall box office, 216 S. Michigan. For information, call Orchestra Hall, 427-0362. (Bill

Customer Service Is Our Business

We think customer service business today leaves much to be desired. Often in auto service departments, customers do not receive the prompt, courteous treatment we know they deserve. This we also find true in some restaurants, hotels, motels and in almost any store where the customer is exposed to sales and service personnel. Unfortunately there exists a great deal of indifference, apathy, and sometimes a total lack of pride in their vocation. "Rather than curse the darkness, we have lit a few candles here at Mack Cadillac." —

1. All our personnel are professionally trained.
2. They realize our customers are the most important people.
3. They are prompt and courteous.
4. They do take a great deal of pride in performing our many excellent services.

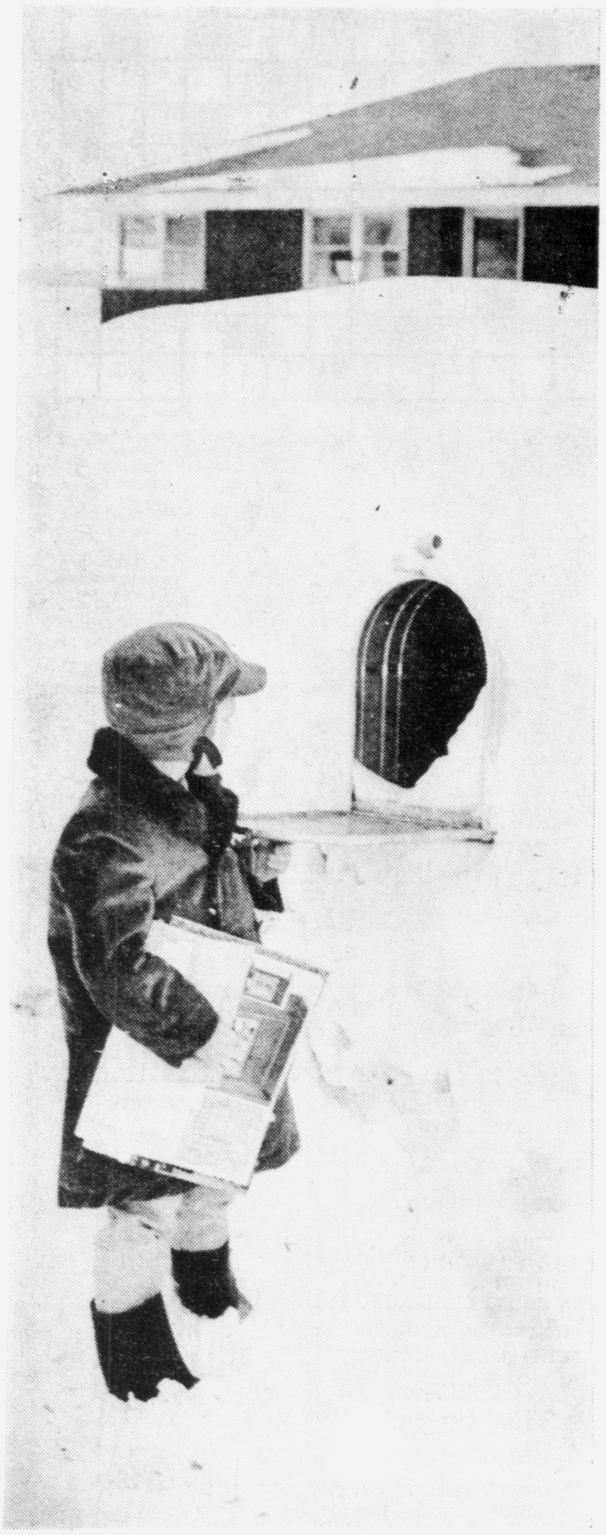
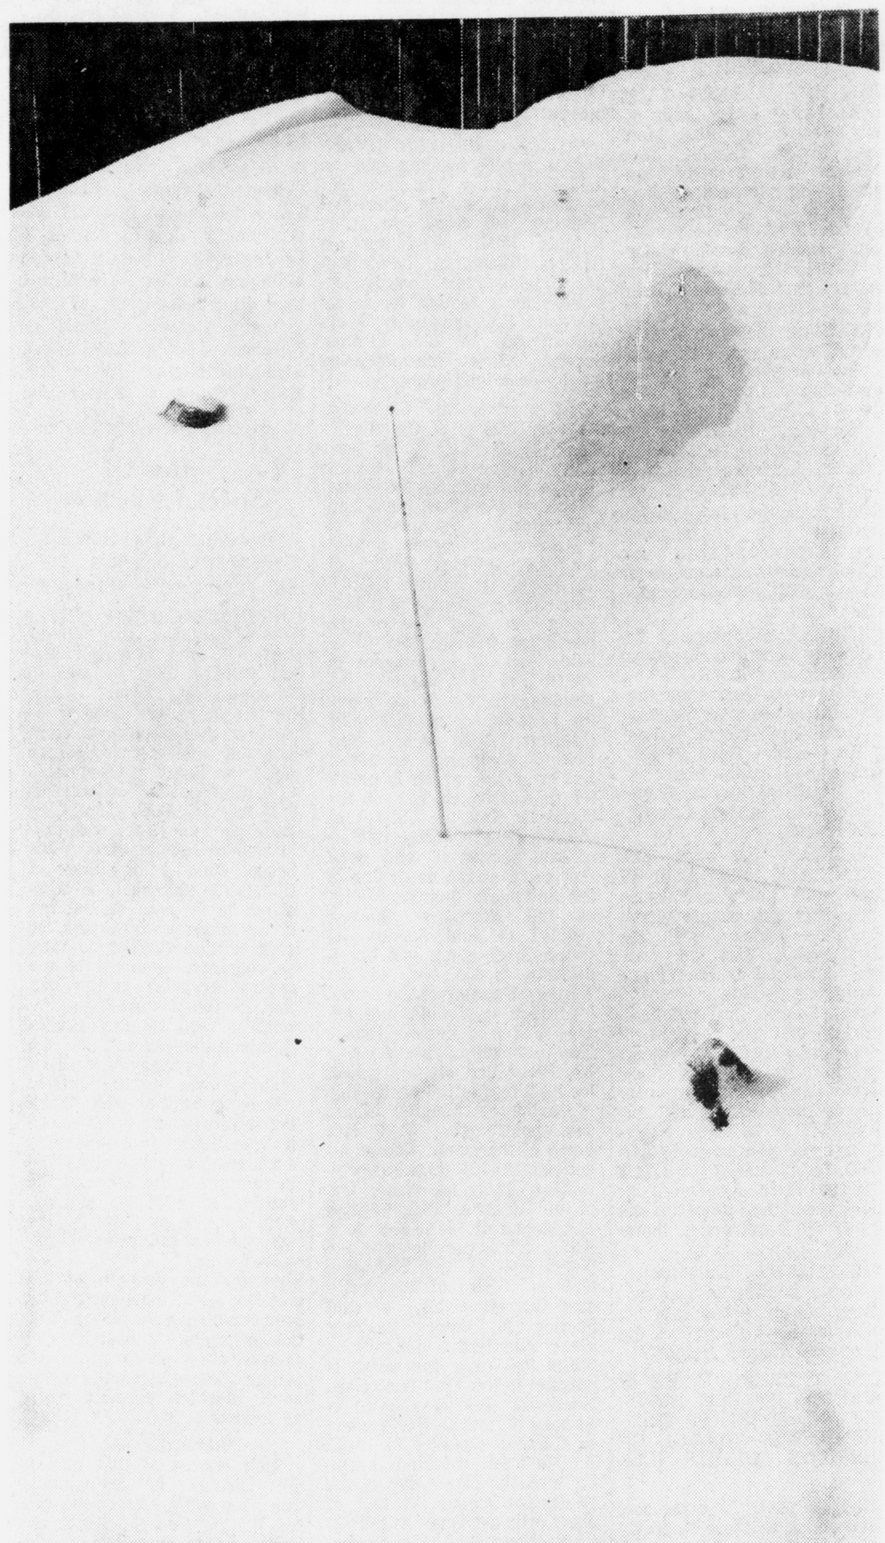
The Profile of a Slushy Hangover





THE STORM IS long gone but the snow left behind is still very much with us. Some area residents, such as the owner of a car in Mount Prospect (right) have chosen to ignore the snow, while others have managed to adjust to it. Brian Seeger, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seeger of Itasca gets his mail from a box that is covered except for the door. In Mount Prospect, garbage collection goes along on schedule even though residents find they must place cans atop huge piles of snow in order to get them close to the street. Beth Tikvah Hears Urban Council Head

Beth Tikvah Congregation will observe Brotherhood Week tomorrow (Friday) at its 9 p.m. Sabbath service.

Guest speaker will be Lewis Kreinberg, research director of the Jewish Council on Urban Affairs. He will speak on housing in the Chicago area.

A native of Chicago and graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Kreinberg, joined the faculty of Clarkson College of Technology and State University of New York, Potsdam, N.Y.

He is a staff consultant to the Union of American Hebrew Congregations on social action problems in addition to his service on the Urban Affairs Council.

Beth Tikvah Congregation is located at 275 Hillcrest Blvd., Hoffman Estates, one-half mile west of Roselle Road.

New Public Meeting Bill Introduced by Scariano

A bill designed to open all meetings of governmental bodies to the public and to all news media was introduced last week by State Rep. Anthony Scariano (D-Park Forest).

Scariano said that it constitutes a drastically revised version of the present "Open Meetings Act" which has been law since 1957 and of which he was one of the original sponsors.

"Most of them do a good job of following the law, but all too many public entities have long been flouting or circumventing the present law," Scariano said. "An outstanding example was through the practice of resolving themselves into so-called 'committees - of - the - whole,' because, they said, the law requiring their meetings to be open to the public did not apply to committees.

"THIS WAS arrant nonsense," the legislator said, "because it was obvious that since the law applied to a governmental body as a unit it also applied to its various parts, regardless of what they might be called.

"At any rate, I caused the law to be changed at the last session of the State Legislature," Scariano said, "and we plugged that loophole with an amendment making the law specifically applicable to all committee meetings.

"Neverthel e s s, shockingly large numbers of governmental units throughout the state, both large and small, have continued on a hell-bent policy of flagrantly violating the law," the Park Forest legislator charged.

"The most common reason now given for circumventing the act," Scariano said, "is that public bodies may meet in secret session as long as they merely 'deliberate' and do not take 'final action.'

"IF WE WERE to follow that reasoning to its logical conclusion," Scariano said, "the people's business need never be discussed in meetings open to them or to representatives of the various news media. It appalls one to learn," he continued, "that even the most doubtful cases are always resolved in favor of secrecy."

Scariano said that his proposal would require all deliberations and all meetings to be open to everyone whether or not "final action" was to be taken.

Moreover, he said, all public bodies will be required to publish a legal notice once each year as to the dates, times and places of all regular meetings.

"Heretofore," Scariano said, "no one but members of the different units of government were required to be given notice of special meetings. This created all sorts of opportunities to shield from the public what it had a right to know — namely, what business the public agency was transacting and how it was being transacted.

"THE BILL I have introduced," he said, "requires all governmental units, with respect to special meetings, to give the same type of notice it serves on its members and in the same manner, to all who request it. Provision is also made to give the public notice of meetings which have been 'adjourned' or continued to another date, time or place."

Scariano said that his bill has the support of the Illinois Press Assn., the various major news media throughout the state, and large segments of the public, and he knows of no organized opposition to it.

He also stated that the exemptions presently in the law would be retained.

These include all sessions of all grand and petit juries, deliberations of the Illinois Commerce Commission and the Illinois Pardon and Parole Board and sessions of all public bodies whenever the hiring or firing of personnel or acquisition or sale of property is under discussion.

"But even as to these exemptions," Scariano said, "final action will have to be taken publicly."

PENALTIES for violating any of the provisions of the proposed law remain at 30 days imprisonment or a fine of not more than $100, or both. Furthermore, civil courts are empowered to issue writs of mandamus requiring that meetings be open to the public at large.

"I am sure that this bill will put an end to the proprietary attachment which all too many office holders lavish upon governments that belong to all of the people," Scariano concluded. (A15

13th District Opinions Are Sought

U. S. Rep. Congressman Donald Rumsfeld (R-13th) is seeking the opinions of district voters for the fifth consecutive year. The National Issues Poll, mailed from his Washington office this week, spans a wide range of national and international questions including Viet Nam, tapes, selective service, social security and trade with Communist countries.

The questionnaire was sent to all district households. Results will be reported to all local news media and will be included in Rumsfeld's Legislative Report in mid-April. (B10

An Ordinance

PRO-RATING THE COST OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF A SANITARY SEWER SYSTEM FROM FORREST AVENUE, WATERMAN AVENUE, OLIVE STREET, CAMP McDONALD AND RAND ROADS

WHEREAS, ALBERT ZALE and EDWARD ZALE with offices located at 5152 Main Street, Skokie, Illinois, have heretofore caused to be constructed, and has paid the cost of a certain sanitary sewer system and lift station in Forrest Avenue, Oakton Street, Waterman Street, Olive Street, Dale Avenue, Camp McDonald Road and Rand Road; and

WHEREAS, the cost of such construction as completed under the plans prepared by Applied Engineering Company and R. B. Neukranz & Associates, Consulting Engineers, dated the 7th day of September, 1965, totals $97,817.29, including engineers and inspections; and

WHEREAS, the aforesaid improvement with its appurtenances so constructed can serve other properties adjacent to or within the Village of Arlington Heights; and

WHEREAS, the property being directly benefited therefrom is described as follows:

The Southwest Quarter of the Southeast Quarter of Section 21, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian, except that part lying southerly and westerly of Rand Road in Cook County, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, the said EDWARD ZALE and ALBERT ZALE were given permission to construct said improvement by private contract with the understanding, that an ordinance be passed by the Village of Arlington Heights after completion of said improvement, requiring that the owners of any property benefiting therefrom desiring to make use thereof, pay the proportionate share of the cost of said improvement, to be used in reimbursement of the said EDWARD ZALE and ALBERT ZALE or their successors or assigns for the proportionate costs of the construction therefore; and

WHEREAS, the parties recognize and acknowledge that said sanitary sewer system and lift station is the property of the Village of Arlington Heights.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILLINOIS.

SECTION ONE: That the cost of connecting to these improvements be determined in accordance with various benefits to be derived by the various areas described in Exhibit B attached hereto, said amounts being determined by the projected gallonage flow of the area served and the amount of area intended to be serviced by said sanitary sewer.

SECTION TWO: That the respective owners of the various property legally described in Exhibit B attached hereto, nor any person, firm or corporation being the owner of or partly interested in, nor any contractor, agent or other representative or such owner or parties interested in the above property described in said Exhibit B shall connect to or obtain any services for sanitary sewer without first having obtained a permit from the Village of Arlington Heights to make such connection. That no such permit shall be issued unless said applicant shall first pay to the Village of Arlington Heights for use of EDWARD ZALE and ALBERT ZALE, their successors or assigns a sum equal to the amounts set forth as applicable to applicants property in Exhibit B attached hereto to be serviced by the improvement as heretofore set forth in Section hereof. The Village Board of the Village of Arlington Heights does hereby ordain that the aforesaid properties described in Exhibit B, if not now annexed to the Village of Arlington Heights, shall not be connected to the aforesaid sanitary sewer in the Village of Arlington Heights, until the amount set forth opposite the respective areas on Exhibit B shall be paid to the Village of Arlington Heights for the use and benefit of EDWARD ZALE and ALBERT ZALE, their successors or assigns. Such charge in the amount so paid shall be in addition to the usual other charges payable to the Village for making water and sewer line connections. Such payment shall not release property owner or owners from the payment of the established fees chargeable by the Village for any additional services rendered to said properties by the Village of Arlington Heights.

SECTION THREE: All monies collected by the Village from such adjacent property owners for such connection charges, provided for in the preceding Section of this ordinance, except the usual connection fees and charges made by the Village in other instances, shall, within thirty (30) days after receipt thereof by the Village, be paid to EDWARD ZALE or ALBERT ZALE, their successors or assigns, less however, an amount of four per cent (4%) to be retained by the Village for the cost of collection, plus one hundred dollars ($100.00) representing the cost of preparation and publication of this ordinance, but in no case less than twenty dollars ($20.00) per subdivided lot.

SECTION FOUR: The monies collected and paid to EDWARD ZALE and ALBERT ZALE, their successors or assigns, shall in no case exceed the sum of $26,335.72, which sum represents the pro rata portion of the cost of the improvement paid by EDWARD ZALE and ALBERT ZALE, for all areas other than Area 5 on the attached Exhibit "B."

SECTION FIVE: Any person, firm or corporation being the owner or owners of or parties interested in any of said property being capable of being served by said improvements, and any contractor, agent or representative of any such person, firm or corporation making connections with the improvement hereinbefore described, without first making application to the Village for a permit, and without first paying the fees and charges herein provided, shall be subject to a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) and upon conviction thereof the Village shall enter upon said street and remove all such connections so made within the street lines of said street.

SECTION SIX: The main sanitary sewer line herein described is a public improvement owned by the Village of Arlington Heights and nothing herein contained shall be construed in any manner to vest any proprietary rights in said installation in any other person, firm or corporation.

SECTION SEVEN: This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication in the manner provided by law.

PASSED this 6th day of February A.D., 1967.

Bob Peterson Receives Boy Scouting Award

Life Scout Robert Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peterson. was awarded the Pro Deo et Patria (God and Country) Award in special rites Sunday at Christ Lutheran Church, 41 S. Rohlwing Road, Palatine.

To earn the award, Peterson completed 150 hours of service to the church and undertook a special project assigned by the Pastor. Peterson was also required to show that he had a comprehensive knowledge of Christian faith, worship, life and practice.

For his special project, Peterson prepared a map of the community locating all homes of the congregation by pins. He also made a geographical card file of families' names and addresses to be used in conjunction with the map.

THE AWARD, granted by the National Lutheran Commission on Scouting, was presented by Pastor L. Myron Lindblom assisted by Scoutmaster Harvey Kolstad, Asst. Scoutmaster Larry Walker and Cubmaster Dan Untch. Also participating in the rites were Bob's parents, former Scoutmaster Walter Lindahl and the Scouts of Troop 188.

Lindahl was awarded a plaque in recognition of his three years as a scoutmaster. He will work with the Cub Scouts now. (P

LIFE SCOUT BOB PETERSON got a congratulatory handshake Sunday from Pastor Myron Lindblom, Christ Lutheran Church, who presented him with the Pro Deo et Patrai (God and Country) Award.

Displaying the items to be given away later in the day in celebration of the store's seventh anniversary is Ray Soucie, owner, with Mrs. Dee Burnett, his assistant, an interested onlooker.

Seven Win In Drawing

Soucie Jewelry, 1 N. Bothwell, Palatine, celebrated its seventh anniversary Saturday by giving away seven gifts of merchandise to lucky Palatine residents.

Winners in the gift drawing at 5:30 p.m. were Mrs. B. Dalton, 56 S. Elm St., who received a watch; Delores Glow, 711 W. Kenilworth, recipient of a necklace and earring set; Ann Kurland, 418 Stewart, winner of a musical jewel box; Mrs. H. R. Ritchie Jr., 914 Arrowhead, pearl ring; Fran Oldenberg, 138 S. Greenwood, identification bracelet; Jim Prange, 1620 S. Roselle Road, pearl pin; and Mrs. E. Burns, 440 N. Easy St., charm bracelet.

"We had a terrific response," said Ray Soucie, owner of the jewelry store. "The only place the drawing was mentioned was in our ad in Paddock Publications and we had 172 persons register in two days." (P

'Freedom' Is Theme At Meeting

A festival entitled "Salute to Freedom" will be presented Sunday, Feb. 26, at Immanuel Lutheran School in Palatine, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Kindergartners and students through the eighth grade have been preparing displays and oral presentations with a patriotic theme for this program, planned by the faculty to increase the children's understanding of their nation's heritage and give them a greater appreciation of the meaning of freedom.

Included will be skits, dramatic readings, novelty acts, instrumental and vocal selections, plus a quiz-down and spelling bee. Handicrafts, manuscripts and all phases of visual art will be entered under categories such as "Our Country's Heritage," "Our Country's Government and Economy," and "Our Country's Future."

Everyone is invited to attend the "Salute to Freedom" program. (P

Telephone Service Now Normal

Illinois Bell Telephone Company has returned to normal operation in Palatine after mobilizing its forces to handle a record-breaking volume of calls during last month's heavy snowstorm.

J. R. Doss, Barrington manager, pointed out that although many callers experienced delays during the storm and its aftermath, telephone lines were able to carry more than three times the normal traffic load over sustained periods with no equipment breakdown in central offices. In addition, Illinois Bell's network of outdoor equipment weathered the storm virtually unscratched because of the high ratio of underground cable and storm-resistant lines.

Doss said telephone people were assembled into three task forces during the storm-caused emergency. (P

MEDICINES MUST BE PROPERLY PROTECTED
The United States Pharmacopoeia, called the "U.S.P." and the National Formularly, called the "N.F.," are the two basic official books which specify the standards, tests and dosage for drugs and some of their combinations. Pharmacists must completely know the contents of both these books.
The U.S.P. and the N.F. also specifies those drugs which require extra care to protect their potency and directs how they must be stored. Many drugs must not be exposed to light or heat. Others are dated and cannot be used after a certain time. Between publication dates of the new U.S.P. and N.F., published each few years, we study and file information about the new drugs to keep up to date.

'Boy' Finds a Home —In Girls' Dorm!

Dormitory regulations are easily waived at a women's college when a crisis arises.

A stray animal can find many foster mothers on the second floor of Coffey Hall, one of the residence halls of Mundelein College, 6363 Sheridan Road, Chicago.

But Mundelein's now-famous pup, Boy, was fussy about his foster parent and quickly became attached to Marilyn Wells, 117 S. Elmhurst Ave., Mount Prospect.

The pup was discovered Thursday morning, Feb. 9, floating helplessly on an ice drift about 200 yards out on Lake Michigan.

THE ICE FLOE apparently had broken from shore with the dog aboard. When he responded to the call of the residents and tried jumping from one floe to another, Boy fell between two sheets of ice. But with prompting, he was able to boost himself back onto the ice patch.

Though the students called police, fire and local animal welfare agencies, none sent immediate aid. So the girls decided to begin rescue procedures on their own.

Assisted by a Northwestern University man who had heard the plea for assistance on his car radio, the students managed to push a small piece of ice close enough to the dog for him to jump onto it.

The Northwestern man then dragged the ice with the dog toward the girls on the seawall by using a pole from the college pool. One of the coeds, Sue Balser, held by her roommate, Evi Strache, lowered herself over the seawall and snatched the dog from the water as he jumped from the ice floe.

SAFE WITHIN the warm dormitory halls, Boy quickly became attached to Marilyn and followed her in and out of dormitory rooms. She walked him down Sheridan Road on the end of a long, blue satin ribbon and fed him meat salvaged from the college dining room.

Boy and Marilyn became fast friends and, while he was friendly to all of the students, he was reluctant to leave her arms.

His two days' experience in dormitory living were anything but dull for the white and brown Spitz and he brought unprecedented excitement into the lives of his hostesses.

The incident brought not only a fire department helicopter to the scene, much too late to be of any assistance, but also representatives of the city's major news media.

BOY WASN'T given a moment's rest for, held protectively in Marilyn's arms, he was photographed and "interviewed" (via his new family) by the city newspapers, press services and CBS television. Had he been awake, Boy could have seen himself on the six and ten o'clock news broadcasts.

But dormitory fame did not end there. One of the students, Vicki German, had called Chicago radio station WCFL and asked for assistance while Boy was still on the ice. The broadcasts helped lead to Vicki's election as Girl-of-the-Week at Lewis College in Lisle.

And her photographic series of the entire episode was purchased by Chicago's American and Associated Press.

Nor were other heroines ignored. They will be interviewed and dined by the Lewis College men and fan mail already has started to arrive.

JUST WHEN Boy had become a part of the second floor family, the students received a phone call. Soon, Mrs. Lou Ann Lansing arrived on the scene to claim Boy, who was actually a female named Duchess.

Marilyn sadly scooped her friend into her arms for the last time, tied the blue ribbon around her neck and returned Duchess to her owner.

"Boy is gone," said the senior mathematics major as she returned alone to the student union. She bought a hamburger, this time to be eaten entirely by herself, and once again began leading the normal life of a college student. (M

Emergency Shelter Helps Snowbound

Mount Prospect Civil Defense in emergency "Operation Holiday Inn" at two shelters during the big snowstorm helped a total of 40 stranded people.

They were open for 37 hours during and after the blizzard, one at Fire Station No. 2, 1601 W. Golf Road, and the second at St. Raymond Catholic Church, 313 S. I-Oka Ave.

According to Fire Lt. Lawrence A. Pairitz, director of the civil defense unit, "Both shelters ran very well and those inside were kept busy and in good spirits."

Prior arrangements had been made in March 1966, for this type of emergency operation. Firefighter Don Barra, who previously received training in shelter management, handled the shelter at the fire station and Maj. Roy Martin, Air Force Reserve, a liaison officer for Mount Prospect Civil Defense, supervised the church shelter.

MAJ. MARTIN, in a full report to Pairitz on the emergency activities at St. Raymond Church, said the success of the operation was a result of preplanning, the cooperation of the village police and fire departments, the church, rectory and school, and several concerned residents.

"There were no serious problems during the 37 hours and everyone worked and helped each other. We furnished coffee, food, restroom facilities, television, blankets, a large clean floor on which the men slept (the women were given cots) . . . and coffee all through Friday night," (Jan. 27) he said.

Mount Prospect residents housed at the shelters included W. D. Lee, Walter Hanshaw, Ray Kuig and Katheryn Murphy. Those from Prospect Heights were Thomas Ocasek, Mrs. May Dzija, George Nangle, Mary Ann Bealtmann and Willis Dever. Also aided were residents of 16 other communities, including Chicago.

SPECIAL ASSISTANCE was provided by Bob Reedy, a member of St. Raymond Parish, who lives across the street. He brought to the church five sleeping bags and two boxes of rolls. The nuns, directed by Miss Marie Wojcik, head housekeeper for the rectory, who provided lunch on Friday, and members of the police and fire departments brought over dinner the same night.

Also, Stanley Wonick, church maintenance engineer provided heat and kept the entrance way open. Others who helped were Fr. Ronald Kala, Sister Patricia, principal of St. Raymond School, who with the other sisters brought coffee, cream, sugar and spare blankets from the convent.

Douglas Gomm, district commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, and his staff members Lee Jarosz and Bill O'Keeffe rounded up five cots and five sleeping bags from Troop 55. (M

Caribbean Theme for School Fair

A Caribbean Carnival will be the theme of the Lincoln Junior High School Fun Fair on Saturday, Feb. 25, in Mount Prospect, from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Carnival goers will be able to stroll through the market place in search of white elephants, have a picture taken in the Island Photo Shop, go deep-sea fishing (for goldfish), or try their skills at one of the many game booths.

Several student combos, including the "Shades of Blue" will present music for dancing on the "lower deck."

Chairman of the carnival is Mrs. Harvey Young. Proceeds from the fun fair will be used to purchase special equipment for the school, she said. (M

Temple Fund Rally Opens Tomorrow

Maine Township Jewish Congregation will have a busy weekend tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday with several special events planned in addition to regular services.

At 8:30 p.m. Saturday, a kickoff rally to officially mark the beginning of a building fund campaign for a planned $700,000 temple to be constructed will be held at Mark Twain School, 9801 N. Hamlin, Des Plaines.

Raising funds for the $300,000 educational wing of the building, Phase I of a two-phase building program, is the target of the campaign. The temple will be located at Ballard Road and Parkside in Des Plaines, two blocks north of Lutheran General Hospital, on a two-and-one-half acre site. All fund campaign workers are urged to attend the meeting.

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday, USY, the temple teen youth group, will sponsor a program for parents and friends at the North Shore Recreation Center, 8900 David Place, Des Plaines. The program will feature a discussion concerning the relationship between the two generations.

Parents will have an opportunity to answer teenagers on the subject "What Is Wrong With the Older Generation?"

Refreshments will be served following the discussion.

Rabbi Jay Karzen, spiritual leader of the congregation, will conduct family sabbath services at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at Mark Twain School. Morning traditional services will be recited at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and Sunday at 8998 Ballard Road, Des Plaines. (M

PTAs Again Schedule Dr. Kehm Talk

The Feb. 2 combined meeting of the Sunset Park-Lions Park schools PTA groups has been rescheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday, March 30, at Lions Park School, Mount Prospect.

The February meeting was to feature a talk by Dr. Freda S. Kehm, child development consultant and Chicago radio personality.

It was cancelled because of the blizzard that made area roads impassable.

Dr. Kehm has agreed to once again be on the program. She will spak on the subject, "Growing Pains or Neurotic Strains - How Can Parents Tell the Difference?" (M

Pick the right day to test drive a Volkswagen and you'll have the road to yourself.

Back when the weather was good, everybody was inviting you to come in and test drive their new whatevers.

But now that the weather isn't so good (and a test drive is really a test), the invitations have dropped off sharply.

Now maybe you can spare a little time to try out the new Volkswagen.

Not right this minute. Wait for a nice lousy day. The next time it's snowing or slushing or something like that, drive down to your VW dealer. (If you can make it in your car.)

He'll be happy to take you out and show you how a VW works when hardly anything else does.

How the weight of the motor on the rear wheels makes the VW dig in and go, in the snow or the mud, or even on ice.

As you pass all the stranded cars that passed their test drives in balmier days, he'll tell you about the VW's other cold-weather comforts.

The air-cooled motor. It doesn't freeze over, so it doesn't need anti-freeze or a winter thermostat.

And if you have to leave the car out on a cold wet night, it's got four coats of paint and a sealed bottom to keep it cozy.

You've even got an edge with a Volkswagen if the worst happens and you get stuck.

Aim at Better Housing For Migrants

A-Frame Homes Being Planned To Eliminate 'Chicken Coops'

A-frame homes may go up this spring as part of a pilot program aimed at providing better housing for the area's 400 Spanish-American families.

Only land scarcity is delaying the project now, two northwest suburban groups were told this week.

Ronald Petralito, Arlington Heights architect who has proposed use of the A-frame dwellings for settling migrants, told of the need for land at an Elk Grove Kiwanis Club meeting Monday.

Arlington Heights and Palatine League of Women Voter members heard the same thing last Thursday in a meeting at the First State Bank and Trust, Palatine.

A SPEAKER at the LWV meeting was Robert Nelson, chairman of Northwest Suburban Opportunity Council (NORWESCO).

Three lending institutions — two in Mount Prospect and one in Elk Grove Village — have promised to underwrite construction of six A-frame dwellings if NORWESCO can get the land.

Three acres is all that is needed, Nelson assured the League of Women Voters or six acres if sewer and water lines must be installed.

"With that, we can begin 'Homestart 1967'," he asserted. "If anyone has three acres of property, here we are!"

A six-year lease on the land is all that is being sought by NORWESCO, the two area groups were told. The houses would be occupied five years and a half-year would be required to erect then raze them.

THE A-FRAME dwellings, inexpensive and easily constructed by the families who will live there, are designed only as interim homes.

Estimated to cost $3,000 apiece, they would be torn down in five years — once the loan to finance them had been paid off.

In the five-year period NORWESCO hopes to see each better-housed Mexican - American family build up savings through interest on an escrow that will be part of the loan arrangement.

They will have established a credit rating so they can seek financing for better standard housing with assurance of getting it.

AND NORWESCO hopes to enlist family members in language and job training projects and community activities that will help integrate them into suburban life.

In the interim, Nelson asserted, the families will at least have better housing.

"They're living in chicken-coops today," he told the LWV.

Rent for these "chicken coops" sometimes costs $90 a month, Petralito told the Elk Grove Kiwanians. Under the NORWESCO plan, families would pay $50 per month rent for the A-frames and put $40 in savings. The rent would pay back the initial cost loaned for construction and the savings would provide about $2,500 or a 10 to 15 per cent down payment on a permanent house, Petralito said.

THERE ARE approximately 50 to 70 families in the Elk Grove Village area making the transition from migrant workers to village residents. The families would be screened so only those who would succeed under the NORWESCO program would be provided the opportunity of the interim housing.

Petralito said the A-frame homes would be 24 by 22 feet with 912 total square feet and provide for an average family of eight. The upper floor would be bedrooms with the living area and one bedroom downstairs.

Wood A-frames about 22 feet high would be fastened to railroad ties embedded in concrete, Petralito said.

Petralito said he would want the housing project to be within village limits and has sought informal approval of the Elk Grove Village board on the proposal. He said he hopes to have an official hearing by the board in March or April. (A15

Youth Center Group Plans Fact-Finding

An area youth center planning committee has decided that questions can't be answered until they've been asked.

Retrenching from its original plans to set up sub-committees and get youth center plans rolling, the committee agreed last week to survey District 214 and area parochial school students to see if and what kind of youth center they want.

The self-appointed committee, organized in mid-December, is headed by the Rev. Larry Cartford of the Lutheran Church of the Cross and Ron Wittmeyer of Wittmeyer Construction Co.

"I think we should determine the demand and then get industry behind us," committee member Lloyd Meyer, 307 N. Hickory Ave., Arlington Heights, told the committee.

"With the turnout we've had tonight," Wittmeyer said, noting that only seven students were present, "perhaps there isn't a need for a youth center in District 214."

COMMITTEE INTEREST in a survey was spurred by Robert Weaver, 1730 N. Ridge Ave., Arlington Heights. Weaver, who said he had a "night off" and wanted to find out what the committee was doing, told the committee that they would have a hard time getting businessmen to back a half million dollar project that they couldn't prove was needed or wanted.

"I'm sure everybody feels there's probably a need for a youth center, but half a million dollars and no survey?" Weaver asked. He added that he felt the committee should know more about the demand for a center before trying to raise money.

The Arlington Heights Youth Council also suggested a survey and offered to finance one.

The teens who met with the committee agreed that the youth center idea proposal should be presented to the student council in each school involved.

PASTOR CARTFORD suggested that the committee talk to the seven student councils before Feb. 23. The committee will meet again at that time to work on a survey for the students.

Questions left unanswered by the committee at present include: what facilities will be offered by the center; how much membership fees will be; where the center will be located; what times the center will be open.

Students attending last week's meeting suggested everything from a "big living room" type facility to a gymnasium.

A student from Sacred Heart of Mary stressed the need for a place for teens to go and just talk. "If you meet someone uptown and stop to talk, you practically get picked up for loitering," she remarked.

SUE TODD, Wheeling High School, said, "A lot of kids I've talked too are getting pretty sick of the Cellar, and if they had another place to go, they'd go there."

Reports from committee members indicated that a youth center in La Grange that has been in operation for 22 years is the model throughout the nation.

Evanston's youth center, which was financed by a $175,000 gift, has 900 members at the end of one month's operation. The Evanston center has an operating budget of $35,000 per year. Funds are raised through membership fees, admission fees and rentals, according to committee member Steve Sonnenberg, youth director at St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

Committee members estimated that the center they are proposing will serve 10,000 students from district 214 as well as about 2,000 students from the two Roman Catholic high schools in the area. The Evanston center, Sonnenberg pointed out, served about 6,500 students. (ACM

School Post Eyed By Gust Stavros

Gust Stavros of Wheeling said this week that he will seek election as Wheeling Township school trustee.

All three seats are open in the April school elections. So far—of the three incumbents—only Stavros has announced his intentions.

Stavros' declaration comes in the wake of an obscurely worded legal notice in Paddock Publications this week announcing the date for filing of candidates petitions for "trustees of schools, Township 42, Range 11."

THAT IS Wheeling Township—and the posts open are those of the three unsalaried township school trustees, who by law hold title to all school lands and appoint a treasurer to handle all school districts' monies.

All three township school trustee posts must be filled on April 8.

Wednesday will be the first date for accepting candidates petitions of persons seeking election to the office.

Open are:

—A six-year-term, currently filled by Henry Vallely of Prospect Heights.

—A four-year term, to fill the post now held by Dr. Chester S. Cole of Mount Prospect, an appointee.

—A two-year term, to complete the term now held by another appointee, Gust Stavros of Wheeling.

COLE WAS appointed township school trustee in mid-1965 after Joseph Tolson, elected to a six-year trustee term that spring, moved out of town and resigned.

Stavros was appointed township school trustee a year ago when Gerald Moe of Buffalo Grove, elected trustee in 1963, resigned. Ironically, Moe had defeated Stavros in the 1963 election.

All three incumbent township school trustees have told Paddock Publications that they do not yet know whether they will seek the job again.

The secretary in the office of E. C. McAuliff, township treasurer, says that no one has picked up nominating petitions from her. She did not know if McAuliff has personally filled requests for petitions.

Filing petitions may also be picked up from any school district administrative office or from the county superintendent of schools.

They must be returned to McAuliff's office at 16 W. Northwest Highway, Mount Prospect, no later than noon, March 18. (ACM

Hanson Awaits Data On Sewer Plant Use

Arlington Heights Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson says he would appreciate hearing from Mount Prospect officials on their proposed use of an inoperative Arlington Heights sewage treatment plant.

Hanson referred to suggestions made by Mount Prospect officials to use the Arlington Heights station for the treatment of water from Weller Creek.

Arlington's eastern neighbor had suggested to sanitary district officials that the station be used to purify the creek water which periodically receives overflow from Arlington Heights sewers.

Hanson told the Herald that he isn't opposed to the proposal, but noted that the village still owes $250,000 on the plant.

"The citizens of Arlington Heights spent $3½ million to solve their water problems," said Hanson.

"The people in Mount Prospect haven't done this yet," he continued. "It would be nice if somebody came around and asked us how we feel about the project."

Hanson noted that Mount Prospect officials had described the treatment plant as "abandoned." "You don't throw away something worth a quarter of a million," Hanson declared.

The station was shut down in 1958 after the village attached to the metropolitan sanitary district. (A,Mville

Zoners Okay Parking Lot Variation

The Arlington Heights Zoning Board of Appeals Monday granted a zoning variation — with some reservations — to extend a parking lot into a residential district.

The petitioner was Don Florence of Stanton Arms Apartments located east of Northwest Community Hospital.

He plans to extend parking for about 14 additional cars on the east side of the apartment complex.

The variation was granted pending adequate provisions for screening, and layout approval by the village engineer.

The apartments were built in the late 1950's when the village required only one parking stall for each unit. Today it requires 1.5 for multiple family districts.

Student Displays Planned for TPC

Many Arlington High School students will put in overtime next Thursday evening as they return to the school at 8 p.m. to present demonstrations and explain displays at the Teacher-Parent Council (TPC) meeting.

All parents of Arlington students are invited to attend the event.

After a short business meeting in the Boys' Gym, parents will be free to have conferences and visitations with teachers as well as observing demonstrations and displays.

SOME OF THE demonstrations planned for the evening are in the art, industrial education, girls' and boys' physical education, business education, and speech departments.

Displays showing phases of extra-curricular activities offered to Arlington students will be set up and manned by students ready to answer questions.

Vincent Ahnquist, director of student activities at the school, said, "This is a fine opportunity for parents to meet with their children's teachers and also to observe some of the activities of the Arlington student body."

At 9:30 p.m. in the school's cafeteria refreshments will be served. (A

Park District OKs Buying Duplicator

Arlington Heights park commissioners agreed Tuesday that the district could save money by doing its own printing.

The board approved the purchase of a $1,972.60 A. B. Dick Model 320 duplicator from the E. W. Boehm Co. to be used for the district's printing jobs.

The A. B. Dick duplicator cost some $300 dollars more than a duplicator offered by the Addressograph-Multigraph Corp. Park Supt. Thomas Thornton recommended purchase of the more expensive machine, saying that it seemed to be more versatile and better suited to the park district's needs than the less expensive machine.

HE SAID HE felt the A. B. Dick machine was worth the additional cost.

Both companies submitted reports showing that their machines would help the park district realize considerable savings as compared with the present operation.

Bill Appleby, park superintendent of recreation, pointed out that the Addressograph-Multigraph Corp.'s report indicated a higher savings to the park district than did the E. W. Boehm Company report. Appleby, however, said that the two companies seemed to have used different scales to compute labor costs. This, he said, seemed to account for the difference in savings said to be gained from the top operations. (A

Promotions Announced For Scouts

In an appropriate salute to the 57th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement in America, Arlington Heights Troop 57 held a Parents' Night program Monday at South Junior High School.

Scoutmaster Robert B. McAllister announced promotions for eight boys in his troop and inducted another eight boys into the beginning Tenderfoot rank.

New Star Scouts in the troop are Bruce Bittner, Bob Kadow, Tom Sayre and George Tannery. Reaching First Class rank are Steve Cooper, Dave Grashorn, Don De Simone and Mike Schreiber.

TENDERFOOT Scouts are Randy Bishop, Jim Bodenstedt, Bob Bryan, Paul Freeman, Pat Guilfoil, Dale Patterson, Tom Pritts and Todd Wendorf.

McAllister also introduced his junior leaders to the parents at the meeting. Junior Assistant Scoutmasters are John Faus, Bill Murphy and Dick Ruthenberg. Senior patrol leader is Steve McAllister, assisted by Steve Brogdon and Mike Freeman. George Tannery is the troop's Scribe, with Mark Franzen serving as Quartermaster.

Report Transfer Of 2 Properties

Two Arlington Heights properties were listed among real estate transfers in Elk Grove Township by County Recorder Sidney R. Olsen.

Olsen's report shows the purchase price of equity and does not include amount of a mortgage which the purchaser may have assumed. The price is indicated by federal revenue stamps ($1.10 per $1,000) on the document.

The Arlington Heights properties were: 1100 S. Haddow Ave., from Leslie H. Thompson to Edward H. Niemeyer ($21.45); and 1532 S. Arlington Heights Road, from South Arlington Corporation to Warwick L. Gre- ville ($41.80). (A

Scout Leaders Told Roles in Citizenship

A prominent Chicago attorney and military veteran told 300 Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows Boy Scout leaders and their wives Sunday night that "freedom is a do-it-yourself kit."

"We've had government of the people and for the people, but not enough government by the people," said Maj. Gen. Howard T. Markey. He urged his audience to "speak up and speak out" in maintaining freedom in America. "The worst thing that could happen to us," he said, "is our loss of freedom. Life without it is a fraud and a fake."

GEN. MARKEY'S address was the climax of the Sauk Woods District's annual dinner and business meeting at Arlington High School. Another highlight of the evening was the installation of district officers for the coming year by the new president of the Northwest Suburban Boy Scout Council, Robert Sasser, Park Ridge. This was Sasser's first official duty; he had taken office the previous evening at the council's annual dinner.

New Sauk Woods District officers are Dr. Frank A. Schroeder, chairman; and Arthur W. Hassel, commissioner, both Arlington Heights. Operating committee heads include Fred Alexander, activities; Robert Letzel, advancement; James Bryant, finance, and William J. Hennig, public relations, all of Arlington Heights. From Rolling Meadows are Hulan Wilkerson, camping, and John Thompson, health and safety.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT commissioners are Richard Spirek and Charles Zeller, both Rolling Meadows, and Otis Johnson, Arlington Heights.

The Sauk Woods District, which serves Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows, now has 25 cub scout packs, 21 boy scout troops and six explorer posts.

'Over 50' Luncheon, Film Set

The Arlington Heights Branch of the Over 50 Club of Wheeling Township will have its twice postponed luncheon at the Scanda House, Mount Prospect, today (Thursday).

Following lunch, the group will view "Sound of Music" at the Golf Mill theatre. Buses leave Pioneer Park at 10:45 a.m.

Next Thursday the club will have a business meeting in the afternoon with cards and crafts in the morning. The club will meet from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Pioneer Park.

RESERVATIONS for the April 16 trip to Washington, D. C., may still be made by calling CL 5-3169. More rooms have been secured.

The club is currently planning a fall trip to Hawaii. There is a limit of 30 members on this trip.

This Saturday night is party night from 7 p.m. to midnight.

Crafts, ceramics, pool and cards are available every Friday at Pioneer Park from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. (A

Two Fires Blamed In $20,000 Damage

Fire caused more than $20,000 damage to two houses in Arlington Heights Sunday.

A blaze which began in a bathroom and moved to the roof caused $15,000 damage to a new home in Dunrovan subdivision. The home, located on Robin Hood Drive, was unoccupied.

Firemen said the fire started in a second-floor bathroom. They said the bathroom was gutted and extensive damage done to the kitchen and dining area.

Earlier that day firemen battled a house fire at the Edward E. Herter residence, 119 S. Reuter Drive.

Fire Chief Harvey Carothers estimated damage at $6,000. He said fire started in the basement and spread through the basement walls and ceiling. (A

Seek Evaluation Of Park Program

Arlington Heights park commissioners decided Tuesday to enlist the help of an outsider to evaluate the park's recreation program.

A woman from the University of Illinois will be hired to spend a minimum of three days reviewing the park program and advising the park administrative staff and park board.

THE PARK BOARD is also considering the possibility of setting up a citizens' advisory committee. The scope of the proposed committee's activity was not decided by the board, but commissioners discussed the possibility of having the committee make suggestions for needed recreational programming and work for passage of a park development referendum.

College Data Is Offered Parents

Parents of junior students at Arlington High School have been invited to a Parent Information Night to learn answers to questions concerning college planning, visitations, applications, requirements, and other aspects.

The program will be held in Helene Bristol Theater beginning at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Counselors will be available at the informal meeting to offer answers to questions that have arisen as juniors begin to make college selections. (A

29 Property Sales Told

A total of 29 transactions in Arlington Heights were announced in the latest monthly Wheeling township real estate transfer report from County Recorder Sidney R. Olsen.

New Tanker Truck Is Showpiece of Fire Department

If you happen to meet a Long Grove fireman at the Crossroads one of the first things he's bound to do is urge you into the fire station to look at the new 1,000-gallon tanker, delivered Feb. 3. The $26,000 beauty," paid for by taxpayers, has been described by Chief Melvin Towner as "one of the finest pieces of fire fighting equipment in northern Illinois."

Delivery of the truck marks the end of a 10-month waiting period. First purchasing the chassis, consisting of back wheels and frame, the department contracted with the Howe Co. of Anderson, Ind., to custom make the body. Adding to the cost of the vehicle is the equipment, such as nozzles, smoke ejector, lights and cord reels, which is expected to run around $3500. Radio equipment will be extra. These items will be paid for through dance money.

TAXPAYERS made possible the special tanker when in the March 1966 referendum they approved a raise in the tax levy. It had been the first time since the organization of the Long Grove Fire Protection District in 1940 that a referendum was requested. Residents responded willingly, approving the raise by a 106 to 11 vote.

Other equipment includes a 1,000 gallon tanker bought with dance profits in 1956, an 800 gallon pumper built in 1948, a 600 gallon vehicle acquired in 1952 which is used for grass fires and an equipment truck used on resuscitator calls. Receiving its share of attention the past year is the department's 1929 Model-A. Rebuilt and painted, it's ready for parades and exhibits.

At the regular monthly meeting firemen held Feb. 6, plans were made to set up a training schedule to acquaint volunteers with the features of the new tanker.

At an adjourned meeting of the Kildeer board of education held Feb. 6, members adopted a new salary schedule for teachers, which will amount to a $450 to $500 increase per year in wages.

That evening members also agreed to raise the price of school hot lunches, boosting the student's lunch from 35 to 40 cents, and the adult's, from 40 to 45 cents, to go into effect in September.

Other business at the meeting included the adoption of a revised insurance policy to meet the needs of present construction. Board members whose terms expire this spring are Pres. Fred French and Willard Fournier.

KILDEER Community Club has donated $75 to Stevenson High School toward the purchase of an enlarger and other equipment for a dark-room to be used by student newspaper and yearbook photographers. The business office reports that additional donations of money or equipment would be greatly appreciated by the students, since the school's budget does not provide for needs in the project. Space in the building is available and if equipment can be purchased a photography club, open to all students, will be formed.

Have you considered the possibility of providing an "adoptive home" for an AFS student next year? If you wish to file an application, there is still time to contact the chairmen, the Fred Frenches, whose responsibility it is to interview prospective host families and send on the selected applications to New York. Final choice is made by the New York AFS office.

This area's present AFS visitor is Terry Ong, who has made himself quite "at home." At Sevenson he is manager of the crosscountry team, president of the Art Club, activities editor of the year book, a member of the Pep Club and the chorus and is a drummer in the band. Main interest is art.

Families who would like to become better acquainted with Terry and to learn about his home in Perak, Malaysia, are asked to call him at the Douglas MacDonalds.

ALSO IN THE AFS for fron are Joan Schaum and Scott Hoyne. They will be waiting to hear regarding the final selection concerning this area's summer representative overseas. Final news will come from the New York office.

From Supt. M. L. Murphy comes word that the Kildeer eighth grade plays, "Laundry Mark" and Happy Man," have been postponed so many times that it has been decided to shove them up to the first part of April.

News of Kildeer Countryside

by Emma Keiler GEneral 8-8622

The snows snarled up circle meetings so that only the afternoon meeters were able to gather on schedule. At the Anton Bergs,' members turned out in good numbers for the Feb. 8 meeting and turned in five dozen cancer dressings, as reported by Social Service Chairman Bessie Geest. Special treat of the afternoon was to hear Dorothy Loudon's debut as a guitar player. "This is the first time I have played my guitar in public," said Dorothy in greeting her audience. Later, responding to a roomful of women's voices, Tony Berg added masculine harmony to one of the numbers with Dorothy. Also adding to the program was Gwen's performance at her new organ.

NEED SOMETHING to spark up your Friday mornings from 9:30 to 11 o'clock? Why not look into the idea of becoming a substitute bowler with the Swingin' Cats? Chairman Mrs. Myrl Brode 438-6766, will be glad to give you details.

Or for those who have a need for some mind-stretching on Thursday mornings, there is the Bible discussion which goes on, with Rev. Bert Helm as leader. Current subject is the book of Mathew.

Mrs. Rushton Williamson served as leader of a session for administrators at the spring preview for church school teachers Feb. 12 at the United Church of Christ in Des Palines.

Fifteen seventh graders are enrolled in the Wednesday afternoon church school class which convenes at the church social rooms under Mrs. Fred French's leadership. Rev. Helm conducts the eighth grade class of prospective confirmands.

Despite snow or hail or anything that may prevail, the Saturday night potluck bridge players always seem to make it for their plays. Meeting at the Joe Klemeyers' on Saturday were the Don Davisons, James Cummins, Whitford Kuhns, John Petersons and the Clifford Marxes.

Enthusiasm spilled over in Mrs. Jack Morgenson's words when she remarked, "What could be more fun than a skiing weekend?" Jack, Greta, Greta's sister, Martha Olson and her fiance, John Devoe, both of Minneapolis, spent the weekend on the Wilmot slopes. For Martha it was a breather from her duties as teacher in a school in Wyzeta, outside of Minneapolis.

DRIVING TO O'Hare Friday morning, Mrs. Robert Taylor greeted Mrs. Sherman Maissel, whose husband was recently appointed to the Federal Reserve Board. The Washington resident's four hours in between planes gave them an opportunity to re-kindle a friendship that started when they were working toward graduate degrees in Washington, D. C. Via conversation during luncheon at Henrici's, it was a treat for Alberta to hear of her friend's experiences in government life the last 25 years.

"Glad I missed your snowstorm. It's 80 degrees here!" writes Mrs. Leonora Stoerp, who with three friends has rented an apartment in Tucson, and shows no signs of wanting to start for home until April.

Equally content sound the Harold Evanses, who are glad to have escaped the miseries of plowing out their long, curving driveway on McHenry Road. Settled in their mobile home in West Palm Beach, they're caught up in a round of shuffleboard, parites and crafts and don't plan to start for home until friends write them they've seen at least their 10th robin.

FRIENDS WHO'VE heard from the George Schroders say they have purchased a condominium in Del Rey Beach, Fla., only a block from the beach. Not long ago their daughter and family vacationed with them from Indianapolis and for Bud and Marion it was a special treat to watch their grandson, Scottie's delight in their new home.

It was a glad surprise for those of us who "caught" Fred Dahlberg's voice over the phone last weekend. He was home from Hines for the weekend and was off again Monday for more hospital attention. Also wishes go to Clifford Marx, home from St. Therese Hospital, and to Kate Eissler who has been requiring constant care at home, where she is bedridden.

Happy wedding anniversary wishes go to the Grover Jungbluths, Feb. 22; and may the candles cast a birthday glow for Marge Peterson, 16th, and for Minnie Meyer, 20th. (WP

Davey Gamble, son of Dave and Norma Gamble, 324 N. Morris, is home recuperating from an emergency appendectomy at St. Alexius Hospital in Elk Grove. While there, he roomed for a day with Randy Hague, son of the H. A. Hagues of 150 N. Rohlwing Road.

The six-week old twins of Frederick and Judy Cimaglio, 827 N. Glenn Drive, were christened Sunday at St. Thomas of Villanova by Fr. William Buckley of St. Catherine Laboure in Glenview. Attending were relatives from as far away as Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The two families can find no record of twins born into them since their emigration from Denmark and Lithuania, so Kimberly Ann and Timothy Andrew are really something special around the Cimaglio household.

AFTER THE christening, relatives and friends were invited to an open house at the Cimaglios home. Among the 50 guests were the two sets of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cimaglio and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maturo. Judy's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Sefranek of Brookfield, also were in attendance, along with Kimberly Ann's godparents, Miss Mary Cimaglio and Larry Cimaglio, and Timothy Andrew's godparents, Mrs. Nancy Cimaglio and John Frost. Adding to the celebration were Winston Park neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gregory, and friends from River Woods, Deerfield and Glenview.

Shirley and Bob Byrne, 651 Williams, and Barb and Paul Kennedy, 1302 Sanborn, had a joint anniversary celebration Saturday night. After a dinner at the Brass Rail in the Sheraton O'Hare, they played pool to commemorate 14 years of "the great life" for the Byrnes, seven for the Kennedys.

THE WHOLE GANG was on hand to help Jimmy Savage, 150 N. Bissell Drive, celebrate his seventh birthday Feb. 4. Among the guests were Christopher Caddy, Mark, Lynn, and Greg Gillis, Julie Kett, Lee Lundstedt and Jonathan Bobruk.

Saturday, while Winston Park dug itself out of a second snowstorm, Peggy and Will Quam, 425 N. Rohlwing, walked around Denver, sans coats, seeing the sights. Will was on business in Colorado with the University of Denver, and Peggy accompanied him on the five-day trip. Sights included on the excursion were Denver's art museum and historical society, plus a jaunt through the mountains as far as Estes Park.

THE JIM Briegers, 853 E. Carpenter, kept busy this weekend. On Saturday, Jim and Bernice entertained Fred and Ruth Getsinger and their children. The Getsingers are newcomers who moved to Hoffman Estates this January, and Fred and Jim work together at Sea Land Transportation. On Sunday, despite the snow, they made it to Hackneys for dinner with neighbors Fred and Shirley Johnson, 848 Carpenter.

Houseguests at Joyce and Neil Helander's, 251 N. Morris last weekend, were Carole Reuber and her fiance, Lee Arlow. Joyce, a former stewardess with United Airlines, used to room with Carole, who is a stewardess for American, and the girls try to get together once a year. This year, Carole had just returned from a vacation in Acapulco, and Joyce is expecting a baby in June, so there was plenty to talk about over the short but happy visit. (P

Kickin' It Around

By BOB FRISK
Sports Editor

Hustle Can Pay Big Dividends . . .

Basketball coaches can't put too much emphasis on hustle. They know how important it is to the success of any team, big or little. They try to drive this point across all season.

If you loaf, you deserve to get beat. You should hang your head in defeat. If you hustle and still lose, you have nothing to be ashamed about.

How many teams have you seen in recent years that just went through the motions, rarely exerting that extra effort that is so important?

How many players have you seen who stood around on the floor, always waiting for someone else to take charge, seemingly more interested in getting the season over with than getting something out of the season?

A ball club can make up in hustle what it lacks in other departments. You have a perfect example in St. Viator's amazing Lions, an outfit that has stunned the Chicagoland Prep League this winter with an unexpected rush to championship contention.

This club just doesn't know what it is to quit, to submit to the staggering challenges it has faced week after week this winter.

They disposed of St. Patrick last Saturday on the Shamrocks' floor. They've knocked off DeLaSalle. And they've done it without a starter taller than 6-2. They're winning with less basketball talent than has been present on previous Lion entries. Hustle has to be one of the big reasons.

You can get a group of boys together who possess that something extra that is so very important. They know where they're lacking and they adjust accordingly in other departments.

There's another gigantic challenge ahead Friday evening. St. Viator goes to DeLaSalle to catch a big, rugged club smarting for revenge.

It'll be tough but so was that trip to St. Patrick last Saturday. There isn't an easy road game in the Chicagoland Prep League. No schoolboy division offers more variety in actual playing conditions.

Regardless of what transpires over the final weeks of this 1966-67 season, this St. Viator outfit has convincingly demonstrated what can be done with that extra effort, that refusal to admit defeat.

They've accomplished so much with what seemed to be so little.

Even if you didn't know the man, anyone with Arlington High School affiliations—either past or present—should try to make an effort to come out Friday evening and help honor H. W. (Pappy) Grace. And come down to the cafeteria after the game to say hello to this man who did so much for Arlington in his 17 years on the job.

Will Big Man Force Changes? . .

The spectacular achievements of UCLA's 7-foor-1 Lew Alcindor this winter have prompted some discussion among basketball buffs as to a possible change in the rules in the very near future.

Alcindor's method of destroying a team is simple. He lingers close to the basket, just outside the lane, grabs high passes from teammates, and throws in shots from 10 feet out or closer.

What can you do as a coach unless you are blessed with a big man of your own?

The most popular suggestion is to raise the baskets but most coaches appear to agree it would not be a real solution.

"The big man still would have a big edge, both in shooting and rebounding," Northwestern coach Larry Glass points out. "Raising the basket would make outshooting more difficult and thus penalize the smaller players."

Glass feels that if anything is done to try to reduce the big man's advantage it would be to go to the Olympic lane around the basket.

The big man forced the lane to be widened originally, and this would force him still farther away from the basket.

The Olympic lane tapers from the free throw line to a baseline width of 18 feet in comparison to the present lane's 12 feet.

The larger lane would keep the big guy from roaming around so close to the basket where he can haul down those lob passes and push the ball back up and through.

We wonder if four starters on Marion High School's varsity basketball team will even show up for practice this week. They weren't needed last Friday when the Wildcats dropped an 88-86 decision in two overtimes to West Frankfort. Marion's Greg Starrick, a 6-2 senior guard, scored 70 of his team's 86 points, hitting 28 of 62 shots from the floor and 14 of 16 free throws. He had 21 points in the third quarter.

Shot Put King Tops 60 Feet . . .

It may seem to be too early to start talking about high school track, but with this lousy winter weather we've been having it's enjoyable just to think about those spring

Conant Hosting Eight Teams For District Cage Gathering

by KEN KNOX

Who can beat Immaculate Conception?

Such is the foremost question as eight teams ready for Round One of 1967 Illinois high school tournament play, the Conant district to be waged Tuesday through Friday of next week.

It will be one of 46 such districts staged throughout the state, ostensibly matching the smaller schools for qualification to play in neighboring regionals.

And at Conant, with the first tipoff set for 7:00 p.m. Tuesday in the Hoffman Estates-based gymnasium, there is that nagging question: who can beat Immaculate Conception?

It's not so much that the Elmhurst school is the defending district champion, having nipped Lake Park for the distinction last winter. Nor is it solely that IC is seeded No. 1 in the tourney.

IT IS, basically, that the Knights—under new headman Jim Weniger—are truly one of the outstanding teams in the entire Chicago area, a small but precision unit that has won 17 of 19 games this year, including 14 in a row, and stands 11-0 in the broad-based Suburban Catholic Conference. They are a formidable target indeed for the other seven assembled: host Conant, Lake Park, Fenton, Elk Grove, Addison Trail, Wheaton North and Maryville Academy.

Behind a cast headed by sharp-shooting 5-10 guard Jim Morgan, the Knights have lost only to two unheralded teams, Argo (55-40) in the second game of the year, and Providence (87-70) the Saturday before last. Their victims include two of the best Catholic teams in the Chicago area, St. Mel and—in a much—heralded showdown last Friday—Notre Dame of Niles.

"To be truthful," Weniger told Paddock Publications last week, "I never suspected we would

Weekend Is Urgent

Pirates on Friday For Prospect Five

by KEN KNOX

The hour has grown late, the situation urgent, and the task no easier for Prospect's basketball Knights.

If they mean to have at least part of another Mid-Suburban League title, the minimum requirement is winning the three league games left for them, and two of them will show up in less than 24 hours this weekend.

be with Norm Jones' Pirates on Friday night, and the second — in the Maine East fieldhouse—will be Maine West, a game delayed from the Super-Storm and set for 1:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

It's surely no solace for Dick Kinneman's crew that both games will be away, both against teams that can be labeled the most improved in the MSL, and both re-matches of contests close enough to make the Knights nervous the first time around.

Even then, there won't be much rest as the Knights try to make up the ground lost to Arlington in the pounding last Saturday, for Prospect is due for a postponed game at home with

Cards to Host Falcon Quintet

Name Gym After Former AHS Athletic Director

by Bob Frisk

"Pappy" Grace, who for 17 years watched Arlington High basketball teams in action, gets his first and only look Friday evening at what many observers call the finest entry in school history.

Arlington fans hope he witnesses the clinching of at least a share of the Mid-Suburban League flag.

Forest View fans naturally don't share those sentiments. They're thinking in terms of upset.

It'll be "Pappy" Grace night Friday at Arlington as one of the most popular men in area sports history returns to the school he served so capably for so many years.

A CRUCIAL Mid-Suburban League confrontation between pace-setting Arlington and third place Forest View shares the spotlight with the special dedication ceremonies.

They're naming the Arlington gym after "Pappy", athletic director at the oldest District 214 school for 17 years. The ceremonies will be staged at halftime of the varsity game.

It's ironic that the man who did so much for Arlington's sports program could be a part of the clinching of at least a share of one of the school's very rare basketball titles.

A WIN FRIDAY over the visiting Falcons would nail down a share of the Mid Suburban title for Ted Wissen's Cardinals. They could win it outright with victories in each of their last two conference frays.

Arlington will travel to Wheeling next Wednesday evening in a makeup of a snowed-out contest.

Although they bounced back from a stunning loss to Maine West on Friday with a shelling of Prospect, Wissen's Cardinals are still wary of this upcoming struggle with Forest View.

ARLINGTON expects another ball-control game similar to the first meeting when they pulled out a 33-23 victory. And the Falcons' head man Ken Arneson admits his club will play control ball in an effort to upend the leaders.

Forest View, handicapped by the loss of veteran guard and scoring leader, Bucky Jones who is out for the season, slowed things down last Friday in a 42-20 loss to Prospect.

With Jones out Frank Calvello and Rich Gillespie handle the backcourt positions with Ted Lambert and Bob Arnold at the forwards and Howie Brasch at the pivot.

LAMBERT IS the Falcons' big man in league play with 108 points and a 10.8 average,

"PAPPY" GRACE
Back Home

and he's the only starter in double figures. Brasch is next in line at 7.8, and Arnold, who's had some nice outings in recent weeks, stands at 7.7.

The Falcons shackled Prospect's high-scoring Tom Lundstedt with only one basket and two free throws last Friday and hope to shut off Arlington's Steve Allen tomorrow. Steve checked in with nine in that first meeting with Forest View.

Allen passed the 1,000 points barrier for his career with a superb performance against Prospect and still looms as the key man in a Cardinal attack that is dangerous because of its balance.

ALLEN, who's scoring at a 17.7 clip in the league, and Dave Lockwood (12.5) are the only starters averaging in double figures in MSL warfare, but Terry Townley (9.9) and Jim Donchess (9.4) are close and Steve Conley (7.5) also can come up with the big effort.

The two clubs will be coming off opposite performances when they tangle Friday.

The Falcons couldn't buy a basket for most of the game Saturday in falling to non-conference rival Glenbrook North for the second time.

Arlington didn't have any trouble finding the basket in a romp past Prospect before a packed house in the Knight fieldhouse.

The Falcons have been stung with three straight setbacks after wrapping up three straight wins and now stand 6-12 for the season with all six triumphs in Mid-Suburban play.

Arlington will bring a 15-3 record into the important league tilt, and the Cards have a home court streak they'd like to keep intact. They haven't lost at home in 10 games stretching over two seasons and are 16-1 before the home folks in the past two campaigns.

Lions Meet DeLaSalle in League Headliner

Travel Friday, Home Saturday

by BOB FRISK

The signs spell it out in the school halls. "We're No. 1" they proudly proclaim. "Go Lions, beat Meteors."

Even head coach Larry Nomellini must find it difficult to comprehend at times.

St. Viator is No. 1 in the Chicagoland Prep League. The amazing Lions admittedly have company, but they do hold a share of this lofty ranking with only three league games remaining.

THE CLUB with no size but loaded with hustle and desire has stunned the Chicagoland division with a steady march to the upper echelon.

They're proving there still is a place for the little guy in this game of basketball.

Every week St. Viator is faced with a stiff challenge in this league loaded with challenges. The upcoming weekend is no exception.

FRESH FROM a nine-point conquest of touted St. Patrick on the Shamrocks' floor, the Lions now await a trip to DeLaSalle and a home game with St. Joseph.

The rugged DeLaSalle Meteors are one of the clubs sharing the Chicagoland Prep lead with St. Viator. The other is St. Mel, and the Lions must catch the Knights on Friday, Feb. 24, in the division finale.

There's no rest for the weary, no breathers ahead. Every game offers a new set of problems, and the Lions are well aware that they'll need some superb performances — efforts rivalling that crisp exhibition of cage prowess at St. Pat's last Saturday—if they envision taking home the coveted league crown.

FRANK HOGAN

IT'S NEVER easy tackling a DeLaSalle outfit, but the problems are compounded for this Friday's game by at least two factors: the Meteor home floor advantage and the revenge angle.

Coach Jerry Tokars' Meteors are rough any place but exceptionally hard to handle on their own floor. And they'll be waiting for the Lions with an obvious revenge motive. They've taken two straight losses to St. Viator fives.

Nomellini's 1965-66 outfit leveled highly regarded DeLaSalle 69-52 in a February shocker that they're still talking about at the Arlington Heights school.

AND ONLY a few short weeks ago St. Viator tripped up DeLaSalle again, this time in a 66-64 thriller. Both victories came on the Lion floor.

The Meteors have been on a scoring rampage in recent weeks and appear to have found the right combination after a so-so start.

One of the biggest contributors to the recent surge has been 6-3 senior forward Dennis O'Toole. He has had 127 points in his last six conference outings with a 39-point explosion (a school record) against Marian Catholic.

LARUE MARTIN, a 6-5 junior who loves to hit the boards in rebound battles, is the Meteors' top league scorer with an 18.5 average, but three starters score at a better than 17 clip in Chicagoland warfare.

Martin, O'Toole, and 6-3 senior Claude Wilson are the key men on the attack which is engineered by two pint-sized guards, Mel Meyers and Ron Williams.

St. Viator can't expect an easy time Saturday in a home game with St. Joseph. The Chargers took them to the wire in an earlier get-together and BOB SHEA is St. Joseph's top league scorer with 162 points in 11 outings, and the 5-9 junior guard likes to uncork those long jump shots.

St. Viator will counter with its "big four" and the mystery man. Nomellini appears to have settled on a starting four of Frank Hogan, Dan Collins, Tom Epperly and Greg Polich but is still searching for a reliable fifth man.

Two Tough Assignments

'Cats Leave League For Weekend Action

by KEITH REINHARD

Time out usually means time for a breather.

Wheeling's respiratory system will experience no easing in tempo this weekend when they take time out from the Mid-Suburban wars for a pair of non-conference scuffles.

Friday night their bus takes them to Lawler and Old Orchard Roads in Skokie where a hostile band of Niles Northmen stand ready to fatten an already impressive series bulge.

The following evening the Wildcats will have to raise the archways slightly to allow a lanky bunch from Notre Dame in without ducking their heads.

THE VIKINGS, still fondling fond memories of an 80-75 uprising in the Wildcat lair less than a month ago, hope to attain conquest number five over Wheeling in as many tries during a three-year span.

Saturday, in the Dons, Wheeling faces one of their toughest hurdles of the season. A quick team with an impressive win-loss slate, the Niles-based team features a pair of skyscrapers the Cats might need a stepladder to reach.

Wheeling won't even get that breather when loop action resumes. Next Wednesday they resume Mid-Suburban play by hosting the league-leading Arlington unit in a storm-canceled makeup contest.

IN NILES NORTH, the Wildcats pair off with a team similar in a number of respects. Both aggregations have quick, well-balanced attacks, each carries an even .500 league mark into the encounter, and on either side is a team member who personally recalls all the other occasions when these clubs have clashed.

How these two cagers remember the past points to a strong difference in squad backgrounds. Wildcat veteran Scott Bischoff can recall the outings disdainfully while Viking hoopster Mike Weil happily remembers the past meetings.

The last contest was especially pleasing for Weil, who paced his team with 20 points. Bischoff, who as a sophomore scored nine each in 79-59 and 72-62 losses to Niles and nine again as junior in a 68-47 setback, hopes to graduate this year with memories of victory over the Vikings freshest in his mind.

WEIL TOPS THE Niles scoring thrust with an even 18-point league scoring average but three mates also have loop mediums in excess of ten in Bob Wilson (15.3), Bruce Saltzberg (13.3) and Al Young (11.0).

Scott Schirmer rounds out the front five close behind at 7.4.

Wheeling has three qualifying for double digit honors in overall scoring with two other starters close enough to move into the bracket on the strength of one good weekend. Tom Bastable continues to head the list with a 14.2 mark and Rex Peterson, who pumped in 26 last time they met Niles, owns a 12.6 with Bischoff at 12.0. Jeff Winterburg possesses a 9.5 average and Jack Bastable is just two points shy of a 10 pace at 9.9.

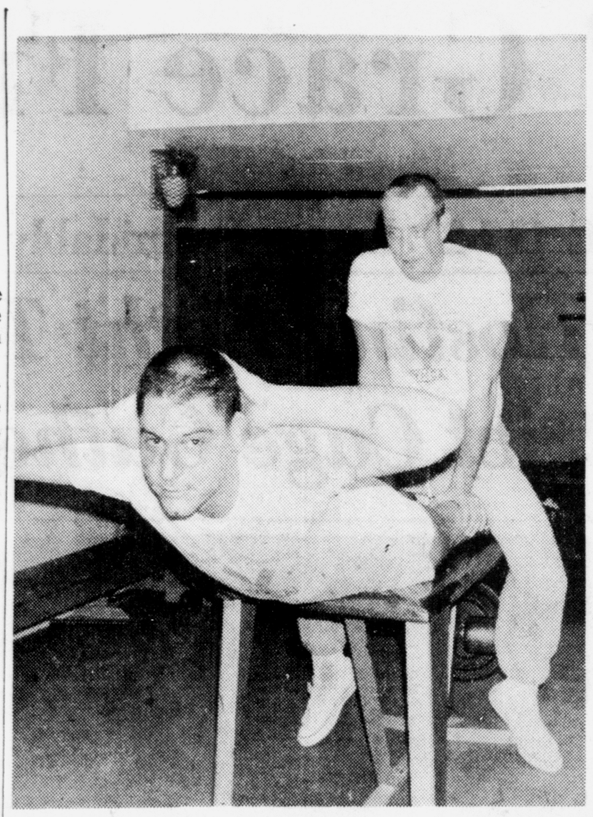
THE WILDCATS enter the fray with a 5-5 conference mark. Niles North is 4-4 in the topsy-turvy Central Suburban League race.

The Cats also enter the Friday contest with a season slate of 9-6. How this will appear on Saturday when Notre Dame comes to town is uncertain but a positive fact is that the hosts will have their hands full in staying with the Dons.

Sporting a 15-2 mark prior to this weekend after a tight loss to highly rated Immaculate Conception of Elmhurst last Friday, 51-46, the Niles outfit has a center so rangy one of the Bastable brothers would have to get on the others' shoulders to stand abreast of him.

And only a junior, 6-8 Barry Hentz has company up in the clouds with teammate 6-6½ Steve Orser standing next to him.

With nobody in the starting lineup of Mike Owens budging the six-foot mark, a pair of stilts might not be out of order in coping with the Dons.



CAN SPRING BE FAR BEHIND? Dick Bertell, former Chicago Cubs catcher who was recently reacquired from the San Francisco Giants, and Dick Ellsworth (foreground), former Cub pitcher and now with the Philadelphia Phillies, used the Northwest Suburban YMCA for daily workouts in preparation for the 1967 season.

Soph Cage Facts

Fremd	19	18	15	8—60
Niles West	15	10	2	15—41

Highlights — One of the best games of the season for the Soph Vikings of Tom Howard, it featured a balanced team effort, good defense, and a 51 per cent field goal performance. Bill Mazenet, with 18 points, and Gerry Grybash, with 16, led the scoring, though each played only three quarters. Mazenet also pulled down 15 rebounds, and Gary Davis 10. The Vikings broke the game wide open with a 15-2 third quarter.

Wheeling	15	17	18	15—65
Palatine	11	12	11	15—49

Highlights — Gary Tjarks' sophs turned in their eleventh straight victorious performance and upped their MSL slate to 8-0 with their second win this season over the Pirates. Palatine did manage to show better than an 84-43 trouncing by Wheeling last time around and Phil Donahue of the Pirates edged Cat Carl Fricke for game scoring honors, 18-17. A dozen of Fricke's composite game in the third quarter when Wheeling put the game out of reach. Others posting double figure outputs were Kevin McNamara of Palatine with 10 and Kim Denton and Gary Salata of Wheeling with 16 and 12 respectively.

St. Viator	9	12	13	11—45
Marian	9	14	8	12—43

Highlights — The Lions were able to make a two-point lead hold up in the closing seconds Friday. Marian missed on two free throws in the closing attempts which could have knotted the score. Don Reising and Dave Erfort paced the Lions with 10 points each. Greg Doyle had nine.

St. Viator	6	10	16	15—47
St. Patrick	12	23	17	8—60

Highlights — Jim Hynes and Dick Aylward each had 10 points for the Lions in a losing effort. Dave Erfort collected nine.

Arlington	5	15	8	8—36
Maine West	7	6	11	10—34

Highlights — The Cardinals of coach Tom Pitchford ran their record to 10-4 with a tight victory over Maine West. Arlington jumped out in front early, but the Warriors kept things hot in the final half. Cris Buttenob was high for the Cards with 16 points on seven field goals and two free throws.

Elk Grove	15	15	12	13—55
Conant	12	10	9	15—46

Highlights — Elk Grove led all the way, and the Grenadiers were paced by Joe Kalicz who scored 22 points. Frank Shultz added 13 to the winning total and freshman Gene Pinder had 11.

Kickin' It Around

A notable achievement already has been recorded indoors on the prep scene and may signal a season of spectacular performances.

Given a break from the weatherman (yep, it's a problem in the spring too) the state should enjoy its finest track and field season in history. Four state champs return.

The big news indoors so far was the effort of 60 feet six inches in the shot put last week by Herschel Benberry of Bloom. The defending state shot put king also had a throw of 60 feet five inches in the meet.

Benberry won the state as a junior with a throw of 59 feet five inches and reached 59 feet 11½ inches outdoors.

He has set his personal goals at 62 feet indoors and 64 feet outdoors, and it appears the Paddock area just may lose its hold on one of two state track marks.

Andy Merutka of Palatine currently holds the state shot put mark at 62 feet two and one-quarter inches, but Benberry is a good bet to pass that this spring.

The other Paddock area product with a state record is Bill Palmer of Arlington. Palmer cleared six feet five and one-fourth inches in 1957 and although that mark has been threatened many times at the state finals, it has never been surpassed.

Prospect High grad George Morris continues to impress with the University of Illinois indoor track squad. Last Friday Morris took the 440 in 48.9 and finished second in a sizzling 300 in a triangular with Missouri and Iowa State. He anchored Illinois' mile relay to a winning 3:19.7. Missouri's Steve Halliburton, the boy who beat Morris in the 300 yard dash, was the Illinois state champ in the 440 yard dash in 1963.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington smashed LaGrange in West Suburban basketball, 72-53, as Tom Jacobsen fired in 23 points, hitting 11 of 16 shots from the floor . . . Bob Lockwood had 15 and Jack Weber was the leader in the rebounding department for the Cards who bounced back from a double loss the previous weekend.

Knights, Pirates

Deerfield at 6:00 p.m. Monday. Palatine's busy week — which included a game with New Trier West Tuesday — will bring Glenbrook South to the Pirate court Saturday night.

BUT THE first consideration is this Friday night, the head-to-head between Prospect and Palatine. And though the Knights—with their 7-2 conference log—would be the obvious favorites with the Pirates standing 2-8, it's hardly a sure thing.

Psychology could be working for both sides. To say the Knights need an uplift after the disaster with Arlington would be understatement, and they'd like to use Palatine as a springboard while hoping that someone else — as did Maine West —could spring a shock on the Cardinals.

The Pirates are better than they were just a few weeks ago, and they know it. Their last weekend was one of bitter disappointment, with losses to both Wheeling and Maine West in the closing seconds, and they should be smarting to take it out on someone.

KINNEMAN IS shifting his lineup again, in an effort to find some combination that's consistently workable. The standouts Tom Lundstedt and Dave Kingman will remain at a forward and center, respectively, but Kinneman reported himself doubtful about one guard spot, leaning to ex-JV player Forrest Haney at the other guard, and a return to Butch Leonard at forward.

Haney, up from the junior varsity for two weeks now, is a 5-7 operative who had a couple of 20-point nights on the lower level, and has tasted varsity experience. Leonard, a 6-1 performer, was a starter earlier in the year, and showed enough hustle in the Arlington game to win the nod again.

In other personnel movements, guard Jim Gumz was also brought up from the JV, and forward Mike Mueller is now believed to be out for the duration with illness.

At Palatine, headman Jones has been finding success —or near-success — with a lineup of Dick Smith (6-3) and Wayne Render (6-1) at forwards, Doug Spruance (6-4) at center, and John Ekeberg (5-9) and Tim Sullivan (5-9) at guards.

He's also received some good bench performances particularly from 5-9 guard Mike Ferguson.

The key to the Palatine resurgence — even though it has not yet paid off much with victory—is an aggressive, almost frantic brand of play, a perpetual hustling that almost beat Wheeling and Maine, and gave Arlington trouble.

IMPORTANT, too, has been steadying performances by all hands, but particularly Smith and Ekeberg. Smith has been on a binge in his last six games that has made him one of the most dangerous shooters in the MSL, and Ekeberg—besides sparking the aggressive play—has now been double figures in his last two games.

The first time the two played, Prospect won 65-54, and things figure to be closer this time.

When the Knights met perpetual rival Maine West the first time this season, they won by only three, and with the return match slated on Maine's floor, nothing is certain.

THE WARRIORS — carried by the inside work of high-scoring threat Al Fritz and the outside work of forward Harry Tistle — are fresh from their biggest weekend of the season, for besides beating Palatine, they had the relish of the one-point nipping of Arlington Fri-

The other Warriors in Prospect's future — Deerfield's — can't hurt the Knights in the MSL, but they're currently leading everyone in a tight Central Suburban race, standing 6-3 there. They're a rangy team of good scoring balance, though they presented no problem (84-51) to Prospect the first time this season.

The Pirates haven't played Glenbrook South this year, and with the Titans standing 1-7 in the CSL, it could be a rewarding game for Palatine. They're a low-scoring team already beaten this year by Arlington and Wheeling, and Palatine would like to join the list of conquerors.

And Again By Three . . .

Warriors Nip Pirates

by JIM FRUEHLING

Palatine's Pirates turned in an inspired performance for three quarters against Maine West Saturday night, only to be turned away 46-43 in the closing minutes of play.

It was a tight contest all the way. Head coach Norm Jones never saw his charges down by more than three points. Unfortunately, that three-point spread made its appearance as time was running out on the Pirates. It was a tough loss for the battling Palatine squad which had held the lead for more than 25 of the 32 minutes of action, and it was the second of the season by three points to the Warriors.

After giving the lead-off bucket to the Warriors, Wayne Render got Palatine rolling with an eight-foot jumper to knot the score 2-2. Trading buckets, Dick Smith and Doug Spruance each cornered a pair of points to keep the Pirates tied at 6-6. A pair of charity tosses by Palatine floor leader, John Ekeberg, and a 10-footer by Smith found the two squads squared-off at 10-10. Ekeberg popped in a 10 foot jumper from the base line in the waning seconds of the period to give the Pirates a two point advantage heading into quarter number two.

Two facts demonstrate the closeness of this ball game. The contest was tied five times and neither team had been able to pull out in front by more than two points.

IT WAS DURING the second quarter that Palatine opened up the biggest lead of the night. A pretty drive by Ekeberg, coming on the heels of a three point play by his running mate, Tim Sullivan, put the Pirates on top 22-16. However, that edge was short lived as the Warriors fought back to a 24-23 score as the period was drawing to a close. Smith gave the fans a thrill and his team some additional momentum by canning a desperation effort from half-court as time ran out in the first half with the Pirates claiming a 26-23 advantage.

Ekeberg and Smith accounted for all the Palatine scoring in the third quarter. This pair also paced Pirate scoring with Smith heading the list with 14 points and Ekeberg following up with 13.

In period number three, Ekeberg, dealing a hot hand from the charity stripe, connected on five free throws and a beautiful hooking drive. Smith added five points and the Pirates were on top 38-35. However, the Warriors' Dick Manny repeated Smith's half-court effort by arching home a 35-footer that beat the buzzer to make the score 38-37.

THE WARRIOR momentum carried over to the beginning of the final period. By successfully working their tip-off play, Maine regained the lead for the first time since the opening minutes of play. Spruance got the lead right back at 40-39 by connecting on both ends of a one and one opportunity.

However, two straight baskets by the Warriors opened up that fatal three point lead at 43-40. Mike Ferguson got off the Pirate bench to deliver a clutch drive which Smith capped by dropping through a free throw to tie the score at 43-43.

Then followed a period of frustration for Smith — a stand out all night. With two minutes left in the game and Maine in a stall, Smith was fouled, but failed to convert the free throws that would have tied the ball game.

However, the all-league candidate was to experience a greater frustration. With less than half a minute left in the game and Maine trying to run out the clock, he broke in front of his man and picked off a pass.

Breaking down court, Smith had one man to beat. About seven feet from the bucket, he suddenly stopped and let his man fly past. Going up for the tying two-pointer, Smith let loose a seven-foot jumper which tipped the front of the rim and skidded over the open hoop. For all intents and purposes, that was the ball game. Maine added another free throw in the closing seconds to run the final score to 46-43.

Conant District

have this record at this point in the year. There has been very good teamwork and support. Morgan gets all the publicity, and he should because he's an all-stater, but he hasn't done it alone, that's for sure."

MORGAN, who is leading his league with a 22.7 average and had 39 points in one game, is abetted by Tom Herlihy, a 5-10 guard, who moved in from Detroit; Terry Koch, the team's "big man" at 6-2, 210 pounds; and two 6-1 forwards, Jim Long and Dennis Doyle. Long is the next most dangerous scorer after Morgan, averaging over 15 points a game in the league. The leading subs are 6-1 forward Mike Kroening and 5-9 guard Mike Malley.

Good shooting—better than 50 per cent from the floor for the year—is the hallmark for the Knights, and it has to be because they are so small.

Weniger is aware that a win in the Conant district would put the Knights in a good regional position, because the winner goes to the Maine South Regional the Monday after to open against an only moderately-successful Maine West team. The only problem would be the likelihood of meeting Notre Dame again in the semi-finals.

THE KNIGHTS will square off against Frank Hulka's Addison Trail Blazers in Game One at Conant Tuesday, facing the No. 8 seeded team in the field. The Blazers, in their first season, are winless in 18 games, standing 0-12 in the Des Plaines Valley League, and have lost to both Conant and Elk Grove of the teams assembled for the district. The Blazers, led by 6-2 junior forward Jim Tesch—averaging 12.7 in the DPV—have been steadily improving, but still have trouble staying with any team late in the game.

The host Cougars will draw Fenton in the 8:30 game Tuesday night, a game matching the No. 5 and No. 4 seeded teams.

Chick Anderson's Cougars, after a close loss to Niles West and a 14-point setback to Wheeling the past weekend, dipped to 3-15, and could use a good district effort to make up for some of the pains of the season. The team's scoring leader, guard Ed Johnson, appears to be back in shape after a twisted ankle, and with some recent improved showings by 6-4 center Brian Bethke, the team could be in good shape for Fenton.

PHIL HARDY'S Bisons, with a six-game losing string offsetting a good start, stood 7-12 over-all after the weekend. The Bisons were roughed up by Tri-County foes Wheaton North and Lake Park, both of the district field but nevertheless, have shown some resurgence of form. Their leader remains 6-0 forward Mike Gorman, 12.5 points a game in the Tri-County.

The tourney's third game — at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday — will bring together No. 2 Wheaton North and No. 7 Maryville. The Falcons, though young, have been well-regarded with Dick Helm at the helm this year, improving to 9-4 in the Tri-County over the weekend, and paced by a standout 6-2 junior forward in Ken Hohenstein, holder of a 22.7 average. The Terriers, always scrappy under veteran mentor John Abraham, have been short on success this year, but do have a good scoring threat in 6-1 senior Art Contreras.

In the last opening round game—8:30 p.m. Wednesday — Lake Park will meet the new squad from Elk Grove.

GUS PASQUINI'S Lancers, after a slow start, have come on behind standout 6-3 center Bill Grant to a 12-7 mark over-all, 9-3 in the Tri-County. Sure threat Grant had 33 points against Fenton Saturday, is averaging more than 20 points a game, and has been getting good support from guard Bill Robinson and — lately — from junior Rich Vana. The Lancers are seeded No. 3.

Bob Rees' Grenadiers have done well in their first year, standing 4-7 against varsity opponents, beating Addison Trail by 18 and losing to Fenton by eight. They don't score much, but have a knack for keeping their games close, and the big man in the young and balanced attack has been forward John Knopf with a 12-point average. In the seedings, they came up No. 6.

Northwest Gals in Another Easy Win

The Northwest Suburban Girls YMCA Swim Team won an easy victory over Elmhurst YMCA, 243 to 88. For the second week in a row the locals captured all the medley and free relays in all divisions.

The intermediates came through with three first places. Cathy Rowe of Arlington won the 50 yard freestyle and set a new team record of 27.6. Patti Wollerman of Arlington grabbed the 100 yard backstroke.

Connie Foster of Mount Prospect was a double winner for the Juniors, taking the 100 yard breaststroke, and the 100 yard freestyle, while Debbie Van Dormollen of Rolling Meadows won the 100 yard backstroke.

Mary Lee Cronin of Arlington took two first for the preps winning the 100 yard I.M. and the 50 yard breaststroke and Andy Sue Hibbs of Palatine won the 50 yard butterfly.

Carol Geisler of Prospect Heights, another consistent double winner for the midgets, got firsts in the 100 yard I.M. and 50 yard freestyle. Other area first places went to Kay Corbett of Rolling Meadows in the 25 yard backstroke; Sue Stahnke, Rolling Meadows 25 yard freestyle.

Jema Allen, a two-timer for the Cadets won the 25 yard breaststroke, and the 25 yard backstroke, and Carol Howland of Palatine placed first in the 25 yard freestyle.

Next Sunday, starting at 2 p.m. Northwest Suburban YMCA will host the Blue League Finals and the following teams will participate: Elmhurst, Harvey, West Suburban, Mont Clare Leyden, and Northwest Suburban.

Boys Swim Team Posts Tough Win

The boys swim team of Northwest Suburban YMCA defeated the Elmhurst Boys Swim team Saturday in a hard fought contest 158-128, bettering nine team records and all pool records.

The Cadets (8 and under) won the Medley Relay. John Epstein, Elk Grove Village, won the 25 yard freestyle; Tom Gran, Palatine, the 25 yard backstroke, and Brad Busse, Mount Prospect, the 25 yard breaststroke, winning the contest for the Cadets.

The Midgets (9 and 10) broke two pool records in winning the midget contest. Doug Schlak, Des Plaines, with a time of 13.5, won the 25 yard freestyle event bettering the pool record. Mike Salerno, Prospect Heights, set a pool record with a time of 15.2 in the 25 yard butterfly. He also won the 50 yard freestyle. David Sehnert, Palatine, won the 100 yard individual medley and the 25 yard breaststroke. Mark Okuma, Des Plaines, won the 25 yard backstroke and the team won the freestyle relay.

The Preps (11 and 12) broke one pool record in winning their division. Tom Rowe, Arlington, set a pool record in the 50 yard freestyle with a time of 27.6 and won the 50 yard backstroke. George Busse, Mount Prospect, won the 50 yard breaststroke and the team won the 200 yard Medley Relay.

The Juniors (13 and 14) lost their division by two points, setting three pool records as did Elmhurst. Rich Schwarting, Barrington, set pool records in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:02.2 and in the 100 yard freestyle with a time of 58.5. Rees Evans, Arlington, was the only other individual winner, winning the 50 yard freestyle. Rich Schwaring, Dave Takata, Arlington Heights, Fred Westdale, Mount Prospect and Rees Evans teamed up to set a record time of 1:48.6 for the 200 yard freestyle relay.

Chuck Ivison of Barrington, intermediate, set two pool records in the 100 yard freestyle at 1:00.8 and the 100 yard backstroke, 1:11.6, and won the 50 yard freestyle, losing the division to Elmhurst's swimmers.

Saturday, Feb. 18, the boys team will compete against Indian Boundary YMCA at Northwest at 4:00 p.m.

Vikings Topple Lion JV

A fast start and a strong finish carried Fremd past St. Viator in a battle of junior varsities last Saturday.

In the game, contested on the Lions' floor, Leon Kasuboske's Vikings leaped off to a 15-8 first quarter lead and made that margin — seven points — hold up in a 57-50 verdict.

The Lions, led by Mark Pomplun and Kevin O'Connell, had actually come back to take the lead at the half, running an 18-7 second quarter edge into a 26-22 lead at the mid-mark.

But the Vikings, spurred on by the hot shooting of Dave Freeman, came back for the win.

Freeman, with 10 field goals and five free throws, led all scorers for the game with 25 points. Pomplun, with 13, and O'Connell, with 10, led a balanced St. Viator attack.

Niles N. Next

It will be Vikings vs. Vikings this weekend, when Fremd takes on Niles North of the Central Suburban League in a Saturday night game on the Niles North floor. The Niles Vikings are a mostly veteran team, currently standing 4-4 in the tight CSL race. In non-league action last Friday, they beat Elk Grove 57-44.

Lions, Meteors

iors Mark Pomplun and Bill Yaeger all have had a shot at that fifth slot.

THE LIONS' shooting exhibitions last weekend were amazing. They bagged 32 of 42 against Marian Catholic and 30 of 45 against St. Patrick, an astonishing .713 percentage.

Collins only missed four shots in 23 tries, Hogan 11 in 31, Polich just one in ten, and Epperly eight in 20.

Hogan and Collins, who work so well together on the floor, have now combined for 853 points this season and certainly must rank as one of the most potent 1-2 scoring punches in the history of Paddock area basketball.

Thanks to a 56-point weekend Hogan now stands as the ninth leading scorer in area history. He needs only 52 points to move into the No. 7 position.

A bright spot in the double victory last weekend was the rebounding with senior Polich (6-2) the team leader. Polich pulled down 29 rebounds in the two outings, 20 off the defensive boards.

Prospect in Runnerup Slot

Cards Cop District Honors

Step one is completed and the stage is set for the second act.

Last weekend completed first round district wrestling action with the two top place finishers from each weight in each district preparing for competition in sectional battles.

Competition for most Paddock area wrestlers was staged at the Wheeling District Tournament with 19 Paddock area boys advancing from the Wheeling District to sectional competition at West Leyden.

Willie Myers, Arlington Cardinals ruled the meet and picked up 90 points to best second place Prospect who had 78. Forest View finished in third with 61 points, while Wheeling had 48. Maine West finished fifth with 42, and Maine East sixth with 36, while Elk Grove tallied 15 and St. Viator, 0.

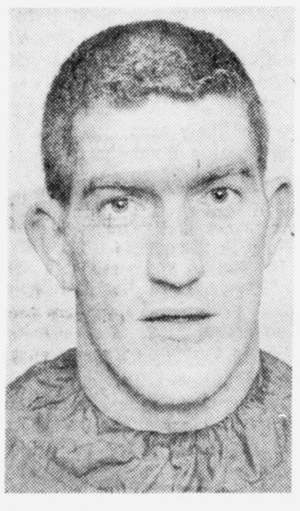
NO LOCAL BOY made it to the finals in the 95 pound weight, but Prospect's Rich Basch finished third with a 2-0 victory over Wheeling's Chuck Nute.

The 103 pound class was wide open with the ultimate victory going to Prospect's Gary McMorrow who took a 3-0 final decision over Arlington's Jay McDonnell. Tom Mann of Elk Grove took third with Bob Tipsword of Wheeling, fourth.

Jim Whitnell, Arlington's 112 pounder, captured the crown at his weight. Wheeling's Rex Meisenheimer finished in the runner-up spot while Mark Beatty of Elk Grove finished fourth. Beatty gave Whitnell his toughest bout but was dropped 7-5 in the semi-finals.

HARD WORK and desire gave Forest View's Steve DeHaven the crown at 120. DeHaven, one of four Forest View finalists who finished with championships, worked Prospect's Mike Mohr for a fall in 3:59 for the championship bout. Arlington's Mike Mills finished in third.

No Paddock area grappler was able to finish in the top two spots in the 127 pound class, but Elk Grove's George Taylor won a referee's decision over Cardinal Tom McCarthy to gain third place honors.



WILLIE MYERS
The Big Prize

Jeff Hansen , Prospect's 133 pounder, was crowned champion in his division. Hansen had little trouble in staking his claim to the crown and won his final bout with a 5-3 decision over Maine West's Jim Klein. Wheeling's Thad Mikols earned third place honors with a fall in 5:07 over Arlington's Paul Douglas.

AT 138 POUNDS Forest View's Bob Best proved to be best and nad no trouble in winning the title. In the finals Best decisioned Arlington's Brad Philo 5-1. Third place went to Maine East's Ivar Moi with Prospect's Pat Murphy coming in fourth.

Ray Vitha, Forest View's rugged 145 pounder, showed good possibilities as he took the feld and the title. Vitha pinned his first two opponents and decisioned Prospect's Vince Curry 6-1 in the finals. Wheeling's Dan Stavros and Arlington's Kelley Reid battled in the consolations with Reid getting an 11-3 decision.

Prospect and Wheeling squared off in the finals of the 154 pound class with Wildcat Rich Haddock taking a 15-5 decision from Gary Cobe. Arlington's Clark Sims worked a first period pin over Forest View's Stan Rohner to gain third place.

Brad Somers, Arlington's undefeated 165 pounder, continued to remain that way as he made quick work of the field. Somers downed Prospect's Pete Smith 5-1 in the finals, and had only two points scored on him during the meet. Forest View's Mark Frankel finished in third with a convincing 11-2 win.

In what would be considered an upset Arlington's Mike Jones completely handled Wheeling's previously unbeaten Ray Pace. Jones took a 10-4 decision in gaining the title and avenging his only loss, and was in command from the second period on. Prospect's Roger Anderson finished in fourth place.

The battle of the big boys went to Forest View's junior heavyweight Bob Savage, who took a 3-1 decision over Arlington's Vern Gongol. Savage had only one point scored on him during the tournament. Fourth place in the heavy weight class went to Dennis Creighton of Prospect.

Area Wrestlers Eye State Slots

by BOB NORDIN

The state wrestling series is somewhat akin to culling apples. Only the best go on.

The first round in this system of eliminating the good from the better is over. This weekend the first two place finishers in each weight from the various district tournaments held throughout the state will march into sectional competition.

Twenty-five Paddock area boys have made that elite group that is deemed worthy of an opportunity to be the best in the state. In last weekend's district competition Paddock area wrestlers were to be found in two separate tournaments, but for sectional action those twenty-five left in competition will travel to the West Leyden sectional tournament.

THE WEST Leyden meeting is scheduled to be a two-day affair with first round action slated to be held at 7:00 p.m. this Friday. The semi-final round will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:00 with consolation bouts to be held at 7:00 with finals to follow.

School District 211 will be represented by six boys while 214 will send 19 entries. The Palatine area wrestlers are fresh from the DeKalb District where they battled some outstanding talent. Each of the three 211 schools boasts a district champion. The Wheeling District was made up basically of District 214 schools and so there were 10 individual champions from 214.

The brightest area hope in the 195 pound class will be Fremd's Jim Lynch. Lynch scored an impressive tournament win at DeKalb and was seeded one in that meet.

THE PADDOCK AREA will be represented by three boys at the 103 pound class. Prospect's Gary McMorrow should be the area's number one contender, but Arlington's Jay McDonnell and Palatine's Don Speer will both be ready to offer considerable competition.

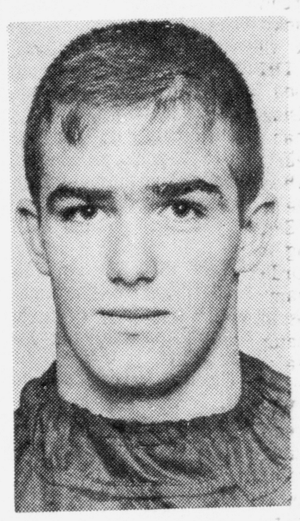
Arlington's Jim Whitnell ranks as the number one man in the 112 pound class while Wheeling's Rex Meisenheimer also has possibilities.

Steve DeHaven, Forest View's 120 pounder, must get the nod at his weight by virtue of his impressive pin win over Prospect's Mike Mohr. District 211 failed to qualify a boy at this weight.

THE 127 POUND class has no entry from the Paddock area because no boy finished in the top two places. At 133, however, Conant's Bill Gluck looks like he might be the man to beat. Gluck has an impressive record for the season and beat some tough competition in the DeKalb meet. Prospect's Jeff Hansen will be another boy at 133 who may be heard from.

Bob Best, Falcon 138 pounder, still must be considered a strong possibility. Best had no trouble in beating the field at Wheeling but two other boys also deserve consideration. They are Arlington's Brad Philo and Conant's Bill Lee.

The 145 pound class is one of the best around and Forest View's Ray Vitha now holds the commanding hand. Vitha ruled the Wheeling District and has only two losses on his record for the season. Palatine's Bill Schroeder must also be considered a top contender as he and Vitha worked to a tie in an earlier meeting this season. Prospect's Vince Curry will be a third Paddock area contender at this weight.



BRAD SOMERS
Still Unbeaten

WHEELING'S RICH Haddock showed good promise as he handled the district field last weekend and could be a strong contender in the state chase. Haddock easily handled Prospect's Gary Cobe, but Cobe can't be counted out yet.

The 165 pound class is headed by Arlington's undefeated Brad Somers. Somers looks like he has good possibilities as a state threat and will be joined in sectional competition by Prospect's Pete Smith.

The 180 pound division is up for grabs with two outstanding boys representing the area. Both boys boast records with only one loss, with each's loss being to the other. Arlington's Mike Jones must rank as a favorite right now by virtue of a 10-4 decision over Wheeling's Ray Pace. Pace must still be considered an outstanding possibility as he is one of the better boys in the suburban area.

The Paddock area will be represented by three heavyweights. Palatine's Paul Dolik should get the favored nod of the area boys even though he finished second in the DeKalb tournament.

Dolik owns victories over Wheeling District titlist Bob Savage and runner-up Vern Gongol. Savage, Forest View's young heavy weight, has shown steady development and good promise.

To Sectional Mat Tourney

District 211 Sends Six Boys

by BOB NORDIN

The next stop for six District 211 wrestlers will be sectional competition at West Leyden High School.

These six boys represent one quarter of the wrestlers advancing from the DeKalb district wrestling tournament held last weekend and it will be the hope of each of these boys that their stay at West Leyden will be just another step up toward a state berth.

For these six the DeKalb meet was only a beginning, but for their teammates who didn't make the top two spots in each weight class it was the end of the season and for some the end of their high school wrestling careers.

There were nine schools in competition at DeKalb and each of the three District 211 schools brought home a champion. Little Jim Lynch of Fremd won the 95 pound title and in so doing became the first athlete ever to win a district championship for the infant school.

THE OTHER titles won by area boys were the 103 pound class ruled by Palatine's Don Speer and the 133 pound division captured by Conant's Bill Gluck.

Lynch had little trouble as he took the field at 95 pounds and looks like an extremely bright hope for the future. Palatine's and Conant's little men both fell in the first round.

To some it appeared that the 103 pound class would be taken by DeKalb but Speer set that matter straight. Speer's toughest competition came from Conant's Reinie Vanderheyd in the semi-final round but Vanderheyd came back for third place in the consolations.

THE AREA schools failed to place a man in the top three at 112 pounds but Conant's Tom Isenberg came the closest with a fourth place finish. Palatine's Rusty Mason fell to Isenberg in the first round while Fremd's Kent Wells also lost in first round action.

In the 120 pound division Conant and Palatine finished three-four with Conant's Mike Ferguson topping Bob Esmail in the consolation final 8-2. Fremd's Mike Lewis lost in the first round.

The District 211 schools failed to get a man through the first round in the 127 pound class but at 133 pounds Gluck ruled as champion. There were times when the top seeded Gluck found himself in trouble but he was always the master of the situation and worked his way back. Palatine's Howie Tuttle finished in third after a disappointing loss in the semi-final round.

THE 138 POUND class found all three of the Paddock area boys in the top bracket. In the first round Conant's Bill Lee defeated Fremd's Dolik 3-0 while Palatine's Bob Angelson dumped the number one seeded man. Lee took Angelson in the semi-finals but lost in the finals and Angelson finished in fourth when he lost the consolation match.

The first round of the 145 pound class again matched a couple of the District 211 horses. Palatine's Bill Schroeder and Conant's Jim Quella met head on but Schroeder took the match and advanced all the way to the finals where he lost a good bout and finished in second place. Fremd's Kent Jensen fell in his first bout.

Third place was the best finish by any Paddock area wrestler at 154 and that berth was gained by Palatine's Pat Donohue who was impressive throughout the tourney. The other two area boys both lost in the first round.

CONANT'S Dick Rogers took fourth place for the area at 165 but in a loaded field fourth was a respectable finish. The Palatine and Fremd boys both lost

Wheeling Tops FV Gymnasts

Key performances by Mick Dyson, Rick Rainer and Bob Johnson engineered a return to the win column for Wheeling varsity gymnasts Monday evening much to the dismay of Forest View.

Hosting Cat upper and soph level squads posted triumphs over the Falcons to regain their winning stride after both had been issued weekend defeats by Arlington. The varsity Wildcats were easy winners, 83-49, while the frosh-soph home team had to squeeze out a 67-65 decision.

Dyson garnered firsts in both the tumbling and trampoline events to earn 14 team points for Wayne Selvig's unit. Rainer also had a 14-point production, on the strength of thirds on both bars to couple with a tie for number one slot on the still rings.

JOHNSON PICKED up his first blue ribbon of the campaign on the high bar, to couple with a fourth in tumbling for ten team points.

The Falcons managed only one first. It was picked up by Mike Damore on the side horse with a 7.5 average to easily outdistance Wheeling's Mike Allen.

Dyson's tramp win was recorded with a 6.05 display while Forest View entrants Bill Glab and Gary Dimas trailed in a tie for second.

In tumbling, a 7.3 showing by Dyson outmaneuvered Cougar Ed Wilhusen for the top rating. It was the veteran Wildcat's fifth straight win in this event and eleventh of the season.

JOHNSON outdistanced Roger Kratowicz of the visitors with a 6.45 average to gain horizontal bar honors.

The hosts had all the top berths in parallel bar and still ring clashes. Rainer knotted up with teammate Craig Ovesky at 7.55 to share the ring prize with Jim Sobczak making it a Wheeling sweep in third.

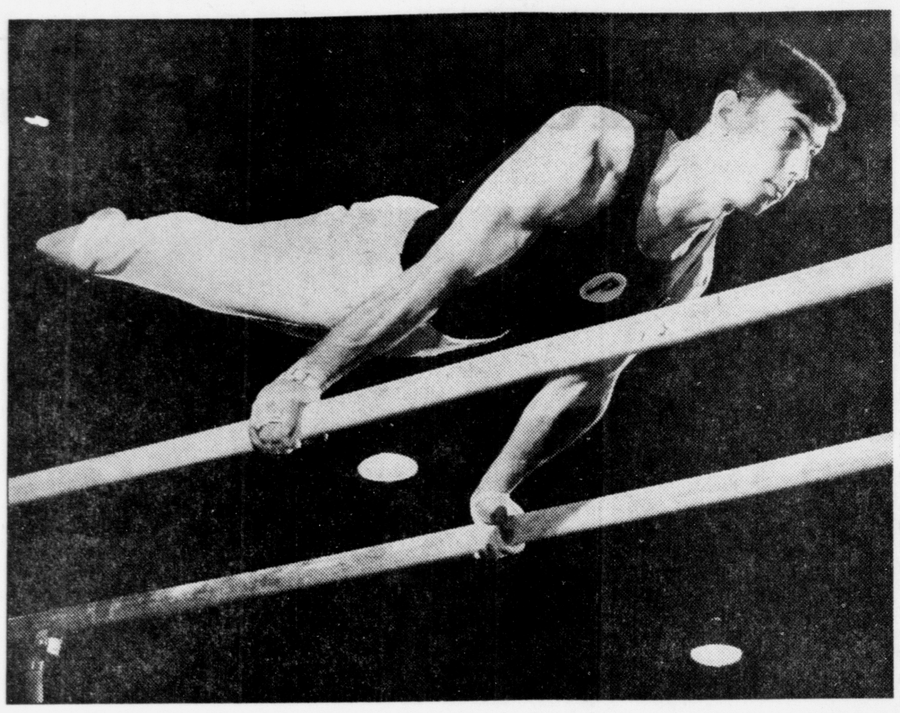
Highest scoring Falcon competitor on the rings was Dave Cohen.

Greg Shornden fashioned the highest average of the meet in pacing a 1-2-3 Cat finish on the p-bar. His 7.85 was pursued by the runnerup showings of Steve Bangs and Rainer with Mike Stargardt of Forest View in fourth.

At the soph plane, individual titles were split down the middle. For the visitors Mike Seitz was victorious on the tramp, Walt Alm took the side horse and Jim Daggett.

Wheeling's prize earners were Mike Hughes on the high bar, Stew Oakley on rings and Gary Morava on the p-bar.

The winners are now 11-3 at the varsity level and 13-1 in soph competition.



JEFF LONG has enjoyed an impressive season on the parallel bars for Prospect High School's powerful varsity gymnastic squad. Long has never finished lower than second and owns eight first place ratings this winter for coach Rick Farris' Knights.

For Knight Gymnasts

Two More Victims...

Prospect's varsity gymnasts turned in their eleventh and twelfth consecutive triumphs of the dual season over the weekend with handy back-to-back wins over non-conference opponents Friday and Saturday.

Coasting to a 77-55 conquest of visiting Glenbrook North Friday, Rick Farris and crew journeyed to Willowbrook the following day to issue the Warriors a 72-60 setback.

In the meantime, Knight frosh-soph gymnasts were matching their elder counterparts with 76.5-55.5 and 67-65 wins against the Spartans and Warriors respectively.

IN THE FIRST of the weekend pair, Prospect recorded firsts in five of the six events and had the edge in point totals in all but two rounds. Saturday, a show of depth propelled the visitors to victory number twelve in as many tries with only two Knights earning blue ribbons for their efforts.

Best showing of either day didn't count however. Parallel bar expert Jeff Long turned in a stunning 8.15 exhibition performance on Friday. The P-bar event was the only one in which the hosts did not record a first.

Lone double winner was Ken Bar on the side horse. A 7.5 average Friday earned him the top slot and the following day he copped number one with a 7.8 display. The firsts were his fifth and sixth of the campaign.

Long's return to actual combat Saturday and subsequent win, ran his triumph skien six and marked the eighth time in 11 matches to earn top laurels.

AGAINST GLENBROOK Friday:

Bill Wendling of Prospect had best performance on the tramp at 6.0 with mates Nick Peneff and Jim Sesterhenn in third and fourth respectively. Barr had point support on the side horse from Jim Anderson in second and Bruce Boult in fourth.

Horizontal bar crown was worn by Knight John Hardt on a 5.35 showing with backup showings by Jim Liston in third and Klaus Meyer in fifth. Neal Wells finished second for the hosts on the parallel bars with other Knights John Erhardt and Hardt in fourth and fifth.

BILL VAN SKY took the rings prize for Prospect at 6.2 with teammates Dick Smith in second and Boult in fourth. Mike Coughlin had a 5.55 average to gain the tumbling top prize for the Knights with other Knights Steve Bang and Rich Burger landing in fifth and sixth.

On the soph level only Spartan win was on the parallel bars. Winners for the hosts were Jay Bensen on the tramp, Boeschen on the side horse, Straug on the h-bar, Fred Dolce on the rings and Todd in tumbling.

Saturday at Willowbrook:

PENEFF, WENDLING and Sesterhenn wound up 2-3-5 on the tramp, Boult, Hardt and Roy Hardin were 2-3-4 on the h-bar, Vince Franzone, Bob DeStefanis and Van Sky were 2-4-5 on the rings and Bang, Burger and Coughlin ended 3-4-5 in tumbling.

Backing up Barr on the horse were Anderson in second and Dave Mattson in fourth. Long had point help from Boult in second and Mattson on the p-bars.

The sophs brought their season's mark to 5-6-1 in dual competition with Straub on the h-bar, Todd in tumbling and Pete Klein on the p-bars all posting individual victories for the visitors.

BRUCE BOULT Keeps Busy

Keep Hopes Alive

Cards Edge Wildcats

Arlington kept its title hopes alive in Mid-Suburban League gymnastics with an impressive 68½ to 63½ victory over powerful Wheeling last weekend in the division headliner.

Coach Tom Walthouse's Cardinals, whose only loss was to Prospect, showed four firsts in the six events in handing Wheeling its second league setback and only third reversal in 13 outings.

Two sophomores claimed first place awards for the winners in their fourth MSL triumph in five tries.

TERRY HAINES ruled the trampoline alignment with a 7.1 ranking, and Jim Brousseau flashed a 6.6 in winning the horizontal bar.

Arlington also recorded wins on the side horse with Hank Taylor (7.95) and on the parallel bars with Don Von Ebers (7.6).

Wheeling's two firsts were picked up by Craig Ovesky on the still rings (7.8) and by tumbling standout Mick Dyson (7.45). The win was Dyson's tenth this season and fourth straight.

THE CARDINALS demonstrated their most strength on the tramp and side horse where they posted 1-2 finishes.

Rick Atwater backed up Haines on the tramp and Wayne Crockett was the side horse runnerup.

Atwater gave the Cardinals another second with a 6.45 routine in tumbling.

Coach Wayne Selvig's Wildcats landed the 2-3 slots on the high bar with John Whittington and Bob Johnson, the 2-3-4 slots on the parallel bars with Mike Bangs, Greg Shornden, and Rick Rainer, and the 1-2 positions on rings with Ovesky and Rick Rainer.

Although Prospect still is in command of the MSL gym title chase, the league meet on Saturday, Feb. 25, at Wheeling looms more important every day.

The final conference ranking is based on dual meet finish and position in the actual league affair.

IN FROSH-SOPH competition Arlington's powerful squad handed Wheeling its first loss in 13 meets. 73-59.

The young Cardinals showed advantages in five of the six events and claimed five firsts.

The only Wheeling winner was Jeff Shornden with a 49 ranking on the parallel bars.

Claiming the firsts for Arlington were Bob Gleichman on the high bar and still rings, Pete Metz on the trampoline, Jones on the side horse, and Marshal in tumbling.

D'Amico Tops EG in Setback

Tony D'Amico was a double winner and the major bright spot last week as Elk Grove's varsity gymnasts dropped a 72½ to 59½ decision to Addison Trail.

D'Amico ruled the trampoline and tumbling events for 14 team points.

Gaining seconds for Elk Grove were Jim Evans on the tramp, Bill Sanders on the parallel bars, and Bill Bell on the still rings.

Come From Behind

Lions Win Another Loop Swim Crown

After being behind by four points when the preliminary splashing had quieted, the sea-Lions of St. Viator came roaring back to snatch their third consecutive Chicagoland Prep League swimming championship out of the hands of rival St. Ignatius.

The Lions picked up six points in the finals to boost them two points ahead on the final scoresheets. St. Viator totaled 99 points, while St. Ignatius was stopped at 97. Third place went to St. George with 56 points, and St. Joseph was fourth with 20.

The St. Viator dynasty may not have ended for Coach Charlie Mondi yet, if the way his sophomore team coasted to a win in the lower level meet is any indication. The young Lions rolled home with a massive 124 points, 61 ahead of their nearest rival St. Joseph. In that meet St. Ignatius was fourth with 37 markers, and St. George was third again with 49. The win was the fourth straight for St. Viator.

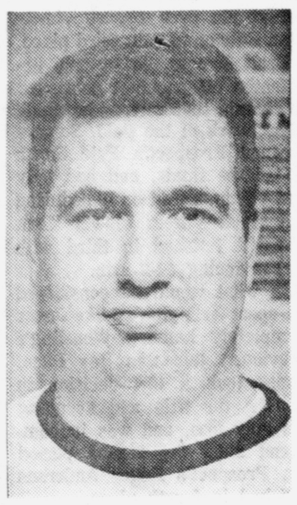
En route to their championship the Lions won five events, and they set new conference records in two of those. Dave Chantry won his fourth straight diving championship with a record total of 331.30 points. This mark was almost 60 points better than the record which he set himself only a year ago. Ken Sophie was runnerup with Kalinowski came in with a strong finish with a time of 289.35, which would have broken the meet record if Chantry had not turned in his remarkable performance.

FRED SCHMIDT, swimming in the 200 individual medley, also set a standard with a 2:13.3 clocking. The event was a strong one for St. Viator as Tom Murray finished third, six seconds off of the pace.

In the 50 freestyle Lou Hibbs came in with a crucial blue ribbon time of 25.0 which beat the St. Ignatius entry by 0.1 seconds. Mike Albers also scored for the Lions in that event as he finished fifth. Hibbs later added a third place finish in the 100 free to his laurels. Marty Wendell was right behind Hibbs in that event.

In the 100 breaststroke, Rick 1:10.2. Alan Canaby also chalked up a sixth place finish in that event.

MIKE KAMINSKI and Harry Frossard brought home the Lions' only 1-2 finish of the meet in the 100 butterfly. Kaminski nipped his teammate by 0.4 seconds with a 1:03.6 winning time.



CHARLES MONDI
Three Straight

Both of the Lion relay teams finished second in the meet. The 200 medley team (Bill Saigh, Kalinowski, Frossard, and Ed Leadley) finished with a time of 1:52.3 for runner-up honors. The 400 freestyle team (Bill Richardson, Albers, Vallely, and Wendell) were clocked at 3:53.8. Other second places were scored by Saigh in the 100 backstroke, and Bill MaCaffrey in the 400 free.

In the frosh-soph contests, Rich Lynch won two events and set records in the 50 free and 150 free races. His times in those two events were 54.8 and 1:31.2 respectively.

In the preliminaries, Steve Salerno had tied the meet record with a :29.4 clocking in the 50-yard backstroke, and in the finals he won the event, though in a slower time.

Other first place winners for the frosh were: 200 medley relay (Mark Abate, Bill Tully, Dan McGuire, and Don Weber); 50-yard freestyle, Randy Bocian; diving, Jeff Foley; 300-yard freestyle, Herb Klein; and 200-yard freestyle relay (Weber, Bocian, Pat Peppler and Gene O'Hara).

Cougar Varsity Wins

Conant, Palatine Split

Conant won the varsity half, but Palatine the frosh-soph—the first this year—as the District 211 and Mid-Suburban League rivals met in gymnastics last Saturday.

In the competition, the Cougar varsity—winning its third of four MSL duals and eighth of 10 over-all—ran up an 83.5-48.5 score. On the frosh-soph plane, arresting a slide of eightduals, Jim Woodward's younger Pirates won 71.5-60.5.

Five of the six varsity events were won by Cougars, with five different boys getting the firsts for Bob Ferguson's winners.

Greg Nelsen, with a 5.65 effort, won on the high bar. Denny Re, with a fine 6.65 on the parallel bars, won that event. Gary Funke, with the best team score of the day, ruled the rings with 7.8. Lloyd Powell took the trampoline competition with 3.95. And Karl Icenogle, with 5.6, had the highest rating in tumbling.

THE COUGARS swept two events, Icenogle leading Denny Biedrzycki and Tom Toronyi in tumbling, and Re pacing John Armfield and Butch Lochinger to a 1-2-3 finish in the parallel bars competition. On the tramp, Powell and John Bianco made it 1-2.

Other high Conant finishes were provided by Funke, with a second on the side horse, and by Jack Meyer, third on the rings, and Tim Cummings, third on the horse.

For the Pirates, Dave Chidley turned in the lone first, that on the side horse, with teammate Craig Winter fourth. Gary Cook had a second on the rings, and Phil Samuels a second on the high bar, while Dave Wadleigh took third on the high bar and fourth on the parallel bars.

The two teams divided the firsts on the sophomore level, each getting three, so it came down to who finished best after that.

Bob Seitz led it for the Pirates, taking firsts on both the rings and horizontal bar. Dave Marcum had the other, on the parallel bars. Marcum also added a second on the side horse, and other Palatine runnerup positions went to Gary Woodsmall on the high bar and Tim Cox in tumbling.

Tom Reif of Conant also had two firsts, leading the competition on the trampoline and in tumbling, while Ross Goben ruled the side horse. Tony Bauer had a secoond on the rings, Denny Lau on the tramp, and Mike Bubley on the parallel bars.

Prospect Second

Card Swimmers Top Triangular

Swimming teams in the area haven't enjoyed too much success this winter, but Arlington and Prospect experienced a delightful day last week when they both splashed past West Leyden in a triangular.

The Cardinals topped the triangular with 68 points, and the Knights landed the runnerup position with 53. West Leyden had 47½.

Coach John Gardner's Cards picked up seven event wins in the varsity meet, and steady John Erickson continued to impress.

Erickson took both the 200 yard individual medley in 2:21.1 and 100 breaststroke in 1:07.7.

Other individual firsts for the Cards were gained by Dick Robinson in the 50 freestyle (25.1), Kurt Thomson in the 200 freestyle (2:16), Scott Guilfoil in the 100 butterfly (1:04.3), and Lowell Christy in the 100 yard backstroke (1:01.9).

The Cardinals also won the 400 yard freestyle relay with a team of Greg Neftzger, Tony Pretto, Thomson and Guilfoil.

Prospect showed its only first in the 200 yard medley relay as Al Johnson, Tom Braakman, Jim Harvey and Mike Dombrow carried the honors in 1:56.6.

West Leyden did win the frosh-soph meet, piling up 68 points to Arlington's 47½. Prospect had 46½ in the tight battle for runnerup honors.

Friday Prelims

Area Tankers At New Trier

Paddock area swimmers will head for New Trier East Friday for preliminary competition in the district test.

Action will get under way at 7 p.m. Friday with the diving and more prelims set for 10 a.m. Saturday.

The swimming finals will be staged at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Arlington, Forest View, St. Viator and Prospect are expected to send nearly full teams to the district, and Elk Grove will enter five swimmers.

The first and second place winners in each district event and the first five places in the diving competition will advance to the state finals at Evanston.

In addition, all swimmers meeeting a minimum qualifying time will also advance to the state meet.

Qualifying times are as follows:

200 medley relay (1:46.8); 200 freestyle (1:55.8); 50 freestyle (23.6); 200 individual medley (2:14.5); diving (top five); 100 butterfly (57.8); 100 freestyle (51.6); 100 backstroke (59.6); 400 freestyle (4:16.8); 100 breaststroke (1:06.7); and 400 free relay (3:30.0).

Top area hopes appear to rest with St. Viator and Arlington.

The Lions, recently-crowned Chicagoland Prep League champions, boast at least six possibilities, according to head man Charles Mondi, of placing in the top six at the districts.

St. Viator's 200 medley relay of Bill Saigh, Rick Kalinowski, Harry Frossard, and Lou Hibbs have hit 1:51 this winter.

Bill McCaffrey is a possibility in the 200 free where he has reached 2:01.8, and Bill has a 4:35 in the 400 free.

Fred Schmidt could score in the 200 individual medley, and Kalinowski is a leading contender in the 100 breaststroke. Dave Chantry, conference king for four years, has to be considered in the diving event.

Rated Arlington's top point-hopefuls are senior John Erickson in the 100 breast stroke and individual medley, Lowell Christy in the backstroke, Dick Robinson in the short sprints, and Scott Guilfoil in the fly.

Arlington also has a crack medley relay unit which could make some noise at New Trier Friday and Saturday.

Ticker Normal

The notion that the athlete's heart is an abnormally unhealthy enlarged heart has long been exposed as a myth. The heart of the trained athlete is now considered normal and its counterpart—the loafer's heart—abnormal.

Lions Suffer 26-24 Loss

St. Viator's varsity wrestlers took St. Joseph to the wire last week before dropping a 26-24 decision.

Coach John Zid's Lions enjoyed a 24-16 lead with two bouts remaining when the Chargers made their move via two falls.

Two forfeits aided St. Viator at the lower weights after Mike Precin had opened with a 5-2 win at 95 pounds.

The Chargers ran off a string of four straight victories before Greg Gripentrog put St. Viator back on the board with a neat 3-0 win at 145.

Tom McDonald scored a 3-0 Lion win at 154, and John Krebsbach flattened his opponent in 3:12 at 165 to push St. Viator into a 24-16 advantage.

But two St. Joseph pins took care of that, and the Lions suffered their ninth setback in 10 outings this winter.

in opening round bids.

Palatine's Ron Stroud earned a third place finish in the 180 pound class and turned in a good job in gaining that place. Fremd's Glenn Wilson was defeated in the first round and Conant did not have an entry.

The DeKalb district offered a fine field of heavyweights and the two boys picked to finish in the top spots did just that. Palatine's rugged Paul Dolik did an outstanding job against some excellent competition and finished second while Fremd's Ray Steerbo took fourth place.

While at this stage of competition the individual winner is the most important matter team scores and prizes are still basic. As expected, the powerful DeKalb team took top place honors with 108 points while Palatine finished in the runner up spot with 55. Conant finished fifth with 38 points while Fremd finished in last with 18 points.

Conant's Frosh Matmen In Fourth At Barrington

Conant's freshmen wrestlers finished a blizzard - extended season with a fourth place notch in the Barrington Freshman Invitational held last Monday and Tuesday. The young Cougars, under the direction of coach Rick Gerz, tallied 49 points and finished seven boys in the top four positions.

A rugged Libertyville squad took first place honors with 70 markers with Crystal Lake in second with 68 and host Barrington third with 63. The meet's final bout determined the winner on the team level with the Libertyville heavyweight taking a 6-0 decision.

Conant had one meet champion in 180 pounder Mike O'Malley. O'Malley pinned his way through the tournament and flattened his final opponent in 3:08. Cougar 120 pounder Curt Burns lost a 2-0 decision in the finals and finished number two in his weight.

Conant had three third place finishers in Brian Rucks at 112, Mike Ingram at 154, and heavyweight Rich Heisel. Heisel and Rucks won decisions in the consolations while Ingram won on a fall.

The two boys who took fourth places for the Cougars were 95 pounder Bill Rose, and Dean Burns at 127 pounds.

Shock Shamrocks

Lions in Masterpiece

It was a masterpiece, a true work of art. What more can you say?

The execution was near-perfect, only three turn-overs in 32 fast-paced minutes of action.

The rebounding was superb, a surprising 36-23 bulge over a club with more size.

The shooting had to be seen to be believed, 30 of 45 finding the mark for a sensational .667 percentage.

St. Viator shocked St. Patrick last Saturday evening, 75 - 66, handling the Shamrocks for the first time in history after 10 straight losses.

ST. PAT'S Max Kurland, a veteran in the coaching business, explained the defeat with only a few words:

"Your kids just out-hustled us," he told Lion head man Larry Nomellini after the game Saturday.

With the victory St. Viator, a club Nomellini says "deserves to win more than any other I've had," remained in a three-way tie for first place in the Chicagoland Prep League.

ST. VIATOR has made believers out of any Chicagoland skeptics. This club now has knocked off DeLaSalle and St. Pat's in the same year. When was the last time any team could boast of that achievement?

Although Nomellini admits that conquest of DeLaSalle was an exceptional effort by the Lions, he points to last Saturday's triumph over St. Patrick as "our better game over-all."

You can't top perfection, and the Lions were perfect—or almost anyway—in this 75-66 victory.

THERE WERE many heroes, not the least of which were the incredible dynamic duo, Frank Hogan and Dan Collins. Hogan had 28, Collins 23, and they worked together on some beautiful scoring maneuvers.

Then there was Greg Polich who had 11 points and 13 big rebounds, nine on the defensive boards, as for the second straight night he hovered around the basket and fought off the enemy for some big grabs.

Guard Tom Epperly, continuing to exhibit that extra effort that is so very important, contributed nine points Saturday, and soph Jack Brawley and junior Mark Pomplun chipped in wih some steady work as the "fifth man" Nomellini is still searching for.

SCORE BY QUARTERS

St. Viator	18	14	22	21	—75
St. Patrick	23	9	18	16	—66

POMPLUN WAS inserted early, and Nomellini was encouraged with his work in the pressure-packed situation and the junior may see more service now in the waning weeks of the season.

There was nothing in the first quarter Saturday to indicate what was just ahead for St. Pat's. The Shamrocks shot out to a 23-18 advantage with Carlos Martinez, Tommy McKiernan and Mike Pisano the pace-setters, but the Lions took care of those five points in the second period.

Hogan had seven points, high-scoring Martinez was shut off, and St. Viator climbed into a tie at 32-all with two periods remaining.

COLLINS AND Hogan combined for 16 of St. Viator's 22 points in the third period as the Lions, still flashing that crisp play and remarkable shooting, gained a 54-50 lead.

The Shamrocks did threaten to come back in that concluding period, but the aroused Lions, now sensing a victory that may have appeared out of reach earlier, wouldn't let up.

Hogan had nine and Collins eight in that final period as the amazing Lions held on for a 75-66 victory.

"Your kids just out-hustled us," St. Pat's Kurland admitted.

And that's been a familiar story this winter for a club few people expected to create any commotion over a long, demanding season.

Tip Cards, 51-49

Knights' Jayvees Run Skein to Ten

Jayvee units from Arlington and Prospect put healthy winning streaks on the line Saturday and the host Knights pulled out of the match with theirs still intact, registering a tight triumph 51-49.

A layup by George Timson shoved Prospect into the driver's seat to stay 22-20 with a scant eight seconds left in the first half. Earlier a 9-7 Cardinal lead after the first quarter was dissolved on Bruce Timko's field goal.

Although the Cards never regained a scoring edge during the second half, Prospect was never far away. In the fourth quarter the margin spread to 44-37 but last minute pointers by Dave McGuffey melted the gap to a slim two by game's end.

It was the first loss absorbed by Arlington in seven encounters since their meeting with Prospect. At that time the Knights served up a 35-26 pounding.

The Knights have now been conquerers in ten consecutive contests and eight straight loop meetings. Over-all the slates of Prospect and Arlington now stand at 11-3 and 9-4 respectively.

Saturday, Timson paced the winning attack with 16 and had double figure assistance from Gumz and Timko at 11 apiece.

R. J. Collins, with a soft touch on long shots, paced the losers with 13. Backing him up were Keith Culberson with 12 and McGuffey with 10.

FROSH BASKETBALL

Prospect A ..... 16 17 8 17—58
Forest View A ..... 11 5 16 17—49

Highlights — A 21-point showing by Brad Rucker, his second of the season, boosted the Knights to their sixth straight triumph. The Falcons fell behind in the first stanza and never recovered although attempting a nice comeback in period three by outscoring Prospect 16-8. Offensive help for Rucker was supplied by Dale Morgan with 15 and Bob Klein with 10. Dave Long paced the losers with 18.

Prospect B ..... 16 15 2 7—40
Forest View B ..... 2 9 12 3—26

Highlights — Each side had two-point quarters but Prospect's came after they had built up a sizable 31-11 spread at halftime en route to their fifth win of the season. Tom Lopotko and Warner Schlais shared point honors for Prospect with a dozen apiece. Top Falcon bucketman was Barry O'Donnell with nine.

Wheeling A ..... 15 27 12 18—72
Palatine A ..... 13 10 12 18—53

Highlights — The Wildcats returned to the win column by coming up with their second biggest offensive production of the season. A 27-point second quarter earned Wheeling a healthy 42-23 lead and the margin remained stable the rest of the way. Individually, a new point high was established for the season in Kevin Barthule's 27-point bombardment for Wheeling, erasing a previous high by Scott Feige of 25. Feige got into the act against the Pirates with 20 and teammate Steve Toneff added 10 to the cause. Palatine's double figure producers were Patch with 17, Regul with 15 and Carr with 11. The Cats have now triumphed in 10 out of 12 contests.

Wheeling B ..... 12 12 18 14—56
Palatine B ..... 4 8 7 12—31

Highlights — Gary Kawell added another double diget performance to his growing list of top scoring honors by pumping in 14 to pace the Wildcats to their ninth win in 11 games. He was nudged out of the game's top tallying position against the Pirates however, by a 16-bucket display turned in by Steve Bahnfleth.

Arlington A ..... 5 11 13 19—48
Prospect A ..... 10 15 11 22—58

Highlights — Earl Benoche's Knight yearlings chalked up their seventh straight win, boosted their over-all mark to 11-2 and their conference slate to 8-1 by shrugging off a late Card rally to win going away. Arlington fought back to within one point of Prospect midway through the final stanza after trailing at halftime 25-16. Brad Rucker copped game scoring honors with 18 and mates Mike Gaffney and Steve Reynolds had 11 and 10 respectively. For the Cardinals, Sam Wit and Jim Stipp headed the scoring list with 10 each.

Arlington B ..... 5 5 10 9—29
Prospect B ..... 3 14 3 8—28

Highlights — Each side had a crack at holding the upper hand but the Cards were last to do so, dissolving a 28-26 Knight advantage with a minute left to go on a three-point play. Arlington's Mark Jacoby collected high point honors for the tilt with 11. Prospect's best was Tom Lopotko with 10.

Arlington A ..... 9 19 11 11—50
Maine West A ..... 20 6 6 10—42

Highlights — Arlington overcame a slow start to topple the Warriors in Mid-Suburban play. Bill Heffernan paced the Cardinals with 16 points. Sam Wit dialed 13.

Arlington B ..... 7 16 14 10—47
Maine West B ..... 7 5 9 13—34

Highlights — Although Maine West dominated the boards, Arlington capitalized on a tenacious defense to pull this one out. Mark Jacoby collected 17 points, and Steve Fisher had nine.

Arlington A ..... 16 17 22 10—65
Conant A ..... 6 16 9 11—42

Highlights — Arlington hit 52 per cent from the field and 70 per cent from the line in this easy win. The Cards also showed a 30-11 edge in rebounding. Bill Heffernan topped the winners with 15 but Ken Koster had 14 and Sam Wit 12 in the balanced attack.

Arlington B ..... 12 10 8 12 8—50
Conant B ..... 8 14 18 2 1—43

Highlights — Conant dominated play until the fourth quarter when the Cards battled back, and Arlington controlled the overtime stanza. Steve Fisher dropped in the tying shot for Arlington at the buzzer in the fourth period. Fisher had 14 and Greg Harris and Mark Jacoby 10 each for the Cards. Roy Bahnick, Bob Shuster and Eddie Brandl paced a balanced Cougar attack.

St. Viator ..... 16 12 19 6—53
Marian ..... 3 8 5 15—31

Highlights — The Lions jumped out in front with an explosive first quarter and led 47-16 after three periods. Denny Foreman tossed in seven baskets for 14 points, Terry Cullen had 11 markers, and Wayne Danis and Tom Renno nine each.

St. Viator ..... 13 10 13 6—42
St. Patrick ..... 13 10 10 14—47

Highlights — St. Pat's overcame a three-point deficit in the final period and posted this frosh win. Browning topped the Lions with 16 points on five field goals and six free throws. Tom Renno collected 11 and Terry Cullen eight.

Fremd A ..... 7 8 19 3—37
Niles West ..... 10 19 8 12—49

Highlights — The Indians jumped off to a fat 29-15 first half lead, then held off the Vikings in the second half. The winners had a balanced effort, with Lundquist and Mirsky each totaling 15 points. Tom Bruns had 12 points and Rick Gaare 11 for the losers.

Fremd A ..... 7 8 1 6—22
Notre Dame ..... 10 9 8 10—37

Highlights — The Vikings had difficulty generating an offense against the young Dons, with the 8-1 third quarter deficit about settling the issue. High point man for the losers was Bob Molozник with seven points, while Rick Gaare had six.

Conant B ..... 8 17 13 13—51
Fremd B ..... 9 15 7 14—45

Highlights — Conant came out of this game as the Dist. 211 champs, but had to stave off a fourth quarter rally to do it. A big third period and strong rebounding were the deciding factors as the Cougars improved their frosh B record to 7-4. Bob Schuster and Keith Gast led the Conant attack with 14 and 13 points respectively. Schuster also led the rebounders with 18. Fremd's Bob Loughlin hit for 24 points in a losing cause.

Conant B ..... 0 8 7 14—29
Elk Grove ..... 9 6 7 3—25

Highlights — The Cougars made up for a scoreless first quarter with an 11-point advantage in the fourth quarter as they came from behind to pick up their second win of the season over the Grenadiers. Poor shooting by both teams kept the score low. Dave Rossol led the Elk Grove attack with 11 points, but more balanced scoring by the Cougars led to the victory. Keith Gast and Dave Kellermeyer had seven and six points respectively, and Bob Schuster pulled down 11 rebounds.

Lobinsky Posts 697

A 697 series by City Welding's Lobby Lobinsky highlighted action in the Paddock Classic Traveling League bowlers last Saturday. Lobby had company in the 600 club with seven other bowlers cracking the magic mark.

Hal Norum also had a fine night with a 665 series, while two of his Morton Pontiac teammates, Ray Olson and Les Zikes, also eclipsed the 600 mark. After the weekend's action two Paddock Classic League bowlers enjoyed season's agame averages of 200 or better. Les Zikes leads the way with a 202.32 average, while Joe Simonis has a 200.15 average.

The standings in the league remain virtually the same with Sports Chalet in the lead with 24 points. Morton Pontiac now enjoys a second place berth with 19 points, while the Brass Rail is in a close third with 18.

ONLY ONE POINT separates fourth and fifth place with Elk Grove one notch up on Bill Cook Buick. There is a tie for sixth place between Karlsen Pharmacy and City Welding, while Jeffery Lanes is in the cellar with 8 points.

In this week's Sports Chalet-Brass Rail battle, the Chalet picked up five points behind the bowling leadership of Joe Simonis, who tallied a 603 series. The Railers' high man for the night was Karl Simonis, who had a 582 series.

Morton Pontiac's 600 trio of Olson, Norum and Zikes pasted a 7-0 shut-out loss on Elk Grove Bowl. Even a 620 series effort by Elk Grove's Tony Lewan was not enough as Morton's crew took all the marbles.

BILL COOK BUICK picked up four points in their meeting with Karlsen Pharmacy while the druggists gained three markers. Ernie Koche's 617 series was the best of the match while his 222 individual game high was matched by Bill Cook's Ted Geiersbach.

Jeffery Lanes and City Welding had a battle for the cellar but the outstanding performance by Lobinsky gave the welders a 5-2 decision over the laners. Lobinsky's 697 series effort ties him for second place honors for the season for high individual series.

This Saturday's action, February 18, will take place at River Rand Bowl. Karlsen Pharmacy will try to better their position in a match with City Welding that should break that deadlock tie. Bill Cook Buick will take on last place Jeffery Lanes with good possibilities of adding to their present totals. The Brass Rail will tangle with Morton Pontiac with second place as the prize. League leading Sports Chalet will bump head on with fourth place Elk Grove Bowl and will give the Bowlers plenty of competition.

Burke Gets 296 At EGB

"I wasn't nervous until the last ball. Then the stillness and everyone watching me, that got to me."

With that, Elk Grove's Ralph Burke summed up the biggest moment of his bowling life, a staggering 296 game last Friday.

Burke, a 46-year old 158-handicap bowler who's been at the game for 25 years, came that close to his only perfect game, and recorded the highest game ever fashioned at Elk Grove Bowl.

Bowling in the Elk Grove Mix-Ups League at Elk Grove Bowl, Burke had a string of 11 straight strikes. Needing then just one more strike for the magic 300, he prepared to release the ball as a hush spread over the entire alley.

All eyes on him, he sent the ball down with a good delivery, but it hooked just a little too much and he left four pins standing.

For Burke, of 235 Holly Lane in Elk Grove, there was then that mixture of joy and sadness that can only come to the bowler who has bowled so well, and missed by so little.

Cards' JV Five Wins Over Maine

John Theroux and Doug Somers hit free throws and R. J. Collins fired in a jump shot in the closing seconds Friday evening to send Arlington's junior-varsity Cardinals to a 41-38 victory over host Maine West.

The score was tied at 36-all when Theroux hit from the line with 1:42 remaining.

After gaining control again, Collins hit from 15 feet and with seven seconds left Somers connected on two free throws.

The foul-marred game was tight from the outset. Maine held a two-point lead at halftime, but the clubs were deadlocked heading into the concluding quarter.

Theroux was high for the Cards with 10 points. Somers had eight and Keith Culberson and Mark Liddell six each.

At Elk Grove

Carol's Corvettes have taken a slim two game lead over Jeannes' Jalopies in the Elkettes League. Clare Skittone was high for the night with a 528 (177-160-191), and Dot Rohlfing was runner-up with a 527. Carol Champa was consistent enough to take thirds in both high series and high game with a 490-190. Dot changed roles with Clare in the high game honors as the former had a 196 to Clare's 191.

In the Elk Grove Ladies Major League, Wally's Citgo is on top after the first position night of the season. The other teams follow in this order: Bon Voyage Travel Agency; Automobile Sales; B&H Blueprint; AAA Catering; Maitre D; Keefers' Pharmacy; and Mt. Prospect Auto Body.

In the Bowleros League, top scorers for the night were Val Willis with a 555 series. Rose Wade had a 205 game, and Carol Deckert rolled a 202-509. The Austin Carpet and Lino Mart team set a new team high series with a 2825. The Automobile Sales team is still on top of the league, and Jan Taylor is currently the high scorer.

At Beverly Lanes

In the Parkway Men's League, Joern led the way with a 569 series, with Cook close behind at 559 with a 201 high game. Paddock was third at 547. Lampert rolled the high game of the day with a 212.

At Striking

In the Striking Ladies Classic, Gert Goffinski bowling for CWE hit a 751-205. Lucille Shoenberger carded a 744-227 for the Doll House tgam. Joan Angelo bowling for the Striking Lanes entry had a 730-203-213 pinfall, while Louise Lass, Kelly's Ranchwear, recorded a 721-200. Judy Anderson rounded out the high scoring with a 707-204.

At Rolling Meadows

In the Tuesday Afternoon Ladies League, Doris Sharp hit a 555 series on games of 191-170-194. Her teammate, Jeanne Douglas bowled 524 (156-174-194).

At Gunnell's

In the Business Men's League at Gunnell's a team composed of J. Murray, R. Schmidt, V. Osweiler, G. Johnson and B. Todd rolled the high three game series in the league (2881), and the second high single game in the league with a 1045. Todd led the way with a 606 series on games of 214, 178, 214. Murray was close behind with a 587. Johnson was third on the team with a 572, and Osweiler and Schmidt had 565 and 551 respectively.

At Thunderbird

In the Northshire Mixed League, Tom Decken had a hot night as he led all bowlers with a 603 series and a 241 high game.

As Lattof Leads

Sylvia's Still In Contention

Sylvia's Flowers continues to make a real battle for first place in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League. Sylvia's stands one point behind league leading Lattof Chevrolet and is making an interesting race out of league competition.

In last weekend's competition three gals in the league rolled series of 600 or better. Charlotte Schlemann led all pin knockers with a 637 series while teammate Jean Sicilian gave strong support with a 610 of her own. The other 600 match was recorded by Esther Hugo as she tallied 607.

Peggy Harris continues to lead the Ladies' League with a 183.7 game average. Fifteen girls have 170 averages or better, with Joann Christensen leading that group with a 175.9 average.

IN LAST Saturday's competition Lattof Chevrolet maintained their hold on first place as they shut out River Rand. Rose Kraft sparked the winning effort with a 572 series while Peggy Harris and Joann Christensen gave strong support with 565 series of their own. Ethel Juenger led the River Randers with a 562 series.

Sylvia's Flowers maintained their quick pace behind the hot shooting of Charlotte Schlemann and Jean Sicilian, and outpointed Striking Lanes 3-1. Lucille Schoenberger led the Laners with a 581 series.

Morton Pontiac gained three markers in their battle with Wheel Inn. Esther Hugo led the Morton charge while Winnie Lohse and Ann Neumann carried the Wheel Inn assault.

The battle for places remains fairly tight in the Ladies' League with River Rand in third just four points off the second place pace. Wheel Inn is a close fourth with 9 points and Striking Lanes and Morton Pontiac are tied for fifth with six points each.

The schedule for February 18 will feature action at Gunnell's with Lattof Chevrolet battling Striking Lanes. Wheel Inn will take on second place Sylvia's Flowers and third place River Rand will tangle with last place Morton Pontiac.

Sunday, Feb. 19, the girls will roll their matches regularly scheduled for Feb. 25 at Beverly lanes. Competition for these pre-bowled games will start at 1 p.m.

Spartans Red-Hot

Cold Spells Costly In Falcon Reversal

by JIM TINDALL

The Forest View Falcons evidently had their feathers frozen in the first and fourth quarters on Saturday night against Glenbrook North, and their frigid field goal shooting cost them a game that was closer than the 61-47 score.

On Monday Falcon mentor Ken Arneson was still puzzling over the first quarter shooting by his team that went like this:

Dick Gillespie misses from 10; Howie Brasch misses from 18; Ted Lambert misses from 18; Frank Calvello has a shot blocked; Lambert hits a free throw at 5:05; Calvello misses from 12; Brasch misses from 10; Brasch hits from eight at 3:15; Gillespie misses from 10; Calvello misses from 18; Lambert misses a free throw at 1:58; Gillespie misses from 15; Calvello misses from 12; Lambert hits a free throw; Gillespie hits from 12; and Gillespie hits from 20. Shooting percentage: 17. Score: Glenbrook North 14, Forest View 8.

Said Arneson. "I just can't understand it. I was just going over the statistics again. In that game we hit 13 of 51 shots (25 per cent). Our defense was pretty good, and they didn't get more than ten shots at the basket in any period, but they did hit them (21 of 32 for 62 per cent)."

HE ADDED, "In the first and fourth quarter we just couldn't make a thing. In the fourth period, we were three for 17 from the field. In every other statistical department we were all right: we shot 84 per cent from the line and they had 70; we turned the ball over eight times, they had 17; we recovered 11 of their turnovers, and they got five of ours; but that shooting . . . I just don't understand it."

Forest View, 6-12 over-all, is 0-8 in non-conference play.

Glenbrook South successfully blocked off the high post from the Falcons, and in an effort to open up that spot on the floor Frank Calvello was ordered to take the shot from the top of the key. Unfortunately, Frank had the coldest night he will probably ever have as he missed 13 consecutive field goal attempts.

As the second quarter opened the Falcons thawed out a little and closed the gap to 18-16 as they hit three straight buckets. In that rally Bob Arnold and Lambert each picked off an errant Spartan pass. Glenbrook North opened the margin to five, 21-16, but Forest View came back on two free tosses by Lambert and four straight by Calvello to lead 22-21.

CALVELLO HIT the last of his six throws a moment later when he dumped in two more charity tosses to give the Falcons a 24-23 lead. Glenbrook North hit from the field to take the lead, but two more free throws by Lambert gave it back to the Falcons at 26-25. A 10-footer by the Spartans' McDonald just before the buzzer on a fast break snatched the lead away again, 27-26.

Forest View missed their first three shots of the second half, but a 12-foot jumper and a driving hook by Lambert gave Forest View a 30-29 margin. Lambert hit a free throw at 4:55 and a turn around jumper at 4:26 to give the Falcons their biggest lead of the night 33-30. After leading this charge, Lambert retired momentarily with his fourth personal foul. When Lambert left the score was 35-34 against the Falcons, and when he returned to play for 45 seconds before fouling out, the score was 44-38.

With Lambert gone the Falcons embarked on their 3-17 fourth period shooting spree. The gap was closed to six points, but Bob Arnold missed and Calvello each missed breakaway shots, and the Spartans started to stall.

While Forest View really didn't like the taste of their own medicine, they simply couldn't get hold of the ball as they only scored three points in the last four minutes.

Arnold finished the night with 10 points, while Lambert led the Falcons with 16 markers. (SP

"I GOT IT!" is the predominant cry, but Palatine's John Ekeberg (23, white) and Wheeling's Scott Bischoff are the closest to the ball. Also in on the effort—from Friday's Palatine-Wheeling encounter—are Pirate Dick Smith and Wildcats Tom Bastable and Jeff Winterburg (23, dark).

Wheeling Survives In Thriller With Pirates

by KEN KNOX

The wonder of it was that they could keep it up for the full 32 minutes.

Wheeling and Palatine faced off Friday night in one of the most hectic and aggressive games of the Mid-Suburban League's basketball season, pressuring each other from the opening tip to the final buzzer, not deciding the issue until the waning seconds.

The Wildcats won it 56-50, but six points overstates the margin. It was—most of the way—closer than that in a game that had something of everything: galloping offense and furious defense: brilliant shooting and pathetic shooting; masterful play patterns and brawling scrambles; 10 ties and 10 exchanged leads; and all of it wrapped in officiating loudly condemned by both sides.

It certainly was no re-play of the season's first meeting between the MSL rivals when—in early January on Wheeling's floor—the Wildcats thundered to a 93-53 decision.

THIS SECOND TIME around Mike Owens' run-and-shoot crew met a rejuvenated Pirate squad determined to meet its game, and it made for an explosive formula. Though Wheeling held the upper hand—slightly—for much of the game, Norm Jones' Pirates battled back repeatedly, and at the end it looked as if they might pull it out.

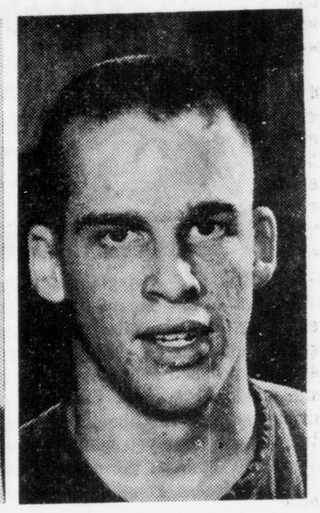
It was a clutch effort by Wheeling's Scott Bischoff that resolved it, a three-point play with 30 seconds remaining that crushed Palatine.

The Pirates, in a searing seesaw fourth quarter, had pulled to within one—at 51-50—of Wheeling on a field goal from the side of the basket by Wayne Render, then swarmed all over the 'Cats as they tried to bring the ball up the floor. But Bischoff broke clear under the basket, grabbed a pass, banked in a shot, was fouled, then converted the free throw.

THAT QUICKLY it was ended, for though 0:30 remained, Palatine was down by four. In their desperation, the Pirates missed their shot, and Rex Peterson iced it for Wheeling with another shot under the basket with four seconds left.

Bischoff was the man of the game for the 'Cats, saving his best for the critical second half. He put in 10 of his 12 points then, including seven that helped offset a third quarter Palatine charge, and the three that decided it. Tom Bastable, who took Wheeling honors with 13, led the Wildcats early, mostly on tips around the basket. And there was the usual Wheeling balance, with Peterson chipping in 10, Jack Bastable eight and Jeff Winterburg seven.

SCOTT BISCHOFF
When It Counts



JOHN EKEBERG
Big In Defeat

But the Pirates had their heroes, too, among them again forward Dick Smith, one of the hottest shooters in the MSL in the past five games. With an exceptional display of shooting—after being held to two points in the first half—he fired in 14 in the second half, including 10 in the third quarter alone.

PERHAPS EVEN more crucial to the Palatine effort was the work of the little guards, John Ekeberg and Mike Ferguson. They were the principals in putting the hounding pressure on Wheeling, and in moving the ball against the Wheeling press. And Ekeberg, in his biggest night of the year, totaled 14 points as well, nine in the second half.

But in the end, Wheeling had just a little too much pressure for the Pirates, and it came in certain key moments. The pattern was familiar: quick flurries of points inspired by defensive efforts.

It happened in the first quarter, when Wheeling first tried to break away. Palatine was up 9-7, when Tom Bastable tallied on a fast break layup. A few moments later, after Palatine missed its shot, Bastable was awarded a free throw. He missed, but brother Jack rebounded for two points. Palatine took the ball out of bounds, Wheeling took it away, and Tom Bastable scored. Palatine took the ball out again, Wheeling stole it again, and Peterson scored. In one minute: 15-9 Wheeling.

THAT EDGE eventually grew to 20-11 in the second period, as the 'Cats kept the Pirates off the board for three minutes. But—in a quarter remarkable for how little scoring was produced by so much action—the Pirates came back behind Ferguson to make it 22-17 at the half.

All through the third quarter, with Smith on his binge, the Pirates came back, eventually catching up at 29-29, then staying even until another Wildcat flurry widened the difference.

After Palatine finally went ahead 33-32, Wheeling hit three quick field goals by Bischoff, Peterson and Jack Bastable, the last two coming after steals.

A REFEREE'S faux pas provided the clincher to that surge. Ferguson was fouled in a one-and-one situation, went to the line and hit his first shot to cut it to 38-34 Wheeling. But he was never given his second shot, and during the ensuing confusing moments, Greg Fedyski bombed in a long shot for Wheeling.

Still, Palatine came back from that adversity, and—on two quick fourth quarter field goals by Ekeberg and another by Dick Schuettner—went ahead 46-44. That was with half the period left, and it was a struggle to the finish when Bischoff settled it.

'Cat JV Slips By Palatine

Wheeling might not have known how important was that two-point first quarter lead.

The Wildcats, in a Friday night junior varsity basketball joust on the Palatine floor, went ahead of the Pirates 13-11 in quarter one.

And that, in the end, was the game, as the two sides played dead even the rest of the way, and the 'Cats avenged an earlier two-point loss to the Pirates.

The critical play of the game was a steal by Robin Melzer with little more than a minute to go, for it broke a Palatine advantage and pushed the 'Cats to the win.

The Pirates — on a shot under the basket by Gary Holloway—had gone ahead 40-38 after the game was tied for more than two minutes. Wheeling4 missed a countering shot, and the Pirates tried to hold on to the ball. But Melzer stole and tied the game on a driving layup.

THE WINNING play came with 25 seconds left. Palatine had missed in an effort to go ahead, and the 'Cats controlled the ball until King broke through for a layup, and was fouled. The three-point effort made it 43-40. Melzer added another free throw with eight seconds to go, and Holloway tallied at the buzzer for Palatine to set the final score.

Holloway was high for the Pirates and the game with 15 points, while teammate Brian Scholl added 12. King and Melzer led a balanced Wheeling attack with 11 apiece.

48-Second 'Cat Burst Starts Conant Demise

by KEN KNOX

In 48 seconds, one game became another.

For a quarter and a half Saturday night, Conant's Cougars and Wheeling's Wildcats thrashed in a fight befitting their nicknames, exchanging field goals and offensive flurries, neither able to shake free of the other.

If any team had the edge, it was Conant, but only slightly, and it looked as if the Cougar-hosted Mid-Suburban League tilt could go to the buzzer in doubt.

Then — in those 48 seconds—it became a Wheeling game, and so it remained the rest of the way, ending finally in a 74-60 decision.

The 'Cats simply and swiftly broke it open, cashing in on one of the things they perform best: nuisance defense. Troubling the Cougars — as they did most of the game — with pressure on out-of-bounds toss-ins at the baseline, they mined a jackpot between 3:48 and 3:00 of the second period.

THEY SCORED nine points in that sudden span, and it boosted them from a 22-19 deficit to a 28-22 lead, and — more significantly — to the momentum that carried them to their fifth MSL win in 10 tries and assurance of at least fifth place in the league. The Cougars continued looking for win No. 1 after their 10th loop game.

Until the Wheeling breakaway, Conant — though tied on four occasions — had never trailed. The Cougars jumped to a quick 6-2 lead as forward George Schenck hit his first three shots, and they got their biggest lead at 12-6 on another Schenck field goal.

But after that — with the exception of Larry Robertson, who had the game high of 21 points—Schenck and the rest of the Cougars were gradually cooled.

WHEELING went ahead for the first time at 5:21 of the second quarter, taking a 19-18 edge on a soft shot from the key by Tom Bastable.

Conant charged back to a three-point lead on shots by Robertson and Schenck, and no one suspected what was about to happen.

Jeff Winterburg — who was to collect an amazing 11 points in the last half of that quarter —started it. He went in on a layup at 3:48 and was fouled. He converted and the score was tied.

The Cougars took the ball out of bounds, tossed it in, and Rex Peterson snatched it for Wheeling. He scored on a lay-up.

THE COUGARS took it out again, tossed it in, and Jack Bastable snared it. He popped in a short jumper.

Again Conant tried to get the ball in play. Again Jack Bastable came up with it, and again he jumped in a shot. And like that, it was 28-22 Wheeling.

Robertson broke the string with a rebound shot that brought the Cougars to within four, but Winterburg then personally strung six points for the 'Cats in less than a minute, hitting two field goals and two free throws while Conant could hit nothing. That flurry put Wheeling up by 10, and it was "catch-up" the rest of the way for the Cougars.

THE ACTUAL clincher — in a game in which Wheeling turned at least eight steals directly into field goals — came early in the third period. With a dazzling four consecutive steals at the baseline, it was a flurry of eight points in little more than a half-minute. Tom Bastable hit twice, brother Jack once, and Peterson got the fourth, and with it Wheeling zoomed from 38-31 to 46-31.

That, realistically, was the end, and Wheeling widened the difference to 24 points before a Robertson-led surge against 'Cat reserves trimmed it in the fourth quarter.

The defensive brilliance — at the two big moments and scattered moments throughout the game — made the big difference. That and the fact that the balanced Wheeling attack again saw four players in double figures, led by Winterburg's 19.

Knopf Impressive

Niles North Handles Grove Squad, 57-44

by JIM TINDALL

Coach Bob Rees, experimenting with the football technique of game films, recorded his team's performance last Friday night, but John Knopf turned out to be the only movie star in the Grenadiers' 57-44 loss to Niles North.

Rees will spend one afternoon comparing the Niles North game to a game filmed in December and when he does he might flash a contented smile or two over the improved play of Knopf.

In the last few games Knopf has been just so-so but against the Vikings, he led all scorers with 15 points and played a creditable floor game.

IN THE THIRD quarter when Rees ordered a full court press Knopf stole the ball three consecutive times on the Niles North in-bounds play, enabling the Grenadiers to close the gap from 13 to eight points; however, at that point, Tom Pomey fouled out, and the Vikings got hot, controlled both boards, and scored 12 straight points to put the game out of reach.

Late in the second quarter Knopf had closed the gap from 18 points to 14 with a pair of neat 15-footers from the corner off of sharp passes from the guards.

The unfortunate thing was that the Grenadiers put themselves down by 12 points in the first quarter, because after the camera jitters the young cagers played the Niles North team even. Playing control basketball in the first period, Coach Rees's charges jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first one and one-half minutes, but after a bucket by Dennis Jones made it 5-5 at 4:00 someone put the lid on the Grenadiers basket. Shot after shot bounced harmlessly off of the rim, and Niles North suddenly came alive on a pair of fast breaks to open a 17-5 gap.

KNOPF HIT seven of his team's 13 points in the second period as the Grenadiers matched Niles North basket for basket. In the last 90 seconds of the period Bob Artemenko chipped in four points on a ten-footer and a pair of free throws to keep the half-time margin to 12 points.

Coach Rees jumped a guard to open the second half, but that defensive effort along with all others failed as Elk Grove developed a severe case of "Icicles on the Hands and Feet." It took three and one-half minutes for the Grenadiers to recoup their forces, but by that time they were down by six more points, a total of 18.

The Vikings edged out by one more point when the score ran up to 40-21, but center Jim Oplt added a free throw and Knopf got hot from 15 feet to start closing the gap. The bulge was cut down to 15, but when the Grenadiers started working for the good shot with four minutes left Knopf missed from 12 feet, and the Grenadiers offense stalled.

UNDER THE pressure of Elk Grove's tenacious full court press Niles North also sputtered in the opening minutes of the fourth period. A pair of buckets by Jim Hofmann preceeded Knopf's three straight steals that closed the gap to eight, but after that the Elk Grove offense deflated like a punctured baloon right in front of the movie camera. The Grenadiers tried to get their shots off of a weaving offense spiced with picks, but more confusion resulted than points, and both sides, tiring rapidly, turned the ball over with amazing regularity.

Knopf was the only Grenadier to hit double figures, but Pomey chipped in with nine points, and Hofmann added six more. The Vikings made the two-digit numbers as their 6-3 center Mike Weil hit 14, Bassuk 11, and Saltzberg 10.

Eight League Win Gives Lions Record

by MARV PRELLBERG, JR.

St. Viator's varsity basketball unit successfully continued on its journey for the Chicagoland Prep League crown by winning a Friday eve tussle with a visiting Marian Catholic five, 84-79.

In garnering the victory coach Leo Nomellini's St. Viator quintet set a school standard for season Chicagoland Prep wins.

The Lions never had managed to win more than seven games in prior season's league competition. This triumph over Marian Catholic was its eighth of the 1966-67 conference campaign and boosted its season record against all opponents to 12 wins and eight losses.

THE LIONS ran hot and cold during the 32 minutes of action, but their hot streaks provided them with enough margin to check off a determined second half bid by the Spartans.

Marian Catholic took a slim lead early in the first period, but when guard Tom Epperly tallied on a three point maneuver, to make the count 9-7, the Lions were out in front to stay.

In fact after viewing the action in the second quarter of play, it appeared as though St. Viator would win in a rout.

After bringing a 15-12 lead into the second period, the classy combination put on a two man scoring demonstration that awed the local fans and smothered the Spartans.

A BASKET by Marian Catholic's Jim Jabrosky closed the gap to 15-14 when the quarter opened, but then a rain of baskets and free throws by the Hogan and Collins duo commenced.

Eleven straight points, nine of which were claimed by Hogan, shot St. Viator into a 26-14 lead. Collins then began to get into the act on a larger scale.

After these two Lion aces had accounted for all 21 points in building up a second period cushion, Greg Polich finally squeezed in with a field goal and two free throws to break up the two man monopoly. The locals left the floor at halftime with a seemingly comfortable 42-26 lead.

UP TO THAT time Jabrosky, Joe Zarantonello and Frank Sylvester had divided up the scoring chores for Marian Catholic. In the second half the 5-6 guard Sylvester put on a demonstration in behalf of all the little men in the cage sport that did them proud.

The touted Spartan guard, who seems to be as wide as he is tall, raced through, around, and under the St. Viator defenders during the second half until he had put 23 points up on the scoreboard for the visitors during this time. Sylvester exited from the contest late in the game with his fifth personal foul and a 30 point total to his credit.

St. Viator built up its margin to 22 points in the early part of the third quarter, 53-31, but from that point Sylvester and Co. began its move.

THE LIONS margin dropped to eleven points at the end of the third quarter, and with over three minutes left to play in the final frame, coach Nomellini's charges could only claim a three point edge, 70-67.

The Lions then managed to pull themselves out of the doldrums just long enough to keep the determined Marian Catholic quintet from delivering the fatal blow.

St. Viator's Hogan struck the clinching blow to the Spartans with 14 seconds left. when he tallied on a fast break layup The stellar senior forward paid somewhat for this clincher, as he was knocked unconscious for a few moments in a collision on this play. He recovered and dropped in a free throw to record his 28th point of the night to ice the victory for St. Viator.

St. Viator Swimmers Win Again

A dazzling diving effort by senior Dave Chantry and two victories by Bill McCaffrey highlighted St. Viator's surprisingly easy 64-31 conquest of Maine East's varsity swimmers last week.

Chantry turned in the finest effort of his tank career at the Arlington Heights school with an 81.45 card, a St. Viator diving record.

McCaffrey clipped off a 2:02.8 in the 200 yard freestyle and 4:37.5 in the 400 free for his two victories.

Also recording victories for coach Charles Mondi's Lions were Al Kanabay in the 200 individual medley (2:28.9), Fred Schmidt in the 100 butterfly (1:02.5), Bill Saigh in the 100 backstroke (1:03.7), and Rick Kalinowski in the 100 breaststroke (1:09).

Pirate JV Falls 43-42

Palatine's jayvee Cagers dropped a real-heart breaker Saturday night 43-42 to Maine West. It culminated a frustrating weekend for coach Marc Denny who saw his charges drop a pair of ball games by a total of three points. Gary Holloway paced the young Pirate scoring with 14 points while Brian Scholl chipped in with 11 markers.

Sportsman's Notebook

by KEN KNOX
Outdoor Editor
CLearbrook 8-1520

FOUR DAYS—today through Sunday—remain to waft in that first scent of the sunny season, the Sportsmen's Vacation and Boat Show at Chicago's International Ampitheatre.

It's on another successful run, doubtless aided by the blizzard-burdened condition of the area's outdoorsmen, who even in normal winters get the urge to soak up a little synthetic spring and summer about this time of the year.

If that's what you want—instant escape from winter—it's in abundance again at the outdoor show. There are, of course, the usual spectacles ranging from log-rolling to bear-wrestling to retrieving by the famed dogs of Wheeling's Willie Necker.

But even better for the sportsman are the vast and enticing displays of the equipment of the outdoors, a panorama of what's new in fishing equipment, boats, camping gear, hunting outfits. You can look at, touch, and even try most of it.

And better yet, if you are taking in the show just for winter therapy, there are the gaudy rows of booths boosting vacation and resort areas, teeming with colorful photos and folders of the places you'd like to be when the snow is gone, if ever it is.

From the men who watch birds for a living, sober news on the whooping crane's effort to hold on to existence. The crane population decreased by one—from 44 to 43—during last year's transition from the Canadian nesting grounds to the Texas resting grounds, with five new birds joining the flock and six adults vanishing. Better news on the threatened bald eagle, with 332—almost twice as many as last year—counted in an Illinois census along the Mississippi River.

DIRE WARNINGS have been sounded about one of the Midwest's great natural hunting and fishing areas: the Ohio River basin.

The Interior Department's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife has studied the region for six years, making it sort of a test case of problems becoming all too familiar around here. The conclusion—despite the vast size of the area—is that the hunting and fishing opportunities have already become short, and stand only to get a lot worse.

For 20-million people in the area in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, it's troublesome news, as the crush of factors from population to pollution begin sapping the resources of woods and water long taken for granted.

It's an immediate problem, says the bureau, so immediate that within 10 years the residents of the river basin may be without adequate fishing, hunting and boating.

The suggested cure includes the creating of new water, serious efforts to beat pollution, re-stocking fished-out areas with fish and food, introducing new fish, more carefully managing public hunting areas, and buying up or renting more land to open to the public.

That's not nearly so easy as it was to use up the resources, but it's obviously a battle worth the fight. The bureau's next study—how the problem is met—should be even more interesting.

Lest the hunter or fisherman thinks he's not paying his own way, consider this: He, and 33-million like him, shelled out four-billion dollars last year to hunt and/or fish, and that's about 10 times the amount spent on spectator sports. Most of the number—about 28-million—are purely fishermen, and their numbers are growing faster than the population. The number of hunters actually declined some, probably very much because of the increased pressure on land.

Morava Tops Area Frosh Gym Entries

A tie for first by Gary Morava on the parallel bars helped Wheeling to a fifth place finish in the Fifth Annual Waukegan Freshmen Invitational Gymnastics Meet last Saturday while Prospect was capturing seventh and Conant a tie for twelfth.

Niles North bettered a field of 13 squads to capture the team title. Team points were awarded for the top 10 performers in each of six events plus all-around.

Morava also captured a third in tumbling, a tenth on the horizontal bar and finished fifth in all-around competition.

Jay Bensen highlighted the Knight team showing with one of the top averages of the meet and earned a blue ribbon on the trampoline. Other Prospect ally-earners included Kurt Hendershot with a fourth in tumbling, Dave Wilson with a fourth on the side horse, Mike Ossowski with a tie for fifth on the rings, and Bill Stansbury with a tenth in all-around.

In addition to Morava, the Cats had point help from Kyle Wooldrige with a seventh on the side horse, Don Rainer with a tie for eighth on the high bar, Mike Hart with a tie for eighth on rings and Brian Campbell with a tenth on the tramp.

Conant's scorers were Ed Marcoski, eighth in all-around, and Dave Balinski with a tie for eighth on the tramp.

Grenadiers Edge Maine South JVs

The play was on the ragged side and there wasn't much scoring, but Elk Grove couldn't find fault with the result.

The Grenadiers tripped up another junior varsity opponent Saturday night, dropping Maine South 29-25. The Hawks had the best of the Grenadiers in only one quarter—that a 9-8 edge in the first—and the victors had just enough the rest of the way to make the difference.

Accuracy paid off for Elk Grove, for while the Grenadiers had few shots, they hit almost 40 per cent of them, while Maine was cashing in at 26 per cent from the field. But headman Bob Rees cited rebounding as the big factor, with the Grenadiers out-rebounding the Hawks by a two-to-one margin. Tom Pomey stood out particularly with seven defensive rebounds.

Jim Oplt led all scorers with 13 points for EG. No one else on either side was in double figures. But among the more crucial points were three straight free throws by Larry Pahl in the last 90 seconds. They came with Elk Grove ahead 26-25, and iced the contest.

Falcon JVs Fall by 15

The Forest View jayvees fell behind in the opening quarter Saturday, and they were never able to regain the lead as they dropped a game to Glenbrook North, 40-25.

The Falcons were outscored 17-9 in the second stanza, and Rog Steingraber's team was never in the game after that. Forest View was cold from the floor. Earl Thomas was the only Falcon to clip double figures with 10 points. The second high man for Forest View was Kevin Grismer with six.

Glenbrook North substituted freely in the ragged game, but the Spartans were able to control both boards through the entire game.

Allen Tops 1,000

Cards Belt Knights

by KEITH REINHARD

Someone must have switched around the uniforms at the laundry.

It couldn't have been the same Arlington band dumped in their last two outings by Libertyville and Maine West.

It had to be a different Prospect gang than the title contenders fresh from impressive wins over Wheeling and Forest View.

Sleek Cardinal guard Steve Allen slipped quietly over the 1000-point mark in career scoring but the feat went practically unnoticed as a stunned full house watched the homestanding Knights trampled upon 74-47 Saturday evening.

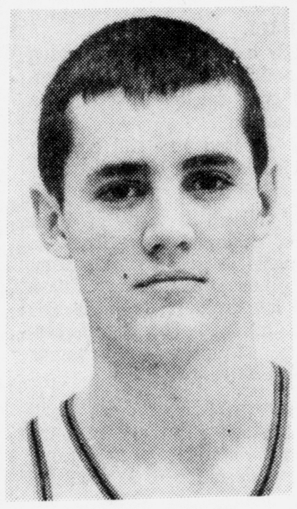
ALLEN WAS noticed. Spearheading an efficient Cardinal attack with 26 points, the 6-3 senior helped his team to the strongest revival of the season and the healthiest margin of victory over Prospect in a ten-game rivalry stretching over eight seasons. The triumph also solidified Arlington's grip on first in the MSL standings and left no doubt among anyone over their role as Knight-killers.

A trio of fourth-period charity tosses by Allen established him as only the third cager in Paddock Publications history to attain the 1000-point tally within the paper's circulation area. Ironically, the player just a notch above him, one who also reached the select group this season, witnessed the elevation from the floor in a losing cause.

Tom Lundstedt jacked his career total to 1081 with a 17-point display that paced Prospect scoring. It had little effect on the game outcome though as the visitors led from start to finish and were threatened mildly only once after taking a 17-10 first-quarter command.

ARLINGTON COULD do little wrong and Prospect saw just about everything go wrong. The hosts benevolently offered 20 turnovers during the game, 13 in the first half, and watched the opponents take advantage of nearly all of them.

The Cards meanwhile hit on 18 straight free throws starting with the first offering, passed adroitly, exhibited rebound supremacy, and threw up a defense that thoroughly discouraged Prospect from even shooting.



STEVE ALLEN
Knight Nemesis

Allen opened scoring with one of seven high-arched 15-foot jumpers he accrued during the game and moments later Terry Townley poked in an outside set to put Arlington on top permanently, 4-0.

LUNDSTEDT countered with a pair of free throws but Jim Donchess counter-countered for the Cards with a jump shot and a layup to make it 8-2 after less than three minutes of play.

The trend didn't halt after Arlington held a seven-point first-stanza bulge. The opening of period two saw Townley drop in three free throws and Dave Lockwood, Donchess and Townley all add field goals before the Knights budged the scoreboard again.

By then it read 26-10 and Prospect might just as well have folded up their armor and silently stolen away.

The Knights' one meek resurgence came after returning from the dressing room with a 38-24 deficit hovering over them. Lundstedt opened third quarter action by tipping in a rebound and the home crowd came to their feet shortly after when Dave Kingman picked off a stray Cardinal pass, drove down solo and stuffed in the ball.

Shortly afterwards Lundstedt took a nice pass from Butch Leonard and added a layup and Forrest Haney slipped home a free throw for Prospect and the gap stood at 40-31.

IT WAS THE last time the Knights were within ten of the Cards. Allen hit on a 15 footer from the key and 6-7 Jim Gracen, who came off the bench in the second half, tallied on a rebound to put the game out of reach.

Allen approached the 1000 milestone with one of his jumping specialties, was fouled in the process, and hit the even mark on a subsequent free throw midway through the fourth quarter. He went over the 1000 mark with 1:20 showing on the clock with the first of another pair of gratis tosses.

The win puts the Cards at 15-3 for the season and elevates them to 9-1 in conference. The Knights, who had moved to within half a game of the league leaders a night earlier when Arlington suffered their first MSL loss at the hands of the Maine Warriors, now have a 7-2 standard in league play and are 13-5 over-all.

Both Knight loop losses this season have been issued by Arlington. The first defeat was a thorough 66-51 pasting. Saturday's decision, in addition to surpassing that margin, overshadowed a 63-44 Card win during the 62-63 season that was previously the widest.

Arlington now owns a 7-3 edge in the series. (Sp

Allen, Hogan Advance on Scoring List

Arlington's Steve Allen passed the 1,000 mark in career scoring and St. Viator's Frank Hogan passed George Bork and George Pomey in area basketball action last weekend.

Allen became only the third player in Paddock area history to top 1,000 points in a career when he collected 26 Saturday at Prospect. He now owns 1,002.

Hogan had 56 points in two weekend games to climb to the 811 level, ninth on the all-time area list.

The rankings:

Conant's JV Wins On Rieble's Heroics

A clutch effort in the closing seconds by Walt Rieble brought Conant a thrilling 41-40 junior varsity basketball victory over Wheeling Saturday night.

Rieble popped in two field goals in a matter of moments—one on a rebound of his own missed free throw—to give the Cougars the win, and revenge for a 66-47 pounding Wheeling hung on them earlier in the JV season.

The Cougars had taken an early lead in the game, worked it to a 25-21 halftime bulge, and held on as Wheeling chipped away in the closing minutes.

The Wildcats had overtaken the Cougars late in the fourth period, going ahead just before the three-minute mark, and holding a 40-37 advantage with about 30 seconds to play.

The Cougars, obviously looking for a three-point play, got the ball in to Rieble near the basket, and he bulled in for the field goal to cut the difference to 40-39. He was fouled doing it, and had the chance to tie the game.

But the free throw was short, and for Conant it was a good thing. Rieble leaped ahead, picked off the ball as it came off the front rim, and dropped it in for the winning basket.

That left 19 seconds, and Wheeling called time in an effort to set up a play to pull out the game. But the Cougars swarmed so thoroughly over the 'Cats that the losers could get off only one errant shot at the buzzer.

For the game, Rieble topped all scorers with 14 points.

Falcons Slow Down One Prospect Ace...

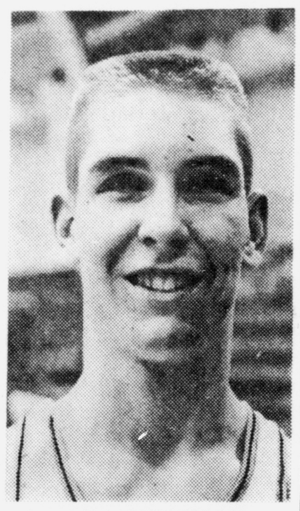
by KEITH REINHARD

Tom Lundstedt has been shut out a number of times as a member of Prospect's baseball team. In a Knight grid uniform, the husky end-quarterback has gone scoreless on several occasions.

At Forest View Friday night the hosts came close to achieving an even more astonishing defensive feat in containing Lundstedt to his lowest point total in two years

Unfortunately it was a secondary goal and the Falcons saw Prospect center Dave Kingman go wild, their ball-control tactics backfire, their primary objective falter and themselves on the wrong end of a 42-20 decision.

BOB ARNOLD
Trails Tom



DAVE KINGMAN
King-Sized Effort

LUNDSTEDT didn't score much because he didn't shoot much. A tight box zone defense and an outstanding individual defensive effort by Bob Arnold limited the senior forward to a one-for-three evening afield and two free throws for a four-point tally.

Meanwhile, Kingman was having a field day for the visitors. Homesteading under the boards, the lanky pivotman netted eight of twelve field goals and snagged nine rebounds to help his teammates topple Forest View for the tenth time in eleven outings during the five-year period.

Kingman completely dampened Falcon spirits during the first half. While Forest View took plenty of time between shots, waiting for the proper opening under the basket, Kingman scored at will from underneath the hoop and the score at halftime might well have read Kingman 14, Forest View 12.

THE READING was actually 18-12 but coupled with a 9-4 Prospect over Forest View ratio in scoring during period three, it caused the gymshoe to slip on the other foot as the game moved to a close. Then the Knights were taking their time about shooting and the hosts trying to hurry the action.

The slowdown did work for Ken Arneson's crew during the initial round. Kingman struck on jump shots from 15 and 8 feet and on two layups during the first four minutes to give Prospect an 8-2 command.

Forest View came back then with Frank Calvello and Arnold waiting for openings and netting layups, Ted Lambert and Arnold contributing free throws, and Lambert posting a 15 - foot jumper from the corner in the last second of play to earn them a 10-9 lead.

BUT THE FALCONS didn't record another field goal until 6:55 of the third quarter. In two, Kingman continued on his spree with Forest Haney, a junior fresh up from the jayvees producing the only non-Kingman field goal of the first half.

Knight guard John Phillips allocated the scoring burden during period three by sinking a trio of outside shots after that lone Forest View field goal, by Howie Brasch, had chopped the Prospect bulge to 18-12.

In the fourth stanza, sandwiched around floor shots by Kingman and Lundstedt's loner via a rebound along with a 15-foot set by Arnold, were a rash of Falcon personals and a 7-8 free toss outburst for the visitors. The surge earned a 38-19 lead that put the game out just about of grasp and had the Falcons pepping up action with little more than three minutes remaining.

Kingman was the only player to acquire a double figure total at 18. Phillips and Haney finished with seven apiece and Calvello was high for the losers with six.

Lundstedt was last held under ten points by another Forest View crew late last season, picking up eight points while his squad was losing for the first and only time to the Falcons 57-54. His only lesser showing was a 3-point night as a substitute during his sophomore year.

Fast Start Aids Knights

A boost from a veteran and a newcomer during the first quarter of play rocketed Prospect into early command over Forest View Friday night and put the Knights well on their way to victory number nine in a row, 48-29.

The veteran, Jim Gumz, and the rookie fresh up from soph ball, Bruce Timko, each bagged six to help the visitors forge a 20-6 first quarter advantage.

Gumz went on to accrue 12 during the first half and eventually earned game scoring honors with 16. High for the losers was Earl Thomas with 11.

First League Setback

Fritz Strikes Again; Cards' Five Shocked

by BOB FRISK

Al Fritz struck again Friday evening—and it was a cruel blow.

Maine West's Fritz is the same young man who scored two touchdowns against Arlington last fall in a 14-14 tie, covering 35 yards on a reverse on the final play of the first half.

He's the same young man who poured through 26 points and almost engineered the Warriors past Arlington in an earlier basketball meeting on the Cardinal floor.

LAST FRIDAY Fritz once again was in the spotlight. This time he replied to some pressure-packed situations at the free throw line and helped send the Warriors home with a stunning 55-54 victory over Arlington.

The 6-2, 175-pounder hit on two charity tosses in the final 46 seconds to give Maine the points it needed for a come-from-behind conquest of a club that had scored eight straight Mid-Suburban League victories.

Coach Gaston Freeman's Warriors, a club that has played in several cliff-hangers this winter, losing most of them, weren't to be denied this time in the hectic conclusion.

THE CARDINALS were in command throughout most of the encounter, building up a 10-point lead at one time in the third quarter, and they enjoyed a 52-45 lead with 5:37 left after Dave Lockwood bagged two free throws.

Trouble began at this point. Fritz hit from the corner, and after the Cards missed on a one-and-one from the line, Dick Kaechele worked underneath for another basket. Now, it was 52-49 Arlington with 3:30 left.

The clubs traded missed shots and when a second Cardinal attempt bounced off at the 2:28 mark, Maine immediately called a time out. The strategy session worked as Kaechele hit from 12 feet to cut the Arlington advantage to one point, 52-51, with 2:12 remaining.

ARLINGTON THREW the ball away at 1:50, Fritz shot and missed, and the Cards cleared the rebound with 1?23 remaining and a one-point lead.

Inability to cash in at the free throw line, one of the contributing factors to the upset defeat, cost Arlington again at this juncture when another one-and-one attempt failed to connect.

Maine West took down the rebound and seconds later, with 1:07 remaining to be exact, Dick Manny pumped one through from the free throw circle to give Maine a 53-52 lead.

THE CARDINALS retaliated quickly when Steve Allen shot a pass to Jim Donchess underneath and Donchess worked it up for a two-pointer with 54 seconds remaining. That was the first Arlington basket in over six minutes of the disastrous fourth stanza.

The officiating Friday, subject to rants and raves from both sides of the floor, from the very beginning, really came into the spotlight in the final 46 seconds.

With 46 seconds still showing on the clock in the Maine East fieldhouse, the Warriors' Fritz was fouled near mid-court and a technical foul also was slapped on for what referee Jim Flemming termed "unnecessary comments" from the player involved.

FRITZ WENT to the line with his one-and-one, missed, got another chance with the technical, made this one, and then the Warriors got the ball with the score tied at 54-all.

With four seconds left Fritz was at the line again for two shots. He made the first, missed the second, and Arlington controlled, but the Cards couldn't get off a shot in time.

Lockwood was high for Arlington with 16 points. Allen had 12 and Donchess and Terry Townley 10 each.

The Cards had more than the usual problems at the free throw line, hitting only 18 of 30 and missing the first shot on five crucial one-and-ones.

Fritz was high for the Warriors with 20 points, connecting 10 times from the free throw line, Harry Tistle had 16 and his long-range efforts helped keep Maine alive throughout a good portion of the game.

The Way We See It

Brotherhood Week: Time to Talk Sense

Brotherhood Week begins Sunday.

The week has become a traditional part of the observance of George Washington's birthday.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews, sponsoring organization, cites as the purpose of Brotherhood Week, "To remind people of their obligation to treat people with justice and equality."

Many pious words could be spent on that topic.

However, we see as our obligation this Brotherhood Week, 1967, not to discuss piously or in ringing tones the need for brotherhood but rather to talk in practical terms about the demands which will face our suburban communities and readers in the near future, possibly as early as this summer.

Brotherhood—in the form of the civil rights movement—has been the main domestic preoccupation of the United States during this decade. The grating sparks of change have created headline news week after month after year.

And change there has been, as racial barriers have fallen and continue to fall. Once-prominent goals of the civil rights movement have been relegated to positions of "continuing needs" as Negroes have enjoyed repeated successes in such areas as public accommodations, employment, religion, health and hospital facilities, and education.

Barriers still exist for Negroes and other minorities in all these areas. Much remains to be done.

But the measure of the Negro's success, particularly in employment and education, has resulted in a shift to a new focus for the civil rights movement: equal housing opportunities.

Housing was a main contention in last summer's turbulent events in Chicago and some adjacent suburbs.

Housing was also the main problem to which the "Chicago Agreement of 1966" addressed itself. Since that agreement was signed, participants have proclaimed that, of necessity, it must include suburbia. That assertion has not met with total or even widespread agreement in the suburban community.

Since signing of the agreement, there also have been increasingly frequent references by civil rights leaders to northwest suburbs. We take this as an indication that suburbs, and particularly our area, will not remain outside the physical periphery of the struggle.

During the past few years, most northwest area communities have received their first Negro families. This initial challenge of integration has been met with a calm degree of maturity not characteristic of similar move-ins in other areas. We are confident our communities will continue to meet integration with intelligence and toleration.

Large-scale demonstrations will not materially enhance the chance for continued suburban calm, but we must assume they may occur. We hope any such demonstrators will be met with utmost patience and restraint, both by community leaders and suburban residents. This kind of response is essential if we are to preserve both the valued reputations and economic well-being of our communities.

One might contrast the riotous and damaging activities of anti-demonstration crowds in Cicero, and the effect they had on that community, with the peaceful, almost totally unpublicized demonstrations which occurred in Oak Park. We are certain the cordiality and patience of Oak Park will reap future dividends for that community.

Now, while racial passions are at low ebb, our suburbs must resolve to meet whatever challenges arise with reason, restraint, and good taste.

County Moves To Ease Jam-up on Highway 83

Good news came in this week's mail in the form of a letter from Cook County Highway Supt. Andrew V. Plummer to an interested citizen, stating the highway department's plans to improve Highway 83 this year.

Plummer wrote to Mount Prospect resident Frank D. Nicodem, one of a number of area residents who have expressed concern over the growing traffic bottleneck at Highway 83 and the Northwest Tollway, as well as the related need for additional tollway access in the northwest suburban area. Text of Plummer's letter is printed in the Fence Post.

Plummer reported that the widening of Highway 83, "including intersection channelization and the latest in traffic signal control at Oakton Street, should eliminate backups on the off ramp and onto the tollway." Plummer added the department plans a start on the work during the 1967 construction period.

Tollway access and the Highway 83 jam-up have been of continuing concern to us, and that concern has been expressed editorially and in our news columns. Last December, staff writers Dave Hoyt and Betty Forrester conducted a survey at the intersection and found dangerous rush-hour backups of traffic onto the toll highway.

At one point, they found 100 cars backed up from Oakton Street to the northbound exit ramp and onto the tollway itself. They pinpointed as needed improvements the widening of Highway 83 and installation of left turn controls at Oakton Street.

We are pleased this improvement will be started this year. We hope it will be expedited.

Critic's Corner

Perspective On the War

by DAVID HOYT
Staff Writer

The United States has entered most of the wars in which it has fought to thwart the expansive ambitions of other nations.

This was the case in Korea, and it is the case in Viet Nam. We have never fought against an ideology. We have never fired a shot at fascists or communists.

We have killed Germans, Japanese, Koreans, Chinese, and North Vietnamese in plenty.

Communism did not take over eastern Europe; Russia did. It is nations and nationalism that presents problems among the peoples of the world.

HOYT

We are in South Viet Nam to partly defend one nation against the attack of a very similar nation to the north and partly to guard against the spread of Chinese influence; not to guard against the threat of Communism.

COMMUNISM is no danger to Southeast Asia. China is.

No Communist could be less democratic or more insensitive to the needs of the people of a nation than the military dictatorships of Burma and Thailand.

It is a simple fact that there is little understanding of democracy in most of the world, and this is particularly true of Southeast Asia.

CONSIDERING the problems France has had trying to live with democracy, is it any wonder that the people France ruled in Thailand, Cambodia, Laos and both Viet Nams have labored and will continue to labor under dictatorship?

There exists a legitimacy gap in all of these nations.

Traditionally they have looked to authority as something that derives its legitimacy from above; from some god-like right to rule.

How then can we expect them to suddenly embrace and understand the concept of legitimacy deriving from themselves?

These people cannot realize outrage at the assertion of arbitrary authority, and this outrage is the only guarantee of what we call liberty.

WE ARE not fighting for democracy in South Viet Nam. Premier Ky, even if he wanted to, will not be able to run his country as a democrat.

Ho Chi Minh is no more brutal than Bao Dai or Ngo Dinh Diem. The only difference American troops will make in the future of South Viet Nam is that it will not be ruled by Ho.

It will be ruled by someone equally autocratic.

We in the United States owe an unpayable debt to our English heritage. More than anything else, it imparted to us a respect for the law coupled with the realization that unjust conditions should be changed.

We did not revolt against English laws, but for our right to be protected by and included under them.

THE MOST perfectly-functioning democracies today are those spawned by the dominance of English settlers in the lands which they colonized: Australia, Canada, New Zealand, The United States.

Only in these countries has democracy functioned without chaos in the spirit as well as the letter of the law. Elsewhere, with the exception of Scandinavia, democracy is a frosting for an essentially plutocratic cake.

Almost every Latin American state has a more perfect constitution than our own. But these documents are showpieces, which bear no relation to the practice of politics in these countries. And this case is true of most of Africa and all of Asia, except the U.S.-tutored Philippines.

OUR SACRED cow, Chiang Kai-Shek, runs a police state on Formosa, and Chung Hee Park's South Korea would be an unpleasant haven for any ardent supporter of U.S.-type liberties.

So let us make no mistake: We are not fighting for democracy in South Viet Nam against the evils of "International Communism."

We are fighting for ourselves, for our influence, and in the long run, for our survival. It's an old story among nations, and only the names have been changed.

Behind the Headlines

Our Tangled Transit

by ELAINE MEHLMAN
Staff Writer

The federal government will try to untangle the vexing problems that plague nationwide transportation systems with the recent establishment of the Department of Transportation.

The newly created cabinet-level department (DOT) is made up of 34 agencies which spend $6 billion annually on air, rail and highway transportation in the United States. Attaining the best possible over-all system throughout the nation is the goal of DOT, expected to be achieved by coordinating and unifying the programs of all the agencies.

Signed into law on Oct. 15 by President Johnson, the department has the complex task of developing national transportation policies and programs, promoting cooperation between the agencies, eliminating competition, cutting down on waste and the duplication of programs within the various departments, helping to improve existing facilities and providing new services, both public and private.

MEHLMAN

ON JAN. 16 Allen S. Boyd was sworn into office as the first Secretary of Transportation. The former Undersecretary of Commerce for Transportation, and the principal author of the legislation that created the new department, Boyd's entire office of transportation will be transferred into the new department.

Oscar Lask, regional executive officer of the Chicago area Federal Bureau of Public Roads, explained the basic purpose of DOT is " . . . to bring together in one place the government's major responsibilities in transportation, mostly in the area of promotional responsibilities. The central department, under one head, will include representatives of all modes of travel."

One of the most important functions of DOT is to make money available for research and development, especially in the areas of highway safety and safety in transportation. For example, the new safety standards for automobiles now being negotiated by the federal bureau of highway safety, presently under the Department of Commerce, will be transferred to the jurisdiction of the federal highway administrator of DOT.

THE DEPARTMENT does not represent expansion of existing federal authority on programs, nor does it have any of the powers to regulate transportation, which belongs to the individual administrative agencies. Rather, it seeks to coordinate their activities, done inefficiently up to this time because of a lack of a central agency.

The creation of the new department, according to Joseph Schofer, research associate at the Northwestern University Transportation Center, follows an over-all trend in federal administration to allocate money into major budget areas that deal with broad goals such as the transportation program. It is a means of promoting cooperative, comprehensive, long-range planning to achieve common objectives. All the agencies can expect to benefit from the extensive experience and research of the various groups working together under a single cabinet-level department.

"By integrating these agencies," Schofer said, "the best over-all system can be more readily achieved."

He gave as an example of the interrelation of various federal agencies the fact that while the Federal Bureau of Public Roads has the responsibility of highway transportation, the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Illinois (HUD) is especially concerned with mass transportation in the Chicago urban area. HUD is trying to establish some effective liaison channels between the two so both agencies can operate most efficiently by planning together at a regional level.

EMPLOYES OF the federal agencies to be transferred into DOT total 90,000. The agency with the largest budget is the Bureau of Public Roads, with an annual budget of $4.7 billion, representing about 4,700 employes. The federal aviation agency has an annual budget of $900 million and 45,000 employes, and the Coast Guard, including enlisted men, has a manpower force of 40,000.

All but one of the major federal agencies having policy, program or spending responsibilities in transportation are included in the new department. The Maritime Administration is the exception. However, experts in the transportation field believe Congress may hold hearings on whether or not it should be included, even though Maritime interests fought hard to keep the administration out of DOT.

Included in the new department are: A Federal Highway Administration, patterned after the existing Bureau of Public Roads in the Department of Commerce. (The bureau will be transferred to the highway administration); a National Transportation Safety Board, which will investigate and determine causes of transportation accidents, advise the Secretary on transportation safety matters, and carry out related safety responsibilities primarily affecting commercial transportation. Most of the board's authority has been transferred to it from the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

ALSO, A National Traffic Safety Bureau to administer the recently passed Highway Safety Act and Traffic Safety Act of 1966. (These programs currently are in the Department of Commerce); a Federal Aviation Administration, which will be the present Federal Aviation Agency, with a slight name change. The unit will administer air safety and control programs as well as the Federal Airport Act federal grant program.

Further provided in the DOT is a Federal Railroad Administration, established around the Northeast Corridor rail passenger development program and other rail-based activities in the present Office of the Undersecretary of Commerce for Transportation. Included are the rail safety responsibilities transferred from the ICC.

The Coast Guard has been transferred intact from the Treasury Department and will continue to be subject to Presidential transfer to the Navy Department in time of war, or, when the President so directs.

AMONG THE appointments to DOT of different types of transportation will be included a federal highway administrator, a Coast Guard Commandant, a federal aviation administrator, a federal railroad administrator; representatives of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Great Lakes Pilotage administrations; a director of the National Traffic Bureau and a director of the National Highway Safety Bureau.

While it is too early to evaluate the effect of DOT on the Illinois transportation system, or closer to home, on the local northwest suburban area, Oscar Lask of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, believes that after the program of the department is specifically worked out, the state "can only benefit."

"Our highways in Illinois," he said, "stand up among the best as a result of a strong consciousness of advanced planning, illustrated by the progress of the expressway system and the interstate roadways."

He pointed out that the long range plans for the Chicago area transportation system sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the state highway department are being updated by a continuing study, the "Chicago Area Transportation Study" (CATS). Originally set up as a special project, the study now has more or less become a part of the state's highway planning program with the federal bureau paying about 74 per cent of the cost.

ROBERT Ducharme, assistant director of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission, is enthusiastic about DOT.

He said that numerous surveys conducted by the commission leave no doubt that "local residents, overwhelmingly feel there is a need for more and better transportation in the northwest suburbs.

"From a general metropolitan viewpoint we believe some benefit should be derived from DOT, but how it will affect public transportation will depend on what types of federal assistance will be made available," he said.

"In the past a lot of highway expenditures were made without consideration of the effect on public transportation services."

"For example," he continued, "not enough thought was given to the effect on the Northwestern rail line being paralleled by the Edens expressway. Modifications or changes in a transportation system influences many activities within an area, such as the growth of a community. While some effects are obvious, others may be more subtle."

HE SAID that correlation of the research and study of the various agencies within DOT may avoid costly errors in future planning.

While the need for additional transportation in the area is indicated, Ducharme explained, much further study is required to pinpoint better "what the market really is for public transportation, whether it actually warrants establighing new systems."

To assure further study Matthew Rockwell, NIPC director, appeared last week before the state budgetary committee to request a $250,000 appropriation for a study on the transportation needs of the entire six-county area covered by the commission, Cook, DuPage, Lake, McHenry, Kane and Will.

"What we are trying to do," he asserted, "is to get local public officials and representatives of all modes of transportation involved in our efforts in order to strengthen our chances of getting the money."

"But the bus companies do not agree with our analysis," Ducharme added, "they believe the service they provide is the most and the best that is economically feasible."

Urges Viewing Public Exert Pressure for Cleaner Films

I would like to offer the following comments and suggestions to Rolling Meadows Herald reader Mrs. Harry Poulos and anyone else who is concerned about the current fare of motion pictures being shown in movie theaters attended by children.

To begin with, the owner and/or manager of your local theater is no less responsible than Hollywood for what is shown on his screen. He, too, has access to lists of films adjudged to be objectionable and unfit for viewing by your children and mine. His excuse that he has to make a living is no more valid than when offered by a prostitute. At what cost to the morals and futures of our young people is this man making his living? If he is forced out of business, will it really be a loss to decent citizens of the community or the nation? Now is the time to ask ourselves whether the majority of movies have reached the point where they are no longer making a wholesome contribution to the world of entertainment.

AS FOR BOYCOTTING these films, let me assure you that regardless of their merit, boycotts are passive at best, and your absence from the theater will be blamed on the weather, television, etc. Why not do something positive about letting theater operators and would-be patrons know how you feel about the unbridled violence and pornography being shown on the screen?

If you care enough, you will make signs and placards saying something like "THE NATIONAL CATHOLIC OFFICE FOR MOTION PICTURES HAS FOUND THE FILM ". . . . . ." MORALLY OBJECTIONABLE FOR VIEWING BY CHILDREN AND ADULTS." The placards could be placed in prominent places, and the signs could be carried by volunteer pickets in the vicinity of the theater.

You will be surprised at the enthusiastic cooperation that you will receive from PTA's, ladies auxiliaries, the clergy and others. You will find, too, that it is not illegal to carry signs worded similar to the above, so long as there is no specific urging that patrons refrain from attending showings.

But why be concerned only with the movies shown in Rolling Meadows? Do you think that the problem is unique to the Meadows theatre? Paddock Publications are read by thousands who attend dozens of movie houses in Chicago as well as in the suburbs. A concerted attack, properly sustained, will force the movie makers to bend to the will of a viewing public with the determination and the courage to protest that which it believes is unfit to be seen.

Snow Shoveling Tips Are Listed

Speaking as one who was born and raised in an area where snowfall averages 160 inches per year, let me offer a word of advice and encouragement to your readers about the present above-average snowfall.

Driveway snow - removal—Shovel area shaped as a fan where drive outlets to roadway. This allows your car to turn gradually as it enters or leaves your driveway. Then get up on top of each of those snow heaps and shovel that snow farther away to the side. This helps in two ways:

1. Increases visibility as you turn in and out of driveway;
2. Gives you more space to pile the snow left by the snowplow the next time it comes by.

And remember—even if you don't get it all shoveled, it's bound to melt later, if not sooner. Remember last summer when the temperature registered over 90 degrees Fahrenheit for a week or more?

Too Many Parents Seek Easy Way Out

Hurrah for you and Mrs. Poulos, too. Here's hoping that your discussion will be an awakening to many. As your article implies it is up to the parents and not the manager's job to censor children's viewing.

I am optimistic enough to believe that most parents of today do not honestly realize the contents of the movies today. The day has passed that Mom and Dad drop the kids off at Grandma's on Saturday night and proceed to a movie. Now it's more like—pick up a babysitter and onward to dinner and/or a dance, bowling or a party with friends. The movie house serves as an ideal place to leave the children while Mom gets her hair done or a place for teens to take a date. The truth probably is that the only movies that the parents do attend, either with or without the children, are the ones that have been so well publicized that they know whether or not they can go. Consequently the ignorance of most motion pictures.

I WONDER how many people are aware that even a Jerry Lewis movie of not too long ago received an objectionable rating. Examine your conscience, folks. Do you really know what your children are in for when you hand them that 50 cents on Saturday or Sunday afternoon? The things shown on the screen today are things only implied in days gone by.

I do not want to go on record stating that the viewing audience is limited to the very young and only a few of the middle age group. Senior citizens attend also but in most cases are probably too apathetic to worry or complain if there is a passionate bedroom scene or glorified drunkenness being shown.

Mrs. Poulos's plan to make available a list to guide all is ideal. In this day of ecumenicity it would be wonderful to hear of how all religious groups help their congregations to decide the moral value of a picture without having to pay the price first, both virtue and cold cash wise.

Your suggestion to start with TV as it is more readily available is terrific; however, Mrs. Poulos's plan seems to pack more of a punch. Can you imagine the publicity that could and no doubt would come if a boycott would at least close one movie house? Wouldn't this be the help our cause needs?

OUR CAUSE is not to put people out of business but rather to make sure the public realizes what immorality is being shown via the movie screen. Are we to believe that a well-informed public would be generally satisfied with the modern day caliber of the motion picture industry?

What say we all not be afraid to tell all that we want nothing but the morally right for all.

School Referendum Approval is Vital

The voters of Elementary School District 57 will be asked to approve by referendum Feb. 18 three financial measures vital to the continued improvement of education within the District.

One of these is a bond issue to build adequate schools. A second measure is an increase in the educational tax rate to insure that we will continue to have enough good teachers to fill the schools. And the third is an increase in the building fund tax to provide adequate maintenance of these schools.

The bond issue will appear as a single proposal on one ballot; the educational tax and building fund measures will appear as separate proposals on a second ballot. Two ballots, three measures on which to vote.

THE WELFARE of the district depends upon approval of all three. Without an increase in the educational tax rate, there will not be enough money to provide for teacher salary increases authorized by contract next year. The alternative is deficit finanicng or a cutback in the educational program.

Without an increase in the building fund, we jeopardize upkeep of the physical plant of the district. And we have a 4½ million dollar investment in our schools.

Without approval of the bond referendum, we are denied an adequate junior high school for North Side pupils and are left with an incomplete elementary school (Sunset Park) for some of our South Side children.

Two of these measures--the educational tax rate increase and building fund increase—are new proposals. The proposal to issue bonds up to $950,000 to provide for the completion of Sunset Park School and to replace Central Junior High School was offered to the public last December and turned down by a scant 11 votes out of 1,386 votes cast.

In reoffering it to the public, the Board of Education is responding to the demands of many District residents.

MANY OF US who worked for this proposal last December, feel that its defeat stemmed largely from controversy over the question of Central School.

Why replace Central?

By any measure or standard, Central School is inadequate and its use as an educational facility should be discontinued as soon as possible.

To the teachers who must try to function here, it is an exercise in frustration. To the students who must try to learn here, it is a test of endurance. To the taxpayer who must provide the money for its network of patchwork repairs and expedient additions, it is a monument to fiscal foolishness.

For if Central is retained, it will continue to be a burden to the financial resources of the district. As it stands, it does not meet the minimum requirements of the new state laws (the Life Safety Code) regarding safety of children in schools. And to spend the money necessary to meet the requirements of the Life Safety Code would not restore the school to adequacy. Just because a classroom no longer constitutes a potential threat to the welfare of its occupants does not mean that it is, by that fact, adequate as a place of educational instruction.

What does the Board propose in place of continued occupancy of Central?

It would like to build an addition to Gregory School and convert it into a 6th through 8th grade school. The first through fifth graders at Gregory would be distributed between Busse and Fairview Schools, while the sixth graders at Busse and Fairview would be transferred to Gregory.

THIS REARRANGEMENT of pupils among the three schools might sound complicated, but it has been studied with great care and can be done without over-crowding Busse and Fairview.

This is an imaginative and creative plan which, by making the best possible use of our existing facilities, provides a replacement for Central School at the least possible cost to the taxpayer.

Moreover, once the addition to Gregory is built, Central will become a disposable asset which can be used to the financial advantage of the District's taxpayers. The Board has gone on record as favoring the sale of the Central site and using the proceeds to retire outstanding bonds or to reduce the building fund tax rate.

Seldom does the taxpayer get a chance at a bargain. This is one. For a price considerably less than it would cost to build a new Junior High School, we can, in effect, have just that — a new, adequate junior high facility that will guarantee our children a chance for a superior education all the way through their elementary years.

Anonymous Teenager Assists Child, Pet

I just wanted to write a letter of thanks to an unknown teenage boy. People are always condemning teenagers. This one is to be commended.

Monday, Jan. 30, our dog followed one of our girl's playmates and got hit on Arlington Heights Road in front of our house. The man that hit her couldn't see her, because of the snowdrift, as she walked out of our driveway on the highway, but he didn't even have the decency to stop and help my daughter. We both were at work.

A TEENAGE boy stopped and took my daughter and the dog to the vet, and brought her back home again. She, of course, was so upset she never got his name.

I hope he will read this so we can say thank you. It was a thoughtful thing to do.

We had our dog nine years. She was raised with the youngest of our four girls.

Our dog couldn't be saved. She was too badly injured and was put to sleep. It, of course, was like losing one of the family.

After the shock, though, I was just hoping you could print a thank you to whoever the teenager was. It shows that teenagers are also thoughtful.

Supports Proposal For Sewer, Water

There are many residents in Arlington Crest who sincerely hope that the Palatine Village Board approves the installation of sanitary sewer and water in our area. This could be the wisest investment that they ever make.

Several real estate men have told me that the change from unimproved property to improved property increases the value equal to the assessment, and in some cases exceeds it, when only sanitary sewer and water are installed.

I would like to clear up a couple of things that took place at the village hearing Feb. 8. The petition that was presented to the village board bearing the signatures of approximately 75 per cent of the property owners was presented to the people asking for signatures objecting to the installation of sanitary sewer, water, paved streets, curb, sidewalks etc. at figures varying between $3,500 and $10,000 per lot. At these prices, naturally, people would object.

THE COMMITTEE of 12 was not appointed or elected. It was a group that volunteered at a meeting called by the Arlington Crest Civic Association. They agreed to be open-minded, and their main purpose was to cut the so-called "fat" out of the price, even though a "concrete" price had never been established. I'm sure several of the members of this committee did their level best to accomplish this. However, the majority objected to all phases of the project and were anything but open-minded.

The remark was passed at the hearing that the Arlington Crest Civic Association was a minority group. In December 1966, we had over 100 paid-up members. This is by no means a minority group in an area of approximately 90 homes. However, some members rarely attend a meeting.

Any increase in property value in Arlington Crest is sorely needed. Installation of sanitary sewers and water certainly couldn't cause a hardship when it is increasing the property value. The real hardship lies in the fact that some homeowners cannot direct all of their wastes into their septic system because of saturated fields.

Subdivision Resident Balks At Shouldering Sewer Burden

According to a recent article in a newspaper, the residents of the Hatlen Heights subdivision will be asked to petition the village for a special assessment to build storm sewers. The sewers will alleviate perennial flooding problems in the three hundred home development.

Sounds reasonable enough: let the residents pay for the correction of their local problem. Village Manager John Mongan felt this way and made a similar recommendation a few months ago. In fact, he proposed this same sewer system and justified it with a survey presented by Mr. Creamer of the Public Works Dept. This survey showed that sewers in the Hatlen Heights subdivision were entirely inadequate to carry the run-off water of the hundreds of acres south of Lincoln Road. This run-off is caused by new housing developments in that area. It is further complicated by the additional flow recently added when the owner of a large farm in this same area made changes in the natural drainage, so that the flow is no longer toward Golf Road to the south, but rather to the north and again into Hatlen Heights.

In short, the flooding problem is not due to storm water falling in Hatlen Heights, but to a torrent that flows down Meier Road into our area and then overland through back yards and down driveways. If there is any doubt about the origin of the water, let the doubter stand at Lincoln and Meier Roads next spring and watch the waterpouring in from the south.

THERE IS NO question about the need for improvement in the storm sewer system, but to ask Hatlen Heights residents to shoulder the whole burden is emminently unfair. I doubt very much that the board will ask the residents who live along Weller Creek and complain of its stench to pay for its covering because "it's their local problem." Or will the village manager recommend that the residents further south who are being flooded by Weller Creek be asked to pay for any corrective work on the creek because "it's their local problem, and they will get the benefit."

Last summer the local newspapers carried several stories about this proposed sewer improvement, and that the public funds would be set aside to cover the costs. A little later campaign literature was distributed in Hatlen Heights prior to the village election, asking us to "vote no" and keep the present board because of their success in solving the flooding problem.

Shortly after the election, the board decided it was all a mistake. There really wasn't any money after all; but they decided that they could dig a large ditch and we could keep the water there until someone called for it.

NOW THEY have decided that wasn't a very good idea either, and that the best thing to do is assess each of the three hundred homeowners $600 because "funds may not be transferred from department to department to complete such a project," according to Trustee Colfer. I don't know what that means, but apparently he has done a lot of reading of village ordinances since the last election.

The residents of Hatlen Heights are not asking for a "handout" from the village. We are asking for a sensible solution of this flooding problem. Since the flooding exists because of water collection outside of the area, why not divert it down Lincoln Road to Weller Creek, so that it won't enter Hatlen Heights? If this is impossible and it is more convenient for the village to use our inadequate system, let the village as a whole stand the cost.

GOP Municipal Ticket Helpful

As a recent newcomer to Palatine I wish to commend the Republican officials for their progressive leadership in the local election dilemma. For it is a dilemma, if not an impossibility, as a newcomer to identify oneself with an indefineable "nonpartisan" party, group or "clique".

A COMMUNITY of this size and "transient" nature has outgrown the necessity and desirability of continuing "non-partisan" elections for governmental positions. It is time for the city of Palatine to mature politically.

Now the local political parties have the opportunity to present the public with a slate of their best qualified men and women, and the citizens of Palatine will be offered a choice.

Strike by Teachers Is Fault of Public

The current militancy exhibited by the teaching profession on a nationwide basis has been called irresponsible in some quarters. However, strike actions or slowdowns by teachers are demonstrating a need for public awareness of problems facing educators.

Education demands the immediate attention of the state legislators. It is rather difficult to understand why a legislator like Senator Arrington is spending valuable time sidestepping serious problems in education and attempting to blackmail teachers out of their constitutional right to public protest. Is the teacher expected to wait indefinitely for public justice?

TEACHERS WHO strike are not irresponsible! A state legislator who consistently ignores the state's constitutional commitment to education is being derelict in his duty. A board of education that does not do its utmost to call to the attention of the local population and state legislature the serious problems facing its school district is acting irresponsibly. Teachers who refuse to take concrete action to correct inequities regarding salary and are willing to accept crowded classrooms for noble (?) reasons are being tragically shortsighted and are doing great disservice to their students.

A strike action by teachers is an unfortunate result of public apathy. Teachers are not money hungry but rather salary conscious. They desire a standard of living commensurate with their years of professional training and equitable for their professional responsibility. It is a national and local tragedy when teachers are left no other alternative but the strike.

It is my hope that the future of education will be brightened by the light of public interest, encouraged by a proud and dynamic teaching profession, and attained through unified action.

'Decision Day' For District 57

Feb. 18 is Decision Day for Mount Prospect parents. What happens at the polls on the requested bond issue and permissive tax rate increases will dictate the educational program in our public schools for years to come.

I suppose no one likes to pay taxes, and the requests upon each of us for money are constant. Were Mount Prospect an industrial town, the taxes paid by the individual would be much lower for all services, including education. However, most of us selected Mount Prospect as our place of residence because it has the kind of village atmosphere we want for ourselves and our children. So we have to pay more to get what we want.

OUR TAX dollars for education buy more than any comparable amount of money which we spend on ourselves or others. There is hardly a family in Mount Prospect which can't afford to pay up to $30 more each year for the cause of good education. It is an indisputable fact that, if we are too shortsighted to tax ourselves further for our own and our children's benefits, some curtailments will have to be made. Teachers' salaries will not remain competitive, and some of our good teachers will undoubtedly find positions in other school systems instead of staying in Mount Prospect.

Saturday, Feb. 18, is our Decision Day. Let's hope the voters will take the point of view that anything worthwhile takes work and money. This is our opportunity to share with our neighbors in underwriting the educational future of our village.

Seeks Better Moral Climate for Young

I would like to thank Mr. Baumann for bringing up on the editorial page last week another of the major "threats to morality—television." Although some television programs are very offensive morally I feel the movies produced today are so much more demoralizing.

After reading through Mr. Baumann's article several times, he did not prove to me that objectionable movies are good for my children which was the question I had originally put forth. On the contrary, he pointed out that he felt some movies indeed were not for children's viewing and he pointed out that theatres in general, and the Meadows in particular, limit their audiences when showing "adult" films. I definitely take issue with this.

When The Meadows first opened, I sent my children to the afternoon matinee. When they failed to come home on time, we went after them only to find them viewing a "B" movie. The manager didn't even clear out the afternoon show before starting the evening entertainment. At that particular time he showed a strictly children's show in the afternoon with the "B" movies in the evening.

Things have changed, however. Today, Saturday, I called for their program. This afternoon there are two cartoons followed by a "B" movie, followed by two cartoons. I find it hard to believe the management is appealing to its adult audience with afternoon cartoons. I seriously doubt that he will "eject minors" this afternoon. The cartoons are only a drawing card to get their admissions. I too, think it sad that parents "expose their children to "adult entertainment" and I think something should be done about it. If objectionable films are not offered, children will not be exposed to this demoralizing influence.

MR. BAUMANN'S editorial mentioned that the main trouble in issuing listings is that "most people don't want to so limit their entertainment." He might be interested to know that some people do and this week the Holy Name Society of St. Colette's sent a letter to the Meadows management signed by parishoners, stating that if better movies weren't offered, we as a group would boycott the theatre. If the Meadows management doesn't feel it can withstand a boycott "of the heavy suburban concentration of Catholics," perhaps it will see the wisdom of presenting us with a higher caliber of movies.

Some woman called me this week inquiring why I specifically picked out The Meadows Theatre. She claimed her show in Arlington Heights also showed objectionable films. The reason I single out the Meadows is that this is the theatre I have personal experience with. If neighboring ocmmunities have a similar problem, they should also take proper action.

Your allegation that our ratings do not take into account the entertainment value of a film is not so. They definitely do. Your example of "Dr. Zhivagho" is a case in point. "Dr. Zhivagho" is class "A-II," Morally Unobjectionable for Adults and Adolescents.

I DO NOT feel that the "penny arcade type pornography" is avoided in our movies and I do not feel that theatres are limiting their audiences for "adult" films. Therefore, I feel my decency push against theatres is not being misdirected and I will keep up my battle.

There is some action Mr. Baumann can take if he really wants to do something about television programs he finds particularly offensive. When I see such a program I write to the sponsor involved. If a particular sponsor receives several hundred letters from people refusing to buy his product, he will call up his advertising agency and make them change the program.

Before you put your television out the house, Mr. Baumann, as you state you are sometimes tempted to do, I would recommend that you check the recent issue of Parent's Magazine that contains a listing of programs recommended by the National Association for Better Radio and Television. I think you will find it very helpful. By throwing out your TV set you will be depriving yourself of many of the wonderfully entertaining and educational programs that are offered.

If you start a crusade against objectionable television programs and I keep up mine against objectionable movies, maybe together we can produce a better moral environment for our children.

County Responds to Need for Road Work

I received many calls as a result of your publishing my Jan. 17 letter concerning the need of widening Elmhurst Road and making other tollway exits possible in the Arlington Heights area.

Attached is the letter I received from Mr. Andrew V. Plummer, superintendent of highways, Cook County. I think your readers would be very encouraged to know that construction work is scheduled to start this year (1967) on the widening of Elmhurst Road. Also, please notice that Mr. Plummer indicates in his letter that further consideration is being given to the possibility of an off-on ramp at Arlington Heights Road and the tollway.

MAY I KINDLY suggest that your newspaper, which is so influential, continue to keep these issues before the public. We know that public officials like Mr. Plummer and others, are going to be encouraged to make corrections on the highways if the local public expresses their opinions.

"Dear Sir:

"In reply to your letter of Jan. 17, 1967, regarding the subject improvement, please be advised as follows:

"It is expected that the widening of Elmhurst Road from the Northwest Tollway to Evanston-Elgin Road will be started during the 1967 construction year. This widening, including intersection channelization and the latest in traffic signal control at Oakton Street should eliminate back ups on the off ramp and onto the Tollway.

"CONSTRUCTION of off and on ramps at Arlington Heights Road and the Tollway have been the subject of past meetings between Arlington Heights and the county highway department.

"However, this department has no jurisdiction regarding the matter of constructing additional tollway ramps at Arlington Heights Road. The Illinois State Toll Highway Commission must make the decision.

Andrew V. Plummer

Thank you for your consideration.

Central School Blah and Flimsy

I can't understand this sudden affection for Central School. At best it is a blah architectural exercise set in the middle of a traffic jam.

The eastern approach to the school through the school yard looks like a prison compound.

On a cursory glance the inside of the school looks pretty good. But the cosmetic industry was founded on the theory that a lot of paint can disguise a great many faults.

Everyone has heard about the bad wiring, but what about the leaky roof? What about the heating plant that alternately roasts or freezes the kids, with little attention to the weather outside? What about the water fountains that have no pressure in them? It's sort of a game to find one that works.

WHAT ABOUT the flimsy partitions between some classrooms and the bad acoustics? What about those stairways that will shortly be illegal in the state of Illinois. Where can another width of stairways be built in those stair wells?

No one has mentioned that when the students are released from school they are immediately in a commercial area with all its attendant temptations.

No one has noted that traffic around schools throughout the district on any given day is bad, but that at Central, with band students unloading on Emerson, plus the regular heavy traffic on Central and on Main, it's frantic.

Can't people understand that the sale of this land would offset a great deal of the cost of a new school, but that the new school must be built first?

Perhaps it's true that Central can be called a modern school. The teachers there are not required as part of their duties to treat the outhouses with lime. We have progressed to 1946, and that may be considered modern. If the referendum fails we shall regress, however, because mobile classrooms with their washroom facilities may be rightly called outhouses.

'Erstwhile' Republican Is Proud of His Party Record

I am normally not a person easily moved to write letters to opinion columns of newspapers, but your last issue of the Enterprise contained a letter which, following several weeks of Palatine Township "Republican" press releases, demands a reply.

The letter, written by R. M. Tobutt of Palatine, once again attempts to define for us the meaning of being a Republican. The Enterprise has been filled with tiresome "authoritative" definitions of Republicanism in recent weeks, most notably those pronounced by the local Republican sage, Mr. Robert Hesse - Palatine Township Republican Committeeman.

I am one of the "erstwhile" Republicans of whom Mr. Tobutt writes. I am one of the "traitors" who simply could not build sufficient enthusiasm for Mr. Hesse in his unopposed race for committeeman to take a ballot in his support. I "turned my back" on Mr. Hesse and voted for a highly principled man of a different party who offered some hope of becoming one of the only independent voices in the Richard Daley entourage which, until recently, ruled unopposed in the affairs of Cook County.

DURING THE LAST general election when the real issues of Republicanism were put to the test — when Charles Percy was fighting for his political life and that of the Republican Party in Illinois — I found a conspicuous lack of Republican activity in Palatine. A group of us became so concerned that we contacted the Percy Headquarters to inquire into how we might provide some assistance. We were advised that they could get very little response from the Republican "Regulars" in Palatine. We finally organized an amateur leaflet campaign at the train station ourselves.

Where was the Palatine Regular Republican Organization when it was needed to work for a real issue? Outside of the work of a few people such as Mr. Roger Bjorvik in Operation Eagle Eye there was very little to be seen.

A number of Republicans who are also members of the United Citizens Party worked in the river wards of Chicago prior to and during the last election. Some of the people were exposed to threats in the process, and all made a significant contribution to the outcome of the dependence. I do not think that many Republicans will consent to be "used" in this fashion for a private political vendetta. For last election. The precinct to which I was assigned turned in over 100 votes for the Democrat slate less than were cast at the previous election as a result of our "ghost hunting."

What precinct did Mr. Hesse canvass in the river wards —or anywhere else? How vigorously did he support Mr. Percy in 1964?

IN ESSENCE, Mr. Tobutt's letter tells us that those who voted for Robert Hesse for committeeman are Republicans; those who did not are not Republicans! Those of us who followed the newspaper accounts of Trustee Hesse's battle with Village Attorney Mugalian last year suspect that Mr. Hesse's motives are more personal than Republican at this election.

Republicans are characterized by a political and ideological inone who places a high value on independence in public office, I find a certain charm in a village government comprised of trustees slated by what Mr. Hesse calls a "political club" which has no power or inclination to give orders after the election. The United Citizens party does not accept a continuing "responsibility for the actions of its candidates" after the election as is the apparent intention of the Hesse Organization as published in last week's Enterprise.

And above all, spare me the tedious redefinition of what a Republican is. A Republican is one who voted and worked for the Republican ticket last November when it really counted — on real issues involving the survival of our two party system of government.

Speaking as one individual I feel quite proud to be an "erstwhile" Republican. Some people from Palatine had to help elect Chuck Percy after the Palatine Republican Organization "turned its back" on him.

The Hesse Republicans prefer smaller game.

"To thine own self be true."

TV Giveaway Is Lowly Politics

I protest the use of such not so subtle gimmicks as drawing lots for a TV set to attract voters to a township election, or any election, as was done the evening of Feb. 7, 1967 by Donald Jack Wall, an assistant supervisor, who had sought GOP voter approval at the Bloomingdale Township Caucus.

We smugly read in the great Chicago newspapers of chickens being passed out to voters after they have cast their ballot in certain areas of the city. How can we fail to see the double standard existing if we in DuPage County tolerate such rotten politics here?

THE CANDIDATE in question, who lost to incumbent Curt Barnes. Jr. by a 508 to 187 count, made the tickets available in certain areas and stipulated thereon that the lucky winner must sign his name and address on the card. Three boxes were provided for holders of the tickets to drop same into after they had voted and the boxes were identified in b o l d print as being for that purpose, i.e., to put the ticket into for the TV drawing.

Perhaps this charlatan activity may appeal to a certain class of people devoid of ethics and poverty stricken of principle but to all citizens who value moral fiber and fairplay it must appear to be chicanery of the lowest order.

P.S. I served as campaign manager for Curt Barnes, Jr. and am proud to have participated with him in the suit filed to force the Township Central Committee to hold the caucus on behalf of the Republican Voters in the Township.

Film Control Is Duty of Parents

In regard to Dan Baumann's "Swivel Chair Comments" in the Feb. 9 issue:

It seems to me that adults, who refuse to accept the responsibility that is theirs, insist on "goody groups" to rear their offspring. I feel that people who object to certain movies and wish to force their ideas on children via some special group law do not have the maturity and courage to say "no" to their kids.

Our children, aged 13 and 11, have never been to a movie my husband and I did not approve of. If a movie is showing that we feel is in poor taste, our children are not allowed to see it. It's as simple as that.

Why can't other parents do the same?

Mrs. Esther Grunwald
Rolling Meadows

P.S. Keep up the good work. You're right about TV too.

Individual Has Right to Choice

Regarding letter from Mrs. Harry Poulos in the issue of Feb. 6, 1967.

In your letter you said perhaps someone would come up with an opposing viewpoint. Okay, here's mine.

You have at your disposal the Catholic listing to determine whether a given movie is "morally objectionable." I have at mine my own intellect and the Bill of Rights to protect my choice.

IF I DON'T like a picture (morally or otherwise) I will walk out, but I won't try to tell you to leave. It is your right to stay if you wish, as it is mine even if the picture is considered by you to be "morally objectionable."

What you are trying to say is that it is "BAD" not to follow the Judeo-Christian concepts of morality. And that since you consider it "BAD," everyone should be forbidden to see them.

You want the government to have the same powers it had in Europe during the 13th, 14th and 15th centuries. Remember the Inquisition? That showed very clearly what happens when a government becomes dominated by one religious concept.

You have no more right to impose your moral opinions on me than I have to force mine on you. What if I were Buddhist or Atheist.

CHRIST, BUDDHA, Allah or lack of faith in any of them has no bearing on whether a movie is good or bad.

Actually, you are for, not censorship per se, but censorship of ideas, beliefs or moralities you consider wrong.

For children, perhaps, though there is proof (facts, not religiously biased statements) that this is not the right path. But for adults?

Are you so wise that you feel capable of telling me what I can and cannot watch? If we are watching the same movie and I feel it is "bad" for you to be seeing it, do I then have the right to force you to leave? For if you are so wise then is it not possible for me to be wise also? Do you believe that any person or group is that wise?

READ YOUR history books and the Constitution. The pages are filled with the pain, struggles and finally, in this country at least, the elimination of censorship.

The founders of the Constitution were wise enough to realize that they were not wise enough to dictate what people should read and see.

Hitler burned certain movies and books. He didn't by any means burn them all. But he burned the Bible. If he had burned "The Tropic of Cancer" would that have made him right? Does it make you right?

To conclude, there is no stopping point to censorship. To say that there is is to refute 10 thousand years of recorded, factual history.

If you are wise enough to know what I should see, then you are wise enough to know what I should read, say, eat, drink, wear and even think.

Is this what you want? I hope not for if it is, there is no hope for you. I pray that there are enough people left who can think, who can face reality for what it is and not hide behind the webwork of false premises and wishful thinking, to block the efforts of your kind to rob us of our rights and our humanity.

Bus Company Is Lauded for Help

I don't know if you are keeping any files on persons stranded during the "big storm of 1967," but I would like someone to know of the kindness extended to those who were caught in the storm.

The Davidsmeyer Bus Service of Elk Grove Village (a school bus company) takes high honors for a Good Samaritan award. They helped everyone get their autos off Higgins Road and into their parking lot. About 30 people spent the night there; included in the group were two fellows, one from Germany and one from Sweden.

The Davidsmeyer family prepared breakfast for the group on Friday morning, January 27th and since we were still stranded at noon—they prepared a baked ham dinner for all thirty people!!

I WOULD LIKE to elaborate on every small detail in which they helped from moving all cars from the road so snow plows could get through to letting the women stay in their own home Thursday night.

Needless to say, the f a m i l y wouldn't take one cent for any of the food we ate on Friday or coffee and cake they served us when everyone came into their office on Thursday night.

I would just like to publicly express my thanks for such generous people as the Davidsmeyer family.

'Overwhelming' Response Cited

A few weeks ago you published a letter I had written to the Fence Post asking for volunteer knitters and yarn for the unfortunate people at Dixon State School. The yarn is to make mittens, caps, scarves and sweaters for these people.

The response was overwhelming. I am so grateful to all these wonderful people who have offered to help on this project and I would like to thank each and everyone personally, b u t since I hold down a full time job this would be impossible.

I WOULD like to take this opportunity to say "Thanks ever so much" to all the wonderful people who have contributed yarn and have offered to knit for this worthy cause. It really makes me feel good to know there are so many people who care enough to give a little of themselves to help those who are so much less fortunate than they.

We will continue this project as long as we can get enough yarn and people to knit. So, if you have not already joined our "bandwagon" and would care to do so, please do not hesitate to get in touch with me.

Snowstorm Displayed Value Of 'Behind Scenes' Workers

I am an operator in the Arlington Heights office of the telephone company. I've been with the company a few months short of 23 years and I've never experienced such heavy telephone traffic such as we had in this last snowstorm.

Our chief operator, Mrs. Helen Casciotti, stayed in the office 24 hours around the clock on one particular night and it was not unusual for her to be seen at her desk at seven in the morning and then at 12 midnight the same day.

Our managers were there also, as well as managers and people from other departments of Illinois Bell, to help us in this state of emergency. Many people who worked in our office could not get transportation to their various homes or could not get to their homes, due to the heavy snowfall. Many stayed in motels or were put up by other operators and managers' homes nearby.

IF THE PEOPLE in our surrounding towns heard male voices answering their line signals and information calls, these were men who hadn't been home for days in order to give them service. They helped transport operators back and forth from their homes to their jobs along with our plant men, in order to be on the job to give service as well as any emergency that may have come up.

This has been quite an experience to an "old timer" such as myself, and our people who use our service should know this also, I believe.

Do they really appreciate our police department? Our men who kept our streets open? Our fire department? Our mailmen and milkmen and the men who delivered food to the stores in those hazardous driving conditions?

Being an operator, I've helped establish connections many times between doctors and their patients and called ambulances and the police and fire department for these emergencies and I've often wondered, do we really appreciate all these wonderful people?

I ONLY WISH I could write a suitable editorial to make people realize that while they are asleep there are people working at all hours of the night for their protection, safety and comfort.

We really take too much for granted, I am afraid, and from time to time someone should write an editorial to awaken the public. What would we do without our newspapers and the men who are on the job to keep us "posted." To our news commentators and the men who pilot planes, engineers and bus drivers.

We take these people for granted and, oh, yes, complain at little inconveniences. Perhaps working at night in a telephone office makes me appreciate the people who never get credit for being on hand, especially while we are asleep. People who actually risk their lives to keep us safe and comfortable.

Perhaps this is what makes me happy. I am an operator, I can appreciate and wish to thank the people who are "behind the scene."

A message of importance to all people at The Rebellious Age.

There comes a time in your life when it seems absolutely right to rebel against old ideas. Against all the things that seem to be stacked up against your generation.

Unfortunately, religious faith is one of the things that may get discarded right about now.

But should it be?

Your Faith echoes the very feelings you probably have right now. About injustice. Inhumanity. Poverty. Cruelty. Prejudice. Hate.

That's why your Faith is the very thing you should be working with.

It can strengthen you. It can make things happen. In yourself, and in all the world around. But only if you let it. And only if you put it to work.

President John F. Kennedy said: "God's work must truly be our own."

What do you say?

Past Linked with Present In Coloring Contest Sketch

The past is linked with the present in this week's coloring contest sketch.

The coloring contest is being held in conjunction with the Chicago World Flower and Garden Show, and this sketch, the third in the contest, portrays the garden of the Ornamental Growers Assn. of Northern Illinois that will be displayed at the show.

The show will be held in the Intern at i o n a l Amphitheatre, March 11-19.

TO ENTER the contest a n y youngster between 7 and 11 years of age need only color the accompanying illustration using paints, crayons or chalk, and mail the drawing to this newspaper.

A total of four drawings will be published in the contest, one each week for four weeks.

Three of the weekly winners will receive an artist's kit. A fourth weekly winner will be given a Kodak camera kit. A grand prize winner will receive a professional artist's supply set valued at more than $50 or a Kodak movie camera.

STAFF MEMBERS of Paddock Publications will judge the coloring of the drawings on originality, neatness and overall appearance.

Prizes in the contest are being donated by Eastman Kodak Co., Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Chicago, Charles Klehm and S o n Nursery of Arlington Heights and the Ornamental Growers Assn. of Northern Illinois.

Deadline for the third week's contest entries is Tuesday, Feb. 21. The contestant's name, address and telephone number must be printed and attached to the entry.

Winners will be notified as soon as each week's judging has been completed.

WINNERS for the s e c o n d week include:

First, Patty Kuzel, 216 S. Donald, Arlington Heights.

Second, Barbara Krause, 319 S. Donald, Arlington Heights.

Third, Eldrie Rost, Rte. 1, Box 208, Barrington.

COMES MARCH 1

Paddock Publications plans to begin publishing tri-weekly as of March 1 will not affect this column, except that you'll be reading it a day sooner. It is felt that area square dancing will continue to be best served via a once-a-week column and that our Wednesday issue will provide the most timely coverage.

We do not think it will be necessary to change the deadline although a stricter observance of it will be an absolute must. If the coming tri-weekly experiences show the need for an earlier deadline, club publicity chairmen will be notified by way of this column.

Please remember to include all the facts about each upcoming dance every time news is submitted, since this reporter will no longer have the time to check past copy for missing details. If copy is submitted stating merely that "we'll be dancing at the usual time and place this Friday," that is the way it will have to appear in this column—and that won't help area newcomers who don't know when and where the "usual" time and place is.

SLOWPOKES

Tomorrow night is Kissin' Kuzzin time in Mount Prospect and there'll be badges available for qualifying cousins who dance with the Slowpokes in Euclid School. Gene Tidwell squares 'em up at 8:30.

Eleven guest couples from the Saints and Sinners club were among visiting dancers at the last Slowpokes session and besides contributing to what was described as a "wow" evening, they retrieved their well-traveled, much-pilfered pennant.

ROUND HOUSE SQUARES

Although "A Night in the Orient" is still two months away, its sponsors, Bensenville's Round House Squares, suggest that tickets be purchased soon. They're limited and going like the proverbial hotcakes—in this case, sukiyaki hotcakes.

The club's big bash of the year, "A Night" is scheduled for April 29 and will include a sukiyaki dinner at 6:30, entertainment at 8 o'clock, followed by square dancing until 11:30 p.m. Bob Kim is the caller, Fenton High School in Bensenville is the place, and "hurry, hurry" is the word regarding ticket-buying. Get 'em by calling Mrs. Myra Ore, 766-0748, or Mrs. Sylvia Koch, 766-3139.

No doubt there'll be tickets available too at the club's regularly scheduled dance Saturday night when the maestro Kim will start things swingin' at 8:30 in Fenton School. Everyone's welcome.

GLENVIEW SQUARES

A Valentine dance is scheduled tomorrow night in Glenview's Lyons School and all swingin' sweethearts are invited. Ed Hempel will be at the mike, squarin' 'em up at 8 o'clock, and Jerry and May Hoffberg will lead the rounds, teaching the new round of the month to all willing students. Lyons School is located at Waukegan and Lake Avenues in Glenview. Be there?

Next month has a generous supply of Fridays which means a special event for the fifth Friday night, March 31. It'll be Jamboree time for the Glenview Squares who always dance the first and third Friday nights of every month, and take a fifth whenever there is one. They have four callers lined up for the special event: club regular Ed Hempel with co-callers, Russ Bone, Jim Smith and Art Matthews. Through the courtesy of the Flick-Reedy Corp. in Bensenville, the company's hall will be available and it's said to be ideal for square dancing. Tickets are available through the callers or by calling 724-2541 in Glenview or NE 1-6865 in Chicago. (A15

Roto Eyes Las Vegas Golf Test

Dick Roto, Arlington Heights Lincoln-Mercury dealer, may end up playing a round of golf with Arnold Palmer in Las Vegas during Tournament of Champions week in April.

Thirty-eight dealers will win a week in Las Vegas, topped by a round of golf with the Los Angeles Open winner, as grand awards in a sales contest sponsored by Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co.

PALMER, who recently became associated with the Division in an intensified sports promotional program, will host an Arnold Palmer Invitational Golf Tournament for the dealers April 17 and 18 in Las Vegas. The sales contest, which began Feb. 1, will end March 10 after which winners will be determined. While only 38 dealers around the country will win a round of golf with Palmer and attend the "Tournament of Champions" golf classic as Palmer's guests, 200 other winning dealers will get a 5-day trip and participate in a Palmer golf clinic. Especially for Women

PART A

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS THURS., FEB. 16, 1967

WHEN THE PARTY'S OVER, this hostess can toss everything except the pitcher and the straw mats under the plates—even her dress. All these party accessories are made of paper, a new set by Hallmark, and they are just one of many paper products that ease homemaking for today's homemaker. The model is Mrs. Wesley House of Madison, Wis., daughter of Mrs. Robert L. Busse of Mount Prospect, who owns the Gift Box. Mrs. House's dress is an A-line shift that can be cut with scissors to the proper length. (Staff Photo)

A Paper World?

by BILLIE BACHUBER

Science has proved that the moon is not made of green cheese, but who is to say that some day we won't be living in a paper world?

It's been some time since paper products first invaded the homemaker's realm, and many disposable items are so well established in the American home that they are regarded as indispensable staples. Paper towels, facial and bathroom tissues and easily-dispensed, small paper cups are purchased by some shoppers as regularly as laundry soap.

If the trend for more, different and better paper products for the home, there is the possibility that the housewife eventually may eliminate laundry soap and detergents from her shopping list. From dawn to dusk, every previously washable item may be tossed into the incinerator after use!

IT'S POSSIBLE, too, that disposable clothing may be worn from the time of birth throughout a lifetime. Disposable diapers have been utilized for many years, and it is not at all improbable that soon entire layettes of paper will be available.

Moppets' throw-away fashions designed by Margot West and tested by the children of the maker, Joseph Love, just recently were introduced to the public. Little sister dresses are flame-proof, tear and water resistant and are said to survive up to five enthusiastic wearings. Best of all, they are charmingly pretty and inexpensive.

If big sister or Mom should desire something out-of-the-ordinary and colorful in a spring bonnet, there's one ready for them. It is made of coated paper, is bright and gay, and good news, it sells for under $3.

PERHAPS mademoiselle or madame would like a paper ensemble for Easter? The paper industry has a selection of paper-reinforced (93 per cent cellulose, 7 per cent nylon) dresses for you.

Scott Paper Co. sold more than 500,000 paper dresses (obtained by mail order) in less than six months after their introduction. Mars Manufacturing Co. mailed 120,000 items in paper apparel last summer and reports last fall's line exceeded 1.2 million pieces!

Other companies report similar successes, and their promoters in paper goods predict that the sky is the limit in future production. Paper sales in fashion have been so astounding that the industry feels there is no end to paper apparel possibilities.

FOR THAT finishing touch, women can don papier mache jewelry, available in many sizes and shapes and in bright, splashy colors. One area housewife hopes that the hosiery companies will join the paper fashion parade with durable, attractive hose and give the ladies top-to-toe toss-away fashion.

Manufacturers of paper clothing also have future plans for outfitting the masculine sex, and soon will introduce football jersey-type pullovers for boys. Underwear and swimming trunks for men are now a reality.

Many northwest suburban families live informally and employ casual dining habits during the summer months. Area homemakers report the generous use of plastic-coated paper plates, cups and glasses for kitchen and patio meals. Some busy mothers rely almost entirely upon such paper products for drinks, snacks and meals when the weather gets really hot.

SUMMER picnics for family or neighborhood present the perfect occasion for disposable dishes, but paper dinnerware is not limited to picniclike meals.

Although many hostesses insist upon china, crystal and silver for small dinner parties and teas, they admit liking the convenience of paper items for large buffet suppers, holiday parties, birthday and anniversary occasions, card parties and "coffees."

Corroborating this consensus, local merchants report that their largest selling paper products are coordinated party sets. These are gaily decorated in a large selection of patterns and themes, including all the favorite holidays.

TABLE COVERS (cloths and mats), napkins in three sizes, coasters, guest towels, all card party needs, plates in two sizes, serving trays in two sizes, decorative cut-outs, centerpieces, ashtrays, nutcups, match boxes and covers and cardboard candleholders are some of the paper and plastic coated paper goods for sale in local stores.

One Mount Prospect couple, who recently held an open house to their silver wedding anniversary, used silver-edged paper plates and matching napkins. Other area women say they like paper plates, napkins and coffee cups for buffet suppers following holiday cocktail parties. Women who play bridge, canasta and other card games especially like the matched sets in this line, and imaginatively decorated birthday sets for children's parties are utilized generously in the northwest suburbs.

A MULTI-COLORED, flower-patterned coordinated party set by Hallmark is now on sale to party lovers with the addition of one exciting feature—a matching party dress in paper! An A-line sleeveless shift, it can be shortened with scissors to desired length and ironed with a cool iron.

If this signals the beginning of the demise of laundry soap, at least one soap manufacturer isn't taking it lying down. Colgate-Palmolive has joined the opposition and is producing an all-purpose disposable towel, which is versatile and durable and appears to be selling very well!

About New Deadlines

Monday, Wednesday at Ten; Thursday at Noon, That's When

With the change-over on Wednesday, March 1, from weekly to tri-weekly publication, Paddock Publications announces new deadlines for its women's section.

A women's section (Suburban Living) will be included in each of the three publications in all of the 16 newspapers of the Paddock chain.

In both Cook and DuPage Counties, deadlines of 10 a.m. on Monday and Wednesday have been set up for the Wednesday and Friday issues, and a deadline of Thursday noon has been designated for the Sunday issue.

THE WOMEN'S staff reminds publicity chairmen and others submitting news that these deadlines are the final hours at which news may be submitted. To ease that "last minute rush," it is hoped that much of the copy will be submitted well in advance of the deadlines. Our 3-week policy on advance publicity remains the same: one story in each of the three weeks preceding an event.

Both the Wednesday and Friday newspapers will be distributed by mail, and the Sunday edition will be delivered by newsboy.

There will be no change in the deadlines for wedding stories and pictures. The deadline for wedding write-ups with or without pictures will remain at five weeks following the date of wedding. The account of the wedding, along with the picture, will be published in one of the three issues during the following week.

TO ACCOMMODATE brides unable to submit photos with their write-up, the deadline of three months following date of wedding remains in effect. A picture caption only is used with these late photos, which must be of both bride and groom.

In publishing tri-weekly, Paddock Publications is offering timely coverage keyed to the special needs of area clubs, organizations and individual readers.

Our women's section will continue to reflect the same tradition of excellence that has earned for Paddock's the honor of being cited as having best women's pages in Illinois. Paddock's women's pages also have earned two first place awards and one second in the J.C. Penney-University of Missouri national competition.

Everyone Responds To 'Groundhog Spring'

by MARY B. GOOD

If a late warm spell succeeding the first frost is called Indian Summer, can you call a mid-winter warm spell Ground Hog Spring?

Did you ever notice how such an unseasonal soar in the temperature brings out all optimistic souls with the "cold climate complex"? They relish a break in the weather as welcome relief from the ravages of Midwestern winter.

Suddenly undernourished high school freshmen are working out by trotting around town in their track sneakers. Even older folks with "cabin fever" venture outdoors. Travel bureaus experience a sudden, temporary cessation of takers for their package plans to Miami.

"MINK STOLE weather," not too hot and not too cold, has an interesting effect on women. The first nice day finds hordes of ladies getting a lift at the beauty shop with a cut and a set or a new hairstyle, and fashion plates start reassessing their wardrobes. Neighbors "kaffee klatsch" again. Talk of dieting, air conditioning, redecorating replaces chat of colds, sinuses and humidifiers.

Even nature is coaxed into action. A hungry bird tugs on a worm-sicle (that's a worm thawed from the ground up and semi-frozen from the ground down). Mother Nature pops a premature forsythia bud, and a straggly viola that somehow hung on all winter, frozen and dehydrated, seems to turn a pale green overnight.

HATLESS CHILDREN, pursuing youthful fancies, throw caution and their mittens to the wind. Shrill-voiced little girls roller skate down the block. Others drag out their jump ropes sing-songing: "California peaches, let's shake hands."

According to the childish scrawl on the cracked cement, "Roly Poly" is still a fair weather pastime. And remember, "Hop-scotch," with the flat stones or pieces of roofing shingle used for "laggers"? Well, they're still playing the game, but nowadays the kids call it "Sky-Blue."

The older set, the bare-legged teenage girls. shuffle home from school with "winter tattler" — the tell-tale black boot mark on the back of the mid-calf. They discuss that perennial favorite subject—boys.

IF THE pseudo-spring weather falls on a weekend, the sights to see are even more varied. The comedic effect of an overweight executive getting his pre-season work-out on the golf course is comparable only to a would-be gardener, nose to the good earth. straining for a glimpse of asparagus shoots.

Boat buffs come out of hibernation to get their crafts shipshape, and middle-aged men in their second childhood drive convertibles with the "tops down."

Teenage boys put elbow grease into shining pitty chrome and washing off the winter salt accumulation from their cars, and working mothers decide to wash windows and clean house.

WEEKEND FATHERS take their kids to the zoo or to kiddyland and wind up holding Mickey Mouse balloons all the way home.

Everyone seems to respond to the spring-like weather. But beware the Ides of March! Tomorrow all will be down with the 'flu, because the weatherman says, "Hazardous driving warnings, wind, snow, 5 below." Talk about fair weather friends!

Volunteers Honored

Twenty-six area women have been honored for more than 17,500 hours of volunteer service as members of the Service League of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

Mrs. Lester Eastham, Mount Prospect, received the diamond pin for 5,000 hours of service. Mrs. Clifford Cooper, Mount Prospect, and Mrs. James Foy, Arlington Heights, received gold pins for 1,500 hours.

Seven women received silver pins for 1,000 hours. They are Mrs. Walter Alvin, Wheeling; Mrs. Roy Hawkinson, Mount Prospect; Mrs. Paul Johnson, Prospect Heights; Mrs. Andrew Nielsen, Palatine, and Mrs. Otto Hofman and Mrs. R. M. Wilson, both of Arlington Heights.

BRONZE PINS for 500 hours were awarded to Mrs. John Keller and Mrs. Owen Kompelien of Palatine and to Mrs. Ian MacHattie, Mrs. Richard Mrs. Earl Washburn, all of Senn, Mrs. Earl Tinnea and Mount Prospect.

Gold chevrons were presented for the first time this year to volunteers who have given five or more years of service. Mrs. Hofman and Mrs. Arthur Miller of Wheeling received chevrons.

Mrs. Harold Hansen of Arlington Heights received a chevron and a numeral "6" to denote six years of service.

CHEVRONS AND a "7" were given to Mrs. Edwin Baumann, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Robert Rowe, Prospect Heights, and to Mrs. Arthur Busse, Mrs. Howard Feige, Miss Marilyn Fischer, Mrs. Charles Neff, Mrs. Eldred Lustman, Mrs. Arthur Subbert, and Mrs. Arthur Tews, all of Mount Prospect.

The awards were presented recently at the Service League's annual meeting. The Service League has more than 800 members who have given more than 500,000 hours of service since 1960 in 55 areas of the hospital.

NO, YOU'RE NOT MAD. It's Mod. United Wallpaper Co. gets into the Op Art act with this dramatic black and white pattern in its Trimz collection of prepasted, vinyl-coated wallcoverings. The Mod room is furnished in red fur-like upholstered chunky chairs, white vinyl cushions, checkerboard black and white rug, yellow and orange abstract painting and some "way out" accessories. Those who prefer more elegance may get this Op Art covering in a deep plush flocked version in United's Flocks Unlimited Collection.

Floral Program In Streamwood

A demonstration of arranging artificial flowers is slated for the Feb. 28 meeting of Woodland Garden Club of Streamwood. Hostess for the 8 p.m. event, which is Guest Night, will be Mrs. Kenneth Bucheit, 716 Surrey Drive.

At the club's installation dinner recently held at Mangam's Chateau, Beverly Lake, the new president, Mrs. Chester Stone, announced the following committee chairmen: Mrs. George Caldwell and Mrs. Peter Thas, ways and means; Mrs. Donald Thompson, membership; Mrs. K. Bucheit, horticulture; Mrs. Paul Lenzini, publicity; Mrs. Mrs. Rex Balluff, garden walk; Mrs. C. Stone, good cheer. (S

Lange-Hoppensteadt Rites Follow Groom's Graduation

The last week in January was a busy one for Alan Hoppensteadt of Mount Prospect and took him on a tour of the midwest before he settled with his bride, the former Rebecca Lange, in an apartment in East Lansing, Mich. The groom was graduated from Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., late in January and on Jan. 29 exchanged vows with Miss Lange in her hometown church, Zion Lutheran of Sauk Centre, Minn.

The couple had a short honeymoon and are now living in East Lansing where the groom is doing graduate work at Michigan State University.

THE GROOM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoppensteadt of 212 N. Forest, Mount Prospect, attended Prospect High School before going to Valpo. His bride is a June '65 graduate of the same university and had been working in Chicago before her marriage.

The wedding took place at 4:30 in the afternoon by candlelight, dinner immediately following in the church hall. In the evening a reception for 150 guests feted the couple at the Sauk Centre Legion Hall.

BEFORE GOING to East Lansing to live, the bride and groom were feted at another reception, this one hosted in Elmhurst by the groom's parents for area friends and relatives.

The bride, daughter of the Harvey Langes, chose a princess-styled wedding gown of off-white shantastic, accented with bands of ivory alencon lace. The scalloped bands of lace edged the short sleeves, round neckline and the train which was attached at the shoulders. Her headpiece was a bow of beaded alencon lace and held a veil of ivory silk illusion.

The bride's bouquet was fashioned of green cypripedium orchids, dracaena foliage and ivy garlands.

THERE WERE four bridal attendants, all gowned alike in chive green crepe dresses, floor-length with green velvet accents. They carried cascade bouquets of white fuji mums with assorted foliage.

Mrs. Ann Riemer of West Lafayette, Ind., was matron of honor; Phyllis Larson of Detroit and Karen Klemm of Cleveland served as bridesmaids. A cousin of the bride, Susan Duelos of Frankenmuth, Mich., was the junior bridesmaid.

A MOUNT Prospect friend of the groom, Ron Merriell, was his best man, and ushers were Bob Lange, the bride's brother, and Don Mensching of Itasca. Mr. Mensching is a cousin of the groom.

For the double ring ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. G. B. Eschenbacher, the bride's mother wore a powder blue knit suit and Mrs. Hoppensteadt wore a pink knit ensemble. Both had corsages of white roses and inverted french mums. (S

Hello Hostess

George Bernard Shaw once wrote, "Youth is a wonderful thing. What a crime to waste it on children." And certainly many of the fun things in life seem to be reserved for the Pablum and the Pepsi generations.

Still, there's no reason grown-ups can't have birthday parties. And one of the nicest ways to flatter a husband or friend is with a surprise celebration on his or her birthday date.

Your party can be as simple as ice cream and cake. Or you can key it to a special hobby or interest. But if in doubt, try an astronomy theme as in today's luncheon or supper for those born Feb. 20 through March 20, under the sign of Picces. This is a mysterious and watery sign, ruled by Neptune, god of the sea. It is symbolized by two fishes, one swimming upstream, one downstream.

MAKE FISH your dish for this birthday celebration. Hot and hearty oyster stew for a couples' supper, your old standby tuna fish casserole for a luncheon for The Girls.

And, of course you'll star a birthday cake, complete with candles. How many? Three: one for the past, one for the present, and a great big glowing one to go on for the future.

Make your table astro-nautical. Use fish nets, shells, buoys, ship models, floats . . . anything that suggests the watery motif.

Placecards might feature the sign of Pisces drawn on abstract fish shapes. Set each in a cork to make it stand up.

Your centerpiece could star the family aquarium. Or you could pile costume jewelry in a dime store treasure chest, and set a mermaid-on-the-rocks on guard.

THE STICKIEST wicket, of course, is gifts. You might set a limit and suggest "fun" gifts that cost less than 50 cents or so. Another good idea is a "Paperback Party," asking each guest to bring a paperback book he has already read. Or guests might bring a present from their own white elephant boxes.

However you handle it, just be sure nobody spends much money. But, of course, it's hardly a birthday without presents to open!

For fun and games, rely mostly on the party and presents. But have horoscopes handy to spark conversation. Or let each guest fish for a fortune cooky. Your own should certainly foretell a successful occasion, because nobody's ever too old to enjoy celebrating a birthday. Especially when it's such a happy surprise!

PARTY LINE: In Lincoln's birthday month, it seems appropriate to share this readersent quote from "Love Is Eternal," Irving Stone's biographical novel of Mary Todd and Abraham Lincoln.

"The happiness of the day suffused her with gaiety and energy; having just given William a ninth birthday celebration, with sixty boys and girls over for the afternoon, she had thought she would never be able to stare another party in the face. But a party for political purposes was different."

And how would you like to have a birthday party for 60 little darlings? Mary Todd Lincoln may have had unusual talent (or lots of help), but few mothers today could cope with that many youngsters "en masse." For prime party numbers, the best advice we've heard is to invite one guest for each year of age—three for the three-year old, and so on.

Tonight Is St. Alexius Meeting

Mrs. Thomas LaVezzi of Itasca will conduct her first meeting tonight (Thursday) as the new president of St. Alexius Hospital Auxiliary. The 8:15 p.m. session will be held in Stritch Hall of the Hospital in Elk Grove Village.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. LaVezzi will introduce her board of directors to the general membership.

A narrated slide film will be presented by the enrollment director of the Cooperative Blood Replacement organization, and Brother Ferdinand, CFA, director of nursing services at St. Alexius, will discuss the nursing education program to be offered at Harper Community College.

Doctor in the Kitchen

by Dr. W. W. Bauer

As we approach the annual Lenten period, many people who make a Lenten sacrifice do so in terms of food, giving up some item such as meat. This poses a problem of how to plan Lenten meals without a sacrifice of essential nutrients.

Perhaps there are few who will eliminate meats from most of their Lenten menus, especially since the relaxation of the requirements which conscientious Catholics have observed for many generations. However, my Catholic friends tell me meatless meals will continue to be observed by many on a voluntary basis.

It is customary to say that meats are the best sources of protein, which is the first essential in any diet, as its name derived from the Greek protos (first) indicates. This is true, but it is not the only source of good protein. In Lent, therefore, we shall be able to turn to other sources.

THE PROTEIN recommendation for the "standard" reference man weighing about 154 pounds and living a life of average activity is 70 grams per day. For a 25-year-old woman weighing about 128 pounds it is 58 grams.

In order to be sure of these amounts in a diet where substitutions for meat must be made, we turn to alternate sources of protein. If these are utilized in adequate quantity and variety, the individual's protein supply should be adequate. These alternate sources are fish and seafoods, eggs, milk, cheese (and other dairy products), breads and cereals, legumes (dried peas, dried beans, soy beans, lentils) and nuts.

The table accompanying this column gives an approximate protein value for average servings of each foodstuff. These are not scientifically accurate to the decimal point; they are intended as practical guides only and were calculated from listings in the U.S. Department of Agriculture Handbook No. 8.

IT IS apparent that Lenten meals need not suffer from the occasional substitution of alternate sources for meats. These foods belong in the diet anyway, along with meats.

Foodstuff	Grams of Protein	Per Cent of Daily Recommendation*
Fish, seafood: 3 oz.	16 - 24	23 - 34%
Eggs (each): 2 oz.	6	9.5%
Milk (whole, skim, buttermilk): 4 glasses	35	50%
Cheese (American): 1 oz.	7	10%
Bread (white): 4 slices	8	11%
Legumes (cooked): 4 oz.	4.5 - 6	6 - 9%
Nuts: 1 oz.	1 - 8	1 - 11%
Peanut butter: 1 oz.	16	23%

*Recommended Daily Allowance (RDA) for a 25-year-old, 154-pound man. Less for women.

How to get your husband to take you to Europe

"Take me to Europe! I can't even get him to take me to dinner! He's too busy at the office!"

"Take me to Europe! We can't afford it!"

Now Club Internationale offers you not only a trip to Europe, but two wonderful bonus vacations paid for in advance so your husband will have to go!

Here are the facts:

Club Internationale is a national vacation club with a local chapter in your area. The mass purchasing power of all the members effects great savings in vacation costs. Since no middleman is involved, the savings are passed directly to members.

This is what you get:

Each participating member of Club Internationale is entitled to an expense-paid European vacation: 20 days by air, 30 days by ship. Plus two bonus vacations —8 to 10 days in places like Mexico or the Caribbean or Canada. Members may choose from such glamorous vacation spots as Jamaica, Miami, Nassau and many more. Your first bonus vacation comes after one year of membership; your second at the end of two; and after three years, you and your husband go to Europe expenses paid!

And there's more! You start participating immediately in all the wonderful Club activities. This may include gay parties, special extra holiday outings, dances, gourmet dinners, even foreign language instruction. And your complimentary subscription to the "International Vacationer" will keep you on top of happenings in your chapter and others around the country.

This is what it costs:

Annual dues are $30 for an individual, $35 for a couple. Savings Plan participation is $6.40 a week over a three year period, a total of $995. Remember, for this amount, you get not one, but three wonderful vacations, expenses paid, including transportation, meals, hotels, plus all the special activities that only Club members enjoy. All this for less than a dollar a day!

Your money is safe

You send your savings deposits directly to the Club account maintained by the bank which services your chapter. Club Internationale has been praised in the Congressional Record of the United States. (Reprints on request.) You owe it to yourself to get the whole wonderful story. Fill out the coupon and send it in today. The sooner you do, the sooner you'll be on your way to Europe!

WELCOME WAGON

Hanover Juniors Name Mrs. Richter to Post

Mrs. William Richter, 6925 Edgebrook Drive, has been named new ways and means chairman of the Hanover Park Junior Woman's Club. She will replace Mrs. Phillip Pellegrino who resigned when her husband was transferred.

The club will be represented at the District Junior's "February Flair" hat show Feb. 25 by two models, Mrs. Barry Crawshaw and Mrs. Donald Decker.

The snow kept club members from delivering all of the map booklets to Hanover Park residents, but it did not discourage members from attending the recent bridge tournament co-sponsored by the Juniors and the Hanover Park Board. Fourteen tables of bridge were in play.

THE MAPS will be delivered to all village residents, according to Mrs. D. Jensen, president. Anyone desiring an extra booklet may purchase one for 50 cents by calling Mrs. Alfred Danklefsen, 837-6093.

A prospective member tea was held Feb. 7 at the home of Mrs. William Getty at which Mrs. Jensen explained the club's purpose and Mrs. Evelyn Bury, first vice president, and Mrs. Crawshaw spoke about the club's activities. (S

SAVE EVERY WEEK WITH JEWEL'S "MIRACLE PRICES"! WHY PAY MORE?

The best way to measure Jewel's low prices is by weekly savings. That's because:

1. "MIRACLE PRICES" ARE PERMANENT PRICE REDUCTIONS — not weekly "specials" — not here today, gone tomorrow!
2. "MIRACLE PRICES" LOWER YOUR TOTAL GROCERY BILL — not just the cost of a few select items, but many of the groceries and household needs that appear on your shopping list every week.
3. "MIRACLE PRICES" MEAN SAVINGS OF 5¢, 10¢, EVEN 15¢ AN ITEM — significant reductions in Jewel's former prices to make a big difference in your total weekly grocery costs!

La Leche Schedules Second in Series

Arlington Heights La Leche League reports that more and more women are interested in nursing their babies. Because of the large attendance at its meetings, the League formed a Mount Prospect group which held its first meeting last month.

The new League will hold the second in the series, "The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties" at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 2, in the Mount Prospect home of Mrs. Daniel W. Neugebauer, 203 N. Eastwood.

The League, which derives its name from the Spanish, meaning "the milk," is a nonsectarian, non-profit organization, and its purpose is to help encourage "better mothering through breastfeeding." The series discusses informally, different phases of breastfeeding.

ALL WOMEN interested in nursing babies are invited, as are their babies. Those attending need not be pregnant or even have a family to attend. Grandmothers, too, are invited.

La Leche originated in a Chicago suburb 10 years ago, when one mother who had successfully nursed her baby, helped another who wanted to breastfeed. This is still the basic approach, although the League is now international in scope with more than 500 groups helping thousands of women in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and New Zealand.

Those wishing further information about the new Mount Prospect League may contact Mrs. D. Neugebauer at 253-4566. (S modern

Especially now, during Colby's Housewarming Sale.

Nearly all our modern and contemporary furniture has been reduced in price.

On some, the values are downright earthshaking.

You can buy a 90" modern sofa, covered-to-your-order, for as little as $260.

Covered-to-order chairs are as little as $129.

A 6-pc. autumn walnut dining group (modern, but with a touch of classic) is only $540.

A 3-pc. cane accented bedroom group, including 66" dresser, 38" chest and 54" panel bed is now only $475.

We have some really adventurous occasional tables on sale.

(Fascinating combinations of sand and glass, stone and wrought iron.)

Plus accessories. Paintings. Metal sculpture. Pottery. Bowls.

All in the modern motif, but well able to fit in anywhere.

This February-long event is too good to miss.

Prices will never be lower.

And because it's Colby's, you can be sure of getting fine furniture, built to live with for a long time.

Northbound on Edens, take Dundee West exit. Southbound, use either Clavey or Tower Road exits. (Plenty of parking.)

Or come to our Evanston store, 1633 Chicago Avenue.

Smorgasbord Menu Will Serve 1,000

Thousands of tiny Swedish meatballs, as well as butter balls, were shaped yesterday (Wednesday) by the woman's society of Palatine Methodist Church. It was "Meatball Day" in preparation for the 13th annual smorgasbord which takes place Saturday in Fremd High School cafeteria on South Quentin Road. One thousand guests are expected.

Two hundred pounds of ground beef went into the meatballs, while wooden butter paddles whipped the dainty butter balls into shape. Twenty-five pounds of jellied veal loaf will be prepared tomorrow (Friday) by the churchwomen when last-minute dishes are made for the Saturday feast.

THERE WILL be two servings at the smorgasbord, one 5 to 6:15 p.m. and the other 6:30 to 8 p.m. All tickets are sold in advance; however, Mrs. R. Mede, 253-4853, and Mrs. A. Hansen, 358-7170, will handle any last-minute requests.

All of the WSCS members take part in this annual Swedish feast, and husbands are also willing workers, hauling equipment and food from the church to the high school, cutting meat and helping to put up decorations.

Sons and daughters assume responsibilities in the dining room as bus boys and waitresses.

AT THIS moment, items on the menu are being readied in large quantities which would make an ordinary housewife give up in despair. But these cooks are calmly preparing 14 turkeys, 65 pounds potato sausage, 1200 deviled eggs, 12 decorated salmon, 60 pounds of baked ham, 65 molded fruit salads, 25 large molded fish salads, 20 rice puddings, 17 pounds sliced Gothenburg sausage, 28 pounds herring and hundreds of home-baked pies.

With 1,000 guests to feed, this lavish buffet of traditional Swedish dishes should do the trick.

Top Arrangers Are On Club Program

Two of the top national flower arrangers will lecture and demonstrate flower arranging Wednesday, March 8, during a special open-to-the-public meeting of Mount Prospect Garden Club.

Mrs. Frank P. Leber and Mrs. Harold Osborn, members of the North Lake Garden Club, will be featured at the special meeting. Both are accredited judges, have taught landscaping and have conducted instruction for flower shows for the Garden Club of Illinois.

Mrs. Leber will lecture on "The Modern Trend in Flower Arrangements" and Mrs. Osborn will conduct the demonstration. Tickets for the session may be bought at the door or by telephoning Mrs. Emil H. Fick, president of the club or Mrs. Craig Chamberlin, 253-7996.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Bernard Hulseberg, Mrs. J. J. Kaiser, Mrs. E. H. Nixon, Mrs. W. T. Mott, Mrs. David Toeppen and Mrs. William Turner.

The meeting will be in the Mount Prospect Community Center. (S

HANDWOVEN TABLECLOTHS will be among the items for sale Tuesday, Feb. 28, when members of Pi Beta Phi's Arlington Heights Alumnae Club hold their annual Arrowcraft Sale in the Arlington Heights Masonic Temple on South State Road. Mrs. William Banta, general chairman of the sale, holds one of the handmade fireplace brooms that will be sold, while Mrs. James Humphrey, hostess chairman, admires the tablecloth held by Mrs. Thomas Brown, treasurer. The sale will benefit the sorority's national project, the Settlement School in Gatlinburg, Tenn. (Staff Photo)

Sorority Activities

Pi Phi's Arrowcraft Sale To Benefit Craft Center

PI BETA PHI

The creation of a permanent Pi Beta Phi Arts and Crafts Center at the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School, Gatlinburg, Tenn. will be initiated as the centennial project in 1967.

Pi Beta Phi was founded in Monmouth, Illinois 100 years ago. In 1912, the sorority established the Settlement School at Gatlinburg as a national philanthropic project to assist the mountain women to earn money for their families. Their woven and handmade projects have been distributed through the alumnae clubs and at the Arrowcraft Shop at Gatlinburg.

In 1945, the Settlement School pioneered, in cooperation with the University of Tennessee, the founding of a summer craft workshop to train teachers of crafts. People trained in crafts are needed to work with Senior Citizens' groups, the handicapped, occupational therapy in hospitals, nursing homes and mental institutions.

SO GREAT IS this need for trained teachers of crafts, particularly those crafts native to America, that people from all over the United States and other parts of the world attend these summer workshops. This growing need and ever increasing attendance at the workshops prompted Pi Beta Phi to establish a permanent school for such training as their new national philanthropy.

The annual Arrowcraft Sale for the northwestern suburban area will be held by the Arlington Heights Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi Tuesday, February 28, at the Arlington Heights Masonic Temple, 1104 S. Arlington Heights Road from 9:30 a.m.—3:30 p.m. Proceeds will go toward this new national project.

IN CONJUNCTION with the sale, there will be a fashion show by "Betty and Bob" of Barrington. Showings will be at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited. Tickets can be obtained from any Pi Phi, by calling Mrs. Kennicott, 426-7466 or at the door.

General chairman for the Arrowcraft Sale is Mrs. W. B. Banta of Arlington Heights. Other chairmen working on the sale are: vice chairman, Mrs. W. A. Barnett, Mount Prospect; display chairman, Mrs. L. C. Dodge, Mount Prospect; treasurers, Mrs. T. C. Brown, Mount Prospect and Mrs. E. H. Clay, Barrington; publicity, Mrs. H. R. Verwohlt, Mount Prospect; refreshments, Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, Mount Prospect; hostess committee, Mrs. J. A. Humphrey, Palatine; tickets and style show, Mrs. Harrison Kennicott, III, Dundee.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

The annual husbands' party of Northwest Suburban AOPi's was held at the Village Tavern in Long Grove last Saturday.

Following the social hour and buffet dinner, the group was entertained by three girl folk singers from Maine Township High School. The remainder of the evening was spent playing card games.

CHI OMEGA

Valentine's Day was celebrated a few days early when members of Northwest Suburban Alumnae of Chi Omega and their husbands gathered Saturday evening for a buffet dinner. The informal party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Arden Grossnickle of Arlington Heights.

Assisting them were the Robert Mabbses of Des Plaines and the G. Mitchell Kendricks and the Donald Shaffers, all of Arlington Heights.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Countryside Alumnae Association of Alpha Delta Pi is sponsoring a luncheon and fashion SHOW TODAY (Thursday) a Glenview Country Club. Cocktails are served at 11:30 a.m. with luncheon at 12:30.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Gamma Phi Beta will welcome the West Central Region Alumnae Director, Mrs. William Flynn of Hinsdale, at the Wednesday, Feb. 22 meeting. The event takes place at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. David Mojonnier, 206 N. Bissell Drive, Palatine.

Mrs. Gordon Heggem and Mrs. Richard Batts, both of Palatine, will assist the hostess. Reservations should be in by Feb. 20.

At the business session, new officers will be elected and winners of the third annual "Have a Heart" bridge tourney will be announced. Awards of $15, $10 and $5 will be given to the three highest scorers.

Proceeds from the Feb. 11-18 bridge benefit go to mentally retarded children of Clearbrook Center, Countryside Center, Palatine-Barrington area and Northwest Suburban Aid for Retarded Children in Park Ridge.

SIGMA KAPPA

Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Kappa will meet Tuesday, Feb. 21, at 1 p.m. for a dessert bridge party. Hostess will be Mrs. Robert Baldock of Mount Prospect.

All area alumnae are welcome. Mrs. Donald Hruby may be called at CL 5-6792 for details.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Alumnae from the entire Chicagoland area will be attending a benefit luncheon and fashion show at the Brass Rail of the Sheraton O'Hare Saturday at noon. Sponsored by Alpha Xi Delta, the event will aid the sorority's national foundation for Howell House, Chicago.

Fashions will be presented by the Cynthia Shop of Des Plaines.

Mrs. Richard Swab, 392-1692, may be called for details.

Storkfeathers

They're Valentine Cherubs

Lucky are the area families who had their own little cherubs to cuddle and coddle on St. Valentine's Day. These new babies, while not quite old enough to receive heart-shaped boxes of chocolates, did enjoy plenty of hugs and kisses from their doting families, and some even received "baby's first valentines" from their not-so secret admirers.

There were plenty of hugs for Sherri Lynn Studley. She has nine brothers and sisters for whom she was a special valentine. Sherri was born Feb. 5 in Lutheran General Hospital, weighing 7 pounds 11 ounces, the fifth daughter and 10th child for the Patrick Studleys, 203 Cottonwood Road, Buffalo Grove.

Her admirers include Patrick, 18, Judy, 17, Billy, 14½, Jean, 13, Jane, 12, Joan, 8, John, 7, Jodi, 6, and Jerry, 4, and her grandmothers, Mrs. Carl Ohrwall of Crystal Lake and Mrs. Lilian Studley of Cornell, Wis.

Other babies who arrived in time to be pampered on Valentine's Day included:

Kara Ann Mehrer weighed 8 pounds 9 ounces at birth Feb. 4 in Northwest Community Hospital. She is a first daughter after two sons for Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Mehrer of 437 Glen Lake Place, Hoffman Estates. Brothers of the baby are Kelly, 4½, and Kristopher, 3. Their grandparents are the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Carmain of Santa Ana, Calif., and the F. J. Mehrers of Portland, Ore.

Nadine Louise Budoff arrived the first day of February in Northwest Community Hospital, adding a fourth child to the Kenneth R. Budoff family, 937 Cornell Lane, Schaumburg. Her birth evens the sons and daughters at two each — the other children named Cynthia, 9, Timothy, 8, and Ronald, 6. The newcomer, who weighed 6 pounds 1 ounce, is another granddaughter for Robert W. Hager Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Budoff, all Chicagoans.

Jerry Alan Schwarz, second son for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwarz of 909 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights, was a Feb. 1 arrival in Northwest Community Hospital. His brother is R. Robert, 23 months old, and grandparents include the J. Korbels of Palatine and Mr. and Mrs. R. Schwarz of Wheeling. Jerry weighed 6 pounds 8½ ounces at birth.

John Scott Schumacher was born to the John Schumachers of Rolling Meadows on Feb. 2, which is also the birthday of his great - great - great - aunt, Mrs. Lynn Lange of Sullivan, Ill. The baby is the Schumachers' first son but third child, his sisters named Susan, 7, and Laurie, 6. The newcomer arrived in Lutheran General Hospital, weighing 8 pounds 1 ounce, and is now at home with his family at 2405 Cedar St. Grandparents are Mrs. Ann Kennedy of Harvey and the A. J. Schumachers of Chicago.

Karrie Jean Keefe was born Jan. 30 in St. Alexius Hospital to the Robert Keefes of 1314 W. Kingston Lane, Schaumburg. She weighed 5 pounds 15 ounces and is a sister for 2½-year-old Melissa. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Byrd Griggs of Patrick, S. C., and Thomas Keefe of Charleroi, Pa.

Christina Lea Widinski was born Jan. 30 in Golden, Colo., to Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Widinski. He is their first child. Grandparents of the 5 pound 10 ounce baby are the Stanley Widinskis of Rolling Meadows and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jenkins of Golden.

Lee Ann Bristow was a 7 pound 2 ounce arrival Feb. 3 in Northwest Community Hospital. She is the daughter of the Richard Bristows of 1357 Cumberland Circle East, Elk Grove, and a sister for 4-year-old Dan. They Dine on It Once a Month

Chinese Food for a Family Feast

by LOIS SEILER

Nothing pleases the Jack D. Patterson family more than a complete Chinese dinner. It is a "must" in their household at least once a month.

"The recipes aren't difficult, but there is so much last minute preparation that it isn't practical to serve this dinner to guests," Mrs. Patterson explained. "But I don't mind for the family," she continued, "especially when they consider it such a feast."

In Denver the Pattersons had a favorite Chinese restaurant which they frequented regularly. When United Air Lines transferred Mr. Patterson to this area five years ago, Marilyn Patterson decided to try her hand at Chinese cookery.

Marilyn has always loved cooking and this was a new challenge—to try to equal the Chinese food they enjoyed in the mile-high city. She experimented with recipes in a Chinese cook book and changed them to suit her taste.

HER CHINESE dinner includes Fried Rice, Egg Foo Young and Pork Chop Suey.

Marilyn cooks a piece of pork first for use in the rice and egg foo young. Left-over pork will do just as well. Cut fine, it is seared in hot oil with onion for the fried rice recipe. A raw egg is added, then the cooked rice and soy sauce.

To keep the rice from being gummy, Marilyn prepares it well in advance and cooks it until almost—but not quite—done. Then she places it in a colander, runs cold water over the rice and lets it dry well before frying it. This removes the excess starch and keeps the rice from sticking together.

After all the ingredients are fried together, the tasty fried rice can be kept warm in the top of a double boiler.

Another piece of the cooked pork (or left-over pork) is cut finely and used for the egg foo young.

IT IS COMBINED with bean sprouts, onion, soy sauce and eggs and fried like an omelet in a Teflon pan or in oil in a regular skillet. The flavorful egg foo young patties will puff up and brown nicely. They can be kept warm in a low oven and are served with a sauce made from pork stock, bead molasses and soy sauce thickened with cornstarch.

Fresh pork is cubed and browned well for the Chop Suey. Soy sauce, onions and celery are added and the vegetables are cooked in pork stock or beef bouillon flavored with bead molasses. Bean sprouts are added the last few minutes of the cooking period.

The Pattersons prefer this savory chop suey served over Chinese noodles, or it may be served over boiled rice.

"THIS WHOLE dinner would serve about six persons, but the four of us eat it all up," Marilyn remarked.

And it's no wonder because all of these recipes are exceptionally good, and the combination is appealing and delicious dinner fare.

The Patterson children who enjoy this meal so much are Claudia, 13, in eighth grade at Winston Park Junior High, and Doug, 12, a sixth grader.

The Patterson family lives at 203 N. Babcock in Winston Park, Palatine. They are members of the First Methodist Church of Palatine.

CHINESE FOOD is a favorite in the Jack D. Patterson household in Winston Park, Palatine. Doug Patterson watches as his mother browns the egg foo young in a Teflon skillet, while the fried rice and pork chop suey stand on the stove ready to serve. All of this good cook's recipes are foolproof and result in delicious dinner fare.

FRIED RICE WITH PORK

4 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons oil
1½ cups cooked pork, cut very fine
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 medium onion, chopped, or bunch scallions, chopped
1 egg
3 tablespoons soy sauce

Have rice a little under-done. Rinse well under cold water in a colander and let dry. Do in advance.

Heat oil in frying pan; add pork. Season with salt and pepper. Stir and cook until hot and brown.

Add egg; stir egg until it is in shreds. Add cooked rice and stir and cook until brown. Blend in soy sauce. Keep warm in top of double boiler until served. Serves 4.

EGG FOO YOUNG

1 cup left-over cooked pork, cut finely
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup bean sprouts
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs

Mix all ingredients together in a bowl. Break eggs and stir into mixture. Fry about ½ cup of the mixture at a time in a Teflon skillet or in oil in a regular skillet. Fry until they brown and puff up on both sides. Place in pan and keep warm in the oven.

Prepare the following sauce:
1½ cups pork stock (from cooking pork)
1 teaspoon bead molasses
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1 teaspoon cornstarch mixed with 2 tablespoons cold water

Heat all ingredients together and cook until smooth and thick. Let come to a boil and spoon over Egg Foo Young when serving. Serves 4.

PORK CHOP SUEY

3 tablespoons cooking oil
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 pound fresh pork, cut into small cubes
2½ tablespoons soy sauce
3 cups celery cut in ½-inch pieces
2 large onions, cut up
1 tablespoon bead molasses
2 cups boiling water or stock
1 can bean sprouts
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup cold water

In a heavy skillet, add oil, salt and pepper and sear the pork for about 10 minutes until nicely browned. Add soy sauce, celery and onions and stir until soft and golden.

Dissolve a beef bouillon cube in the boiling water or use pork stock. Stir in the molasses. Pour over meat-vegetable mixture. Cover and simmer over low heat for about 30 minutes. Add bean sprouts at the last and cook for 2 to 3 minutes.

Dissolve cornstarch in water and stir into mixture until sauce is thickened. Serve over Chinese noodles or over boiled rice. Serves 4 to 6.

Week's Best Food Buys

Consumer advantage is noted. Retail emphasis is given to early Easter promotions of hams, beef, and sometimes frozen turkey.

Anticipate easing weather problems as the cause. Discount costs of pork sharply. Lamb is lower in cost.

Egg wholesales are higher; consumer prices steady. Fryers advance all market levels; retails mostly noted at 43 cents, Grade A, cut-up. Lenten fish bargains are few. Canned salmon is promoted.

Produce volume increases for lettuce, carrots, celery, and early onions. Citrus fruit are continuing value.

CHICAGO AREA FOOD VALUES:

Meats: whole ham and slices, bacon, smoked butt and picnic roasts, spareribs; ground beef, round and sirloin steaks, beef rump roasts; lamb leg roasts.

Poultry: large eggs, turkey.

Produce; bananas, apples, grapefruit, oranges; lettuce, carrots, onions, potatoes, yams. (SH

Here's New Way To Broil Steak

Here's a way to broil steak that is especially recommended for those "bargain steaks" frequently offered for sale in supermarket counters.

First, place the steak in a large roasting pan, cover it with boiling water and let it stand in the water three minutes, turning once. Pour off the water, pat the meat dry with paper towel, then punch holes here and there in the meat and brush in a generous quantity of olive oil on both sides. Let the oil seep in thoroughly, for 30 minutes.

If you like a hint of garlic flavor, rub a cut clove of garlic over the surface. Then broil in the usual way, to the degree of doneness you prefer.

The reason for the quick "bath" or blanching in boiling water is to remove the stale flavor meats pre-wrapped in plastic often have acquired. Brushing in the olive oil has a tenderizing effect on the meat fibre and also helps the meat to brown more evenly and quickly for that rich glazed look which is so mouth-watering. (SH

Correction

In last week's featured recipes of Mrs. Robert Harsh of Arlington Heights, an ingredient was omitted in the Beef Jardiniere dish. One teaspoon of sugar should be included in the ingredients, the sugar to be blended in a bowl with the gravy, water and soy sauce. (SH

Area Clubs to Share Flower Show Buses

Garden enthusiasts planning to visit the Chicago World Flower and Garden Show at the Amphitheatre March 11 through March 19, are being offered tickets at discount prices and bus transportation to and from the show.

First area trip reported to date is Arlington Heights Garden Club, which along with guests, will visit the show on Monday, March 13. The bus will leave Pioneer Park at 9 a.m. and return Saturday, March 11, and again on Monday, March 13. The buses will leave Pioneer Park at 9 a.m., returning to the park at 4:30 p.m. both days. Those wishing to join the group on either of the days may call Mrs. O. J. Patti at 392-0616.

Two area clubs, the Suburban Saintpaulia Society, and Mount Prospect Garden Club will be attending the show on Wednesday, March 15. A package of $3 covers both ticket and bus fare for members and friends of Saintpaulia. Bus fare alone is $1.50. The club's bus will leave at 9 a.m. from the Palatine Plaza. Tickets at $1.50 will be sold on a first come-first served basis according to the chairmen, Mrs. Ossian Oberg, FL 9-1082, and Mrs. D. Schroeder, CL 5-7456.

THE MOUNT Prospect club's tour has been arranged by its Conservation and Garden Department. The bus will leave from St. Mark's Church, 200 S. Wille, Mount Prospect, at 9:30 a.m., returning about 4 p.m. Taking reservations and selling show tickets is Mrs. Roy Duda, CL 5-1140.

Members of the Saintpaulia Society will be particularly interested in the feature exhibit of the African Violet District Council of Northern Illinois, a display "in miniature" presented in the same manner as that of the parent show. As many as 75 plants, displayed in special stands, will be arranged to carry out the flower show theme, "Chicago Salute —67."

Soils suitable for the growth of superior plants will be a part of the exhibit as will insecticides. On display will be many varieties of African Violets as well as "cousins," the Gesmeriads.

Plants will be judged by a representative of the National African Violet Association.

AMONG THE general exhibits will be a pattern garden designed by Harold O. Klopp of Palatine, and his associate Don Pearson, landscape architects of Rolling Meadows. The garden illustrates how patterns of texture and color can be used in the midwest.

Large weathered-edge boulders, smooth water-washed pebbles and finely textured gravel supply texture as do plants such as the soft globes of Japanese yews and the coarse yellow green of pines. Glossy green leaves of the star magnolia and quince contrast with the white birch, and color is found everywhere.

An exhibit of more than 200 aquariums of salt and fresh water tropical fish from all over the world will also be a feature attraction at the show. (SSD

AFTER A HONEYMOON in Acapulco, newlyweds Donald and Joan Stortenbecker are living in Arlington Heights where the bride works for the local Jewel store. The groom, son of the Donald Stortenbeckers of Chicago, works for Lectrohm in the city. Parents of the bride are the John T. Oertels of 708 N. Salem Ave., Arlington Heights. The recent wedding took place in St. James Catholic Church, with a reception following at Arlington Carousel.

They Had a 'Snow' Ball

Boots and party dresses were the costume of the evening for Rainbow Ridge Homeowners of Prospect Heights, for neither rain, wind or a record snowfall could keep them from holding their Crystal Ball on Jan. 28. Despite the two feet of snow that fell on the 26th and the huge drifts that resulted from the high winds, the group decided to go ahead with all plans since the area had been plowed out, as was Old Orchard Country Club, scene of the dinner dance.

Of the 190 expected at the dance, 161 brave and gay partygoers danced to the music of a 4-piece combo organized by Jerry Butzen of Prospect Heights.

The Ball was headed by Mrs. Richard G. Young of Oak Tree Lane, Prospect Heights, with Mrs. George Gregg and Mrs. Jerry Butzen, both of Lee Street, assisting. Block captains from the subdivision, including Mrs. Charlotte Kelsey, Mrs. Kathy Allie, Mrs. Marylin Goldsmith, Mrs. Barbara Shaw, Roger Sigcrist, Mrs. Butzen, John Bittner, Mrs. Judy Goone, Dan Vucovitch and Paul Galil, were in charge of ticket sales.

Officers of the group are Dale Chapman, president; Mrs. Young, vice president; Mrs. Gregg, secretary; and Mrs. June Hanlon, treasurer. (S

Juniors Ignore Snowfall For Annual 'Flair' Plans

Forget the snow! This is the message from the Seventh District Juniors, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, as they make final plans for the 8th annual "February Flair—The Mad Hatter." The hat show and sale will be held at Elmhurst Country Club on Saturday, Feb. 25.

Representatives of 7th District junior clubs will model the hats by Sue at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. showings.

GUESTS ARE invited to have tea with the Mad Hatter and browse for an Easter bonnet in the luxury of a country club.

The Seventh District clubs include Arlington Heights, Atise, Des Plaines, Elk Grove, Hanover Park, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows, Schaumburg and Wheeling.

Clearbrook School for Retarded Children and Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association are recipients of this year's proceeds.

Tickets for the "February Flair" may be obtained from Junior clubwomen; also from the ticket chairman, Mrs. Michael Jordan, 437-2750, or benefit chairman, Mrs. Robert Fletcher, 392-1675. (S

ORCHESTRA HALL "Pop" concert March 11 will benefit the Augustana Nursery in Chicago, one of five child care institutions operated by Lutheran Welfare Services of Illinois. Parker Ekren of Mount Prospect, president of the Council of Associates, sponsors of the "Night at the Symphony," chats with local ticket representatives, Mrs. Derbin Lingren of Barrington, Mrs. Paul Johnson of Prospect Heights, Mrs. Charles Laue, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. David Hardy, Palatine.

Reviewer To Cover Topic Of Honor in Washington

"Capable of Honor," Allen Drury's latest book, which deals with honor among the Fourth Estate in Washington, D. C., will be reviewed Monday, Feb. 20, by Mrs. Marth Hopkins for members of the Republican Woman's Club of Palatine.

Mrs. Hopkins has had her own TV series in the nation's capital, written a newspaper column in Falls Church, Va., attended Cornell College in Iowa and the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, and now as an education counselor, she will review the latest offering by the author of "Advise and Consent" and "A Shade of Difference."

The review will be held in the Gray Sanborn School in Palatine, following the 7:30 p.m. coffee and the 8 p.m. meeting. (S

Club to Share Flower Show Bus March 15

Want a breath of spring?

Those who are suffering from snow doldrums are invited to accompany members of Mount Prospect Woman's Club to the Chicago World Flower Show Wednesday, March 15.

Sponsored by the Conservation and Garden Department of the club, a bus tour has been arranged to transport members and guests to and from the Amphitheatre. The bus will leave from St. Mark's Church at 9:30 a.m., returning about 4 p.m.

Reservations should be made immediately by calling Mrs. Roy Duda at CL 5-1140. Bus and show tickets can be purchased in advance from Mrs. Duda. (S

Cascade of Daisies, Newcomer's Project

Plans for "Cascade of Daisies" bloomed recently as Mrs. Jack Wilcox reported on the progress of the Hoffman-Schaumburg Welcome Wagon Newcomers' forthcoming fashion show and card party. To be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 8 in Golden Acres Country Club, fashions will be from Montgomery Ward.

The plans were revealed at a meeting of the club's executive board held in the home of the president, Mrs. Robert R. Smith. It was also voted that as a February project, the club will pack boxes for servicemen overseas. Plans are also being made for an April 8 dance.

Next meeting of the club will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 22, in the country club. All newcomers to Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg are invited. Those wishing further information may call the membership chairman, Mrs. Charles Lawless at 894-3674. (S

Silver Demand

Psychologists say that in time of stress, there is a nostalgia for elegance. This seems to be born out in the current boom in sterling silver flatware and holloware.

Brides are giving the greatest impetus to the demand for sterling, but older women are also reported to be buying additional solid silver to supplement their original sets.

Salad Luncheon Tuesday For Lutherans, Guests

A salad luncheon will be the featured attraction at the Feb. 21 meeting of the Church women of Lutheran Church of the Cross, 2025 S. Goebbert Road, Arlington Heights.

Special guests at the 1 p.m. luncheon will be LCW members of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Chicago.

TO CARRY out a Lenten theme, Mrs. Robert Steinke of Arlington Heights will present an inspirational reading, "The Momentous Sunrise."

Also on the program is a skit portraying a mock meeting of the "Protestant Petticoat Parliamentarians." In the cast are Mrs. Larry Cartford, Mrs. Ray Lloyd, Mrs. Clarence Sporleder, Mrs. George Thal and Mrs. John Verdico, all of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Robert Tesmer of Mount Prospect.

GROUP singing will be led by Mrs. Al Hillert, accompanied by Mrs. Chris Devona, both of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Lee Gruber, Arlington Heights, heads the arrangements and reservations. (S

Covenant Women See Food Show

A food demonstration highlighted the Feb. 7 meeting of the Women's Fellowship of Northwest Covenant Church, Mount Prospect. Miss Ruth J. Williams, consultant for Homemaking Programs, Inc., spoke on the preparation of a variety of foods for entertaining, special occasions and for quick, easy meals.

Mrs. Clarence Agard, wife of the church pastor, led devotions for the evening meeting, and Mrs. Theodore Coken, Prospect Heights, led the business session.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ernest Johnson and Mrs. Stanley Helwig, both of Arlington Heights; Mrs. Russell Dahlstrom, Mrs. Rolland Carlson and Mrs. David Larson, all of Mount Prospect. (S

Clubwomen See World Gifts

A world gifts demonstration was the highlight of last night's (Wednesday) meeting of Buffalo Grove Woman's Club. A display of decorative items included candlesticks, plates, centerpieces and other ornaments.

A member of the club, Mrs. Fran Kelly, will perform at the "Foot Lights to the Future" variety show to be held Feb. 17-18 in Wheeling High School Little Theater. Mrs. Kelly will sing "Sound of Music" and "My Favorite Things" for the benefit event. She will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. K. Rice.

Negro History, Tonight's Topic

"The History of the Negro in America" will be the topic of an Elk Grove Village resident, Clyde Brooks, when he speaks tonight (Thursday) to women of Elk Grove Village United Presbyterian Church.

The meeting has been set for 8:30 p.m. with Mrs. L. Thompson, Mrs. J. Mason and Mrs. D. Rankin as hostesses. (S

Ant-less Picnic Held Jan. 17th

Icy streets and sub-zero temperatures the night of Jan. 17 did not discourage members of the American Home Interest Group of the Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Club from having a picnic! It was held at the home of Mrs. Casey Dykier, 513 Ridgewood Road.

Nothing was missing but the ants as members sat around a large picnic tablecloth spread on the floor to eat typical picnic fare, hot dogs, potato salad, strawberries and ice cream.

Entertainment for the evening was an informal fashion show. Outfits were from the Floss-n-ettes shop in Hoffman Estates. Models, members of the club, were Mrs. Nick Boudas, Mrs. Robert Kaiser, Mrs. Ronald Roberts, Mrs. Harold Thompson and Mrs. Ken Buck.

Meat Cutting For Sisterhood

A demonstration of meat-cutting and an explanation of the value and economy of various cuts of meat will be shown to the Beth Tikvah Sisterhood by Charles Willcoxon, meat manager of the Jewel-Osco in Hoffman Estates. Assisting Mr. Willcoxon will be Earl Horstman and Jerry Gallidoy, also of Jewel's meat department.

This meeting will take place Wednesday, Feb. 22 at 8:30 p.m. at the Beth Tikvah Congregation, 275 Hillcrest Blvd., Hoffman Estates. Anyone in need of transportation may call Mrs. Norman Shallet at 437-2580. (S

Jazz Concert To Benefit Handicapped

Members of The Service League for Handicapped Children are asking their friends to draw a big circle around Sunday, March 5, on their calendars. This is the date set for their second annual jazz concert which will feature Christine and her Men of Music.

The concert, beginning with cocktails at 4 and including buffet supper, will be held in the Citation Room of the Carousel Restaurant in Arlington Heights.

"Christine's 'hot' keyboard has never failed to 'warm up' an audience," commented the chairman. "She is an extremely 'visual performer' and her inimitable style, her enthusiasm to please, her limitless joy in playing is conveyed to and absorbed by every audience," she continued.

Those wishing further information may call Mrs. Hartley Bond at 259-3564. (S

Elks Auxiliary Plans Dessert, Cards, Feb. 23

The Ladies Auxiliary of Arlington Heights Elks is planning a dessert-card party for 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 23, at the Elks Lodge, Wilke Road, Arlington Heights.

This affair is held annually to promote and increase membership. All wives of Lodge members are invited. A get-acquainted evening, it is hoped that many of the wives will join the Auxiliary.

There will be no admission charge: refreshments and prizes will be the compliments of the Auxiliary.

New officers installed at a recent luncheon were Mrs. Albert Lietz, president; Mrs. Clarence Peterson, vice president; Mrs. Richard Stade, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur Plunkett, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Claude Daley, treasurer.

Directors are Mrs. Maurice Dean and Mrs. Edward Krajic.

Green Stamps Will Benefit Little City

The Suburban Service League of Little City is collecting green stamps, children's clothing and light bulbs.

Since redecorating the cottages at Little City with cheerful furniture and accessories is a major project of the League, the stamps will be used to obtain furnishings. They may be mailed to Mrs. C. W. Boettcher, 1881 W. Stuart, Inverness.

Mrs. Edwin F. Schild's home at 1683 W. Beaver Pond Road, Inverness, is the collection point for the light bulbs and good, clean children's clothing, size 12 and larger. Shoes are especially needed according to Mrs. Schild who stresses that they must be in good condition. Pickup will be arranged by donors who call her at 358-9380.

Little City, located at Route 62, Roselle Road, Palatine, is a residential training school for the treatment of mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed youngsters. (S

'Tis Spring? For Gardeners

To help persuade her audience that "It Might as Well Be Spring," Mrs. Diane Moser, Arlington Heights Garden Club president, will conduct a seasonal workshop for the club with a lecture and demonstration on elements of design, Monday, Feb. 20, at 12:45 p.m. at Pioneer Park.

Mrs. Moser, a student judge, who has much past experience in lecturing and demonstrating flower arranging, will be giving special emphasis to the use of color. Participants are asked to bring spring flowers such as daffodils, along with branches, low containers and mechanics.

Prospective members are invited to attend this meeting.

Guild Plans Bake Sale

The Women's Guild of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church of Prospect Heights, is once again sponsoring its annual bake sale. Saturday Feb. 25, beginning at 9:30 a.m., the home baked goods will be on sale at the Prospect Heights Meat Market, located on Camp McDonald Road and highway 83.

This year's chairmen, Mrs. Peter Pulver and Mrs. Robert Kerbs, report that a variety of baked goods will be available for purchase by the public.

All donations are to be left at the church no later than Saturday, Feb. 25, at 9 a.m. For further information readers may call Mrs. Robert Kerbs at 537-6587. (S

Legion Women To See Spring Fashion Show

Spring fashions will be featured Sunday, Feb. 19, at a special showing by Palatine American Legion Auxiliary in the Legion hall, 122 W. Palatine Road. The show is set for 2 to 4 p.m.

A colorful array of spring fashions, mostly in the wash and wear category, will be displayed.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Edward Delmas, ways and means chairman, the fashions will be modeled by members of the club and also by professional models.

Members are invited to bring guests. Tickets will be available at the door or by phoning Mrs. Delmas at 359-2683. (S

Poisoning Remedies Are Listed

The most effective universal treatment for poisoning are two antidotes you can purchase without a prescription—syrup ipecac and activated charcoal.

Syrup of ipecac helps rid the stomach of poison by promoting vomiting, while activated charcoal is extremely effective in absorbing poison. Before using either, however, consult your doctor. Ipecac, for example, should never be used if petroleum products (gasoline, lighter fluid, etc.) or corrosives (lye, drain cleaners, etc.) have been swallowed. In these instances vomiting could cause more trouble.

WHAT ABOUT popular home treatments like tea?

Unfortunately tea, milk of magnesia and other home remedies have limited value, explains the Illinois Medical Society. And you shouldn't depend on the popular commercial antidote either, according to the medical organization. This antidote—a combination of activated charcoal, tannic acid and magnesium oxide—does have some value due to the charcoal content. But it's not as effective as syrup of ipecac and activated charcoal.

Snacks for a Party Mood

Whether the crowd gathers at your house for a party or afterwards just to make the evening linger a little longer, there's room for the little snack or treat.

Two or three of these with assorted crackers, potato or corn chips, coffee, spiced tea or fruit punch are all that's needed to start the party or keep it going.

Stuffed Celery is always a favorite, especially when deviled ham is the filling. Another suggestion is to use a shaped ball made of smoked liver sausage, called braunschweiger, with a few other ingredients for spreading the crackers or chip dipping.

STUFFED CELERY

2 cans (2¼ ounces each) deviled ham
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
½ teaspoon seasoned salt
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 drops hot pepper sauce
5 to 6 stalks celery, cut in 4-inch pieces

Mix deviled ham, cream cheese, seasoned salt, Worcestershire sauce and hot pepper sauce until smooth. Tube or spoon into celery. Chill and serve as an appetizer.

PARTY SPREAD

1 pound braunschweiger sausage
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
3 tablespoons grated onion
1 hard cooked egg, chopped fine
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients, mix well. Shape into a ball. Wrap and chill in refrigerator for several hours. Before serving allow to stand at room temperature 15 minutes for prop-

Latest Treatment For Cuts, Burns

Suppose you got a severe cut from a carving knife. Would you apply a tourniquet?

Suppose you received a severe burn from tipping a skillet of hot grease. Would you apply a geasy ointment?

If you answer yes to these questions, you're out-of-date! To bring you up-to-date, the Illinois Medical Society lists the treatments for these emergencies.

THE BEST way to stop bleeding is to place a cloth (sterile, if possible) over the wound and press hard.

Forget the tourniquet, says the Medical Society. Everyone, including the armed forces, has banned its use except in life and death emergencies. Why? Because tourniquets cut off all circulation to the limb involved. As a result they often lead to gangrene and sometimes amputation. So remember the dictum: "Apply a tourniquet only if you're willing to sacrifice the limb."

THE BEST first aid for burns is cold water. Cold water not only relieves pain but promotes healing and may even reduce scarring.

Whatever you do, avoid covering the burn with greases, ointments and baking soda solutions. These home remedies are usually not sterile and could lead to infection. What's more, your doctor will have to scrape them off—a procedure that can be extremely painful. (S

Heed These Tips For Safe Driving

Winter driving on snow and ice is made safer by women in the know who follow a few simple tips.

Your car should have snow tires. Check your heater and defroster to be sure they are working well.

Carry a plastic ice scraper and snow brush in the glove compartment, as well as a can of one of the wonderful preparations that prevent ice from forming on the windshield. Keep chains, sand and a shovel in the car.

DRIVE WITH your low-beam headlights on in snow, rain or fog. (Be sure the glass on each headlight is wiped off occasionally.)

Leave an extra amount of space between you and the car in front of you.

Never brake suddenly on snow or ice since this might cause a skid. Apply your brakes gently with an on-and-off pumping pressure.

DON'T OVERSTEER. The resulting over-correction causes skidding.

If your defroster should fail, pull off the road immediately, and let the warmth from the car heater melt the ice on the windshield. Then apply some "de-icer" to the outside of the windshield.

Drive slowly!

It would also be wise to check your auto insurance and add towing coverage, if you don't already have it. The cost is nominal for this protection. If the insurance pays for towing just once during the winter, this would amply reimburse you for the yearly premium.

Fashion Is Influenced By the East

The fashion swing to easy, gliding silhouettes is well-timed to the caftan and its variations, the djellaba and the burnoose, soon to be found in all well-rounded leisure wardrobes.

These Eastern influenced designs—simple, softened pyramid shapes with long, loose sleeves—are highlighted in the latest collections of leading designers for their comfort, their figure flattering lines and beauty in movement.

TOPS AND TIGHTS in riotously printed wool jersey or stretch knit are the newest idea in sleepwear . . . right for the young with a yen for comfort (and warmth). These soft, supple companions brightly combine magenta with turquoise or are found in such spirited combinations as red, blue and orange.

Fashions rush to ruffles and lace has found an ideal niche in the leisure world too, forming lithe, lovely night dresses, bed jackets and robes—a far cry from the lace-trimmed duster days.

FLOWERED TERRY cloth robes and tailored bathrobes with ruffled edges for compact traveling are other ideas the loungewear designers have adapted in keeping pace with the changes in ready to wear, making it a truly wonderful world of loungewear and lingerie.

Free Vision Tests Offered Youngsters

It is possible that a little child may be seeing the world as a misty blur and the parents not know it. The child's eyes may look perfectly normal and the child, not knowing any better, thinks the world is meant to look the way he sees it.

To protect the vision of all pre-school children, ages 3½ through 5 years old in Mount Prospect, members of The Mount Prospect Nurses' Club will conduct a free pre-school vision screening program in cooperation with the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Dates are Tuesday, March 14, Wednesday, March 15, and Thursday, March 16, at Fairview and Lions Park Schools from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m.

IT IS NECESSARY to register all children for the screening program so they may be assigned a definite time to attend. Registration will be held at Fairview and Lions Park Schools Tuesday, March 7, from 9 to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Each parent will be given a "readiness" game on registration day to play with the child at home so that the child becomes familiar with what is expected of him at the screening.

Some of the previously undetected eye problems uncovered by the vision screening programs are low vision in both eyes, amblyopia ex anopsia (lazy eye blindness) and crossed eyes. The certified, trained technicians who do the actual screening, have often noticed symptoms of other visual problems and referred those children to an eye doctor for a complete eye examination.

MOUNT PROSPECT Nurses' Club explains that the free pre-school vision screening program is a public service to the community and expresses the hope that every pre-schooler in Mount Prospect will attend.

For further information regarding eye health and eye care for the pre-school age children, parents may contact the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 220 S. State St., Chicago 60604, or telephone 922-8710. (S

Maternity Center Team Aids Enrollment Drive

Because of its "rescue teams" which provide medical assistance to women having babies in their homes, the Chicago Maternity Center has often been called the obstetrical fire department. Using the fire department as a theme, the Center opened its 23rd annual enrollment drive for funds to support the "rescue teams" at a luncheon held Feb. 2 at the Casino Club in Chicago.

Area women, all members of the Center's northwest area team, will be seeking contributions through mid-March.

Now in full swing, the drive received a boost from Chicago's Mayor Daley when he proclaimed Feb. 14 as Chicago Maternity Center Day.

During this campaign area team members will also be completing plans for their annual benefit cocktail dance, scheduled for Saturday, April 15 in Itasca Country Club. Cocktails and dancing will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. when dinner will be served. Dancing will then continue to midnight.

"IF YOU LOVE TO SING, you're invited to join the Northwest Choralettes," say these enthusiastic members in chorus. The group, under direction of Mrs. Robert Ferguson, left, is a new club sponsored by Northwest Suburban YMCA and meets Tuesday mornings at the "Y" for rehearsals. Shown with the director are Mrs. Robert Wellov, Arlington Heights, secretary of the group; Mrs. Charles Neubauer, Rolling Meadows, president; Mrs. Charles Essig, Des Plaines, treasurer, and at the piano, Mrs. Don Seiler of Arlington Heights. No auditions are held and "Y" membership is not required.

Husbands to Promenade Fashion Runway March 4

LOOKING A BIT SKEPTICAL, Ralph Anderson of Palatine gets fitted in a black and white plaid dinner jacket which he will model in fashion showing during Countryside Auxiliary's Candlelight Ball March 4 in the Guildhall of the Ambassador Hotel. Mrs. Anderson was the first president of the Auxiliary when it was formed in 1960.

Husbands of Countryside Auxiliary members of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society will take to the fashion runway at the auxiliary's second Candlelight Ball to be held Saturday evening, March 4, at the Guildhall of the Ambassador Hotel.

The male mannequins will model the latest in lounge and evening fashions from Seno Brothers of Chicago and suburbs. To put them completely at ease on stage they will be accompanied by members of the auxiliary modeling clothes from Polli Carpenter of Marina Towers East.

THE FASHION show will follow cocktails and an 8:30 dinner. David Mall's 10-piece orchestra will then play for dancing. Tickets are available from any auxiliary member; ticket chairman is Mrs. Glen Hauck, 358-9053.

More than 300 persons attended Countryside Auxiliary's first Candlelight Ball in October, 1965. It was also held at the Guildhall but featured a fur fashion show with members modeling everything from Mongolian lamb to chinchilla. (S

Snow Ball Benefit Dance Saturday to Aid Blind

All area residents are invited to the sixth annual "Snow Ball Dance" sponsored by the Parents of the Blind. The affair will be held Saturday, Feb. 25, in the Flick-Reedy Hall, Bensenville.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Guendling, 513 Ridge Ave., Elk Grove, are serving as chairmen of the committee, assisted by the junior Robert J. Cooleys of Prospect Heights and the junior Harry Howlands of Prospect Heights.

The evening will include refreshments, dancing to the 10-piece Rhythm Club. Inc. band from Park Ridge and entertainment by Danny Rio "the Jimmy Durante of Chicago" who has performed at the Sahara, now known as the Ramada Inn. Proceeds from the dance will provide for nursery schools and summer camps for the visually handicapped children.

THE COOLEYS, CL 5-8598, and the Howlands, 827-2671, may be contacted for tickets or by anyone wishing further ininformation. Mr. Guendling, president of the Parents of the Blind, may be called at 437-0386 concerning financial gifts.

Purpose of the organization is to help parents acquire information and techniques necessary to train their children to live in a seeing world, to aid in securing and improving such facilities as are necessary for training and educating blind or visually handicapped children, to promote the acceptance of the blind by the general public as normal functioning members of society and to promote functions for the benefit of blind and visually handicapped children.

Hat Sale

A Spring Hat Sale is being planned for Saturday, Feb. 25, by the ladies of St. Mary's Altar and Rosary Society. The event takes place in St. Mary's school hall in Buffalo Grove from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Claire Hats at Randhurst will furnish hats for the sale.

THEY'RE ALL SMILES since Countryside Garden Club of Rolling Meadows has become affiliated with the Garden Club of Illinois. The club's officers include Mrs. Donald Guenther, seated, of Arlington Heights, president; Mrs. Merrill Wuerch, Rolling Meadows, secretary; Mrs. Robert Hudson, Rolling Meadows, treasurer; Mrs. John Olson, Mount Prospect, vice president. The club was started in April, 1960, and met in members' homes. With a present membership of 20, the group now meets the first Thursday of the month in Salt Creek Rural Park building and welcomes any area women interested. Junior Director Shows IFWC Film

"Our Strength lies in our Unity and Diversity," Mrs. Daniel Wallner, Seventh District Junior Director of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs told the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's Club at its meeting Monday, Feb. 13.

Mrs. Wallner showed a film explaining how the General Federation of Women's Clubs was organized. She told the Juniors the importance of all clubs working together on their philanthropic projects. An example of this is that all nine clubs in the district are working together to award a $200 scholarship to S.S. HOPE. "By working together we are able to achieve goals we couldn't reach otherwise," she said.

PLANS FOR the "Scotch Doubles" have been completed, Mrs. Rudolph Schneider, ways and means chairman announced. Members and guests are invited to this social event which will take place at the Rolling Meadows Bowl Saturday, Feb. 18. There will be cash prizes for the high and low bowlers and tickets can be obtained from any club member or by calling Mrs. Schneider at 392-0488.

Tickets are also on sale for the card party scheduled for Wednesday, March 1, at Salk School, 3706 Pheasant. The program for the evening will be "Junk Shopping with Sari Kaysser." Guests are welcome to attend any of the meetings which take place on the second Monday of every month at the Clearbrook Center in Rolling Meadows at 8:30 p.m. (S

Women's GOP Club Marks 7th Birthday

The Wheeling Township Women's Republican Club will celebrate the seventh anniversary of its founding with a luncheon today (Thursday) at Old Orchard Country Club, Mount Prospect.

Guest speaker will be Jerry Williams, public opinion specialist of WBBM-radio.

A veteral of 20 years in broadcasting, Williams for 15 of those years has been conducting "talk" programs. He began his career in Bristol, Va.; then moved to Pittsburgh and later to Allentown, Pa.

HE THEN left broadcasting for a while to become an actor, appearing on "Studio One," "The Philco Playhouse," "Famous Jury Trials" and "Martin Kane, Private Detective." In 1950 he returned to radio as program director of WKDN in Camden, N. J., where he originated the first "talk" program in that area.

Later he worked in Philadelphia and then in Boston where he originated "The Jerry Williams Show" which was voted "Best Over-all Creative Program Idea — Single Program or Series" for 1965 by the American College of Radio Arts, Crafts and Sciences. He came to WBBM-radio in September, 1965.

Chairman for the anniversary luncheon is Mrs. William Andrews, Prospect Heights. Guests are welcome, and those interested in attending may call her, CL 3-2970.

MRS. DONALD Marquis, Arlington Heights, was named president of the Wheeling Township Women's Republican Club at the January meeting.

Other officers elected at that time were Mrs. William Klingaman, Mount Prospect, first vice president; Mrs. Ronald Horstman, Prospect Heights, second vice president; Mrs. Donald Gardner, Arlington Heights, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold Bunnelle, Arlington Heights, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Davis, Arlington Heights, treasurer, and Mrs. Alfred Wilson, Wheeling, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Frank Friday, Mount Prospect, served as installing officer.

No Box Mixes Available At St. Paul Bake Sale

There will be no box mixes Friday, Feb. 17, when the Parent Teachers League of St. Paul Lutheran Church in Mount Prospect hosts an all-day bake sale. For the sale, which begins at 9 a.m. and continues until 4 p.m., talented bakers will have on display, pies, cakes, coffee cakes, fancy breads and special recipe cookies. All will be sold in take-home containers.

Anyone who loves the taste of home baked "goodies" is invited to stop in Luther Hall of the church, 100 S. School Street, and browse. As a warm up, free coffee will be served to all shoppers.

Proceeds of the sale will go toward supplies and equipment for the school. Bakers and others needing more information may call Mrs. M. Panhorst at 259-5148 or Mrs. R. MacPhail at CL 5-5431. (S

Area Pair Repeats Vows Between the Snow Storms

It was one of those rare beautiful days between snow storms when Judith M. Salmen, daughter of the Gus Salmens of Old McHenry Road in Long Grove, became the bride of Donald N. Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Koch of Prairie View. Three hundred guests also appreciated the beautiful day for they all were present in St. Mary's Church in Buffalo Grove for the 2 o'clock service on Feb. 4.

Rev. Fr. George Ballweber conducted the double ring service in a setting of white flowers in altar vases, and Mr. Salmen gave his daughter in marriage.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white silk bombazine and chantilly lace. The bodice was fashioned with scalloped neckline and long lace sleeves, and the bouffant skirt featured lace tiers in front, and a chapel-length watteau train. Her headpiece was of pearl-edged lace petals with imported illusion bouffant veil, and she carried a white colonial bouquet of roses, carnations and stephanotis.

MRS. CAROL BUGNER of Prairie View was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were the bride's cousin of Richmond, Ill., Patricia Borre, and Mary Ann Leikam of Prairie View.

All wore floor-length sheath gowns of fiesta pink taffeta and kloque fashioned with oval necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Their outfits had separate coats, and their headpieces were roses in matching fabric with blusher veils. Cascades of white carnations and pink roses to match their gowns completed their ensembles.

John Koch Jr. of Prairie View served as his brother's best man and ushers were the bride's brother, David Salmen, and Roger Wagner of Prairie View.

THE RECEPTION was held in St. Mary's Hall and featured an evening buffet. Mrs. Salmen received in a green and blue brocade dress with matching coat and Mrs. Koch received in a light blue brocade ensemble. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow glamellias and sweetheart roses.

The newlyweds, who first met at the church, both studied at Ela-Vernon High School. The bride is now with Ekco Packaging in Wheeling and the groom with Gilmore International Inc., also in Wheeling. (S

Two Quester Groups to Hear Story of Lighting Devices

Members and guests of Salt Creek and Dunton Chapters of the Questers will meet in the Williamsburg Room of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan on Tuesday, Feb. 21, for a lecture-demonstration by Mrs. H. H. Rittenhouse on the history and development of lighting. The special guest will appear in an 1861 ball gown to add color to her talk.

Mrs. Rittenhouse is a member of an international professional club that studies the development of lighting and publishes a quarterly booklet on the latest information obtainable.

HER COLLECTION of antique lighting devices, dating from 2000 B.C. to 1885 A.D., has been used by Coronet films in making a movie on the history of lighting shown to junior and senior high school science students.

A graduate of the University of Illinois, Mrs. Rittenhouse studied antiques and interior decorating at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and the Art Institute.

She has just returned from a trip to East Africa where she visited Oeduvai Gorge, the site of the Louis Leakey anthropological excavations, where she conferred on the earliest use of fire.

MRS. H. H. RITTENHOUSE

AMONG THE antique lighting devices to be displayed for the Questers will be a pottery Palestinian lamp dating to 2000 B.C. and a Roman lamp of the time of Christ, found on the shore of the Lake of Galilee; 17th and 18th century brass, bronze and iron lamps, unusual specimens of pewter and Sandwich glass lamps, as well as time, lens and rolling lamps.

Co-hostesses for the 10 a.m. meeting are Mrs. Robert Carley, president of Dunton Chapter, and Mrs. A. Boeck, president of Salt Creek. Mrs. Robert F. Sullivan, president of the Big Hollow group in Ingleside, will be among the guests.

'Hypnosis' Is Nurses' Club Topic

A return engagement for Dr. Harry Garber and his popular subject, "Hypnosis in Medicine," is slated for the Wednesday, Feb. 22 meeting of Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Nurses Club.

A demonstration, along with a lecture on hypnosis, are expected to bring a record attendance to the 7:30 p.m. meeting in Jack London Junior High School Library, Wheeling.

DR. GARBER, a Wheeling physician for the past 10 years, is an obstetrician and gynecologist. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois Medical School and served his internship at Michael Reese Hospital.

He is now on the staffs of Highland Park and Holy Family Hospitals and on the faculty of Chicago Medical School. (S

THE ACCEPTED INFLUENCE IN THE NORTHWEST SUBURBS

HERB CARL (left) of Arlington Realty presents silver cups to Evelyn Hines and Glenn Packard in recognition of their million-dollar real estate sales during the past year. All three are residents of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Hines represents Arlington Realty's north office at 550 W. Northwest Hwy. and Packard is associated with the south office at 535 S. Arlington Heights Road. The engraved trophies are presented annually to members of the firm's sales staff selling a million dollars or more of real estate during the calendar year.

When House Hunting Skip Window Shopping

THE WORLD ... of Real Estate

Q.—My husband and I hope to buy our first home this year. Will you please give us some advice on how to go about it, and just what we should do to be sure that we are making the right choice?

A.—Locating a new household can be a trying task even for families experienced in such a venture. For a young family buying their first home, it can be an undertaking frought with frustration, disappointment and costly pitfalls. On the othern hand it can be a real adventure filled with joy of accomplishment.

House-hunting is much like any other type of shopping. I'm sure that you have gone window shopping. Most people have but the odds are that you seldom spot on display exactly what you're looking for . . . that dress of just the right size and color, that sofa to fit the special alcove, that coat with just the right style.

IF YOU'RE really serious about buying, you go into the store to inspect the complete line on sale. And that's where you find what you want . . . . after comparison of prices, styles, sizes.

The same situation applies to house-hunting. You can waste a lot of time and effort "window shopping" — driving haphazardly up and down streets seeking out "For Sale" signs, or even rushing out to this house or that one which looks good in the advertisement.

The most satisfactory and efficient way to find the house of your dreams is to walk into the office of a Realtor and tell him what you have in mind. Like most merchants, he has a complete line of products for sale . . . houses of all sizes, kinds, prices. These are called "listings." He will be glad to discuss these with you and then show you the ones which seem to suit your needs and desires best.

DON'T HESITATE to walk into a real estate office. There's no mystery surrounding it. The broker is simply a merchant eager to serve you. His commission is paid by the seller or owner of the house, so you need not worry that his counsel and aid will cost you a fee.

House buying, which has zoomed so phenomenally in recent years that 60 per cent of American families now own their own homes, has some basic rules—and etiquette—which guarantee the greatest satisfaction. Here are a few "do's" and "don'ts" to make your search a pleasant and rewarding one.

Don't bristle with indignation when your real estate broker tactfully asks, "how much can you pay?"

That's one of the first questions you'll encounter when you set out to buy a home.

THE BROKER is not trying to pry needlessly into your personal affairs when he inquires about your finances, the number of children you have, and where the members of your family work. He must know certain facts to provide you with the house which best suits your needs. Straight answers to his questions help him determine the right price, size, and location of your home-to-be.

Before you contact your Realtor, give some thought to the size and location you want and the price you can afford so you can help him get started on the right track immediately.

As for size, aim for one with enough bedrooms to take care of the possible future growth of your family, sufficient storage area, adequate space for your particular hobbies and leisure activities.

On the question of location, look for a house which suits your particular need the best.

GIVE SOME thought to both a new house as well as an existing home. It's true that you get the latest in equipment and building material in a home just constructed, and everything is new, precluding any extra outlay for redecorating for the first two or three years. However, you usually get more extras for your money in an older home, and you'll generally find more floor space, larger rooms, and such comfortable items as big, cool porches and old-fashioned fireplaces.

One Realtor illustrated the point perfectly when he helped a prospect figure up the extras he would get by buying an older home — mostly things which, if he purchased a new one, would cost additional money and time.

I will take up in more detail, in an early column, additional steps to take in trying to find and buy your first home.

(If you have a question on real estate, send it with a self-addressed stamped envelope to Howard L. Shonting, care of Paddock Publications, Box 277, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.)

View Realtor Role In Open Housing

Appointment of a special committee to review the role of Realtors in solving the problem of open occupancy and to recommend possible courses of action was announced recently by Richard B. Morris, Buffalo, N. Y,. president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards (NAREB).

"We shall continue to oppose forced housing legislation—the attempt to inject compulsion into the private contracts by which citizens decide upon the disposition of their own property, whether by sale or lease," he said.

However, he asked whether Realtors have lived up to stated "obligations beyond those of ordinary commerce" and the "grave social responsiblity to which we subscribe in our code of ethics."

"HAVE WE met our obligations in the difficult field of human rights?" he asked. "Have we suggested positive non-compulsory solutions to the problem?

"Our current policy statement states that 'we reassert our support of the principle of equal opportunity in the acquisition and enjoyment of real property.' Have we augmented this statement in any way?

"Some of our state and local boards have met the challenge head-on, and I salute them for having done so. I do not know the answer to the solution of this difficult problem in human relations."

Emphasizing, however, that the problem must be solved, Morris appointed seven men to the special committee under the chairmanship of Ed Mendenhall, High Point, N. C., and the vice-chairmanship of Arthur P. Wilcox, Boston. Both are past presidents of NAREB.

The committee will investigate, hold hearings, take testimony and make surveys—"whatever is necessary to come back to the Executive Committee with recommendations as to how we should accept whatever obligations we may have to meet our policy declarations." (REL

Need for Better City Plan: Dolben

Comprehensive planning for orderly development can provide a measure of insurance against expansion of certain blighting influences that already exist in many cities, according to William H. Dolben Jr., Boston, Mass., chairman of the Build America Better Committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Among problems facing many municipalities are mixed and incompatible land uses established in some sections prior to zoning and in others through excessive variances or spot zoning, and what appears to be a continuing pattern of inconsistency in zoning, he explained.

One of the ways in which planning can be effectively carried out is by cities in the same area joining together to form a regional planning commission, Dolben said.

THROUGH SUCH a planning program problems common to all the municipalities can be studied, and broad, general outlines can be developed with certain uniformity.

Through consultant assistance, a planning commission can provide basic services and work items for participating communities. These include base maps, existing land use surveys and analyses, a socio-economic profile, and a review of subdivision regulations.

"All of these tools of area planning are essential, and it should be emphasized, of immeasurable value to each city as it plots its growth and develops individual plans and programs," Dolben said. (REL

Sales Pace Faster in 1967: F-B-K

Bill Nieman, sales manager of the F-B-K Arlington Heights office, stated that the firm's having a "hard time" keeping enough saleable homes listed.

From Jan. 1 through Feb. 13, they have sold 32 homes in conjunction with their Mount Prospect office and other Realtors in the M.A.P. Multiple Listing Service.

Some properties have sold very rapidly. The following are a few examples:

412 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, listed Jan. 29, sold Feb. 2.

4 Woodcrest, Elk Grove Village, listed Jan. 14, sold Feb. 6.

1421 Wilke Road, Arlington Heights, listed Jan. 29, sold Feb 8.

13 Seegers Road, Arlington Heights, listed Dec. 27, sold Feb. 8.

Nieman predicted a record year, exceeding the record of 212 properties sold in 1966.

Pups Can Pick Own Toys

Dog's Best Friends Become Big Business

by KAY HAWLEY
Staff Writer

The building at 3 Long Grove Road, Long Grove, looks like a dog house — and it is.

Dogs may not live there, but within its walls can be found everything calculated to improve the comfort, appearance and health of man's best friend.

The shop is named "The Dog House."

The idea of a business aimed at the start to go to the dogs was developed by Charles W. Mercer of Forest Lake following his early retirement from a managerial position with Marshall Field and Company.

Together with a neighbor and fellow dog-lover, Mary Flaherty, who now manages the store, he laid plans for the new venture, acquired what he considered the perfect building for his purpose, and opened for business last September.

HEADQUARTERS for Fido's every need is The Dog House, 3 Long Grove Road, Long Grove, which caters exclusively to canine needs and comforts at home (custom-built dog houses) and away (all sizes and kinds of carriers, including purse-size for miniature breeds).

THE DOG HOUSE is not a pet store or canine beauty parlor, Mercer emphasized. Unique in this area, it specializes in dog needs in all price ranges, for pedigree pooches and mutts alike.

On the shelves are such items of apparel as imported sweaters, coats in gold lame, wool or mink, fancy pants, pajamas, raincoats, boots and sunglasses. There is an assortment of collars, jeweled and plain, and every kind of lead, including retractable.

In addition there are training devices, mouth and body deodorants, shampoos, clippers, brushes, nail files and other grooming aids. Vitamins — some chocolate-coated — are sold for every age dog — together with birth control pills and preparations for nursing mother dogs. There are even diapers for piddlin' pups.

FOOD RANGES from humdrum horsemeat and kennel biscuits to exotic tidbits like the small box of bonbons which sells for $1.75. For nighttime comfort The Dog House sells beds, mattresses and "pup tents" for small breeds.

Toys are also a big item. Mercer said he couldn't believe his eyes when people collected armfuls of playthings as Christmas gifts for pets.

The store carries a wide variety, including plastic fireplugs, and also supplies identification tags, whistles and bells. It even stocks brandy kegs for distress-prone owners of St. Bernards.

For mere people there are greeting cards, dog pictures and books on almost all breeds. In addition, The Dog House sells dog houses. Samples of custom-made canine abodes, as well as outdoor pens, will be displayed as soon as weather permits in the large, landscaped backyard of the store, where owners and their pets are invited to relax while house-hunting.

"We enjoy having people bring their dogs to the store," Mercer said. "Sometimes they even try to pick out their own toys, but we don't mind. This may be a business, but it's also a lot of fun." (BB

A MESSAGE TO CLASSIFIED USERS

Before you call an ad-visor to place your

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS AD

consider this:

You are about to invest money for an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results:

1. DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS
Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. DON'T OMIT THE PHONE NUMBER
Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. DON'T USE BLIND BOX NUMBERS
Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED
Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. DON'T LEAVE HOME ON THE DAYS YOU ADVERTISE
Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

6. DON'T OMIT IMPORTANT WORDS TO SAVE MONEY
Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and amount to much less in the long run.

7. DON'T OVERLOOK OUR LOWER RATE FOR CONSECUTIVE INSERTIONS
You'll get the biggest parade of readers at the lowest price. Your Needs Satisfied thru Paddock Publications Classified.

Pick 3 Area Teens for Talent Tour

Three area teens were among 12 selected for the fifth "Talented Teens USA" troupe last Sunday at the Itasca Village Hall auditions.

This was the first audition for singers, dancers, musicians and novelty acts to be held in the suburbs. The troupe will leave for Europe this summer where they will do good-will concerts in six countries.

Area teens selected were: Carol Greenwell, 13, singer, St. Joseph School, Addison; Cindy Kassel, 15, dancer, Sacred Heart of Mary, Rolling Meadows; Kenneth Melvin, 17, Elgin High, singer, Streamwood.

The troupe will leave O'Hare airport on Aug. 2 and fly to London, England, then travel by motor coach through Europe where they will perform in about 12 concerts.

The tour is a student study tour with professional coaches and chaperones who are with the troupe at all times. (A15

HOME LAWN and GARDEN CARE

by RICHARD H. DeLANO Associate Horticulture Adviser

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL 392-3060 DAILY

Few people enter your home but hundreds may pass it each month. Thus, you and you home may be judged on the basis of its landscaping or the effects that the landscaping give.

Even during these snowy days of winter your landscaping can serve to enhance the appearance. At this time evergreens serve as the basic element in the picture.

However, all evergreens are not alike.

The blue spruce or rare blue firs are most distinctive in the winter landscape. When placing them in your yard remember the song "Beyond the Blue Horizon." Placed at the rear of the lot the blue color will give the optical illusion of distance . . . especially when contrasted with the snow.

Evergreens vary in shape, too. Cone, upright, round and spreading shapes are general examples. Although upright or cone shaped evergreens are usually placed at corners, modern landscape architects feel that with most modern homes the best effect is obtained with rounded evergreens or other type shrubs at the corners.

EXAMPLES would be certain yews, junipers and arborvitae. They should be no taller than two-thirds the height of the eaves of a single-story home.

The entranceway can be framed to invite people to a door by use of low growing or spreading shrubs. Their height should reach just the threshold into the doorway.

Although the evergreens are important in the winter landscape, other elements are attractive too. I notice several hedges in our neighborhood that are quite commonplace in summer. Yet in winter their branch structure reveals all the expensive detail of decorative iron.

Trees that are attractive for leaf or flower in summer become attractive for their bark structure in winter. Examples are the sycamore and birch. Their bark cannot stretch, so as the tree increases in diameter, irregular patches pop or shred off the trunk.

NATURAL SHAPE becomes apparent at this time too. The twiggy horizontal branches of the hawthornes are beautifully outlined after a heavy snowfall. Each branch becomes so covered with snow that the tree may appear to be in full bloom.

Color also has a place in the winter landscape. Rather than leaves, flowers or fruit, twigs give the color. One of the best examples is the redosier which thrives even in poorly drained locations.

Its blood-red twigs are most attractive in the winter sun against the winter snow. The color is most brilliant on the newer shoots. Therefore, older canes are cut out of the shrub and new ones forced by a careful application of fertilizer. For a brilliant yellow twigged shrub, consider the yellow twigged dog wood and for green twigs the unusual kerria shrub.

All winter landscapes can be as inviting as a Christmas card. However, the memory is sometimes short when spring planting season arrives. So get out the color camera and take some pictures.

If the snow is as deep in your yard as it is in mine you'll have some difficulty, but as a start try to "photograph a view." Take a shot from the plowed street. Then out the sidewindows. Use these slides to guide you next spring, in planting season. (O

GARDENING TIPS

Your Garden . . . Day by Day

FROM THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS GARDEN CLUB

by MARY B. GOOD

Feb. 16

Now you can have a greenhouse in your kitchen window. Acrylite garden window has wood frame, adjustable shelves, ventilation, and humidity reservoir. Price tag: $79.50 or, the Bohemian greenhouse: A clear, plastic bread box (the one loaf size) makes a satisfactory miniature greenhouse.

Feb. 17

Lack of sufficient light is one of the difficulties that house plants must survive in winter. Even shade-loving plants such as African violets, begonias and ferns appreciate full exposure at this time.

"The February sunshine
steeps your boughs
And tints the buds and swells the leaves within."
William Cullen Bryant

Feb. 20

Pruning of most fruits should receive attention before the buds begin to swell.

Feb. 21

Formula for flabby executives — garden therapy! Tons of professional men are turning to gardening for relaxation and exercise. And the heavier yard chores demand almost as much energy as crosscountry skiing — 10 calories per minute.

Feb. 22

George Washington as a plantsman: One of the most visited of America's historic shrines, Mount Vernon, Va., has almost from the start been a showplace of landscaped grounds and well-tended gardens. Much of the interest comes from realizing that the house and its setting were conceived and carried out by George Washington. Especially to gardeners this is a fascinating thought, suggesting in what a long and lofty tradition they are following.

Please call information for obituaries to Mrs. Harry Schulze, 253-2352, by Tuesday noon.

Mrs. Fred Rascher

Caroline Rascher, formerly of Arlington Heights, late of Woodstock Nursing Home in Woodstock, died in the home Wednesday, Feb. 8.

Mrs. Rascher, born in Schaumburg, was 94.

The Rev. Robert S. McDonald conducted funeral services Friday at Haire Funeral Home in Arlington Heights. Interment was at Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Mrs. Rascher leaves two daughters, Martha Beese of Arlington Heights, and Matilda Kleiner of Palatine; one son, Fred H. of Arlington Heights; 13 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild. Another son and daughter preceded her in death.

Russell Smith

Russell Smith, 2 S. William St., a Mount Prospect resident since 1934 and former school board president, died in Passavant Hospital Thursday, Feb. 9, following a heart attack.

Mr. Smith, 60, was Manager of Industrial Relations for Commonwealth Edison Co., where he was employed for 38 years. He served as president of Mount Prospect elementary school board from April, 1949, to April, 1958, and contributed his time to many civic affairs and fund raising projects in the village.

Formerly active with the Boy Scouts and Campfire Girl organizations, he was leader of Boy Scout Troop 23 for ten years, and was awarded the Silver Beaver, scouting's highest award for leadership.

He was a member of South Church Community Baptist, where funeral services were conducted Monday morning. Interment was at Memory Gardens Cemetery.

In addition to his wife, Muriel, he leaves four daughters, Elizabeth Ann Wick of New Mexico, Sue Ellen of Yonkers, N. Y., Melissa Mercier of Okinawa, and Laurel Louise of Mount Prospect; one granddaughter, and his sister, Reba Bracewell of St. Paul, Minn.

Fred A. Siese

Fred A. Siese, former resident of Arlington Heights, died Friday, Feb. 10, in Bradenton Beach, Fla., his late home. He was 75.

Mr. Siese was a bartender at Hapsburg Inn for many years. He moved to Florida two years ago.

He leaves a niece, Ruth K., and nephew, William K. Siese, both of Chicago. His wife, Margaret, and daughter, Margaret, preceded him in death.

Mrs. Charles Peters

Mary M. Peters, nee Vaughan, of 2003 Grouse Lane, Rolling Meadows, died in Cook County Hospital, Tuesday, Feb. 7. She was 87.

Surviving are two sons, Edward W. of Rolling Meadows, and Robert J. of Arlington Heights; daughters, Maude E. Miller of Park Ridge, and Mildred L. Richardson of Des Plaines; seven grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; and three sisters, May Ehrhardt of Chicago, Lulu Sandberg of Park Ridge, and Margaret Vaughan of Ohio.

Funeral services were held Friday, Feb. 10 at Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home in Arlington Heights. Interment was at Mount Emblem Cemetery.

Walter Grenhofer

Walter Grenhofer, 901 Medinah St., Bensenville, died Saturday in an Elmhurst nursing home.

Mr. Grenhofer, 80, was the retired owner of a roofing business in Chicago.

He is survived by his wife, Lucille; two sons, Arthur of Park Ridge, and Richard of Chicago; a daughter Gloria Dembinski of Round Lake, Ill., and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Geils Funeral Home in Bensenville Monday. Interment was at Elmlawn Cemetery.

Milton J. Singelmann

Milton J. Singelmann, 58, of 917 N. Princeton, Arlington Heights, died Sunday, Feb. 12, in Northwest Community Hospital.

Mr. Singelmann, born in Elgin, had resided here for the past 12 years. He was general office manager of Diversey Corp.

He was a former member of the Northwest Council of Boy Scouts, and a member of the Chicago Blue Lodge, AF&AM, and Elks Lodge in Arlington Heights.

He leaves his wife, Evelyn, nee Kueger; one son, Jay of Pasadena, Calif.; brothers, Raymond of Glendale, Calif., Oliver of Park Ridge, Willard and Charles of Chicago, and a sister, Ruth Stark of Hammond, Ind.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home, with interment at Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Emil F. Baumgarten

Emil F. Baumgarten, of 217 S. Dunton Ave., an Arlington Heights resident for nearly 50 years, died in Northwest Community Hospital Sunday. He was born in Schaumburg March 29, 1893.

Mr. Baumgarten was a retired employee of North Western Railway. Since retirement he was a crossing guard in Arlington Heights, recently at the Windsor School location. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Employees and the Policemen's Association.

He leaves his wife, Lucy, nee Rosin; daughters, Louise Incaprero of Palatine, and Vina Lexow of Oak Forest; a brother, Herman of Marinette, Wis., and sister, Amanda Hantziras of Phoenix.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at St. John United Church of Christ. Interment was at St. John Cemetery.

Mrs. Robert Wegner

Funeral services for Eleanore E. Wegner, 726 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, will be held at 1:30 p.m. today (Thursday) at St. John United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Wegner, 44, died in her home Monday, Feb. 13. She was a resident of the village for 17 years, and a member of St. John Church.

In addition to her husband, Robert, she leaves two children, Kathy and Gary; and her parents, John and Minnie Eugster of Arlington Heights.

Interment will be at Acacia Park Cemetery. Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home are in charge of arrangements.

Ben Knight Babbitt

Ben Knight Babbitt, Midwest representative of several paper mills, died Tuesday. He had resided at 1105 W. Clarendon Road, Arlington Heights, for 25 years.

He was preceded in death last year by his daughter, Marian Malcolmson.

Survivors include the widow, Gertrude; sister, Eleanor Ewer, and grandsons, Larry and Ken Malcolmson, all of Arlington Heights.

Private funeral services will be held at Graceland Cemetery, Chicago, at 1:30 p.m. today (Thursday).

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Marian Babbitt Malcolmson Memorial Scholarship Fund, The Bank of Arlington Heights, 700 E. Kensington Ave., Arlington Heights.

Julie Ann Oziomek

Julie Ann Oziomek, 1-year-old daughter of William M. and Felice K. Oziomek, of 1220 E. Higgins, Elk Grove Village, died in Resurrection Hospital Sunday, Feb. 12.

Mass of the Angels was read Wednesday at Queen of the Rosary Church. Interment was at Mount Olivet Cemetery in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mrs. Raymond Lilla

Alice Lilla, 216 N. School St., Mount Prospect, died Wednesday, Feb. 8, in Resurrection Hospital, Chicago. She was born in Chicago Nov. 29, 1919.

In addition to her husband Raymond, she leaves one son, Rick, and a brother, Larry Staff.

Funeral mass was read Saturday morning at St. Emily Church in Mount Prospect, with interment at All Saints Cemetery.

Miss Eloise Murray

Eloise Murray, a Palatine resident since 1948, formerly of Elgin, died of an apparent heart attack Wednesday, Feb. 8, while on her way home from work.

Miss Murray, 66, was employed part time as a medical translator for the American Medical Association. She formerly donated her time as a pink lady for Northwest Community Hospital.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at Alhgrim & Sons Funeral Home, by the Rev. John C. Talbot. Interment was at Elmlawn Cemetery.

Miss Murray leaves two cousins.

Mrs. Vincent A. Loos

Mabel A. Loos, 306 S. Miner St., Bensenville, formerly of LaSalle, Ill., died Friday in DuPage Memorial Hospital. She was 69.

She was a member of St. Alexis Church, where funeral mass was read Monday. Interment was in LaSalle.

Mrs. Loos leaves a daughter, Mary Brown of Bensenville; three sons, Robert of Jackson, Mich., James of Saratoga, Calif., and John of San Diego, and 23 grandchildren.

M. R. Hofmeister Jr.

Max R. Hofmeister Jr., 318 S. Edward, Mount Prospect, a resident of the village for the past 12 years, died in Grant Hospital Friday. He was 55.

Mr. Hofmeister was Traffic Manager for Just Rite Mfg. Co. in Chicago, where he had been employed for over 30 years.

In addition to his wife, Ruth, he leaves one sister, Marcella Stroessner of McHenry.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning at Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home in Arlington Heights, with interment at Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Mrs. Gertrude Golby

Funeral services for Gertrude Golby, 517 S. Park, Roselle, were held Tuesday at Martin & Richert Funeral Home in Roselle. Interment was at Elmlawn Cemetery.

Legislators Are Tackling State Patronage Problems

by SEN. PAUL SIMON

One of the most persistent and difficult problems facing Illinois state government is that of reducing the numbers on the state payroll who are political employes.

Illinois has one of the highest percentages of patronage workers of any state in the nation—and no one would have guessed at the beginning of this legislative session that any sizable dent would be made in that figure.

Usually Illinois moves in an area like this very slowly—and often only under the pressure of some kind of scandal.

But there is some hope that things may be different in this session.

Several things have happened to help change the picture.

BEFORE HE left office, State Treas. William Scott had many of his employes placed on civil service. His successor, Adlai E. Stevenson III, has followed the spirit as well as the letter of the law in honoring good hiring practices.

State Auditor Michael Howlett, generally acknowledged as one of the best state officials in many decades, has asked that his office be placed under the personnel code and taken off the patronage roster.

Sen. Russell Arrington, Republican leader in the Senate, has introduced Senate Bill 15 which would bring many more state employes under a merit system.

And a consulting firm which evaluated the Illinois highway program has recommended that one of the basic needs is to place highway workers under a civil service program.

Not all of these things may come about—but some have and some will.

THIS MEANS that the day of politics geared to jobs rather than to issues is passing in Illinois—and the public is bound to be the beneficiary.

Illinois will not build a strong civil service system over night. Part of a good system is not just change in our laws but building a tradition of competent public service.

Among the specific benefits we can expect as this trend develops:

1) An improved quality of public service. The state police, for example, unquestionably are a much finer organization today than when you had to be a precinct committeeman or precinct captain to become a state policeman. When men and women can be assured of some permanency in a position, you can frequently attract a higher caliber of employe.

2) A reduction in corruption. It is no accident that the states across the nation which have experienced troubles with corruption have generally been the states with a high percentage of patronage employes. Illinois and Indiana are two prime examples. When job seeking does not dominate the political scene, politics focuses on the ills of society, including the problem of maintaining basic integrity.

3) A WISER expenditure of the tax dollar. Waste will never be eliminated in government, but it can be reduced.

4) A strengthening of the two-party political system. A political party should not be based on jobs, but on issues. The states without the patronage excess generally have a much stronger two-party structure than do patronage states. (A-15

Driver Age Measure Gets Committee OK

Six proposals submitted to the General Assembly by Secretary of State Paul Powell, including one to raise the minimum age to qualify for a driver license to 18 years except for 16- and 17-year-olds who have passed an approved driver education course, received favorable action by committees last week.

The driver license age measure was approved unanimously by the Senate Committee on Highways and Traffic Regulations.

The House Executive Committee, by a 25 to 1 vote, favorably reported two of Powell's measures.

ONE WOULD increase from $2 to $5 the notary public commission fee, and the other would increase from $1 to $2 the fee notaries must pay county clerks to have their appointments entered in the record.

The same committee unanimously reported favorably a series of bills calling for increases in various fees collected by the Automobile, Corporation and Index Divisions to offset steadily rising costs of providing coipes of records, documents and other items and of processing certain motor vehicle transactions.

The fee swould be increased from $1 to $2 for issuing motor vehicle certificates of title, duplicate titles, corrected titles, registration transfers, duplicate registration cards, corrected registrations cards and junking certificates.

In the Corporation and Index Divisions, the fees would be increased generally from 35 cents to 50 cents a page for copies of various items and from $1 to $2 for providing certified copies.

The House Revenue Committee unanimously reported favorably a proposed increase from 50 cents to $2 the fee for making a motor vehicle title or registration search.

The House Judiciary Committee unanimously reported favorably a measure to make licensed attorneys permanent notaries public upon payment of a $5 fee. The same committee sent to a sub-committee a measure increasing various fees paid by corporations to the Corporation Division, and postponed action on one establishing a $12 fee for furnishing lists of corporations filing annual reports. Driver Order Is Rescinded By Secretary

A recent release from the office of Illinois Secretary of State Paul Powell states that the revocation of the driver's license of Alfred E. Gerber, 5N018 Gerber Road, Bartlett, was rescinded following receipt of information from the Circuit Court of Wheaton that a previous report of a guilty finding on a charge of drag racing was in error. The charge was amended to speeding. (A15
